The cruelty of the caste system, under which the colored people in this country live, is scarcely imaginable to those who know nothing about it. It meets him everywhere. In the courts of justice it presumes him guilty before a trial, hence the universal application of mob or lynch law in every case wherein he is a party with a white person; in the church it presumes that he should be satisfied with a back seat, or in a pigeonhole in a gallery. It denies him a meal at the restaurant, a glass of soda at the confectionary, a place for his living body at the hotel, and for his dead body in a white cemetery. It denies him a book out of the public library, and of a place in the public schools where there may not be two in the neighborhood. The hateful oriel monster meets him everywhere. This fact was most painfully emphasized to us the other day when we went to the Louisiana Retreat, an institution wherein insane people are treated in this city. It is a private institution controlled by the Sisters of Charity and the Roman Catholic Church.

We knew it was private, but we did not know it was a Roman Catholic Institution until last week. We went there to engage expert treatment for our unfortunate Bro. Morant, Presiding Elder of the Alexandria district, who had lost his mind. We were told by the Sister in charge, "we regret that having only one building we cannot take colored patients. The whites do not like to have colored people thrown in among them, and we deem it best not to attempt it. We make occasional exceptions in the case of some of our own colored people, but we do not like to do so." The institution being Roman Catholic and averse to colored patients, and Bro. Morant being a prominent Methodist minister, and of the proscribed race, we made no special plea for his admission.

Their charges are from a dollar to five dollars a day according to the comfort and attention given. To send him to the State Asylum at Jackson, is to shut him in an institution upon whose doors are inscribed "whoever enters here leaves hope behind." Under the circumstances we deem it best to let him stay in Shreveport, where he will, at least, be surrounded by friends, and receive such treatment from the hospital there as can be afforded from the contribution of all our churches in the Louisiana Conference.

A Chance to Endow the Medical Department of the New Orleans University.

D. P. Bliss, M. D., of Sparta, Ohio, offers to give all the profits from the sale of his celebrated Missionary Medicine to this medical college, therefore if the preachers or friends of the cause will act as agents a large amount will be sold—probably enough to equal the income of a handsome endowment. The medicine is designed for the blood, liver and kidneys, and is recommended by Bishop Joyce and others. Dr. Bliss has already sent Bishop Mallalien a handsome donation for the college and is anxious to help it in the manner set forth, which we regard as an opportunity that should not be neglected.

A Louisiana layman of our church complains that his pastor has not preached in his church since July. He says his pastor employs all his time in making speeches and getting others, white and colored, to speak at the lottery. He says his pastor should preach the Gospel of repentance and salvation to the hearts of all men, and then they would know that God did not approve of any gambling institutions. That pastor is doing a grand work in making speeches and in getting others to speak against the lottery iniquity. We applaud his holy efforts in that direction. He ought not to work less against the lottery, but should double his efforts and preach the Gospel of repentance and salvation oftener.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23, '91.

Rev. A. E. P. Albert, D.D.

My Dear Sir:—I noticed in your paper an appeal for Rev. S. E. H. Morant, Presiding Elder. I am not acquainted with Rev. Morant, but have many friends in the M. E. Church, and a man in his unfortunate condition, that has a wife and eleven children to depend on his salary as a minister, certainly needs help. Let every man give a dollar. Please find enclosed $1 for their benefit, and welcome.

Yours respectfully,

Political Review.

The campaign in Ohio is growing especially interesting. Sixty-five thousand people crowded to hear the venerable John Sherman discuss the superior advantages of Republican protection, as exhibited in the McKinley law, over Democratic free trade, a few days ago. Old time Democrats are coming to the support of the author of this law, Gen. McKinley, for Governor of Ohio.

Gov. Patterson, of Pennsylvania, has called the Senate in extra session to investigate charges against the official integrity of the State Treasurer and Auditor. The Democrats are hoping to gain some party advantages from the expected disclosures.

The party leaders in this State are terribly divided in both parties. The Democratic Lottery folks are crying in favor of "white supremacy, McEnery (for Governor) and the Lottery," while the Democratic Antis declare that they are the original, unadulterated white-liners. Both are courting the Negro vote, but how to do it without losing some of their white following is the problem. The National Republican administration having adopted an anti-lottery law, the party down here is morally bound to oppose the lottery, but many wily politicians of Republican faith are not as pronounced in the premises as might be expected. Many of them, doubtless, are waiting for an offer to trade.

Already men are talking of probable delegates to the National Nominating Convention. The New Orleans Republican is evidently opposed to ex-Gov. Kellogg, and tries to minify him as a political factor in this State. The facts are that Gov. Kellogg has more influence to day with the colored voters of this State, which makes up 95 per cent of the Republicans here, than any other white man in it. And this notwithstanding the corrupting influence of the Custom-house, Mint and all the other federal patronage, at the command of Mr. Warmoth and his henchmen to make it otherwise. It goes without saying, that it is quite evident that Gov. Kellogg will be an influential member of the Louisiana delegation to the next Republican Nominating Convention. If reports are true, the people who owe no allegiance to the bosses will have something to say in the premises, which will no doubt greatly surprise our confreres, and the aborted white Republico-Democratic party for which it speaks.

SUBSCRIBE for the SOUTHWESTERN, and get official proceedings of the great Ecumenical Conference, and of the annual conferences soon to be held all over our territory.

—Rev. Dr. Stowe, of our Western Book Concern, has just passed his sixtieth birthday. It found him enjoying his work in a vigorous manhood, with the promise of many happy returns.

—Mr. Andrew Dright and wife, of Thomson Chapel, who have been visiting relatives in Donaldsonville, have returned home.

—Bishop Mallalien, and his brother and son visited the Yosemite, while in California a few days ago. They enjoyed it hugely. The bishop is holding conferences in that section, and is giving general inspiration to the work. Our cause never suffers whenever he gets a chance to say a word for us.

—His many friends will rejoice to learn that Rev. S. E. H. Morant, Presiding Elder of Alexandria, (La.) district, who lost his mind some weeks ago, is now under treatment in Shreveport, and "is improving rapidly." We hope for his speedy recovery. He is in need of financial aid however, and friends are urgently requested to respond thereto. Address Dr. Albert, this office.

—If it is the intention of President Harrison to appoint a colored man from the South as minister to Liberia, we know of no one that he could appoint that would give so much satisfaction to the people of this section as Rev. James W. Hudson, the able and popular pastor of Union Chapel M. E. Church, in this city. Bro. Hudson we learn is a candidate for the place and is backed up by very strong influences.

—Rev. J. W. E. Bowen, Ph.D., pastor of Asbury Church, Washington, D. C., was given an ovation on his recent return from his summer vacation. The Sage of Anacostia, the venerable Fred Douglass, delivered the address of welcome. It was an effort worthy of his great fame and of the occasion. Dr. Bowen, claimed to be too full for utterance, but he nevertheless added greatly to his well-earned reputation as an orator, by his timely and able address in reply. Ex-Senator Bruce, Auditor Lynch and many of the most prominent people in the best Washington society participated in the reception and banquet. Dr. Bowen is deservedly popular in his church, and with the people of Washington generally, and this occasion was a fair manifestation of the fact.

An Earnest Appeal.

Rev. S. E. H. Morant, Presiding Elder of Alexandria district, has lost his mind. His friends have decided to send him from Shreveport to this city for treatment. He will reach here this week. Having a large family of a wife and eleven dependent children, he has not the means for their support and his treatment. Will not every pastor in the Louisiana Conference take up a collection for him, and every one reading these lines send a dime or a dollar to help him. Please help him, and help at once. Send to this office, to Rev. A. E. P. Albert, D.D., Secretary Louisiana Conference.

It is said that two-thirds of the clerks in the Customhouse in this city and in the Mint are Democrats, and when the Whitelegions laid the corner-stone to their statue of Liberty, the other day, in honor of the revolution in which they engaged seventeen years ago, nearly all of those clerks were in the procession.

New Orleans University opens Monday, Oct. 5. To provide for new applications for admission a new building, 78x34 feet, containing eight recitation rooms, has been erected at a cost of $2,800, which will accommodate 350 students.

Plans have been prepared for a machine shop. The machinery for iron and wood including a new steam engine, costing $600 and $500 cash, have been donated and work will begin at once. The $500 is a donation from a liberal spirited colored citizen of New Orleans. Work in carpentry, printing and tin-smithing will go under the same superintendents as last year.

The medical building, 302 Canal street, is being refitted. A large number of students have arranged to attend the third session. A fine class will graduate this year and it is intended to make the work as thorough and complete as in any medical college in the South. This school was established through the efforts of Bishop W. F. Mallien, and the eligible building aforesaid purchased for its use with funds raised by the good bishop. Eleven thousand dollars have been paid on account, leaving a balance of $5,000 which must be paid shortly, and for which purpose the bishop makes an earnest appeal to the charitable public.

The musical department will be greatly strengthened this year. Miss A. M. Roberts of De Pauw University, Indiana, has been elected principal. Prof. A. R. Adkinson will be assistant in instrumental music and Prof. J. W. Collett, B. S., in vocal music. A pipe organ made by the Pilcher Brothers, has been placed in the chapel and two additional cabinet organs have been provided. It is the intention to make this department at an early day a conservatory of music, where the very best facilities will be afforded all lovers of the art.

Mrs. Adkinson will teach sewing and dress-making by the McDowell system.

President Adkinson has been absent from the city but two weeks during the summer, giving all his time and energy to the building up of this great institution and has the pleasure of seeing his work appreciated by the people. Following are the faculties:

College of Liberal Arts: L. G. Adkinson, A. M., D. D., president and professor of mental and moral philosophy; Harvey J. Clements, M. S., professor of natural science; Alexander P. Camphor, A. B., professor of mathematics; William P. Winter, A. M., professor of Greek and principal normal department; Miss Fane Adkinson, professor of belles lettres, stenography, penmanship; Miss M. Attilla Farr, professor of elocution and English branches; John W. Collett, B. S., professor in college preparatory; Miss Olivia M. Anderson, A. B., professor of Latin; Mrs. W. P. Winter, principal fourth grade; Miss E. M. Williamson, principal third grade; Mrs. Cora L. Armstead, principal first and second grades.

Medical Faculty, 1891-92: Rev. L. G. Adkinson, A. M., D. D., president; G. W. Hubbard, M. D., acting dean and professor of hygiene and medical ethics; I. E. Mullon, A. M., M. D., professor of anatomy and theory; H. J. Clements, M. S., professor of physiology and chemistry; G. H. Felton, A. M., M. D., professor of materia medica; J. T. Newman, M. D., professor of surgery; T. A. Walker, A. M., M. D., professor of diseases of women; G. L. Curtis, A. M., M. D., lecturer on nervous diseases; M. S. Hopper, M. D., lecturer on diseases of the respiratory organs; C. G. Merritt, A. M., M. D., demonstrator of anatomy and instructor on toxicology and electro-therapeutics; F. B. Earhart, LL. D., professor of medical jurisprudence.

Drs. Sneed of Nashville and Mitchell of Cincinnati are members of the faculty, but their chairs have not been designated.

Prof. and Mrs. Frank O. Blundon, keep their Live Oak Preparatory School, at Baton Rouge, La.,

open fifty weeks in a year. It is kept open night and day. Bro. Blundon and his wife are members of our church in Baton Rouge, and their tireless efforts in the education of our people deserve their appreciation and support; and they have it.

Gammon Theological Seminary opens to-day. It is very desirable that students enter at the beginning of the term. Advertisement in another column.

The New Orleans Medical School ought to open with a hundred students Oct. 5. Here is your chance brother. Don't throw away a golden opportunity. Write Dr. L. G. Adkinson, 1428 St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans, for catalogue and general information.

The abolition of the Ware High School, Augusta, Ga., due to the contentions among the colored people, is a calamity to our people in that State.

Morristown, (Tenn.) Normal Academy, Rev. J. S. Hill, A. M., B. D., president, opened Sept. 16, with the largest enrollment for the first day of any year in its history. Students from Tennessee, Georgia, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kansas, Alabama and Mississippi are in attendance.

Work on the beautiful new building is progressing. The Woman's Home Missionary Society have given the contract for their model home. Miss Mary Blancher, the worthy matron of that institution for the past three years, was married Sept. 10, to Rev. J. S. Petty, Presiding Elder of Chattanooga district, Holston Conference. We extend congratulations and best wishes.

A DELEGATION from different States, called together by the American Sabbath Union, met the National Commissioners of the World's Fair in Chicago, Sept. 3, to urge the closing of the exposition on Sundays. One hour and a half were given by the commissioners for a hearing. The various aspects of the question were ably discussed by President Scoville, of Ohio; President Patton, of Princeton; O. O. Howard, Dr. Feruley, of Philadelphia, and Henson, of Chicago; Col. Bacon, of Brooklyn, and Hon. L. S. Coffin, of Iowa; Col. Shepard, of New York, President of the Union, and Secretaries Knowles and Taylor were present and assisted in giving directions to the proceedings. These friends of the Sabbath are hopeful that their request will be granted. If it is not granted christian people of this country might clothe themselves in sackcloth and ashes, bury their faces in their hands and plead with Almighty God for the salvation of our free constitution.

THE colored citizens of Texas held a great convention in Houston a week or two ago, in which they gave much valuable advice to the colored citizens of that State. There were over three hundred delegates in attendance, made up of some of the most intelligent and substantial representative men of the race in the State. They entered a vigorous and emphatic protest against the "Jim Crow law." Rev. I. B. Scott, D. D., presiding elder of the Houston district, was president. Dr. Scott was continued in the presidency of the executive committee which holds over till the next session of the convention.

WILL our preachers call attention next Sabbath to the Medical College of New Orleans University. Bishop Mallien has labored day and night for more than two years to build up a medical school, and now that it is in its third year of successful work, well equipped, with a strong faculty, shall we not fill it with first class young men?

Opinion, a Washington, D. C., magazine, showed its appreciation of Dr. J. W. E. Bowen's able article in the Methodist Review, by republishing a good portion of it in its columns.

and potent to disintegrate the conference forces and destroy the only tenable principles which gave good reasons for our presence on this hotly contested field.

The doctrine underlying this action of the church, and demonstrated by its praiseworthy efforts was the universal brotherhood of man. This well became the sons and followers of Mr. Wesley in the latter half of the nineteenth century, especially in view of what had transpired in the first sixty years of it.

Now had she maintained in practice what she held and still holds in theory, in this hour of her great opportunity, the high vantage ground gained would have given her a vision of the coming century from which she would have received an inspiration to conquer this continent not unlike that she had a hundred years ago. In the imperious demands and the wily ways to secure separate conference organizations, and the defiant attitude towards co-education of the mixed and Negro blood, we can read the true cause of failure to advance in the last decade as she did in the preceding one. How serious the effects have been upon our church work we can only speak prospectively, what we might have been had these tornadoes of agitation and ruptures of peaceful relations never occurred. Since these divisions were consummated neither phase of our work has received any marked accessions, while each has rendered itself vulnerable; and at places received mortal wounds from their ever present and not too scrupulous competing and opposing church organizations.

What growth there has been is mainly esoteric—a necessary feature of churchly life—but this should be attended by a vigorous aggressive spirit.

The church of Christ must accrete as well as concrete her elements, and, unless she gathers from without, her decline is sure; her death is only a question of a date.

In estimating the growth we have not included the territory occupied before the civil strife, but on that newly acquired ecclesiastical possession the last ten years show very little aggressive spirit, save in a few rare and exceptional localities.

If the future shall happily disappoint these views, no one will hail the triumph with more gratitude than the writer; but the wrong steps taken will be difficult to retrace and the widening breach almost impossible to span.

What the great Head of the Church militant may achieve through these conflicting agencies the future alone can demonstrate.

City Church Notes.

Last Sunday week was a high day at Union Chapel. At 3 o'clock in the morning the altar was crowded with mourners, and during the week they had many converts. At 11 o'clock a Sunday School Union Meeting was held, with the old Baptist Church Sunday School under the superintendence of Messrs. Frank Davis and Geo. K. Johnson, and Wesley Chapel Sunday school with Joseph Bailey as superintendent. Central Church was represented by Mr. Chauncey M. Crawford, and La Harpe Sunday School by Miss J. Grant. Much credit is due Mr. and Miss Ogilvie, the faithful superintendents of Union Chapel Sunday School, for the success of the occasion.

A Joint Class Bazaar was given at Pleasant Plain, under the auspices of the Willing Classes, the last week in August, for the purpose of seating the church. By the management of Alex. Ready, A. Wilson, Mrs. Ready, and A. Thomas, it was a grand success. The following also faithfully helped: Mrs. L. Price, W. King,

M. Mason, C. Leary, E. Leonard, N. Johnson, C. Brown, G. Davis, J. Butler, R. Bolden, L. Brown, A. Brown, M. Jackson, P. Henderson, G. Henry, M. Bryant, Misses Lewis, R. and H. Dutch, Revs. H. C. Green, A. J. Pickett, Bro. B. G. Ankrum, Columbus, Messrs. J. Johnson, G. Henry, W. King, H. Henderson, Mason. The church is now being nicely seated.

Mrs. Mary A. Kenner and Mrs. Nellie Johnson have been appointed a committee for Pleasant Plains, on the Old Folks' Home Fund.

President J. W. Hudson requests all the members of the New Orleans Preachers' Meeting to meet at New Orleans University, Oct. 5, 12 m.

Union Chapel, Rev. J. W. Hudson pastor, is enjoying one of the most sweeping revivals that she has enjoyed for a long time. The large church is crowded every night; the altar full of penitent souls, and many happy conversions are recorded every night. The whole church feels the holy impulse.

Reports of the third quarterly conference held at First Street M. E. Church, Sept. 15, show that the church is marching grandly forward spiritually and financially. Paid the Rev. T. G. Montgomery, pastor, $232.60. Raised $534.40 this quarter. Raised for missions up to date $1, paid Presiding Elder $60.

Obituary.

Mrs. Fredonia Courtney, beloved wife of the Rev. Joseph Courtney, of the Lexington Conference, departed this life Saturday, Sept. 12, aged 47 years. For several years she had been a constant sufferer, but she bore her affliction with that Christian heroism which could only characterize the true Christian. Her last illness was brief, but the Spirit of the Master whom she so faithfully served was a constant inspiration to cheer and support her during the trying ordeal. Her last moments were spent in singing and prayer, and in giving words of cheer and hope to her husband.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cure it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, a sore neck from the time she was 22 months old (all she became six years of age). Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLTON, Nauright, N. J.

Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Brethren: The fall is now upon us. Let us go to work to-day and raise our entire benevolent assessment for the year. The world shall know us by our work. Local preachers must have the "Southwestern" before the fourth quarter in order to get their licenses renewed.

M. M. ALSTON, P. E.

The travelling preachers of the Paris District, Texas Conference, are hereby called to meet in St. Paul M. E. Church, Clarksville, Tex., Monday, October 19, to consider a matter of importance to them. Meet at 3 p. m., and fail not.

W. H. JACKSON, Chairman.

J. W. H. MOORE, Secretary.

AARON TAYLOR.

No one doubts that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy really cures Catarrh, whether the disease be recent or of long standing, because the makers of it clinch their faith in it with a $500 guarantee, which isn't a mere newspaper guarantee, but "on call" in a moment.

That moment is when you prove that its makers can't cure you.

The reason for their faith is this:

Dr. Sage's remedy has proved itself the right cure for ninety-nine out of one hundred cases of Catarrh in the Head, and the World's Dispensary Medical Association can afford to take the risk of your being the one hundredth.

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist 50 cents and the trial begins.

If you're wanting the $500 you'll get something better—

DON'T TREAT.

BY LANTA WILSON SMITH.

"Walk up to the bar, boys, it's my treat to-day,
Walk up, and have something to drink,
Our pledges of friendship once more we'll renew,
And laugh as our glasses we clink."
My friends, do you know I was one of those 'boys,'
'Twas long, long ago, but the boys of this age,
Are treated the very same way.

They say that our glasses were filled with pure wine,
In mine was a serpent of fire,
That knows at my vitals, and crazes my brain,
With appetite's craving desire.
It robs me of peace and the comforts of home,
It robs me of manhood and pride,
The love of my children, my money and health,
And God only knows all beside!

You see I was treated for true friendship's sake,
But oh, 'twas the curse of my life;
I'd rather he'd struck through my innocent heart
A murderer's death-dealing knife.
They said 'twas a costly and generous treat
They praised as they passed round the bowl,
Who'll reckon the cost? what's the worth of a life?
Who'll tell me the price of a soul?

I wouldn't have gone to the bar-room alone
And called for my first glass of wine;
But, urged by companions, for friendship I took
The treat that I could not decline.
There're thousands who never to drink would have learned
If treating had never been known.
So if you drink what kills body and soul,
I pray you to drink it alone.
Away with this treating, you see what it does.
My life is a failure complete,
Show friendship in some other way, my boys,
There's danger in treating; don't treat.

The Household.

ROLLS.—One pint of boiling milk, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon sugar, one-half cup liquid yeast, flour to make a stiff sponge. Let it rise over night. In the morning knead it well, let it rise again, roll it out and cut it with a biscuit cutter.

GRAHAM MUFFINS.—Two table spoons sugar, one tablespoon butter, one egg, one cup sweet milk, three teaspoons baking powder; flour for stiff batter.

OATMEAL ROLLS.—To a vegetable dish of cold, cooked oatmeal, add, one teaspoon melted butter, one egg, one pint hot milk, flour to make quite stiff, two teaspoons baking powder, bake in gem irons.

PICKLE FOR BEEF.—One half pound saleratus, one-fourth pound saltpetre, two pounds sugar, eight pounds salt. This is sufficient for one hundred pounds of beef.

COFFEE CAKE.—One cup molasses, one-half cup sugar, two eggs, one half cup butter, one cup cold coffee, one cup raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon, one tablespoon soda, three cups flour.

YEAST.—Peel and grate four good sized potatoes. Boil a handful of hops in a pint of water until strength is extracted, then strain the water over the grated potatoes. Set all over the fire and stir it constantly until the mixture becomes like stiff starch, then add one cupful of sugar, and half a cupful of salt, and set it away to cool in a dark place. When it is luke-warm stir it into one pint of old yeast, then let it rise, after which, it must be kept in a coll place.

APPLE CAKE.—Seven eggs, one-half cup butter, two cups white sugar, two cups flour, two table spoons baking powder, two table spoons water, one half teaspoon salt. Bake it in layers, between which put the following filling: One egg, one cup sugar, three grated apples, one lemon.

I HAVE had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing and pleasant, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

Mr. Editor: I wish to enquire for my father. His name was Matthew Loudeu. My mother's name was Mary Page before she married him. My brothers' names are Peter and James Louden. My uncle Wm. Page, and my name is Hannah Louden. The last time I saw him was at Donaldsonville, seven years ago. Any one knowing of his whereabouts will do me a great favor by informing me. Mr. Editor: I wish to enquire for my mother and father who left me in Mississippi when a boy. They went to Ohio and I was carried to Georgia in the Martin estate, where I now live. Father's name was Moses Lynch. Mother's name was Mary Lynch. She carried four children with her. My oldest brother was Henry and next Richard. My oldest sister was Elizabeth, youngest Minerva. My oldest sister married a man named Albert Bethel, in Ohio. Any one knowing their whereabouts will please write to Robert Lynch, care of Rev. D. H. Martin, Alexandria, Ga.

Mr. Editor: I will make one more enquiry through the SOUTHWESTERN for my sister. She was taken to Atlanta, Ga., in 1862, by W. M. Simpson. At that time I was a boy 7 years old, and I have not seen her since. Her name was Sarah Ann Simpson. Mother's name was Matilda Simpson, and my name is Andrew Jackson Simpson. We were raised in White county, Tennessee, four miles south of Sparta, at Simpson's Mills. Any information will be thankfully received. Address A. J. Simpson, Doyle Station, Tenn.

Mr. Editor: I want to enquire for Jane Swan, daughter of Violet and Godfrey Swan. The last time I heard from her she was living with Dr. Bradley Tyler of Frederick City. She belonged to Richard Johnson, Frederick county, Md. She had a daughter named Josephine. Brothers David, William and Elley Swan. Sisters Dockey, Harriet Ann and Mary Ellen Swan. Any one knowing her whereabouts will please address Mrs. Harriet A. Ayer, Avery College, corner of North and Avery streets, Allegheny City, Pa.

From Father DeSmet, the Great Indian Missionary.
St. Louis, Jan. 8, 1872.—Messrs. J. & C. Maguire: No remedy can be more effective for complaints of the bowels, such as Cholera, Diarrhea, Dysentery, etc., than Maguire's Beane Plant. I have always found it such. P. J. DESMET, St. Louis.

General News Items.

Mr. Gladstone, the great English leader, is waning in physical strength, and is thought to be nearing the end of his wonderful political career. Such is life.

Negro Tax Payers in Morehouse Parish, Louisiana.

The Appeal has been furnished the following information by the accommodating sheriff of Morehouse. There are some interesting facts contained in this stick of information. There are in the parish 185 Negroes who pay taxes on real estate. They are: In ward 1, 14; ward 2, 20; ward 3, 26; ward 4, 53; ward 5, 1; ward 6, 20; ward 7, 6; ward 8, 11; ward 10, 18. Thirteen colored people own real estate in the corporation of Bastrop and three in Oak Ridge.

The aggregate assessment of all the property belonging to the Negroes of the parish foots up the magnificent sum of $201,930. These figures speak eloquently for a people who have had many difficulties to contend with, and they show that any Negro who wishes to be independent in his own home can reach that ambition in this great parish. The colored people who own land are all good and useful and respected citizens. They possess the confidence of their white neighbors, and are, as a rule, happy, content and good livers.—Bastrop Appeal.

Our Symposium.

Some of the Southern Methodists just now are enjoying an opportunity to say: "I told you so." The Northern Methodists are arranging to have a great university, so far as money goes, in Washington City. They asked the Southern Methodists to unite with them. If they could not unite in other things, surely "education" was common ground. Some demurred, others agreed, and at least one Southern bishop is on the board. Now it is announced that the university is to be mixed, as regards color, which was to be expected in view of the well-known position of Northern Methodists. Whereupon there is consternation among those who advocated "union" in education and quiet enjoyment of that consternation among those who opposed it.—Western Recorder.

Bishop Haygood, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, is reported to have made a most important declaration in a recent speech. He was speaking of the Federal Elections Bill which was before Congress during its late session, and said: "The Southern white people, whose money maintains the public schools, would have abolished the whole system before they would have paid for the education of the Negroes under the conditions which they believed to be involved in that measure." The "conditions" of that bill, as we understand, were that every legally qualified voter in the United States should have the right to cast a free ballot, and have it honestly counted and returned. It applied equally to all parts of the country. The end aimed at is the fundamental principle of free institutions. Then, according to Bishop Haygood, it was the deliberate purpose of the South to abolish the whole free school system, of which the colored people receive a part of the benefits, rather than suffer the colored man to exercise elective franchise; or in revenge, if they were compelled to submit to this result! Well, we have seen a good many severe things said of the Southern people on this point by political papers, but this Southern bishop clearly discomfited them all. He affirms a spirit of desperation which politicians have not uttered.—Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

The second Sunday in October is Good Tidings Day. Let it be observed in every church. Send the collection to Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D.D., corresponding secretary of the Sunday School Union, New York.

THE BEST APERIENT

In modern pharmacy is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Except in extreme cases, physicians have abandoned the use of drastic purgatives, and recommend a milder, but no less effective medicine. The favorite is Ayer's Pills, the superior medicinal virtues of which have been certified to under the official seals of state chemists, as well as by hosts of eminent doctors and pharmacists. No other pill so well supplies the demand of the general public for a safe, certain, and agreeable family medicine.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever used; and in my judgment no better general remedy was."

Ever Devised

I have used them in my family and caused them to be used among my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge many cases of the following complaints have been completely and permanently cured by the use of Ayer's Pills: biliousness, indigestion, constipation, and hard stools. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above.—J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—Wm. H. DeLancett, Dorset, Ontario.

"Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic I ever used in my practice."—J. T. Sparks, M.D., Yeddo, Ind.

PERRY LESTER COLEMAN.
French Camp, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 9 years old. I go to Sunday school and also to day school. I love the M. E. Church. My father is pastor at Lavonia, Ga. His name is J. E. Watkins. He takes the old SOUTHWESTERN, and I love to read it.

Your Niece,
IDELLA WATKINS.
Lavonia, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 11 years old. I attended school five months this session. I attend Sunday school. My papa C. Cammen is our teacher, assisted by Miss Mary Jackson. He takes the good old SOUTHWESTERN, and I read it every week, and I love it. Our pastor is Rev. T. A. Brown. He has set up a light in Albert Chapel which is delightful to all who see it. He is much beloved by all. My little cousins can find the word wife in the Bible, Matthew 14th chapter, 13th verse.

"Just as Good,"
says some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements to induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is peculiar to itself.

We don't you get the boarding house and different business houses with whom our people trade, advertise in the SOUTHWESTERN?

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know what to say; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. E. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I could of Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times, and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I expect to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure. If they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. GORSTICH, M. D.
Office, 25 Summit St.
I have given $1 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hood's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Ticker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 189 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it, and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TWO STATEMENTS

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April I was attacked with Chagras Fever, a Spanish Honduras and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell and since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Royal Gometeur. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Gometeur has been in my God send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may call on me.

DANIEL PAPPOU,
451 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above statement I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Gometeur saved my life.

DANIEL PAPPOU.

Chagras Fever is known to be not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Gometeur has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It has a similar record as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malarial troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quick and most unfailing remedy for Fevers of all kinds, Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our midst every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Gometeur office, 292 Canal Street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, Agent, 292 Canal Street. $1 bottle; six bottles for $5.

GOLDEN TEXT.

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life. (John 11. 25.)

LESSON HYMN, S. 7. 7.

Jesus wept! those tears are over, But his heart is still the same; Kinsman, Friend, and elder Brother, Is his everlasting name. Saviour, who can love like thee, Gracious One of Bethany?

When the pangs of trial seize us, When the waves of sorrow roll, I will lay my head on Jesus, Pillow of the troubled soul. Surely, none can feel like thee, Weeping One of Bethany!

Jesus wept, and still in glory, He can mark each mourner's tear; Living to retrace the story Of the hearts he solaced here. Lord, when I am called to die, Let me think of Bethany.

Time—Probably March, A. D. 30. Place—Bethany. Rulers—Herod in Galilee; Pilate in Jerusalem.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY

1. Jesus and Martha, v. 21-27. What words of Martha show her faith in Jesus's power on earth? How did she declare her faith in his power in heaven? What promise did Jesus give her? To what time did Martha think he referred? What did Jesus say about the resurrection?

2. Jesus and Mary, v. 28-38. How did Mary know of Jesus's coming? What did she at once do? Where was Jesus at this time? What did the people think when Mary went out? What did Mary say and do when she met Jesus? How was Jesus affected by her grief?

3. Jesus and Lazarus, v. 34-44. What question did Jesus ask about Lazarus? What shows to us his love for Lazarus? What question did some of the Jews ask? Where was the tomb, and how secured?

What did Jesus command? What objection was made? What question did he ask Martha? What was Jesus's thanksgiving to the Father? What did he then say? What was the result of his words? When before had Jesus raised the dead? (Luke 7. 15; 8. 54, 55.)

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:

1. That Jesus has sympathy with us in our sorrow?

2. That Jesus can comfort us in our sorrow?

3. That Jesus can give us triumph over our sorrow?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG BE-REANS.

Write down the names of the persons of whom it is said Jesus loved them?

Find other cases where Jesus raised dead persons to life?

Find cases recorded in the Old Testament of dead persons raised to life.

THE LESSON CATECHISM.

[For the entire school.]

1. Name the two sisters who mourned the death of their brother Lazarus, whom Jesus loved?

2. What did the Lord do when they led him to the grave? Jesus wept.

3. What did he call aloud after praying to God? "Lazarus, come forth."

4. What then happened? He that was dead came forth.

5. What had Jesus said to Martha? "I am the resurrection, and the life."

Doctrinal Suggestion—The resurrection of the dead.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

92. What is the fifth commandment? Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

There's a good deal of guarantee business in the store keeping of to-day. It's too excessive. Or too reluctant. Half the time it means nothing. Words—only words.

This offer to refund the money, or to pay a reward, is made under the hope that you won't want your money back, and that you won't claim the reward. Of course.

So, whoever is honest in making it, and works—not on his own reputation alone, but through the local dealer, whom you know, must have something he has faith in back of the guarantee. The business wouldn't stand a year without it.

What is lacking is confidence? Back of that, what is lacking is that clear honesty which is above the "average practice."

Dr. Pierre's medicines are guaranteed to accomplish what they are intended to do, and their makers give the money back if the result isn't apparent. Doesn't it strike you that a medicine which the makers have so much confidence in, is the medicine for you?

John H. Burrus, M. A., President of Alcorn A. & M. College, at Rodney, Miss., in remitting for the advertisement in our paper, said: "I feel quite sure the advertising has done good, since we open unusually full this year."

It surely pays to advertise in the SOUTHWESTERN.

That tired feeling now so often heard of, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives mental and bodily strength.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Dr. Starkey & Paley, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

Compound of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Phosphates

It has required much experience and care to enable the proprietor to combine the Oil and Phosphates so that they would become thoroughly efficacious together, and he has the only recipe by which this can be accomplished. Another important advantage which the Pure Cod Liver Oil possesses prepared in this way, over the plain cod liver oil, is the fact that besides adding largely to its medicinal qualities, it preserves the oil pure and sweet for a longer period than it can be done in any other manner. This fact alone would recommend this form of using the Oil even if the phosphates did not also add vastly to the healing qualities of the preparation. The perfect incorporation of the phosphates with the cod liver oil has only been accomplished by the adoption of the most perfect rules of chemistry; and a medicine which has been produced which while it is so efficacious is also perfectly palatable and pleasant.

Almost as palatable as cream. It can be taken with pleasure by delicate persons and children, who, after using it, become very fond of it. It assimilates with the food, increases the flesh and builds up the nervous system, restores energy to mind and body, creates new, rich and pure blood, in fact, rejuvenates the whole system.

PURELY VEGETABLE, BLOOD, BRAIN.

This preparation is far superior to all other preparations of Cod Liver Oil. It has many imitations, but no equals. The results following its use are best recommendations. CLARK UNIVERSITY

Is a Christian school of high grade, open to students of all classes, without regard to sex or color. It is located at Atlanta, Ga., on a high ridge of timber land, just outside of the city limits. It has 400 acres of the most beautiful lands for farm and campus of any school in the South.

There are four large buildings for college purposes, made of brick and stone, worth $75,000. This University offers superior advantages in the following departments:

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.

This department offers to the student two courses, the regular Classical and the Philosophical. A third course has been recently introduced for the benefit of the "trade student," which takes the Academic Studies and completes a trade in the same time.

TRADE SCHOOL.

Clark University has one of the best trade schools in the South. Blacksmithing, carpentry, carriage-making, wagon-making, painting, harness-making, shoe-making, printing and draughting are all taught.

There was about $15,000 worth of work sold out of the shops this past year. Much of this work ranks with the best in the markets.

A Special course in the Trade School has been introduced, whereby a student with an English education can devote all of his time in the Trade school, and thus completing his trade in a short period of time.

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society has a splendid building, well equipped, where two skilled teachers, the young ladies who have reached certain classes are put in this building, and taught all the principles of housekeeping, including dress-making and needle work. All the girls not in this building are taught some of these things in the grades.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

There is a normal department thoroughly organized, and conducted by a man of large experience in normal work. Special attention is given to methods of teaching.

ENGLISH GRADES.

There are the regular grades in English after the best common school methods, from the primary to the sixth year.

MUSIC SCHOOL.

The Music School is organized after the best methods, under a skilled teacher, and instruction is given on piano or organ, and also vocal drill to classes or individual lessons.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

The Gammon School of Theology is located within a few rods of the University, and offers the very best advantages to the student preparing for the ministry. For this school, address Dr. Thirkield, President.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

There will be a night school organized to help those students who are behind in certain studies, and especially those who have to work during the day for support.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the school is strict, but seeks to develop in the student self-control and self-reliance.

Next Sunday, October 11, has been denominated Discovery Day by the Pan Republic Congress Executive Committee, in honor of the discovery of America by Columbus. The committee have requested preachers and teachers everywhere to take as a special subject of that day the words from Leviticus xxv, 10: "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, to all the inhabitants thereof." The words are cast in the bell of Independence Hall, Pa., that was rung on July 4, 1786, on the adoption by the Constitutional Congress of the Declaration of Independence.

THE vigorous antagonism of the SOUTHWESTERN, to the lottery infamy, has brought to the editor several pressing invitations to address the people, in various parts of this State, in opposition thereto. The editor regrets his inability to enter into such a canvass, at this time, as his time is wholly taken by other business that he cannot neglect. In the meantime he advises every friend of morality to assist in the circulation of the SOUTHWESTERN, as the best antidote to the lottery virus. Put it in the hand of every voter in this State, and it will do valiant and successful missionary service for the cause.

The Spread of Methodism Among the Colored People of the South.

BY REV. J. B. L. WILLIAMS.

The manifest need for the more extended spread of Methodism among the colored people of the South cannot be any longer a matter of doubt. In this assertion the Methodism of the M. E. Church is distinctively referred to. Not that other forms and branches of Methodism are not good, but because ours is the best, in the sense that more than any other Methodism it meets, provides for and supplies the moral and intellectual needs of the colored people in the South. The highest standard of moral training, the most elaborate and complete provision for a thorough intellectual equipment are nowhere more abundant and abundant than in the M. E. Church. Therefore its spread among the colored people of the South is necessary and should be furthered by every honorable and Christian means within our grasp. One hindrance—and perhaps the most fatal—to our more rapid spread and development among and larger ingathering of the colored people in the South is, that we are confronted and taunted with the arguments used by other Methodism which "are around and about us as the mountains are around and about Jerusalem," that we have no colored bishops. This statement well as the indisputable fact of the statement, "no matter with what indifference some of our brethren may be disposed to regard it" has, does now and will influence many minds and greatly impede and retard our compassing the length and breadth of this Southland. That this is true will not be disputed or denied by any man of candor and frankness who has prudently, thoughtfully, patiently and honestly studied this question.

The other Methodisms have their bishops who travel through their episcopal districts and are frequently among their people outside of their official relation of holding Annual Conferences, and thus they are brought into a more intimate Christian relation as they meet them in their social and religious gatherings as well as in their homes. If our approaching General Conference can be impressed with the utility of and necessity for the election of a colored man to the episcopacy, and shall elect one, it will certainly remove what to my mind occurs to be the prime obstacle in the way of the spread of our Methodism. If this is done it will, in a manner hardly conceived of, so enhance our power for growth and influence as to overleap our most sanguine expectation.

As to whether the time for such an election has come I answer for myself and from convictions founded on what seems palpably clear and urgently necessary. "I think the time is at hand." Many have been expecting it. The thoughtful and progressive element of the laity are quietly but positively anticipating it. The ministry with a few "singularly phenomenal" exceptions are anxiously hopeful of it. The larger and more extended spread of our Methodism among the colored people of the South certainly demands it.

As to whether we have the material the answer comes in the affirmative. Men of moral, intellectual and religious character and fitness are not difficult to be found. Men who would do no dishonor to any position within the gift and confidence of the church are within at least calling distance.

How the desired end may be consummated is the most difficult part of this important question.

Unity and concert among ourselves might be a wise and helpful step in that direction. All selfish and unholy ambitions should be crucified and when the chief shepherd and bishop of the church invisible shall through his visible church present the man, let the General Conference "arise and anoint him."

The Preacher's Wife.

When God made man he made for him a helpmate. Therefore it is lawful for ministers to marry as other men. But they should be careful as to who they should marry. A preacher's wife should be a model in the strictest sense of the word before the people. Not a model of self-conceit. Not a model of fancy dressing, but a model of meekness, patience, godliness, temperance and cleanliness. She should be neat and clean but never gorgeous or fancy apparelled. She should be agreeable and sociable and above all she should be a religious woman. She should be free from tale-bearing. This has proven injurious to many of our charges. She should believe evil of no one, without good evidence. And never speak slightly of her and her husband's affairs. People will not thank her for it. I have known preachers whose good name has been destroyed among their people by the natty tongue of their wives. The wife can prove a blessing or a curse to her husband. Many of our preachers have been unequally yoked together, and I must say they are unequally living together. Many preachers would do better work if they were not thus tied down hand and feet. Yet the Discipline offers no redress except for adultery.

Our Discipline says "too many of our members (of course preachers too) have married unwakened persons. This has produced bad effect. They have been either hindered for life or have turned back to perdition." There may be no direct teaching in the holy writ to vindicate the argument for people to be divorced in any case except adultery, but it seems to teach that if they cannot agree; separation without remarriage, in some extreme cases may be allowed.

Read II Cor. 7th chapter, 10-17 verse. In Prov. 21 and 9th verse it says, "It is better to dwell in the corner of a house-top than with a brawling woman." Amos 3rd Ch. and 3rd verse says: "Can two walk together except they be agreed?" Let me ask you the subjects of my discourse, are you contentions towards your husband? Do you try to make it hard for him because he is well spoken of by the females? This is a wrong. Jealousy has ruined many a poor preacher from the field, fostered and matured by his wife.

I am speaking of preacher's wives, but this is applicable to all women who have an ax of this character to grind. Remember you should be his nearest friend. If all assail his character and abuse him you should not. He has enough burdens to bear without carrying yours; because you promised to share his burdens however grievous to nature, and if you turn against him you may completely break him down. One of the greatest blunders John Wesley ever made was when he married Vazel. Her fiery temper, her superstition and jealousy unfitted her for such a character. She traveled a while with her husband over his work, and not being honored by the people whom she mingled with, went home and nursed her madness and from that day she began to lay snares for her husband. He would try to amuse her, he would try to comfort her. He tried to pull the seed of jealousy up by the root. He went so far as to tell her that he was as free from any woman as the day he was born. But she did not believe him. She was to him, an adder by the way. And finally the result was an entire separation. Although our Discipline does not favor separation except for adultery.

Here was a man whose equal could not be found in his day, and even now, yet he was forced to flee from his wife because she sought to slay him by abuse. Don't any one conceive the idea that I am trying to teach divorcement unconditionally, but I do say fearlessly and with great stress and emphasis that many of our preachers have been unequally yoked together to such characters, and the consequence is they have almost made shipwreck of their faith and ministry, and such wives have put their husbands and themselves to an open shame. I would say to young men who are single (preachers especially), be careful whom you select as your better-half for life.

Put this down on your book that your success as ministers depends a great deal upon your wife. Therefore, dear preachers' wives, be kind to all, be true, be honest, be sociable, be grateful. Study your people, as your husband studies them. Consider that they are your people as well as your husband's. After you have done your best, some will speak slightly of you, but let your deportment be such that none will have cause to suspect that you are jealous or anything that a preacher's wife ought not to be. Be a standard-bearer for your husband. If you have no book-learning and are not able to be a Sunday school teacher you can be kind to young people and to your husband.

But I would do injustice were I to close this article without saying a word to the preachers about their wives. Do you do your duty towards them? Do you ever give them grounds to suspect that any woman's company suits you better than theirs? You must remember that our wives have rights that we must respect, as well as ourselves. Therefore be kind and loving to them, and then after you have done your duty, have walked circumspectly before them and they still seek to ruin you or assail your character, I can only give this advice, namely: bear it as you would any other temporal affliction for Christ's kingdom, or retire from the regular itinerancy with them and your sinful examples.

The Colored Convention.

BY REV. L. M. HAGOOD, M. D.

That which can in no way be beneficial is most likely to be useless or injurious.

And so to express a doubt as to the wisdom of calling a colored convention immediately before or after the Ecumenical Conference, is the object of this paper.

Its deliberations would be unavailing for fraternity, race advancement intellectually, financially, morally or spiritually.

For it would have no authority to act for the General Conferences or the Annual Conferences in any manner whatever.

Because there is no manifested disposition, exhibited by General Conference action, to bring about closer union between the now distinctively colored churches and our church.

Because the colored element in our church does not manifest any desire whatever to change its present happy relation to the body ecclesiastical. Because such a convention would not be a concession that there is not nor can there be any success for colored people outside of distinctively colored conventions, etc., which thing we emphatically deny.

It would be but a stick in the hands of colorphobists to belabor

all colored people who are trying to make a breach in the Chinese wall of caste by keeping close to the wall.

Wherever the question of mixed schools is brought up, designing white men fight it by referring to the predilection of our people for separate and distinctively colored organizations. Now it is true that the intelligent colored people of this country are fighting shy of any such charge, and unless they do, their children will rise up in the future and doubt the ability of their fathers in ecclesiastical matters. If distinctively colored church organizations persist in trying to keep up the color line in this country, the educated young colored people will turn away in disgust and Congregationalism, Episcopalianism and Roman Catholicism will gather all those of our young people that do not from sheer despair plunge into fanaticism and infidelity. This may be wrong. Is it?

Publishers' Department.

Rev. E. D. Giddings, of Adairsville, Ga., is to have a grand church rally for benevolences, and offers our paper with the Sewing Machine as a premium. A good idea; any church might adopt the plan with profit. Let there be no scheme of chance or lottery about it, but a reward for honest endeavor, then the divine approbation will attend it.

A TEXAS correspondent writes us of two colored men who were in Houston recently, organizing a society among the colored people, which would "secure them work in whatever State that work is found." They claimed to have had assurances from Jay Gould and Mr. Huntington, railroad kings, that the members of this society "can have work wherever found; and that it would not be long before the colored man would be first and foremost in this country." The society, they said, had agents in all the railroad companies. This is all we could learn from our correspondent, but the very face of the thing is branded with fraud. The thing is absurd and unreasonable and we hope our people will not allow themselves to be gulled by such sharpers. Mr. Gould, nor Mr. Huntington either, are not such disinterested philanthropists and lovers of the Negro to extend any such extraordinary offers for them to become "the first and foremost in this country." Why don't our people get some sense. It seems as if every slick, scheming scoundrel can dazzle their eyes, and make them believe "the moon is made out of green cheese." Don't believe any such nonsense, and have them put behind iron bars, that tries to steal your money from you upon the pretense that they are the bona fide bearers of any such absurd messages from men that have't the Negro to think about.

THE Down Town Herald is for the down town people and the improvement of that section of the city, and is doing a good work and meeting with much success.—Standard Pelican.

The Herald is the organ of the Lottery, whatever else it may be, and our hyphenated neighbor should have said so. It should have told its readers, too, that the Down Town Herald is, according to its own confession, "a straight out Democratic paper, that cares very little for the good graces of the colored people." Is the S. P. trying to help the Lottery by "whipping the devil round the bush?" Put your foot down, brother, and let us know where you are.

Letters from the Districts.

D. J. Price and Geo. W. Simms, statistical secretaries of the North New Orleans District, have furnished us with the following figures: Receipts for ministerial support, including house rent or rental value of parsonages $6498.33, for Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society $210.50, other benevolent money $230, building and improvements $1210.65; total $7149.48. Probationers 250, converts 410, accessions 230, full members 2435, local preachers 91, deaths 50, infants baptized 175, adults 180, marriages 50, churches 16, parsonages 4, Sunday schools 17, scholars of all ages 1898.

J. M. Shumpert, Columbus, Miss.

The great educational meeting held at Meridian in the interest of our Academy was a grand success.

The presence of Dr. Hartzell, Secretary, and Dr. M. C. B. Mason, Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, was very encouraging to our people, and their earnest and eloquent speeches and sermons upon Christian education greatly stimulated our people to do more to help themselves than ever before. This great effort is to be followed up on the district by a ten day's visit by Dr. Mason, who will visit the principal circuits and stations, and lecture and preach and assist us in raising money for the Academy.

A new building is an absolute necessity, and we trust that the day when work shall commence on the new building is not far in the distant future.

E. S. MELTON.

The conference assembled at Palmetto, Ga., August 9, 1891, at 8:30 p. m. Rev. A. J. Wilson presided.

Reports from the different charges were commendable, showing an increasing interest in the spiritual and financial condition of the church.

A resolution recognizing the philanthropy of the deceased Dr. Gammon, and tendering sympathy to the bereaved family, was adopted; also, a resolution to petition the Board of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society to retain Prof. T. A. Fortson in Clark University.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason lectured in behalf of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, for which $15.11 was raised. The addresses by Profs. Crogman and Fortson, scholarly, enthusiastic and interesting, added much to the pleasantness of the session.

The total amount raised during the conference was $48.

Jackson District, Mississippi Conference.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL, P. E.

The Jackson District never was in a more prosperous condition, and a bright future is before us. Happy revivals are going on now, and the pastors report many conversions. All are jubilant over their great success. Many new churches have been and are being built. Our banner is high, and our motto: "Less resolutions and more faithful acts." Pray for us, that we may continue to prosper.

[This is a model communication, from a model Presiding Elder; and we commend it for its comprehensiveness and compactness, to our brethren who occupy so much unnecessary space to say so little in our columns.—Ed.]

The Gainesville District, Savannah Annual Conference, unanimously passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The SOUTHWESTERN is the official organ of our conference, and is edited by an eminent and able colored man, and it contains in its rich columns weekly the information which is indispensable and absolutely necessary for the intelligence and correct information of all of our people in this Southland, and especially for all of our local preachers, and no local preacher can be prepared to speak intelligently to the people who does not read the SOUTHWESTERN; therefore,

Be it Resolved, That every local preacher in the bounds of this district be most urgently requested to subscribe and pay for the SOUTHWESTERN, and in the future, commencing from the adoption of this resolution, the license of no local preacher shall be renewed who does not subscribe for the SOUTHWESTERN.

Signed: W. B. Brown, R. T. Adams, William Upshaw, committee; M. M. Alston, Presiding Elder; P. H. Travis, secretary.

Greenville District, Upper Mississippi Conference.

N. H. WILLIAMS.

Convened in Greenville, Aug. 5-9. Rev. J. W. Davis presided.

N. H. Williams was elected secretary, and W. H. H. Gallion assistant.

The reports from the Presiding Elder and pastors showed a wonderful progress on the district this year.

The district is still in its infancy, but the present development of the work shows strongly that it will soon be one of the best in the Upper Mississippi Conference. The statistics will show that there are 651 members, 50 probationers, and $79.10 for benevolent purposes; also about 50 SOUTHWESTERNS taken.

No doubt the district will soon double its work in membership, church building and collections.

The conference proved to be the best that has ever been held on this district, and leaves a lasting impression.

There were many visitors, among them Rev. J. L. Wilson, President of the Columbus, Miss., Academy, who preached an able sermon in his eloquent style.

W. H. Higgins, Oak Forest, Ark.

Our district conference was held at this place July 30th to August 2d.

There were several interesting papers read by the members of the conference. We had a grand time.

Reports from the pastors and Presiding Elder, W. R. R. Duncan, showed improvement all along the line.

This was the best district conference ever held on our district. Our revival resulted in 33 conversions and 34 accessions. We are moving on very well spiritually, but are not doing so much financially.

We are trying to build a church. We have laid the foundation of the church, and have 3520 feet of lumber on the ground. We want to be able to go into our new church by the second Sunday in October.

Huntsville District, Texas Conference.

F. PARKER, P. E.

The first annual session of the Sunday School Institute of the Huntsville District, Texas Conference, convened in St. James M. E. Church, Huntsville, August 5-9.

The following pastors were present: Revs. W. L. Duncan, O. G. Curtis, L. J. Hogan, H. Dickson, Dr. Morris, T. Scott, S. H. Grant, and Prof. R. B. Smith of Hempstead.

The subject, "The Sunday School Missionary Societies," was discussed in a very impressive and pleasing manner by Bro. Smith.

The following delegates were in attendance: W. L. Burr, J. C. Pitts, Bnd Cavil, B. F. Carter and J. W. Justice, William Burrell, J. H. Butcher, W. M. Thomas, Misses M. O. Mann, H. E. Palmer, Sylvia Woodson, Octavia Dairy, Snie Duncan, Mrs. H. Parker and S. M. Crawford.

They were all assigned subjects, and treated them with much care and ability.

The Epworth Hymnals were used. They are very popular among the Sunday schools of this district.

The Institute was a blessing to its members. Pastors and Sunday school officers left for home quickened to do more and better things for their schools.

The Institute was thoroughly organized.

Resolutions of thanks were adopted, to the pastor, W. L. Duncan, and the people of Huntsville for their hospitable entertainment.

Leaving the exercises in town, Monday, August 10, we took camps about six miles out of Huntsville, on our camp ground of ten acres, for two weeks, where the following pastors rendered invaluable services: Revs. S. H. Grant, W. L. Duncan, L. J. Hogan, Dr. Morris, H. Dickson, L. Felder, C. G. Curtis, T. Scott, S. Kelly, E. Holliday, R. B. Smith, M. Gny, C. C. Adair.

Presiding Elder Hamilton, of the Marshall District, spent several days with us and preached four powerful and instructive sermons.

Rev. A. Alexander was with us two or three days.

Revs. Tobias Ward, Henry Gillespie, and Wiley Peterson remained at home.

All pastors should attend all their district occasions, as there are such subjects discussed which their members should know. In other words, pastors serve as mediums to reach the people.

The camp meeting was attended by large crowds of people from several neighboring counties. The altars kept thronged with anxious seekers of religion during the meeting. Some thirty-odd were added to the church, most of whom were happily converted.

Glorious revivals have attended every charge, with one or two exceptions.

The members and friends contributed $140 in money and provisions to defray the expenses at the camp grounds and to care for the ministers. The property is beautiful.

Wednesday, the 19th, at 11 a. m., an arousing meeting was held in the interest of the Home Missionary Society, when Mrs. Solan Smith, of Willis, Texas, was unanimously elected district president for the Huntsville District. Sister Smith is worthy of the position. The Society is also properly organized in each pastoral charge.

Sunday, August 24, I represented the SOUTHWESTERN and took seven three-months cash subscribers.

I could not possibly attend the Presiding Elders' Convention, but its sentiments are mine all the same.

The Sunday School Institute, camp meeting and Home Mission meeting were pronounced successes by the people.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures those diseases which come from blood impurities—scrofula and skin diseases, sores and swellings.

But does it? It's put up by the thousands of gallons, and sold to hundreds of thousands. Can it cure as well as though it had been compounded just for you?

Its makers say that thousands of people who have had Tetters and Salt-rheum, Eczema and Erysipelas, Carbuncles and Sore Eyes, Thick Neck and Enlarged Glands, are well to-day because they used it.

Suppose that this is so. Suppose that a quick-witted man was far-seeing enough to know that to cleanse the blood was to cleanse the life. Suppose that by many experiments, and after many failures, he discovered this golden key to health, and that his faith in it for you is so strong that you can go to your druggist, buy a bottle, and if it doesn't help you, you can get your money returned—cheerfully. Will you try it?

The remedy to have faith in, is the remedy the makers themselves have faith in.

G. H. Hamilton, Ashland, Ala.

On the first Sunday in August we began a glorious revival at the Lineville Church, and the church is spiritually revived. The meeting lasted one week, during which time 36 members were added to the church. We will soon have our new church at Lineville completed, at a cost of about $500 or $600. This church is situated about half a mile north of the town. We have a good Sabbath school here, with a membership of about 40. On a recent Sunday Dr. R. D. Evans preached us a grand sermon on "Baptism," and many went away feeling that they had experienced new inspiration.

J. B. Combs, Corinth, Miss.

Our Presiding Elder, Rev. R. Sewell, was with us August 21, and held his third quarterly conference here. On the Sunday following he preached a soul-reviving sermon on "Christian Courage." A collection of $12.80 was raised for the Elder, and 93 communicants partook of the Lord's Supper. Our new pastor, Rev. O. Gillespie, is a great worker for the Master, and we all love him. He conducted a successful revival and built a new parsonage, both within three weeks. As a result of his labor there were 18 added to the church, and a handsome residence graces the adjoining lot to the church. Messrs. J. Orford, Zack White, Alfred Paden and Sebron Carr, Sr., deserve special mention for the noble assistance rendered by them in the building of the parsonage. Our white friends did handsomely. Rev. Washington's meeting at Conroe, of Corinth Circuit, resulted in 24 conversions and 19 new members added to the church. The SOUTHWESTERN is a welcome visitor in our midst.

Disgusted With the A. M. E. Church.

J. ROGERS.

Talk about Union Springs, Ala., withdrawing from the A. M. E. Church, with hundreds of members, Bladen Springs can beat that, because if she had the opportunity there would not be one left to be prejudiced against the old church. There is not a more thoroughly disgusted people to be found anywhere. The people have been robbed year after year, till to day we have no church fit to worship in and no future prospects. Such preachers as have been sent here, of course, cannot stay but one year on account of their characters, or two at the most, before they must be sent to where they are not known. Such preachers cannot measure up with the Baptists, whose preachers stay with a people till their interest calls for a change. To-day the African Methodists are objects of pity. Some are trying to get up some other kind of wool hat Methodism, some are joining the Baptists, while some of the more intelligent are standing still and waiting. The name Methodist is trailing in the dust in this place. The people need the old unmodified Methodist church, or none at all. This would be a good field for a first-class Methodist preacher. The old SOUTHWESTERN has been read here of late, so the people can see themselves just as they are. Pray for us.

A. McLees, Clio, S. C.

We have just closed a grand revival with 378 conversions and 100 accessions. New Holly, 204 converts; Clio, 103; Ashbury, 55; Chapelle's preaching place, 16; total this year, 413. This is my second year on this charge. The first year I built one church at a cost of $1000, put $600 improvements on the Clio Church and $500 on New Holly Church, and $150 on the parsonage. We have bought an organ, clock, bell and other things to ornament our churches.

J. C. Crawley, New Gascony, Ark.

Our magnificent church building, worth $700, was burned to the ground Sept. 9. Our Presiding Elder, G. W. Lacey, came and held his third quarter Sept. 12, 13, in front of the burned church in the road, and laid plans for the rebuilding. He preached a grand sermon and raised $211.55. On the 15th he was at Altheimer, under the pastorate of Rev. John Qualls, and raised $75 for another church. Nineteen churches have been built in two years. Long live Lacy and Qualls. Pray for the rebuilding of our church.

R. Hays, Kosciusko, Miss.

We are moving along slowly. We have four churches and twelve acres of land. We have three splendid Sunday schools.

S. Knight, Fox Camp, Tenn.

The Nashville district conference at McMinnville, was a grand success. Rev. J. W. Richmond, pastor, and his good people, entertained the conference in good style. Presiding Elder J. P. Price was as a wise father among his children. His daughter, Miss Josie Price, presided very satisfactorily at the organ. Dr. Braden cheered every heart with his sermons and lectures. A genuine boom was given the SOUTHWESTERN and Dr. Albert, its able and fearless editor. Our people at McMinnville have commenced building their new brick church. It will be a credit to our cause.

Aaron Layton, Bonham, Tex.

I am closing one of the hardest years at one of the hardest appointments in the Texas Conference I've ever had. Yet in the midst of all, the Lord has blessed me. I found a good church and comfortable parsonage with two rooms, without any furniture, only a heater; and we found six members and they were weak. We have had strong opposition from three denominations, but yet we have pulled through all of this and entertained a nice district conference without any trouble. Among the visitors was the Rev. W. Hamilton, Presiding Elder, who preached us a sermon which will never be forgotten by our people. We have now 18 members. We have raised $11 for benevolent purposes, which was never before done in the history of the church at this place. Our church is behind now, but in a few years she will take the lead. Now we have some subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN, and this paper has done a wonderful work in this town for our church. We commenced a series of meetings on the first of September, and expect to continue four weeks. Brother pastors, come over into Macedonia and help us.

A. B. Logan, Enterprise, Miss.

Our third quarterly conference convened August 29. Rev. J. M. Shumpert, Presiding Elder, preached three able sermons. Raised for pastor during quarter, $43.95, Presiding Elder $15, Meridian Academy $10.25. Our Sunday schools will almost equal any on the district.

A. Butler, Waynesboro, Miss.

We have built a beautiful new church, 30x45, with a 12 ft. wall, which is quite a treat to the community.

Y. K. Meeks, Key West, Fla.

Our church was organized here about four years ago. I found 157 members and probationers. I have had two revivals, with 27 converts and about 60 accessions. Our church will soon be ceiled and painted. There were wonderful demonstrations of divine power in many of our meetings, and the conversion of many souls. Our church is a model Methodist church.

Jas. H. Saunders, Sparks, Ga.

Our third quarterly conference was held August 29, 30, with Rev. E. R. Reid in the chair. Reports showed the work in a prosperous condition. Two conversions and 10 accessions during the quarter. Paid pastor $40.60, Presiding Elder $5, benevolences $4. Elder Reid preached and many hearts were made glad.

A. W. Randolph, Jasper, Tenn.

Our fourth quarterly conference was held at South Pittsburg, Aug. 29, 30, by Rev. D. W. Hays, D.D., of the Chattanooga district. The Elder preached two soul stirring sermons. Our revival closed with 28 conversions. Raised for Elder $12, paid pastor $44.25, benevolences $8.62.

L. H. Grant, Adairsville, Ga.

Rev. M. O. B. Mason addressed 500 people here in a Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society anniversary. Everybody was carried away with his representation of the cause. All our people will do more for the Society, and for the SOUTHWESTERN.

Owen Hyppsher, Bristol, Tenn.

I see in the SOUTHWESTERN of August 13 a false statement about the Bristol District Conference electing a delegate to the next General Conference by a formal vote. We never thought of such a thing. The writer was mistaken. As for Rev. C. Boyd, Presiding Elder, Bishop Walden made no mistake when he put him on the Bristol district. He is the right man in the right place.

THE first anniversary celebration and parade of the Citizens' Protective Union of the State of Louisiana, organized October 8, 1890, incorporated January 31, 1891, takes place to-day. Anniversary services at the Old Baptist Church, corner of Howard and Cypress streets. Sermon by the pastor Rev. L. L. Burrell.

The Christian Recorder on the Colored Bishop.

Our A. M. E. Church brethren, like those of the M. E. Church South, seem to enjoy any discussion in our church which they suspect would lead to a disturbance of the fraternal relations existing between the white and colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The present discussion in the SOUTHWESTERN relative to the election of a colored bishop, which is being carried on in a friendly and dispassionate spirit, leads the Rev. Dr. Lee, editor of the Christian Recorder, official organ of the A. M. E. Church, to express great doubt that such a consummation will ever take place. He says: "Bishop Haven, the only man whom the church has elevated could fellowship all men, has gone to heaven and his seed seems to have died with him. Revs. Middleton and Marshall will spoil their chances of election to the coming General Conference if they continue to speak out on this line."

Dr. Lee remarks rightly when he says that Bishop Haven "could fellowship all men, and has gone to heaven," but he errs when he says that he was "the only man whom the church has elevated to the episcopacy that could fellowship all men."

Personal contact with all our bishops for the past twenty years, warrants us in saying that Dr. Lee simply betrays his unpardonable ignorance of the men of whom he speaks, when he makes such an observation. To meet and know all our bishops is to be convinced that exactly the reverse of what Dr. Lee says, is the truth in the premises. We could scarcely name any that are pre-eminently distinguished for their "fellowship with all men," without some invidious distinction; but surely Dr. Lee must have heard of Bishop William Taylor in Africa, Mallalieu in New Orleans, Joyce in Chattanooga, Fowler on the Pacific coast, Hurst in Washington, Vincent in Buffalo, and Newman in Omaha. And so we might have named them all. They are all men who, in the language of our able and distinguished Dr. Moore, of the West ern, would vie among themselves for the honor of putting their hands, in consecration upon the head of the Negro, who would be called to the episcopacy in our church. The remark that Bros. Marshall, Middleton, or anybody else would "spoil their chances of election to the next General Conference if they continue to discuss the question," is just so much pure nonsense. Delegates to our General Conference are elected by the several conferences, and no bishop, or other outside influence, seeks to interfere in the matter. If they do in the A. M. E. Church, they don't do it in our church.

Indiscriminate Massacre of Fifteen Negroes.

A Bloodthirsty War of Extermination.—Lee County, Ark., the Seat of the Butchery.

The demand of the colored cotton pickers in Lee county, Ark., last week, for higher wages, ended last Friday in the indiscriminate murder of fifteen Negroes. They were getting fifty cents a hundred. They demanded one dollar a hundred, according to the tariff announced by the national association to which they belonged. This demand was resisted by a certain Mr. Miller, manager of the New Hope plantation, owned by J. F. Frank, a Memphis millionaire. Mr. Frank was willing to pay the tariff demanded, but Mr. Miller still persisted that he could get the cotton picked at fifty cents a hundred. In his effort to enforce the Negroes into submission, a riot was precipitated, and fifteen of the nineteen Negro leaders in the labor organization, who were arrested, were taken from, or delivered by the deputy sheriff's posse, to several murderous mobs, and were inhumanly butchered. As we go to press, a howling mob, from Crittenden, St. Francis and Lee counties, is threatening to break the Marianna jail to hang the three men that are confined therein for safe-keeping; and to murder Mr. Frank for expressing a willingness to pay the dollar demanded. The other prisoner in the Forrest City jail, the town wherein poor Neeley, and several other Negroes, were murdered a year or two ago, for their political faith. Such a recital should arouse the laborers of every name and nationality to the new system of slavery under which they are being ground down by heartless capitalists. The principal involved is one, whether the victim be white or black. The whole civilized world was horrified by the unlawful execution of the nine Italian prisoners in this city, who were really convicted, in the mind of this community, of the murder of Chief Hennessy, and war was about to be precipitated between this country and Italy; and a large indemnity will certainly be paid to the families of those who were Italian subjects. It is now to be seen whether these fifteen Negroes are only to be quietly added to the long list of Negro butcheries in this country, without any redress from the county, State and nation involved. The flag that fails to afford protection to its meanest subject is a national disgrace, and deserves to be torn into shreds, trampled and spit upon.

Human Freedom League.

One of the most important movements ever inaugurated in this or any other country is the Pan Republic Human Freedom League. Its full committee will meet in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Pa., October 11, 12 and 13, with headquarters in Parlor C, Continental Hotel. The principal object of the present meeting is to arrange a conference to take place in 1893, on American soil, of the enlightened and minds of the world, to discuss the interests of free institutions and the best means for their promotion among the nations of the earth. Such a gathering has within it the greatest possibilities for the benefit of all mankind. The recent Pan American Congress was for a commercial purpose. This goes far beyond and will strive for man's political freedom. The committee charged with organizing this congress consists of citizens, the most illustrious of the present day. Among them are such names as Prof. J. C. Ridpath, of Indiana, the great historian; Hon. Wm. H. Arnold and Col. Ethau Allen, of New York, Rt. Rev. Chas. E. Cheney, of Illinois, President E. B. Andrews, of Rhode Island, Ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard, of Wisconsin, Hon. W. J. Arkell, of Frank Leslie Illustrated Paper, Hon. Andrew Carnegie, Vice President Levi P. Morton, Dr. Henry R. Waite, Rabbi Gustave Gottheil and Col. Robert Ingersoll, of New York, Ex-Gov. Will C. C. Brown, of Indiana, Ex-Gov. Fred. W. M. Halliday, of Virginia, Mr. Sergius Stepniak, of England, Hon. I. W. Montgomery, of Mississippi, Hon. W. H. Jack, of Louisiana, Rev. A. E. P. Albert, D.D., editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, and others.

Their meeting in Philadelphia on the 11th inst., will give crystallization to one of the greatest movements of modern times. The organization has already affiliating members in various parts of the world. Among the noted personages to deliver addresses and otherwise entertain the assembly at the coming meeting of the committee, are Rev. W. C. Roberts, D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly, Gov. R. E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, Major Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, Hon. W. H. Arnold, chairman Committee on Organization, Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes, Archbishop John Ireland, of Minnesota, the poet John G. Whittier, Bishop Phillips Brooks, of Massachusetts, the poets Walt Whitman and E. C. Steadman, and Col. Robert G.

Ingersoll, of New York. The congress is to be a continuous body reassembling, with new elected delegates every five years, in some one of the different cities of the republican world, under the care of a like committee, appointed from among the citizens of the country in which the meeting is to take place. The second meeting will be in Paris, France; the third in Rio Janeiro, Brazil; the fourth in Berne, Switzerland, etc. We only regret that lack of space prevents a more extended notice of this great movement and meeting at present. Dr. Albert will attend the meeting, however, and will give our readers the benefit of his observations there in a subsequent issue.

Political Review.

In New York Tammany is putting everything at stake. Every resource, fair or unfair, that political ingenuity can devise will be utilized. The Republican party was never in better shape to enter a contest, but it faces a desperate foe, without scruple with less conscience.

At such a time it would seem as if the pathway of duty must be clear to every conscientious and intelligent voter. If it is, Tammany Hall is doomed, and Mr. Fasset will be elected Governor of New York with the whole Republican ticket.

Pennsylvania Democracy claim to entertain high hope of success for their State ticket. Republicans, however, are very active and express a corresponding faith.

The outlook in Ohio for McKinley grows brighter daily. While the Democrats have a strong and fairly popular candidate in Gov. Campbell, they are unfortunate in having an extremely weak platform, and much use is being made just now of Gov. Campbell's adherence to the free silver plank. The Republican platform is correspondingly strong, and with Gen. McKinley, who represents the protective tariff bill which is bringing such prosperity to this country, success is bound to crown the Republican banner in November and return John Sherman to the U. S. Senate. Roger Q. Mills, of Texas, is hurting rather the Democratic party by his speeches there and making votes for the Republican party.

The Democrats of Massachusetts have renominated Gov. Russell. Those of Colorado nominated Hon. L. M. Goddard for the only office to be filled, that of Chief Justice. They arraigned the Republican party for what they deemed shortcomings and adjourned.

The Hon. Francis Hendricks has been appointed Collector of the Port of New York, vice Hon. J. S. Fasset, nominated for Governor of New York.

A conference of Republicans of this State, composed of Messrs. Henry Demas, T. A. Oage, H. Mahoney, E. C. Butler, R. Simms, F. O. Brown, C. A. Bourgeois, R. L. Desdunes, L. Gandette, J. Green, L. D. Thompson, R. F. Guichard, J. B. Arnault, L. A. Martinet and other leading Republicans met in this city September 26, to consider the political situation. Mr. Demas having been elected chairman, explained the objects and purposes of the meeting and called for suggestions, when resolutions were introduced, discussed and adopted, solemnly declaring that all obnoxious Federal officials at this port, and persons having a pecuniary interest in the Lottery Company of this State, should not be supported for the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee or as delegates to the Republican National Convention of 1892. Also to inaugurate a campaign that will include every house in the several parishes represented; that we will never cease, by day or night, until we arouse every Republican voter to a sense of his duty, and fill his soul with a determination to correct this evil; that we will unite in sending delegates to our State Convention, pure enough to resist the bribe of gold or the promise of position, who by their votes will send a delegation to the National Convention that will be an honor to the Republican party of the State of Louisiana.

A committee of eleven, including the chairman, was appointed, to be called the Advisory Committee, to plan and devise means to insure success. The following is the committee: T. A. Oage, L. A. Martinet, R. F. Guichard, H. Mahoney, C. A. Bourgeois, R. L. Desdunes, H. Demas.

The effort of the Citizens' Committee to rid us of Jim Crow car was heartily endorsed.

A few of Warmoth's partisans, Federal employees, met a few nights ago, and, by the most arbitrary and illegal methods, declared H. Herman Blunt, president of the State Republican League, deposed from office. The league, however, is the creation of Mr. Blunt's ceaseless efforts, and will stand by him almost solidly. The people's movements, as crystallized in the adherents of Mr. Blunt, and that represented by the Republican Conference, reported above, will without doubt prevail and wipe out the Warmoth dynasty, which ignores colored leaders of the people from the council of their party. The purpose is to duplicate in Louisiana what is had in Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Texas, where colored leaders, representing ninety-five per cent of the Republican party, formulate party policy and dictate Federal appointments. In this State the five per cent white Republicans exercise that control, while the ninety-five per cent colored Republicans get the bulldozing, do the voting and have to lick the hands of this handful of white men to receive political consideration. The people are tired of the outrage, and they propose to turn "those rascals out." They have been successful in perpetuating their power by arraying Negroes against Negroes with corruption funds and Federal patronage, but the people are determined that such corrupting influences shall no longer exercise their tyrannizing influences over them.

The Third or People's Party held an enthusiastic convention in Alexandria, La., last week, and repudiated the combine made at Lafayette with the Anti Lottery by the Farmers' Union, denounced existing parties and decided to nominate a full State and local ticket on the Ocala platform. It proposes to antagonize the lottery and all monopolies, and to advocate the "equal rights of all, and to see that white and black laborers shall freely exercise the high privileges of the ballot."

Personal.

—Gen. Boulanger, the French leader, who was such a prominent figure in French politics only a few years ago, and who was afterwards driven into exile, committed suicide by blowing his brains out, at Brussels, Belgium, last week. He was driven to commit the rash act by grief over the death of his mistress, who died a few months previous. The act was committed, as he stood over her grave, where he died. He had deserted his wife for the woman. What a shameful record to crown his once brilliant, military and political career.

—The Rev. Dr. J. F. Spence, of Grant University, Athens, Tenn., is said to be a very sick man, and shows no signs of improvement. His many friends will regret to learn this. We hope for his early recovery.

—Rev. H. D. Prowd, of Greytown, Nicaragua, O. A., is on a visit to this country. He made a pleasant call last Thursday. He is a cultured christian gentleman, well versed with the customs and habits of the country from which he hails, is an interesting and instructive speaker, and will no doubt greatly benefit our people wherever he may be invited to address them. He is originally from Jamaica, but has been a missionary to Nicaragua for the past four years.

—Rev. B. F. Alexander, of the M. E. Church South, died at his home in Morgan City, Sept. 29.

—Rev. M. P. Franklin, of St. Martinsville, was in the city last week and reports his work in excellent condition.

—Boud Stowe, M.D., son of Dr. Stowe of the Book Concern, has returned from the continent, where a year was spent in special work among the German medical schools. He will locate in Chicago and begin active practice at once.

—Dr. Joseph Longking, the veteran proof reader of the Methodist Book Concern, has reached his 85th birthday. Very many of the employees and editors who were present, and learned of the fact, made him an informal call in his office and gave him their congratulations. In the afternoon of this anniversary day he celebrated the event by a drive through the park with his wife, who is a little older than himself. The next morning at 9 o'clock found him at his desk, taking up the work of his 86th year. He has been connected with the Methodist Book Concern nearly all of his life.

—Christian Advocate.

—Sunday School Agent Ernest Lyon, has returned from the Shreveport district, and brings in cheering reports.

—Presiding Elders Landry and Marshall, made brief calls last week, and have returned to their work in the rural districts.

—Miss Estelle Levy, of Bastrop, La., paid a visit to relatives at Baton Rouge and New Orleans, and was a grand reception and surprise at the residence of Mrs. Rev. S. Priestley, in this city. She has since returned home to Bastrop.

—Our young friends Wm. Ward, A. J. Lopez and L. N. Philipson, who are employed in the departments in Washington, D. C., took in the examination for promotion and have been all three successful.

They were originally appointed upon their merit, in very rigid competitive examinations, and we rejoice to learn of their promotion in a similar contest.

—Bishop Granberry of the M. E. Church South, mourns the death of his thirteen year old daughter, Ruth.

—Rev. G. W. Arnold, of Savannah, has been appointed to succeed Rev. M. C. B. Mason, B.D., as pastor of Lloyd Street Church, Atlanta, Ga. Our people at Savannah are terribly afflicted over the loss of their much cherished pastor. We sympathize with them while we congratulate Lloyd Street Church in their good fortune. We sincerely hope that our people at Savannah will be well provided for.

—G. W. Hayman, of Wise, Ark., requests his correspondents to address him hereafter at Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., where he has returned to prosecute his medical course.

—The Collector of Internal Revenue has appointed Capt. C. W. Boothby, to the position of chief of division of weighers, made necessary by the bounty to be paid on sugar. Capt. Boothby is a staunch Republican, of unswerving integrity, and thoroughly prepared by education and experience for any official recognition in the gift of his party; and we rejoice over his appointment. Mr. Wimberly is to be congratulated upon the fortunate selection. It meets with the general approbation of Republicans and of all those who know Capt. Boothby. He was one of the incorporators of the New Orleans University, and he has been constantly upon its board of trustees as its efficient and faithful secretary, ever since.

—A personal note from Rev. O. D. Shallowhorne, Shreveport, La., says: Rev. S. E. H. Morant has recovered his mind, and is about alright. He is here with us, and we are doing all we can to make him happy. St. James M. E. Church gave him $7. He is looking well. Recent letters from Bro. Morant satisfy us that he is alright again. The Lord he praised.

City Church Notes.

In addition to the ladies already named, Mrs. Mary J. Nickerson was appointed on the Old Folks' Home Committee for Pleasant Plains Church. The name was inadvertently omitted last week.

Instead of one dollar we should have said, last week, that it was $100 that First Street Church had thus far collected for missions this year. We gladly make the correction.

The undersigned, pastor of Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, being desirous of laying the corner stone of the above named church on Monday, October 26, at 3 p. m., solicits the names of the officers and members of all societies and associations, both civic and military, so that the said names can be put into the archives of the stone. I also desire that a delegation from each society and association be sent on the day of the laying of the corner stone, with such donation as they may see fit to send—any amount will be thankfully received. Please send name as requested, to 323 South Villere street, on or before the 15th day of October.

Obituary.

Rockford Circuit, Talladega County, Ala.—Sister Sallie Taylor departed this life Sept. 16, in glorious triumph. She joined the church under the pastorate of the Rev. J. H. Scales, in 1837. She gave her son to her uncle and requested that he raise him as he had raised her, to love and fear the Lord. To her mother, who is a Baptist, she said she was a Methodist and that she was going to heaven, where she desired her and all her friends to meet her.

Brother Taylor McDory, a member of Shady Grove M. E. church, departed this life Sept. 8. He was sitting at his dinner table when two white men came to arrest his brother-in-law. They said, "Sam, we came for you." He replied that he would go with them provided they showed him their authority. They then placed in his face a shining pistol, saying "Here is our authority." They then directed his mother, aged 62 years, to go to their horses and get a halter. This she refused to do. But they took him out and killed him. He was a good, faithful class leader and Sunday school superintendent. Aged 31 years. He was not married. He leaves a mother, relatives and many friends, in and out of the church, to mourn his loss.

[Another man brutally murdered, and no recourse. But vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord.—Ed.]

Sister Lula Taylor died May 19, in full triumph of faith. She was a good girl, and was loved by everybody.

Bro. Harke Banks, born Dec. 20, 1872, died Oct. 10, 1891. He was ready and willing to go.

E. B. Smith, P. C.
Bouchet Village, La.—Bro. William Blow, a member of the church for the last four years, came to his death Sept. 3, by descending into a well in which there was damp air. He went down to get his father's spade. He was drawn up as soon as possible after he gave the alarm of distress, but lived only three hours. Sad, sad case. Beye also ready. His funeral was preached by the Rev. S. Fuller and the writer.

A. B. Venable, P. C.
Vaiden, Miss.—Mrs. Sarah Hayes was born in Carroll county, Miss., April of 1832, joined the church August 1882, and died Sept. 27, 1891. In the death of this Christian woman, the church has lost a most faithful member. She was the mother of seven children, and a more faithful one never lived. She was a devoted wife. Her death was a glorious victory. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss. May God comfort the bereaved ones in this, their time of sorrow.

Chas. W. Whitehead, P. C.

Roanna Catherine Obee, the mother of St. James Church, and mother of Methodism in New Iberia and Iberia parish, departed this life Sept. 6. She was born in Clarksville, Tenn., in 1840, and was brought to Louisiana in 1852 as a slave. She was converted when quite young. In 1870 Catherine Obee was among the leaders in planting Methodism in New Iberia. In all those 21 years she thus stood unflinchingly by the M. E. Church. For 16 years she was a stewardess and was never brought before the church to be tried for anything. She kept an eye single to every interest of the church. In revivals she was great. Mighty in song and powerful in prayer, she was a peace-maker and a woman of great strength of character. Her remains were brought to St. James Church, where her funeral was preached by the pastor. The large building was crowded to its utmost capacity, while hundreds had to remain on the outside. The funeral is said to have been the largest ever witnessed here. Our loss is heaven's gain.

Servant of God well done!
Thy glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last.

W. B. Anderson, P. C.
Grenada, Miss.—Bro. M. S. Smith, a member of the A. M. E. Church, after a month's sickness, fell asleep in Jesus Sept. 9. Bro. Smith was a merchant of our city. He was married 11 months and 9 days ago. Age, 24 years and 9 days. Although a member of the A. M. E. Church, he was a constant visitor of the M. E. Church. He was a prominent young man. Before he died he called his wife, father and friends to his bedside and bid them good-bye, and asked them to meet him in heaven. His funeral was attended by Rev. J. W. Parks, P. C., in the M. E. Church. He left a wife and many friends to mourn his loss.

Sister Ellen Branch, a consistent member of the M. E. Church for 15 years, died in full triumph of faith Sept. 3. She was confined to her sick room about five months. She was carried from here to Duck Hill for a change, but the change was no benefit to her. Her funeral was attended by Rev. J. W. Parks, P. C., at her own church at Grenada. Her dying words were, "I am not afraid to die as I am going home to rest."

J. W. P.
Clarksville, Tex.—Brother Emanuel Clark, a faithful member of our church, departed this life in full triumph of faith Sept. 9, leaving a wife, one daughter and three grand-children to mourn his departure. Age, 70 years.

F. Gilmore, P. C.
I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It has done for me what other so-called cures have failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical.—Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford, Maine.

Dr. Haggood's article on the Colored Convention, in another column, may serve as an eye opener to some of our people. He touches upon questions which are vital in their character. There could be no common ground for us to occupy, in such a body, except that of fraternal greetings and mutual exchanges of good wishes for the success of each other in their chosen spheres of operation. Our mission could not be other than to there demonstrate to our brethren the greater advantages of being in a church that is thoroughly American and cosmopolitan in character as against their caste and proscriptive lines; and to invite them to come into our fold. Only upon such lines could we entertain the least predisposition toward such a convention. And this, in our opinion, is the only dignified and consistent attitude we can occupy in that body. It is only upon that theory that we could, and did say, in publishing their call; that "whatever may be the conclusions reached by such a convention, there certainly must flow therefrom a more friendly feeling and a higher appreciation of each other." This we said, because of the confidence that we have in the character of our delegates, to demonstrate their superior manhood and capacity. Anything looking toward the persuasion of our people toward the hateful color line heresy, of course, will be scornfully repudiated by our people. Our backs are turned upon all such intimations, however ingeniously they may be presented. We go in for the unity, not the segregation of the races.

Personal.

—Dr. Albert, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, left last Monday to attend the Ecumenical Conference of Methodism, in Washington, D. C.; and the Pan Republic of Human Freedom League, which meets in Philadelphia, Oct. 11-13. Before his return he will attend the North Carolina, East Tennessee and Tennessee Conferences. He will be absent about a month. Mrs. Albert accompanies him.

—Rev. H. A. Sorrell, of Beattieville, was in the city a few days ago, and gave encouraging reports of his work. Twenty had been added to the church, and every interest revived.

—Prof. R. C. Barrow, Jr., is now teaching in our academy at Alexandria.

—Rev. Jos. Johnson, of Bunkie, La., reports the illness of his baby. We hope it will soon recover.

AFTER trying many remedies for catarrh during the past twelve years, I tried Ely's Cream Balm with complete success. It is over one year since I stopped using it, and have had no return of catarrh. I recommended it to all my friends.—Milton T. Palm, Reading, Pa.

Dear Brethren: Don'tless you have learned how I have been afflicted with temporary loss of mind, immediately after the adjournment of our district conference, but I am thankful to say that through the mercy of God, and the kind treatment of my friends and brethren, both at Alexandria and Shreveport, and the tender care of my wife, I have recovered sufficiently to assume work with you again, and I beg of you to please remember me, as I pass through the district, every help possible to secure success. In the meantime, please do not forget to collect the balance of the conference benevolences, and I hope and pray that not one dollar apportioned to each of your charges will be left uncollected. Begin at once to plan and push ahead to victory.

Shreveport District.

Pastors, Sunday school superintendents, and teachers of the Shreveport district, will please take notice: The Presiding Elder, Rev. S. Duncan, and the pastors, agree that a Sunday school convention on the district is needful, and will be productive of much good in this section of the State. Therefore, in accordance with the above there will be held, in the town of Mansfield, parish of DeSoto, commencing on Thursday, the 22d of October, 1891, a Sunday School Convention for the Shreveport district. An interesting program will be prepared and sent to each pastor for distribution among his congregation. The Convention is to be composed of all the superintendents, teachers and pastors of the district. The subjects which will be discussed will be full of interest and instruction to all. Prominent ministers and Sunday school workers from neighboring districts and churches, are invited to be present. The pastor and people of Mansfield will spare no pains to make it pleasant for all who shall attend. See to it, brethren, that your Sunday school is properly represented with a full corps of officers and teachers.

ERNEST LYON,
Sunday School Agent.

"WHAT AN ASS AM I!"
The ass thought himself as fine looking as his neighbor, the horse, until he, one day, saw himself in the looking-glass, when he said "What an ass am I!"
Are there not scores of people who cannot see themselves as others see them? They have bad blood, pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other kindred disfigurements. All these annoying things could be entirely eradicated, and the skin restored to "lily whiteness," if that world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, were given a fair trial.

It cures all humors, from the ordinary blotch, pimple or eruption to the worst scrofula, or the most inveterate blood-taints, no matter what their nature, or whether they be inherited or acquired. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only blood-purifier guaranteed to do just what it is recommended to, or money refunded.

GOODNESS AND MERCY SHALL FOLLOW.

Pass over the mountains before thee,
Fear not, for God's kindness is over thee
Though the path may be rough,
His strength is enough;
Listen not to a coward heart's pleading,
Be sure of the Spirit's wise leading,
Do thy duty, and be at thy best,
For God will take care of the rest,
And goodness and mercy shall follow.

Take the task that beside thee is lying,
It waits for thy strenuous trying;
Though it tax all thy skill
It will yield to thy will;
The brave heart is conqueror ever,
Then make but an earnest endeavor,
And do what the Master commands
With leal heart and diligent hands,
And goodness and mercy shall follow.

Speak the word that God gives to be spoken, Break the bonds that God says shall be broken,
Nor shrink from the fight
To be fought for the right.
Obey him with true loyal meekness,
But hinder no cause by thy weakness.
Have faith, and work on to the last,
Let all doubts remain with the past,
And goodness and mercy shall follow.

So often his help has been given,
So near is the present to heaven.
That no space for fears
Has been left by the years.
So, cheerfully facing the morrow,
Go forward to joy or to sorrow;
The God who has blest all thy days
Will be with thee in all the new ways,
And goodness and mercy shall follow.

The Household.

How Women Should Live.

I think it is too little understood that mental habits have an enormous value in deciding the physical condition. A heart and brain dissipated in frivolous detail, in idle gossip, in flaccid introspection, in empty trivialities, rarely engenders an imposing personality. The body feels the dispiriting effect of the regime. Fools have drooping shoulders, a wandering eye, cannot fix their attention, are egotists, tremulous and uneasy. The mind well stored, inquiring, awake, seems to give the poor body poise and repose. The brain requires nourishment from without as well as from within, and nourishment that assimilates. Superficial culture rants and roars, makes itself heard, is exalted in froth and endless bombast. Deep culture lies silent, slips about offensively, broods in the blood which it warms and invigorates. Mental sloth, the want of a vital interest, is the curse of half the women in the world. In the same way the physique tells upon the intellect. No good work can grow out of exhaustion, no fertility, no flash of Protean fire or of genius, from nerves unstrung, jaded and jangled. But the invalids are obstinate. A confirmed dyspeptic once swallowed in my presence five raw bananas just before a meal to which he naturally came without enthusiasm. I timidly ventured, when he complained of his lack of appetite—"The bananas." He replied, glaring fiercely, "Fruit agrees with me."

There is the young woman who pulls in her belt until her face is purple, and then goes to the doctor for physic or skin lotion. You mildly suggest, "Lacing." "Oh," she simpers, "it never hurts me. I can breathe."

To appeal to a woman about her health has long ago proved useless in these matters, but every woman is jealous of her beauty. A tightly-laced girl may be lovely at eighteen; she will be hideous at thirty. Why will not the physicians touch and awaken the chord of vanity? But the doctors are dull or careless. They give a pill where they should loosen a string.

A physician was once heard to admit he could not discover the complaint of a blooming flower of fashion who was yet constantly in his hands. I could have told him, for I had seen her getting herself into her gown that morning. And how ungraceful, how lacking in all voluptuous abandon and forceful elegance, the moments of these strapped automatons, not to mention the red nose, the roughened complexion, and the startled, pained eyeball!

Then as to the diet. A day begun with heavy, farinaceous food drowned in rich cream and sugar, it would indeed take the Scotchman's hard field day to digest. The short walk or drive, and long session in hot rooms, of our city routine, leave such a meal heavy on—the soul.

How much wiser a cup of tea, a crisp bit of toast, quite sufficient nourishment for the opening hours of an artificial day.

At noon there should be a hearty repast, a light soup, a chop, some green vegetables, an orange. No sweets, no wine, if the figure's lines and the skin's purity are valued. A cup of tea and bread and butter at five are permissible to such persons as dine very late. They insure a light dinner, and this is sometimes an advantage. Then at the ball nothing should be touched, unless indeed a sip of bonillon. Hot snappers are superfluous. The hunger of the small hours can be easily appeased, on the return, by a glass of fresh milk and a biscuit. Upon this diet the most demurred mondaine need never fear that horrid aspect of "a dinner out."

Then exercise! How abused and neglected! Three miles a day of walking is enough, and not too much, or a horseback gallop of six or eight miles. To be out in the air twice during a day is well, but never, never, never to overfatigue one's self. Once is too much. Once has broken a constitution.

The Roman ladies knew the tonic of the bath. Lollia Paulina and Poppaea Sabina prized their charms. The warm bath at night, the cold water sponging in the morning,—great beautifiers these. Another matter of vital importance is the living in rooms, not over-cold,—for a habitually chilled skin can never be fine,—but fresh and well ventilated. The large blazing heat of the open fire is very desirable as compared with the death-trap of the hidden register.—From "Healthy Heroines," by Julien Gordon, in October Lippincott's.

Take Ayer's Pills for constipation, and as purgative medicine. Safe and effectual.

General News Items.

There was a wild rush of people to enter the Indian lands, just out from Oklahoma, that were opened to settlement Sept. 22. About 1,500 colored people were among those that staked their all to get some of the land.

The American hog is now free to enter Germany, Denmark and other European countries to which its entrance was prohibited before. This fact, with the general wheat famine in Europe, will make bread and meat very dear to consumers on this side of the great waters.

Over 2,000 lives, and several million dollars worth of property were destroyed by floods in the southern portion of Spain recently.

The colored people of Ohio, want Hon. John P. Green, for several years a member of the House of Representatives in that State, nominated on the Republican ticket in Cuyahoga county. He is worthy and well qualified. We hope he will be nominated and elected.

The World's Fair Commissioners have returned from Europe and report that nearly every country in Europe will contribute fine and extensive exhibits.

The report that President Bogan of Honduras had been assassinated has been contradicted. The President is as well and secure in his office as ever.

Ex-President Balmaceda of Chili, has committed suicide. He was driven to desperation from fear that he would be apprehended in the Argentine Legation Buildings in Santiago, and be devoured by his enemies.

The New York State Democratic Convention adopted the following at its recent session:

"Resolved, That this convention views with gratification the growing friendly feeling toward the Democratic party of our colored fellow citizens in this State and they are welcomed to our ranks with the assurance that within our party discrimination on account of race or color is discountenanced. Why don't they discountenance this discrimination by their Southern allies.

THE second Sunday in October is Good Tidings Day. Let it be observed in every church. Send the collection to Rev. J. L. Hurlburt, D.D., corresponding secretary of the Sunday School Union, New York.

Our Symposium.

A recent verdict on the death of a man is, that he died of the fear of death. He was bitten by a dog and thought he had hydrophobia, and the doctors assured him he had not. A post-mortem conclusively showed that he had not hydrophobia. The fear of death has killed many, at rare intervals suddenly, but in cases without number it has shortened lives. The fear of death, too, has troubled many Christians all their lives, but Jesus Christ came to "deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage."—Christian Advocate.

Lynching is murder; mob law is anarchy. Its only possible excuse is the failure of the constituted tribunals to mete out justice to offenders. When it is directed against a class or people it is the most cowardly form of assassination or warfare. If a hundred or a thousand men have a right to take the punishment of crime or offense into their own hands, ten, or five, or two, or one have exactly the same right.

In the case of the Negro the one possible excuse cannot avail. There is no chance for him to escape the punishment for crime. The odds are all against him even if innocent. He is poor and black. The judges are all white; the jurors mostly if not entirely white; the prosecuting officers are white; the chief executives of the State are all white. There is no chance for him to escape conviction, or if convicted, to escape punishment.

To lynch a colored man under such circumstances is an infinitely more cowardly and infamous crime than any with which he can be charged. The men who do it may be "good citizens," but they are just as black-hearted murderers, and of as barbarous instincts as any Apache who ever lighted a fire about his victim.—Judge A. W. Tourgee.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alternatives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alternatives.

"I consider that I have been

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with humors or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plains, Mo.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 220 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Pety, Mine Boss, Breckinridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

My niece, Sarah A. Loebe, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losce, Utah.

BY UNCLE CEPHAS.

Dear Uncle Cephas: Days and months have passed away since I wrote you last, but I often think of you and my little cousins. The last letter I wrote reached the waste basket. I felt somewhat grieved over it, as I have been writing to Uncle Cephas for three or four years, and that was the first one that went the wrong way. Now I have something to tell my uncle and cousins. On Monday night, Sept. 14, Jesus spoke peace to my soul, and I am a living witness for him. I am now a brave soldier enlisted to fight during this warfare on earth.

I have that faith that will not shrink, though oppress'd by every foe; That will not tremble on the brink Of any earthly woe.

Oh it is so nice to be a child of God. Uncle Cephas, will you please ask Dr. Albert why he does not visit the Island City sometime. He elights Texas I believe. I never read any account where he has been to Texas in the SOUTHWESTERN, and it has all the news about the Negro race. God bless the dear old SOUTHWESTERN, I am waiting its arrival now.

Your Niece,
P. E. WATKINS.
Galveston, Texas.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I believe the SOUTHWESTERN is a great paper. I am not a member of the church but hope to be soon. I would like to ask my cousins a few words concerning the Bible. Please tell me who was king of Sodom at the time of its destruction? What is the longest word in the Bible? By whom was the first temperance society organized? Where was Josiah slain in battle? I attend Sunday school every Sunday. I think it is so nice for our young boys and girls. It makes them ladies and gentlemen. It makes them religious and they also gain knowledge.

Your Nephew,
W. E. DRAKE.
Hubbard City, Texas.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 10 years old. Mama takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I enjoy reading the Children's Column very much. I have never been to school. Mama teaches me at home. I go to Sunday school. Our superintendent is Mr. H. Dickerson, and mama is one of the teachers. In my next I will tell you something about the church.

Your Niece,
CLARA LEE THREADGILL.

Help Poor Africa!

Some weeks ago we published a very pathetic letter from Africa, appealing for papers for the reading room of our mission school at Cape Palmas, West Coast of Africa. In answer to this, the Rev. J. B. Middleton, of Sumpter, S. C., offered $10 toward the establishment of the African Christian Advocate. To this we offered to add our subscription of $10, and others have been solicited to join their contributions for the same purpose. To this we have thus far received no responses. In the absence of a printing press in Liberia, there remains but one thing for American Christians to do, and that is, to see that those poor people are supplied with the right kind of reading matter from the American press. We therefore appeal to our readers to supply the means whereby we may be able to furnish the SOUTHWESTERN to our Cape Palmas school reading room, and to worthy and needy ones in the Black Republic. For $2 we will send the SOUTHWESTERN to such persons for a whole year, postage prepaid. Who will send us $2 and thereby assist in the evangelization of Africa? If you can't go there yourself, send them the SOUTHWESTERN as a missionary agent to assist in their evangelization and salvation.

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 139 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it, and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TWO STATEMENTS

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April I was attacked with Chagras Fever in Spanish Honduras and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Royal Gementine. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Gementine has been a God-send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may call on me.

DANIEL PAPFON,
481 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above statement I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Gementine saved my life.

DANIEL PAPFON.

Chagras Fever is known to be not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Gementine has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It has a similar record as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malarial troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quick and most unfailing remedy for Fevers of all kinds. Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our midst every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Gementine office, 202 Canal street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, Agent, 202 Canal street. $1 bottle; six bottles for $5.

CANBOLZ, Ia., July, 1889.

I was suffering 10 years from shock in my head, so much so that at times I didn't expect to recover. I took medicine from my doctors, but didn't get any relief until I took Pastor Koehn's Nerve Tonic; the second dose relieved me and 2 bottles cured me.

GOLDEN TEXT.

LESSON HYMN. 7.

Gazing thus our sin we see,
Learn Thy love while gazing thus;
Sin, which laid the cross on thee,
Love, which bore the cross for us.

Here we learn to serve and give,
And, rejoicing, self deny;
Here we gather love to live,
Here we gather faith to die.

Pressing onward as we can,
Still to this our hearts must tend;
Where our earliest hopes began,
There our last aspirations end.

Time—A. D. 30, between the triumphal entry to Jerusalem and the last supper.

Place—Jerusalem.

Rulers—Herod in Galilee; Pilate in Jerusalem.

Connecting Links—After raising Lazarus from the dead Jesus retired to the little town of Ephraim for a brief period, to avoid persecution from his enemies and the untimely applause of his friends. Then came the triumphal entry to Jerusalem, probably on the day after the Jewish Sabbath, and precisely one week before the first "Easter Sunday." This conversation occurred soon after the triumphal entry.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY

1. The Seekers, v. 20-26. What strangers had come to the passover? What request did they make, and of whom? To whom was the request repeated? What time did Jesus say had come? What did he say about dying and living? What about losing life and keeping it? What about service and its reward?
2. The Voice, v. 27-31. What did Jesus say about his sorrow and his mission? What was his prayer? What answer came to him? What did the people think they heard? Why was the voice heard? Whose day of judgment had come? Who is "the prince of this world?"
3. The Cross, v. 32-36. What did Jesus say would draw all men? What did he mean by this? What did the people say to him? What was the reply of Jesus? What did Jesus then do? Why did he hide himself? (See John 11:53, 54.)

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:

1. The day of seeking Jesus?
2. The duty of serving Jesus?
3. The reward of serving Jesus?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG BE-REANS.

Find other cases where a voice from heaven spoke to Jesus.

Find what Jesus said about his followers being the light of the world.

Find what Paul said about sowing grains of wheat.

THE LESSON CATECHISM.

1. To what date do the events of the lesson belong? The last day of Christ's teaching?
2. What was said by some Greeks in Jerusalem? We would see Jesus.
3. What hour did Jesus say had come? The hour when he should be glorified.
4. How was Jesus glorified? By dying for men.
5. What did Jesus say of himself in the Golden Text? "And I, if I be lifted up," etc.
6. What is Jesus? The light of the world.

EXPLANATIONS.

Certain Greeks—These Greeks were not Jews, neither were they pagans, but Gentiles who, though Greeks by birth, had been admitted to the privileges of Judaism. There were many such in the world in Jesus's day, intelligent and devout men sick of the corruption and the idolatries in which they had been trained from infancy. For the Jewish religion, bad as it was, was a great deal purer than any other then in existence. Corn of wheat—Kernel or grain of any kind. Now is my soul troubled—There were a thousand reasons for this. Prince of this world—Satan, or the devil, who rules in this world of sin. Be lifted up—Be raised from the earth on the cross. Out of the law—Out of the Old Testament which they possessed.

Doctrinal Suggestion.—Christ's sacrificial death.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

93. What is the sixth commandment? Thou shalt not kill.
94. What is the seventh commandment? Thou shalt not commit adultery.
95. What is the eighth commandment? Thou shalt not steal.

Poisoned by Scrofula.

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

Have you raised your benevolent collections in full; and are you now prepared to settle every cent due the SOUTHWESTERN and the Book Concern? No pastor who fails in these elementary principles should expect the approval of the Bishop and the words, "come up higher."

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvellous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

COMPOUND OF

Pure Cod Liver Oil And Phosphates

It has required much experience and care to enable the proprietor to combine the Oil and Phosphates so that they would become thoroughly efficacious together, and he has the only recipe by which this can be accomplished. Another important advantage which the Pure Cod Liver Oil possesses is that it is the fact that the medical qualities it preserves the oil pure and sweet for a longer period than it can be done in any other manner. This fact alone would recommend this form of using the Oil when the phosphates did not also add vastly to the healing qualities of the preparation. The perfect incorporation of the phosphates with the cod liver oil has only been accomplished by the adoption of the most perfect rules of chemistry, and a medicine has been produced which while it is so efficacious, is also perfectly palatable and pleasant.

CURES

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, DEBILITY, WASTING DISEASES, and all SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

Almost as palatable as cream. It can be taken with pleasure by delicate persons and children, who, after using it, become very fond of it. It assimilates with the food, increases the flesh and appetite, builds up the nervous system, restores energy to mind and body, creates new, rich and pure blood, in fact, rejuvenates the whole system.

FLESH, BLOOD, NERVE, BRAIN.

This preparation is far superior to all other preparations of Cod Liver Oil; it has many imitations, but no equals. The results following its use are its best recommendations. Be sure you value your health, and get the genuine. Manufactured only by DR. ALEX. E. WILBOR, Chemist, Boston, Mass. Send for illustrated circular, which will be mailed free.

CLARK UNIVERSITY

Is a Christian school of high grade, open to students of all classes, without regard to sex or color. It is located at Atlanta, Ga., on a high ridge of timber land, just outside of the city limits. It has 400 acres of the most beautiful lands for farm and campus of any school in the South.

There are four large buildings for college purposes, made of brick and stone, worth $75,000. This University offers superior advantages in the following departments:

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.

This department offers to the student two courses, the regular Classical and the Philosophical. A third course has been recently introduced for the benefit of the "trude student," which takes the Academic Studies and completes a trade in the same time.

TRADE SCHOOL.

Clark University has one of the best trade schools in the South. Blacksmithing, carpentry, carriage-making, wagon-making, painting, harness-making, shoe-making, printing and draughting are all taught. There was about $15,000 worth of work sold out of the shops this past year. Much of this work ranks with the best in the markets.

A Special course in the Trade School has been introduced, whereby student with an English education can devote all of his time in the Trade school, and thus completing his trade in a short period of time.

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society has a splendid building, well equipped, under two skilled teachers. The young ladies who have reached certain classes are put in this building, and taught all the principles of house-keeping, including dress-making and needle work. All the girls not in this building are taught some of these things in the grades.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

There is a normal department thoroughly organized, and conducted by a man of large experience in normal work. Special attention is given to methods of teaching.

ENGLISH GRADES.

There are the regular grades in English after the best common school methods, from the primary to the sixth year.

MUSIC SCHOOL.

The Music School is organized after the best methods, under a skilled teacher, and instruction is given on piano or organ, and also vocal drill to classes or individual lessons.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

The Gammon School of Theology is located within a few rods of the University, and offers the very best advantages to the student preparing for the ministry. For this school, address Dr. Thirkield, President.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

There will be a night school organized to help those students who are behind in certain studies, and especially those who have to work during the day for support.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the school is strict, but seeks to develop in the student self-control and self-reliance.

EXPENSES.

The expenses are as low as they are in any first class school located at a great central city like Atlanta.

KEEP good company or none at all.

PREACH the law as well as the Gospel.

SOME people never have a good word for anybody until they have an ax to grind.

It is far better to go to heaven learning your A, B, C's, than to go to hell reading Greek.

WHY don't you get your young converts and all your young people to take the SOUTHWESTERN?

ALL uneducated people are not fools; but some of our college graduates haven't yet found that out.

LET us preach more about our duty, and heaven and its mysteries will take care of themselves till we reach that blissful shore.

HAVE you subscribed for the SOUTHWESTERN? We now offer it free the balance of this year, to cash subscribers for next year.

No man is fit to be a local preacher, an exhorter or a class leader in our church, who is too stingy or trifling to subscribe and pay for his church paper.

BISHOP Goodsell has recently ordained as elder, Wang Ch'ing Pei, the Chinaman who wheeled his mother 400 miles on a wheelbarrow to Peking in order to learn the Christian doctrine.

CONFERENCE will soon be here. Have you paid your pastor's salary? He cannot pay up all of his accounts preparatory to his going to conference unless he is paid his salary. Pay him. The laborer is worthy of his hire.

WHEN reporting your work always tell us the number of cash subscribers you have on your charge. That fact might have some influence in the earlier publication of your contributions to the paper. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Dr. Hartzell requests all pastors in the Louisiana Conference to send their collections for the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society for the present year to Rev. L. G. Adkinson, D.D., New Orleans. Every dollar raised in the State this year goes to complete the new building.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Spread of Methodism Among the Colored People of the South.

BY REV. REESE THOMPSON.

The thing being agitated by some is, the official relation of the colored man in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Some are agitating the immediate election of a colored man to the episcopacy in the M. E. Church. Others are agitating other official appointments. If the time has come that a colored man should be elected bishop, for the sake of national representation on the episcopal board, then let him be elected: not to preside over colored conferences, but to preside over the conferences of the M. E. Church.

If it is necessary to appoint a colored man to an official position on account of his qualifications and social and moral worth, then appoint him to act throughout the church and not limit him to act in the colored conferences. A bishop for the colored conferences and an official to act among the colored people is the color line on sight. If that is the right by which I am to hold an office in the church; then give my part of it to the agitators.

I have always thought that I was a full fledged member of the M. E. Church, entitled to any gift in the power of the church to give, regardless of whether I was a Negro or Japanese. Convince me to the contrary and my membership ceases at once. All of this bluster about the necessity of the election of a colored bishop for colored conferences is out of place. Will it make the benevolent collections larger? Will it make the schools self-supporting?

The church has been saying all along that color was no bar to office in the church; now it asks the General Conference to elect a colored man as bishop to preside over the colored conferences, is not that asking the church to violate one of the principles that she has been advocating; that is, the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Now, let us consider what the church can do and what it can not do. The church can preach and legislate touching the doctrines of Christ, touching the equality of all men and all nations; but the church can not compel the masses to abide by her doctrines and teachings.

The State says, all men are free and equal, but is it true that the State protects every man in his equal rights? The theory both of the church and State is right, but the practice is wrong. Why is this injustice fostered upon one class of citizens and church members? Because the minority believe in and practice the true principles and theory, while the majority in church and State are against it. What can be done to remedy the evil? We answer, pure Christianity and a higher and better civilization. Public opinion in the church must be moulded and refined regarding the equal membership of the Negro, just as public opinion had to be moulded and refined in favor of his emancipation and freedom. This of course took years of work and patience, but the thing came to pass. To elect a colored bishop under the present condition of things and appoint him over colored conferences is equal to what other branches of the M. E. Church have done. I say, let us have patience, wait, hope, and pray for the time that there will be no need of asking for a colored bishop to preside over colored conferences, but a colored bishop on account of national representation, and to preside over any of the conferences of the M. E. Church. I am ready for it on this line.

Bro. Thompson's Mistakes.

Brother Thompson advances an idea about the election of a colored bishop "for colored conferences," and then proceeds to argue against it, as if such a question was under discussion. The facts are that no one has ever proposed such an election. We know of a general agitation in favor of the election of a colored man as bishop in the Methodist Episcopal Church, but we have as yet to learn of the first intimation of a "blister about the election of a colored bishop for colored conferences."

Bro. Thompson reasons well when he says that the church can preach and legislate in favor of the equality of all men, but she cannot compel the masses to accept her doctrines; but he fails to show how that, to be consistent, the church like the individual, must practice what she teaches. Failing to do so, her banner, like our national flag, becomes an ecclesiastical fraud, as our flag, which fails to give equal protection to its humblest citizen, becomes a worthless rag and a national disgrace.

Surely, Bro. Thompson cannot be satisfied for our great church to occupy any such inconsistent and anomalous position! We are just as much in favor of continued development, hope and patience on our part, while waiting for the church to recognize the presence of proper episcopal material among our people, as is Brother Thompson, but are quite sure that the realization of our hope will never come, unless the question is ably and logically discussed, just before the sitting of every General Conference, until one is elected. Agitation and the education of the American mind and conscience preceded the "Negro's emancipation and freedom," and citizenship; and in fact such agitation always preceded every advancement in every department of human development, and it would be the blindest folly for us to ignore the fact.

In speaking of the selection of other colored general officers, he speaks as though some one proposed to have such ones appointed "to act among the colored people." No one has made any such proposition. To give our people some recognition, and in view of the fact that our people have been so largely the recipients of the benefactions of the church, and have contributed such a small percentage to the general funds of the church, the Board of Managers of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, as we hope all the other societies of the church will soon do, appointed at its last meeting, the Rev. M. C. B. Mason, B.D., as its Field Agent, but not to act solely "among the colored people." In order to stimulate larger contributions on the part of our people, Bro. Mason's "work for the present" will be especially (but not exclusively) among the colored conferences of the South, but as opportunity opens he will be sent to different parts of the church, to represent the Freedmen's Aid cause. Such are Dr. Hartzell's own words touching this appointment. In addition to the enlarged contributions which are hoped to be had by such an appointment, the Doctor says that the appointment "gives official recognition to the colored people of our church." Does Bro. Thompson object to one people being specially treated to do all they can for the cause, and to the "official recognition" and because they believe the election of a Negro bishop, and of colored officials, would greatly encourage our people and wonderfully stimulate every department of church work among them, our people favor their selection. They are satisfied to leave the time when, and the place where they should serve, where the Discipline properly leaves it.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The M. E. Church a Refuge for the Negro.

BY REV. N. H. SPEIGHT.

There are reasons why every Negro should be a member of the M. E. Church. First. Because it is brave in its views. It has always opposed American slavery, and played its part boldly in the work of emancipation. Its object is to christianize the world. Its views are not narrowed down so as to have a desire to save the whites, or to save the blacks or any particular race or color, as some of the Christian churches are that have stretched their boundary line around the whites, and others around the colored. But she says, that every race and color can have shelter under her broad wings.

Second. It is the mother of all Methodisms, and takes the lead in lifting up all fallen humanity. She has always stood by the Negro, and is standing by him now. She is doing more to solve the race problem and kill out that cursed evil race prejudice, than all the strictly race churches combined. Strictly race churches of the whites teach, God made the Negro a second-class being, and should be treated so by them; and the strictly race churches of the Negroes teach that the Negroes should stay to themselves, so as to leave a great gulf between the races. The M. E. Church fills the gulf by teaching the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. The cry of the Negro is to give him the rights that belong to him. Yet the strictly Negro churches teach to keep to yourselves, have nothing to do with anything that any of the whites belong to. So you see that the strictly race churches have a great deal to do with the race strife, for their doctrine seems to be race against race. They fight the M. E. Church because it works to harmonize the two races, and bring about peace among them as brethren.

Third. The M. E. Church recognizes the glorious chapter of Isaiah, xlii: 9th to 13th verse included: "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them. And the cow and the bear shall feed their young ones and shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea."

The critic may explain that passage as he pleases, but there are no ways to get around it. The M. E. Church in my mind stands firm and flatfooted upon it.

Fourth. The M. E. Church has been and is now an asylum for the Negro. Read its book of Discipline. Look around you and see what she has done, and is doing. See how many of her members, white and colored suffered in the days of reconstruction and how many are suffering now, in more ways than one for the cause of the poor, and for harmony and peace.

Fifth. She has educated and is educating and giving trades to more Negroes than all the strictly race churches combined. There are many men and women that are now members of other churches, strictly race churches, that owe all that they are to our great church. Yet many of them after being raised in her schools, nursed at her breast, and fed at her hands, now open their mouth and belch forth their hellish poison of envy and prej-dice against her. Yet the M. E. Church must live and carry on its good work until every foe is conquered and a final victory be declared.

The strictly race churches use as their great weapon "white bishops in the M. E. Church." Strictly white churches think it is a disgrace for white bishops to preside over colored conferences. Strictly Negro churches teach that the colored in the M. E. Church are bossed by whites. I heard a white preacher of a strictly race church say once, that the "Negro members of the M. E. Church had been asking for a colored bishop for a number of years, and was put off with 'wait, wait.'" He said "they never would have one." But I think their strong weapon will be broken to pieces soon. Is not the appointment of Rev. M. C. B. Mason, as Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society an omen of what the future will bring? The church claims to know no color and has proved it. Who knows but that the coming General Conference will bring forth her son in black to sit upon the episcopal bench with his brother in white? I am sure that when this son comes forth the enemy will be done forever. Oxford, Ala.

Bishop Foss Does not Say "The Negro Must Stay Out."

At Forty Miles an Hour, near Chicago, Sept. 28, 1891.

Dear Brother—The article you sent me reminds me of the definition of a crab furnished to Onvier by one of his pupils: "Crab—A red fish that walks backwards." The great naturalist replied, "Excellent, young man, with three exceptions: 1. A crab is not red. 2. A crab is not a fish. 3. A crab does not walk backwards."

Concerning the article in question, I have to say:

1. A colored member of the African M. E. Church, at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, who brought his church letter to a pastor of the M. E. Church in the same town, was refused admission to membership; not, so far as I could learn, on account of his color.

2. The case was not "referred to the Iowa Conference."

3. The Conference did not "vote to leave it to the decision of Bishop Foss," nor take any other vote on it. No mention of the case was made in the Conference by any person.

4. "Bishop Foss" did not "decide that the Negro must stay out."

The single question submitted to me was the bare question of fact, whether the claimant had been received into our church or not. Voluminous documents were furnished to me by him and by the pastor, including full written statements by both of them, and accompanied by a joint statement signed by both, requesting me to decide the question on the evidence of the documents there supplied, and agreeing that both would accept my decision as final. The evidence compelled me to decide that the complainant had not been admitted to membership in our church, and I did not presume to decide anything else.

I will now say that a contrary decision would have been much more agreeable to me if the facts would have warranted it. My Methodist preacher father was an outspoken abolitionist in the New York Conference before I was born. Hatred of slavery and solicitude for the welfare of the Negro race were born in me, and have grown stronger through all the years. I firmly believe the work of our church for the education and evangelization of the colored people of the South to be second in importance to no Christian work anywhere. And I earnestly hope and pray for the time when every church in every land shall be freely open to every man without respect to his color. To turn any man away from any church door simply because his skin is black (if I may borrow the words of John Wesley on another subject) "is unchristian and inhuman."

Yours fraternally,
CYRUS D. FOSS.

Church Polity.

Question. In the Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 13, John, ninth chapter, sixth verse, where it says, "When he (Christ) had thus spoken, he spat on the ground and made clay of the spittle," was any clay at the place, and did he make a solution of it with the spittle, or did he do as it reads, make the clay of the spittle?

Ans. It is quite evident that the Lord did not miraculously change his spittle into clay and anoint the blind man's eye therewith; or else why should we be told that he "spat on the ground." It is quite clear that it was the clay, dissolved in his spittle, which he doubtless gathered with the tip of his finger from the ground upon which he spat, that he anointed the man's eye with. The important lesson here is that God brings such wonderful results from apparently inefficient and sometimes contrary means. Whether the ground was clay, or whether he caused his spittle to become clay by a miracle, is not particularly important. If he could turn water to wine, he could as easily turn spittle to clay, if he had so desired.

Publishers' Department.

[Pastors are requested to read this department each week.]

Have you settled your SOUTHWESTERN account?

The Agents say they will arrest the character of every preacher, in open conference, who is indebted to the Book Concern and makes no settlement. The General Conference is coming, and they have to present clear cut reports to that body.

You have no more right to give our paper away without paying us for it than you have to go to a grocer and get his goods, give them away, and not pay him for it. It is not the grocer's fault that the other fellow failed to pay you. Neither is it ours.

It is not our fault if your paper did not reach you, if you failed to furnish us with your new post office address. Our business was to send it where you ordered until you directed otherwise. We did so, and you owe us for it whether you got it or not.

An appreciative note from Rev. N. B. Blackman, French Camp, Miss., says: "The premium machine offered by the publishers of the SOUTHWESTERN to subscribers to the paper, for $14 cash, with the paper for twelve months, is the thing our people need in their poor condition. The machine at that rate ought to be in the home of every family needing a machine. I have ordered two of the machines, one for Bro. M. O. Clark, and one for Bro. B. F. Sison. Neither of them would take $50 for their machine. It proves to be just what you represent them to be; and a little more." That is just what all who get the machine say. Order one with the paper, and satisfy yourself.

Good people do not wait until their friends and benefactors are gone or dead, before they manifest their appreciation for them.

Letters from the Districts.

Dadeville District Conference.

P. P. WRIGHT.

The Dadeville District, Central Alabama Conference, held its sixteenth session in Bethel M. E. Church, Roanoke, Ala., Aug. 6-9, with Rev. W. F. Smith, Presiding Elder, in the chair.

P. P. Wright was elected secretary, and Dr. W. H. Nelson assistant.

Rev. W. F. Smith, Presiding Elder, was sick. He read his report and made some striking remarks on the duty of ministers, etc.

Much emphasis was put upon our literature, as to its value in our Sunday schools. The SOUTHWESTERN was not forgotten, but well advertised by the distribution of our schools, academies, colleges and medical departments.

A fraternal greeting was sent by telegraph to the Birmingham District Conference, also in session in a neighboring town.

Reports from the pastors showed progress all along the line. Churches were being built and repaired, and members are being added. Much good was being done all over the district.

Better teachers are being employed in our Sunday schools than heretofore. Our literature is fast taking its place in the most remote parts of the country.

Sunday was a great day during the session. Revs. W. H. Nelson, E. Frazier, H. Matthews of Opelika, Ala., and other brethren, preached edifying sermons to crowded houses.

It is sincerely hoped that our Presiding Elder will soon be able to go about his Master's business.

Chattanooga District, East Tennessee Conference.

L. M. MOORES.

Convened at Burket's Chapel M. E. Church, near Big Spring, Tenn., Sept. 2.

Bro. Roach preached a grand opening sermon.

L. M. Moores was re-elected secretary, with Bros. Hill, Morley and Dinsmore assistants.

Two young men were licensed to preach.

Good sermons were preached by Bros. S. J. B. Harris, Morley, Dinsmore, Galston and Hill.

The conference had a good time discussing some of the topics of the program.

Several good resolutions were adopted.

The reports were encouraging. The people provided good homes for us, and all enjoyed their stay.

Bro. Walton and his good people deserve much praise for the manner in which they took care of us.

The next session will meet in Hill City, Tenn.

Forest City (Ark.) District Conference.

D. B. HARSTON.

Convened in Serngg's Chapel, Oak Forest, July 30, Rev. W. B. R. Duncan, Presiding Elder, presiding.

D. B. Harston was elected secretary.

The conference enjoyed an address from the Presiding Elder, touching the interest of our work.

Rev. J. B. Toombs, pastor of Wesley Chapel, Little Rock, was introduced to the conference, and asked to take part in the discussions.

After hearing the Presiding Elder's report, which showed marked improvements on all lines, the pastors, local preachers, etc., presented their reports, which aroused the conference generally.

Mrs. Rev. G. M. Johnson, secretary of the Women's Home Missionary Society, was introduced to the conference and made an address in the interest of the society she represents.

Resolutions were adopted complimentary to Mrs. Johnson and W. H. Higgs and people, thanking the latter for the kind and hospitable manner in which they cared for the conference.

The following were licensed to preach: Wm. Speed, Samuel Mays, O. Roberson, H. Cherry, Ake Walton, W. W. Henton, Wm. Lewis, J. M. Clark.

The conference requested each local preacher and exhorter to purchase a Discipline and subscribe for the SOUTHWESTERN before the next district session, to be held at Cotton Plant.

Sunday was a day to be remembered. At 11 a. m. W. B. R. Duncan preached. Rev. H. P. Strong at 3 p. m., and Rev. G. W. Taylor at night. At these services many hearts were made glad, sinners were converted and a sweeping revival ensued.

West Tennessee District Conference.

J. S. POSTER.

After a half hour prayer meeting the house was called to order by Rev. B. F. Anderson, presiding.

J. S. Poster was elected secretary, Prof. G. D. Field assistant secretary, H. W. Key statistical secretary.

Only a few members were present.

Words of welcome were pronounced by Prof. G. D. Field. Responded to by ex-Presiding Elder H. W. Key.

Dr. J. Braden, president Central Tennessee College, Nashville, Tenn., having arrived on Tuesday to look after the interest of the West Tennessee Preparatory School, and to re-establish it, remained over until Thursday morning and met the conference. He lectured Wednesday to the school, at 3 p. m., and again at 8 p. m., to large congregations. Rev. Mr. Harden, pastor of the Southern Methodist Church, being present, made a short but appropriate lecture.

Resolutions were adopted concerning the school. H. W. Key, J. W. Boyd, Esq., A. Stewart, Robt. Field, B. F. Anderson, J. S. Foster, J. R. Alexander, Grandison Field and O. L. Field were elected trustees; Prof. G. D. Field, A. B., principal. So the school has now been opened under the name of Mason Academy.

Dr. Braden lectured to the conference and took the train at 12:30 p. m. to meet his district conference at McMinnville, Tenn. In the afternoon several of the brethren were present and made their reports.

On the second day we had quite a large delegation, and the reports all showed that the brethren had done a good work.

Rev. R. T. James, pastor of the C. M. E. Church, and Rev. Mr. Harden, pastor Methodist Church South, were introduced.

Mat Dolanson and G. W. Garrett were received from the A. M. E. Church.

T. H. Smith presented his credentials from the A. M. E. Church but was not received.

J. W. Atkinson was granted a local preachers' license.

All of the traveling preachers were present but two, Geo. Sanford and T. E. Woods. They sent their reports, but sending no lawful excuse for being absent, their reports were not received.

The introductory sermon was preached Thursday night by Rev. F. J. Yeargin, followed by Rev. R. A. Fletcher.

Friday night the pulpit was filled by Rev. P. Martin.

Saturday the balance of the reports were received.

Messrs. P. Robinson, Beal and Cowan were then introduced.

Resolutions were offered thanking the Presiding Elder for his pleasant and impartial ruling, the secretaries for their faithful labors, the good people of Mason for their hospitality, the railroad companies for reduced rates, etc.

Saturday, 8 p. m., Rev. J. M. Moody filled the pulpit.

The people of Mason deserve much credit for their magnificent entertainment of the district conference.

The conference was one of the best ever held on the West Tennessee District.

Our next district conference will convene in Martin, Tenn.

On Sunday we had a basket meeting, a funeral, and a preachers' reunion.

Revs. J. E. S. Reed, Y. B. Lain, J. M. Moody, A. Porter, and Dr. D. W. Field, lectured to the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Sunday.

The funeral of Bro. Cook, one of our old ministers, was preached by Revs. H. W. Key and J. S. Foster. Revs. A. Burdette and C. L. Field preached at 3 p. m.

Revs. J. Harris and J. L. Massey preached at 8 p. m.

J. W. Winbush, Durant, Miss.

The Sunday School Institute of the Yazoo River District, Upper Mississippi Conference, met in Minter City, August 21, with Rev. W. McDonald in the chair.

J. W. Winbush was elected secretary, with Mrs. C. A. Ross assistant.

This session of the Institute was a source of great joy. Although many of the pastors and delegates were not present, there were many subjects discussed and essays read by the different members of the Institute.

Among the many subjects discussed were the following:

Should we use our Sunday school literature, and why? Introduced by J. W. Winbush.

The Sunday school, Prof. P. P. Parker.

Parents duty to the Sunday school, Miss Hattie Gullage.

How to conduct a Sunday school, Mrs. C. A. Ross, Miss N. C. McCane, J. H. Edwards and others.

The following ministers presided: Revs. A. McBeth, J. W. Winbush, S. H. and J. M. Nevils. Too much praise cannot be given to the kind people of Minter City and their faithful pastor and his wife, who stand very high among the people and the children, who think a spoke is out of the wheel when she is not with them. She is doing a grand work among the little folks. On Sunday, the 23d, Bro. Washington baptized 40 or more adults.

The Institute adjourned, to meet with the first session of the district conference in 1892.

Our third quarterly conference was held at Wesley Chapel, with Rev. J. C. Honston in the chair. Reports showed that the work is in a prosperous condition spiritually and financially. Received into full membership 2, accessions 24, baptized 9, deaths 2, converts 8, received from Baptist church 8. Collection for Elder $15, for pastor $56, bishop $1. 239 partook of the Lord's Supper.

J. J. Obee, Shady Grove, La.

Rev. T. J. Johnson, of St. Paul, Shreveport, was with us and preached three soul-reviving sermons during our revival. The people were much pleased with him. We received 9 backsliders and 3 converts.

Bro. Aaron Taylor, Bonham, Tex., expresses a preference for the Methodist Episcopal Church because of her wholesome doctrines, her well adapted polity, and her attitude toward the salvation of all mankind. He gives a good reason for the hope that is in him. That's what every man should be able to do.

B. S. Allen, Rusk, Texas, writes ably and logically on "Freedom and Obedience to Law." He shows the consistency of both, and argues our privileges and duty in connection with the same in a way that carries conviction to every heart.

J. J. Collins, Flatonia, Texas.

On the fourth Saturday in June I was assigned by Rev. H. Swann, Presiding Elder, to Waelder and Flatonia. I arrived on the next Friday at Peach Creek, where we began work. On the first of July we commenced an eight day's meeting at Waelder, which resulted in 22 conversions and 29 accessions at this point. At Flatonia, Texas, we received 7 converts and 9 accessions. Our third quarter was held Sept. 5, 6. On Saturday and Sunday we raised $42.95. Paid Presiding Elder $17.75, pastor $5.40. Flatonia Sunday school raised and paid to Presiding Elder for Samuel Hinton College, $3.30. Subscription money paid to Presiding Elder, $11.50. For missions $7.20. We gave a grand benevolent entertainment, in which we netted $32.80. We have it all in Miller & Sayers' bank, Gonzales, Texas. We were asked to raise $2.25 for District Conference Minutes, and we did it. We also raised $6 on bell. We never forgot to bring the dear old SOUTHWESTERN before the people. Elder Swann preached three of his best sermons. I have 35 acres in crop.

S. Gates, Bremond, Texas.

We are moving on nicely. Our membership is made up mostly of the young people. I have had many conversions, but not as many as I had up to this time last year. But our church is in a growing condition. Our quarterly meeting, held by Elder A. Foster, was a grand feast, and edifying to the church. He was with us a few days ago, planning for the fall rally, and he thinks if the plans are carried out every dollar for the Samuel Hinton College will be raised, and all the benevolent collections. Our Sunday school at Long Branch, under the supervision of Mrs. M. A. T. Perkins, is doing excellently and is largely attended. Prof. J. F. Payne, principal of the city school here in Bremond, is a grand worker in the Sunday school and is esteemed highly. A few weeks ago many members and friends of the church, headed by Sister Mary Blankinship and Mrs. Lula Bluet, came to the parsonage with many good things. One hundred and sixty pounds were brought, besides the money, which amounted to a handsome little purse. It greatly surprised Mrs. Gates. I was away at one of my charges. When I came home I was agreeably surprised.

P. R. Woodson, Spencer Circuit, Tenn.

I am closing my second year with success on the Spencer Circuit. I have had 31 converts and 42 additions to the church. Raised on benevolent claims $20. The Rev. J. P. Price held my fourth quarter Sept. 12. Paid the Presiding Elder $37, pastor $123.60. The third Sunday in October is set for silver dollar rally day at Lawrence Chapel. I have five subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN on this charge, and will be ready to settle with the Rev. A. E. P. Albert at conference.

[Good. Let every other pastor be thus prepared, and we will be able to go to the next General Conference with flying colors.—Ed.]

G. J. Dobson, Columbus Circuit, Miss.

My second quarterly conference was held August 15, 16, by Rev. P. O. Jamison, at Moses Chapel. Reports showed the work to be in a prosperous condition. Collection during quarter $20.85. Paid Presiding Elder $8. Bro. Jamison preached to the edification of a crowded house on Sunday. Conversions up to date 25, accessions 40.

C. E. Alexander, Lewisburg, Tenn.

Our fourth quarterly conference was a success. Elder Bradford endeared himself to the people. He spent the greater part of the week in our protracted meeting, which is still going on. Paid Elder $10.25.

D. H. E. Harris, Bladock Circuit, Little Rock, Ark.

Our second quarterly conference convened July 18, 19. Rev. W. R. R. Duncan was on time. The conference was well attended by the brethren. Brother Duncan preached four able sermons during his visit. Paid Presiding Elder $21.20.

C. Hart, Smithville, Texas.

My fourth quarterly conference was held Sept. 26, 27, by Rev. Mack Henson. Reports showed some improvements. The Elder preached a soul-stirring sermon. Collection for Presiding Elder, $8.15.

A. J. Johnson, of Rayne, La.

We had a grand rally at Abbeville Sept. 27. The preachers present were: Revs. H. King, D. H. Laton, E. Drake, V. Simon, A. Bridges, W. Mitchell, and the writer. Bro. Proctor is a wheel horse, and is loved by all, both white and colored. Bro. Briggs owns 600 acres of land there. I wondered, if all the colored people had taken care of their money as Bro. Briggs did, how happy they would be now. We had a grand time. Collection $57.75.

The light of the M. E. Church is burning in Briggs' Cave. The right man is there.

A. B. Venable, Bonchett Circuit, La.

Our protracted meeting resulted in 14 conversions. We baptized 14 adults and 5 infants in our baptism service. The church is spiritually alive. We have not forgotten the good old SOUTHWESTERN. We are trying to get cash subscribers for it.

D. Gray, Gallatin, Tenn.

The Lord has blessed us in our church work, and the blessing came by carrying out the plan of the Discipline. I had the members to subscribe the amounts that they would give, and set the day on which they were to pay. The members were willing to subscribe to the best of their ability, and thought this plan much better than having snappers, which kept them up until 12 and 1 o'clock at night. By this plan we have succeeded in paying a debt on our church, of $250, in two weeks. I believe that if the plan of our Discipline was carried out, there would not be so many of our churches in debt, nor so many preachers' families suffering. I was sent to this work in the latter part of April, and found the church $364 in debt, but we have raised and paid it on this plan. Our church is brick, 65x44 ft., with a stone basement. We have a good Sunday school.

P. W. Clark, Wilson, La.

My revival meeting closed with 17 souls happily converted to God, 8 wanderers brought back to the fold, and 27 others added to the church. The black altar that has hung over us for the past seven months, my heavenly Father is kindly removing. On the 13th Presiding Elder Rev. J. F. Marshall, H. James, C. E. Brackford, A. Hilton and C. O. Wright were with us. We had a good time. Rev. J. F. Marshall is a master workman; a man of power. We will reopen on the third Sunday in October. Corner stone day was a success. Collection $119.50. Our members and officers deserve great praise for the success of the occasion.

P. M. Carmichael, Wesley Chapel, Austin, Texas.

The spiritual condition of the church is good, although our congregations are not large, as cotton picking is the order of the day, and a great many of our people are out making something to keep soul and body together during the winter. The average attendance of the Sunday school has only been about half what it was last quarter. The city schools opened on the 14th inst with only 260 colored children in attendance, while there were 1560 white children. Our people are a little indisposed toward the Samuel Hinton College building at present. We regret very much that work had to stop on this much needed building. At least $1500 could have been raised in this city from our people if the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society could have continued work. Several of our boys and girls are getting ready to go to Wiley University, Marshall, Tex., and some to Crockett, while a great many will attend the Tiltonson Institute, as a result of not having our school in operation. The shortness of crops in many places in the territory of the West Texas Conference will no doubt cause small collections for the school, yet we are not without hope. The benevolent collections in Wesley Chapel this quarter have been small. We have raised and paid on church debt something over $300. We have managed to keep nearly even with the pastor, Presiding Elder and Bishop. We have raised nearly $700 for all purposes during the quarter. The Presiding Elder preached us a very acceptable sermon, Sunday morning, Sept. 13. The sacramental service at night was grand. We are getting ready for the Annual Conference. We expect to bring up every dollar of the money we were asked to raise, notwithstanding the short year; and aside from that we are striving to clear the church from debt this year. We anticipate starting a revival meeting soon, in which we are praying to have many souls saved.

H. W. Booker, Steward Mill, Texas.

I have added 60 members to our church here. All happily converted or reclaimed to the church. Crops are short in our neighborhood, but we hope to meet every claim before conference.

W. H. Whitlock, Columbus, Miss.

The Lord has abundantly blessed Caledonia Circuit. Our revivals have resulted as follows: Brownlee 11 conversions, Military 62, Frierson 15, Spring Hill 3, total conversions 91; accessions, about 110.

Rev. E. H. Clark held the quarterly conference recently for Rev. John Wilson. He has torn down the old dilapidated church in which his people worshipped, and has built a nice frame church, 20x30. He has had 30 converts this year, and his work is alive.

N. Cannon, Fayette, Miss.

Our third quarterly conference convened at Fayette Sept. 12, 13, Presiding Elder Rev. S. A. Cowan presiding. Reports showed the charge spiritually alive. The Elder gave the Sunday school a grand address upon the great need of studying, and on observing the Sabbath. The Elder preached two soul-reviving sermons, and administered the Lord's supper to 104 communicants. Collection $25, paid Elder $12.50, pastor $12. On the night of Sept. 20, we closed a series of meetings which resulted as follows: Pine Grove, conversions 49, accessions 23; Harrison, conversions 14, accessions 9; Mt. Pleasant, conversion 1, accessions 9. Adults baptized 63. Fayette charge is spiritually alive.

An Earnest Appeal.

Rev. S. E. H. Morant, Presiding Elder of Alexandria district, has lost his mind. His friends have decided to send him from Shreveport to this city for treatment. He will reside here this week. Having a large family of a wife and eleven dependent children, he has not the means for their support and his treatment. Will not every pastor in the Louisiana Conference take up a collection for him, and every one reading these lines send a dime or a dollar to help him. Please help him, and help at once. Send to this office, to Rev. A. B. P. Albert, D.D., Secretary Louisiana Conference.

Rev. G. W. Arnold, the new Pastor of Loyd Street Church, Atlanta.

Rev. G. W. Arnold was born in Newnan, Ga., and is now thirty-six years of age. His career has been one of great success. He took the full college course in Clark University, graduating with the degree of A. B., in 1886. He then entered Gammon Theological Seminary, and graduated with the degree of B. D., in 1888. Afterwards he was appointed principal of LaGrange Academy. This position he held two years and a half, and under his administration it had wonderful growth. He received the degree from his Alma Mater in 1889; and the same year was elected trustee of Clark University, which position he now holds.

During his principalship of LaGrange Academy, he was the successful pastor of the LaGrange circuit. Here he built a new church, paid off a heavy standing debt, and added to the church one hundred and fifty members.

Last February he was appointed by Bishop Warren as pastor of Asbury Church in Savannah.

During his short stay there he renovated the church, put in carpet and matting, a fine pulpit set, altar set, renovated four rooms in the parsonage, and added one new one; also paid off several back debts.

Rev. Arnold is a great church worker, and where he goes things must change for the better.

Last Sunday was a grand day for Loyd Street. The weather was fine and the members and friends came out in great crowds to hear their new pastor. He preached two very able sermons to the satisfaction of all. Loyd Street has in Rev. Arnold an able preacher and successful pastor.

We congratulate the people of Loyd Street on receiving such an able and excellent shepherd.

We see no reason why every department should not assume an encouraging aspect.

REV. E. J. PENNY, B. D., of Marietta, Ga., a classical graduate of Atlanta University and of Yale Divinity School, who has felt the sting of the separate car law, which is made to operate only upon colored passengers, is out in a strong letter in the Atlanta Times, demanding the appointment of a colored man on the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission, to fill one of the two vacancies now existing therein. He very properly says:

"While the commission is earnestly discussing and regulating the rates on lumber, pork, beef, grain, cattle, stock, and the like, all of which is eminently right and proper enough, there ought to be some one on the commission who has felt 'the sting,' who has had experience in the matter, to speak for and remind the commission of that large and growing class of citizens, growing in numbers, intelligence, refinement, in wealth, and patriotism, a class that is miserably carried by almost all the railroads, over which they are obliged to travel or leave their business undone. Cannot the President be asked to appoint at least one colored man, of national reputation or otherwise, who, among his other duties, might induce the commission to consider, with him, the condition of this class of human beings, and see that they are treated at least as fairly as merchandise and cattle."

No class in this country is so outraged by the railroads as the colored people; and it would be but tardy justice on the part of the president to appoint one of that race on the Commission. Surely 8,000,000 of people deserve some consideration in a matter of this kind, from our national executive. Let the President appoint a colored man on the Commission, and one in the U. S. Circuit Courts of Appeals, as he has been petitioned to do by the whole race, and he will ever deserve and possess their lasting gratitude.

We have called attention several times to the injustice practiced upon our people in this city, in that colored teachers are not employed in all of our colored public schools in this city. We have been promised by the school authorities that the injustice would not continue to be tolerated longer than the interests to be subserved necessitated. The schools are now open, we understand pretty much as they have been before. We again call the attention of our school authorities to the injustice being done to our people in the premises, and we fervently urge in their name that the injustice be abolished, and that all the colored schools in this city be put in charge of colored teachers, as they are in all other Southern cities. The class of white teachers employed in our colored schools are always inferior, and have only "a head and hatter interest" in their pupils, and fair dealing with our people demands that such be no longer imposed upon our people. Will the school board ever do justice to our people in the premises. We hope so.

THE Independent of last week has the following:

The last issues of the Southern Methodist and Southern Presbyterian papers of New Orleans have not one word about the lotteries. The Northern Methodist paper, edited by Dr. Albert, a colored man, has a strong editorial article denouncing the gambling infamy, and warning the colored people against bribery.

"Dr. Albert, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, is an able as well as brave advocate of applied Christianity in all its phases in the Southland. His paper is deserving of a generous support not only in its patronizing territory but in the North. It is published in New Orleans. Send for a copy."—Buffalo Christian Advocate.

We heartily thank Dr. McGerald for his generous words of commendation. Subscribe for the SOUTHWESTERN, and you will grow in sympathy with this work and contribute towards its support as never before. The wonder to us is why the paper is not introduced in every family in our territory. We know of no better helper to the pastor in every department of his work.

It represents over thirty million people. May its meeting be a great pentecostal convocation.

WHEN the report was put out some days ago that Bishop Foss had decided in one of our Northern Conferences "that Negroes could not be admitted to membership in white churches," we knew that some one had, either ignorantly or maliciously misrepresented the bishop and conference in question, but we could not tell how. We clipped the slander and forwarded it to the bishop. His answer thereto in another column denies the allegation, and annihilates the "alligator." Read it yourself, and then read it to your neighbor or congregation.

THE pastors and trustees that fail to see that their churches are insured are guilty of a criminal negligence that is scarcely pardonable. Is your church insured?

EMANCIPATION Day is coming, January 1, 1893. How rapidly the years roll round. Twenty-nine years since Lincoln's memorable proclamation of freedom!

Political Review.

The elections in the November States will occur on the 3d. The prospect for Republican victory is extremely good, and is expected to grow brighter during the remaining two weeks.

During the last week the granite building has been thronged with applicants for positions under the singular honny law. Who the successful ones are has not yet been announced.

Personal.

—Rev. S. B. Danley's name appeared among those who had their "license renewed" at a district conference recently held in Tennessee. It was a mistake, and the report should have said that Bro. Danley urged a general rally to the support of the SOUTHWESTERN.

—Betsey Moody, the mother of Dwight L. Moody, is still living on the old homestead near Northfield, Mass., and is in her 87th year. She was left a widow with nine children and a mortgaged farm. Dwight was but four years of age at the time of his father's death, and at seventeen left home to make his own way in the world.

—Rev. S. P. Richards, who has been teaching at Cedar Grove, is now in attendance at New Orleans University.

—Rev. and Mrs. V. D. Jenkins, of Greenville, Ga., rejoice over the advent of a bonning boy.

—Zion's Herald says of Bishop Andrews: "Twenty years have passed since his election to the episcopacy, and in all these years he has presided at every conference assigned to him and preached on every conference Sunday with but one exception."

—There is a strange voice at Rev. T. G. Montgomery's. It's a girl and she arrived Oct. 6.

—Bro. F. L. Baxter, of Cheraw, S. C., sends us $1 for Bro. Morant.

City Church Notes.

(Brief items of news from the city churches welcome either handed us by pastors or lay men.)

There will be a corner-stone laying Nov. 8, at LaHarpe M. E. Church, and the present name will be changed to the founders' name—Scott Chinn Chapel.

Thirteen members were received by Bro. Montgomery at First Street Church last Sunday. The collection was $31.35, including $4.35 for Bro. Morant.

The rally at Williams' Chapel last Sunday was a successful one, and made Bro. Taylor happy at the prospect of having a new church for his people.

JULY 4th, is the nation's national day. January 1, is the nation's freedom day. Let everybody prepare to celebrate it.

A GOOD way to assist in the circulation of the SOUTHWESTERN, is to leave your copy after you have read it, if you do not otherwise preserve it, in a barber shop or other public place in your town.

THE Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South has 26,985 white and 20 colored members.

Those twenty are the axton's of twenty white churches, aren't they. Can't the Central Methodist enlighten us?

THE seventy-fifth annual report of the American Bible Society, shows that the society disbursed $587,023.69 in the prosecution of its work during the past year. This is $74,635.51 in excess of its receipts. The society printed and purchased the past year in all tongues 1,516,344 copies of the Scripture. Over 223,000,000 Bibles, Testaments and portions of the Bible have been distributed through the agency of the Bible Societies alone since 1804. Remember the Bible Society collection.

THE Crusader wants to know what's the matter with the "Old Church." This it asks because the secular press says that Bishop Foss has decided against the admission of a colored man in a white church in Iowa. Whatever may be the merits of the case, we have not as yet learned, but we are sure Bishop Foss has rendered no such a decision. The General Conference, the supreme authority in our church has already declared that no church and no school or other institution of our church shall be closed against any one "on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," and it is morally certain that a man of Bishop Foss' experience and character, would not set himself against this expressed policy of the church. Our readers may rest assured that when they get at all the facts in the case, our church will be found true to her principle of equal rights.

Since the above was written, the Bishop has been heard from, and his letter appears in this paper.

THE New Delta, which was established not quite eighteen months ago as an anti-lottery organ, has had built expressly for it, and has now in operation, a latest improved Web perfecting press, which is the best and most complete one in the city of New Orleans. This speaks well for the youngest of the New Orleans dailies, for the introduction of a fast printing press that produces 12,000 complete papers in an hour.

Congratulations. We hope that this press will be instrumental in grinding the lottery monster so "exceedingly small," that its dust will be blown so far that no more remembrance will be had of it among the people of this nation.

BROTHER, do not feel bad, even if you have greatly desired to be sent to the General Conference and your brethren do not seem inclined to gratify you. Take comfort. You can go to heaven in due time, without their ballots, and we pledge you heaven is a great deal better place than Omaha. So do not think your life a total failure.—Michigan Advocate.

We congratulate Dr. Potts, on the fact that he will be able to go to the General Conference, the good place, and when his work on earth is accomplished to heaven, the "great deal better place than Omaha."

MEN who aspire to be reformers of the morals of the people should be of good moral character themselves. Men who are constant ornaments to the saloon, and who otherwise lead disreputable lives, are not the proper ones to engage in such a mission. They should rather hang their heads in shame in the presence of those who are truly worthy to enter such a mission.

GOOD papers and good books are like good company. Subscribe for and read them. Papers and books that are filled up with all the crimes and immorality that may be gathered in any community, are like bad company. Have nothing to do with them.

YOU might as well associate with lewd and vicious men and women; as to make them your companions by means of a press whose mission is to furnish you with pen pictures of their vice and lewdness. Touch them not with extra-handled tongs.

"FRET not thyself because of evil doers; neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. For thou shalt soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb. Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed."

"I HAVE been young, and now am old; yet I have never seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread." The Lord always has and always will take care of his own. "Though he slay me, yet will I trust him."

IF our pastors would see that every family in their churches is supplied with the SOUTHWESTERN, they would find that their members would be more intelligent, loyal and benevolent; and would not be misled into supporting disreputable and vulgar papers, that carry on like, dish up for them all the moral filth of the community for their Sunday readings.

THAT church or Sunday school that reports no conversions is a failure.

"THE wicked plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth. The Lord shall laugh at him, for he seeth that his day is coming."

Help Poor Africa!

Some weeks ago we published a very pathetic letter from Africa, appealing for papers for the reading room of our mission school at Cape Palmas, West Coast of Africa. In answer to this, the Rev. J. B. Middleton, of Sumpter, S. C., offered $10 toward the establishment of the African Christian Advocate. To this we offered to add our subscription of $10, and others have been solicited to join their contributions for the same purpose. To this we have thus far received no responses. In the absence of a printing press in Liberia, there remains but one thing for American Christians to do, and that is, to see that those poor people are supplied with the right kind of reading matter from the American press. We therefore appeal to our readers to apply the means whereby we may be able to furnish the SOUTHWESTERN to our Cape Palmas school reading room, and to worthy and needy ones in the Black Republic. For $2 we will send the SOUTHWESTERN to such persons for a whole year, postage prepaid. Who will send us $2 and thereby assist in the evangelization of Africa? If you can't go there yourself, send them the SOUTHWESTERN as a missionary agent to assist in their evangelization and salvation.

MAN'S IMMORTALITY.

For man to say he has a soul
Is not the truth to say;
He has no soul, but is a soul.
And has a house of clay.

Which house is but his transient home—
Ere long he'll move away
And leave it like a silent dome,
To moulder and decay.

Were I to say I have myself
'Twould be a phrase as fit
As 'twould to say I have a soul,
For I myself am it.

This clay with which I now am clad
Is not me, as some suppose,
Because when shed 'twill lie as dead
As are my worn out clothes.

When I am gone don't view my clay
And think that I am dead,
For what you see will not be me,
But only what I've shed.

If these right views were more impressed
Upon the human mind,
Man then would feel himself more blest,
And more to faith inclined.

But while he thinks himself must die
And that his soul, not him,
Is all that shall be born on high,
So long will death look grim.

But when man learns he is a soul,
And that his clay alone
Is all that dies, he'll then rejoice
With joy before unknown.

Could man but comprehend himself
And see himself aright,
He then could view the bed of death
With feelings of delight.

His heart would then rejoice to view
The man forsake the clay
And fly with kindly angels to The spirit land away.

May heaven haste the happy day
When man shall comprehend
That he himself shall never die,
Shall never have an end.

For O the joy, the bliss to know
That death is but a door
Which opens from this world of woe
To joy forever more.

The Household.

CITRON AND QUINCE PRESERVE.—Pare and cut the citron in inch pieces, boil hard in middling strong alum water for thirty minutes, drain and boil in fresh water till the color is changed and they are tender; wash carefully the quinces, pare, quarter, core, and halve the quarters; boil the cores and parings in water to cover them, one and one-half hours; remove them and add the prepared quince to the liquid; boil, and when they begin to be tender add the citron and three-fourths of a pound of white sugar to every pound of the fruits.

SPICED GRAPE JELLY.—Take grapes half ripe, crush all the juice out well and strain. Take equal quantities of juice and sugar; to each quart add one half a teaspoonful of cloves and one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Cook hard twenty minutes, then remove from the stove and pour into glasses.

PICKLED PEPPERS.—Select large, green peppers (those called sweet peppers are the best); cut a small slit on one side so as not to cut off any part. Take out all the seeds carefully. Soak the peppers in salt water for six days, changing the brine several times. Chop onions, red cabbage, tomatoes, small cucumbers, green grapes, beans, okra, a few slices of carrots, some green corn cut from the cob, some horse-radish, whole mustard seed, celery seed and a little curry powder. Regulate the quantity of each ingredient by your own taste. Prepare as much of the stuffing as will fill to the natural size all the peppers you desire to pickle. Before filling the peppers, sprinkle all over them a little ground cinnamon, cloves and allspice; then fill in the stuffing, all well mixed. Sew up the slit neatly; place in a stone jar; cover with cold, spiced vinegar; cover up the jars closely and set aside.

BROWN BREAD.—One pint sour milk, one-half cup molasses, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, one teacup white flour, one teacup Graham flour, one teacup corn meal. Steam two hours, bake half an hour.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

Mr. Editor: I wish to enquire for Frank Hammond, who went from Aiken, S. C., to Hot Springs, N. C., a few years ago, and all track of him has been lost. His mother Phoebe Hammond is totally blind, and his sister Belle is nearly blind. They need his help and care. If anybody knows anything of his whereabouts, please notify the writer I. E. Lowery, Aiken, S. C.

Mr. Editor: I want to enquire for my relatives. My father's name was William Green, and my mother's name was Mariah Green. They had seven children, and I am the oldest one. My name was Martha Ann-Green before I married, since I married my name is Martha Griner. The next oldest child was named Joe Green, then Nicholas Green, Isom Green, then a girl named Dolly Green, then William Green who was named after my father, the next was Lavonia Green who died an infant. The last I remember of them, they lived six miles from Petersburg, Va., at Prince George, Va. I belonged to James Temple, who also owned my mother. I was sold to James Temple by his brother William Temple. My brother Joe was sold before I was. Any information as to their whereabouts will be thankfully received. Address Martha Griner, Perry's Mill, Ga.

Mr. Editor: I wish to find my uncle, named John Blassgim. His sister was my mother, her name was Ella Blassgim, but she is married to a minister of the M. E. Church by the name of Edward Kirby. We were then living in South Carolina; but now we are living in the State of Georgia. When he left us he went to Arkansas. We heard from him about five years ago. He was near Little Rock. My name is Mamie Kirby, age 14. Any information may be addressed to me at Harmony Grove, Ga.

Mr. Editor: I want to enquire for my brother Alexander Daniel, who was born in Pike county, Ga. His father was named Frank Bolding. Before emancipation he was carried to Shelby county, Texas, by his owner, Widow Bolding. He left behind a wife and three boys. His wife died in 1864, and after emancipation Frank Bolding returned to Pike county, Ga., to his boys, and changed his name to Frank Daniel. His boys were Richard, Thomas and Alexander Daniel. Alexander Daniel ran away from his father in 1876, and went to Waco, Texas, with a white man by the name of Macki Jorden. His father is dead, and left an estate for the boys. I will be glad for any information. Address your letter to Thomas D. Daniel, Williamson, Pike county, Ga.

General Church News.

San Francisco has four thousand five hundred saloons.

The prohibitionists of New York have nominated J. W. Bruce, of Canastota, Madison county, for Governor.

Two joint-keepers have been arrested at Parsons, Kansas, at the instance of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of that place.

There are at present 553 Protestant pastors, evangelists, and teachers engaged in Gospel work in Italy.

The two Georgia Evangelists, Sam P. Jones and Sam W. Small, have been ordered to appear before the grand jury at Rome, Ga. They conducted a revival there some days ago, and charged corruption so pointedly upon the people and the administration of justice that Superior Court Judge Maddox charged the grand jury to compel Messrs. Jones and Small to prefer their charges in legal form and prove their truth or cease talking. Attachments have been issued for them. Small is now in Massachusetts.

The Church Advocate for September publishes "a list of the colored clergy" of the Protestant Episcopal Church, showing a total of 61, classified as follows: priests, 26; deacons, 33; out of the country, 2.

Japan can boast of a village of total abstainers, the people of Gijomura, Tasugori, of Omi, having united in a determination to abstain from saki in the future. This vow they have kept since their New Year, and each house has a board on the door with the inscription, "Frgal in all things, liquor prohibited."

Our Symposium.

More Mob Law.

The hanging of the Negro Will Lewis, by a mob at Tullahoma, is another blot upon the fair name of the State of Tennessee. He was taken from the "calaboose," at one o'clock at night by six or seven armed and masked men, and was found the next morning swinging to a limb upon the outskirts of the town. There was not the shadow of an excuse for such a crime. The alleged fact that Lewis was given to drink, and that when under the influence of liquor he was inclined to be rude and boisterous, is not of the slightest weight in this connection. If every white drunkard against whom the same things might be alleged were strung up without mercy, the sheriffs of the State would have their hands full from one year's end to another. As to mob law, we have heretofore spoken our mind very distinctly. In regard to this particular case we wish to add that it was a most unprovoked and cowardly murder. The gang of thugs who need the darkness of the night and their overwhelming numbers to seize their victim and rob him of his life are not fit to enjoy the rights of citizenship in any civilized community. We are not surprised that the colored people are excited and indignant, nor that the entire community of Tullahoma feels outraged that such a deed should have been perpetrated in that excellent and law abiding town. The action of the citizens in public meeting, of the local bivauc of Confederate veterans in formal session, and of the mayor of the town in official proclamation condemning the outrage in unmeasured terms and calling for the detection and punishment of the offenders, is to be unqualifiedly approved.—Christian Advocate, M. E. Ohnreh South.

SORE THROAT

Bronchitis, colds, coughs, asthma, and even consumption, in the early stages, yield to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Singers, actors, auctioneers, public speakers, clergymen, teachers, lecturers, and all who are liable to disorder of the vocal organs, find a sure remedy in this wonderful and well-known preparation. As an emergency medicine, in cases of croup, whooping cough, etc., it should be in every household.

"Two years ago I suffered severely from an attack of sore throat

And Bronchitis

It seemed as if I could not survive, all the usual remedies proving of no avail. At last I thought of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking two bottles of this medicine I was restored to health."—Chas. Gahnhil, Smith's Ranch, Sonoma Co., Cal.

"There is nothing better for coughs than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I use no other preparation."—Andres Butler, Providence, R. I.

W. H. Graft & Co., Druggists, Carson, Iowa, certify that all throat and lung troubles are speedily

Cured By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It leads all others. "In January, 1889, I was taken down with measles and scarlet fever, and exposing myself too soon, caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was forced to inhale to my bed and was so ill that the doctors despaired of my recovery, supposing me to be in quick consumption. Change of climate was recommended, but I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and soon found relief. After using several bottles, I was cured, so that I am now as well and rugged as ever."—John Dillander, Cranesman of Steam Shovel, G. S. & S. F. R. Co., Justin, Texas.

The peace that blest good Simeon be thine;
But we could wish thy chariot might stay
Till all the old "Dark Continent" shall shine
With Christ-light, ushering in the Gospel Day.

ROMAN Catholics continue to clamor for the restoration of the pope's temporal power. It is too late in the afternoon of the nineteenth century however, and they had better utilize their needless efforts in some more hopeful and reasonable direction. The thing is perfectly absurd. Revolutions don't go backward, but forward.

WHATEVER may have been his motive for so doing, Gov. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, has exposed himself to severe adverse criticism, by convening the Senate of his State in extra session to investigate rumors affecting the official integrity of the State Treasurer and Auditor General, who belong to an opposing political party, at this time, while a heated campaign is in progress in that State.

It is humiliating to know that in this great and critical time of struggling to uplift our race and give it a fair name and place in the land,—a Negro preacher should edit and issue a Sunday paper. Such is the lamentable fact however, for one comes to our table from Mobile, filled with would-be praise for Republican officials that must be nauseating to those individuals, and also contains advertisements for beer saloons and dances. Altogether it is a disgrace to the better element in the colored race. For us there is a crumb of comfort in the fact that the editorial divinity (!) is not a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

PRESIDING Elder Andrew Foster, of the West Texas Conference, writes:

Dear Dr. Albert:—I have arranged to send a few cash subscribers every week, and I am trying to impress the importance of taking our dear old SOUTHWESTERN, because it is the organ that speaks for the rights of our people boldly and fearlessly; because of the many valuable instructions given in her columns; and last, but not least, because it is the paper that is destined to do the whole race good, whether Methodist, Baptist, or what not. Whoever reads the SOUTHWESTERN, and follows the much needed and timely instructions given therein, is bound to grow wiser and better. Go on, Doctor. God bless you."

In this letter he encloses four cash subscribers. That's what you can term proving one's faith by his work. Go thou and do likewise. Will you do it?

The Needs of the Tennessee Conference and the Church at Large.

BY REV. C. B. WILSON, A. B.

The great need of the conferences is more and better churches. In order to have these we must have more and better Gospel bearers, backed up by education, morality and religion. Education not only of the head, but of the heart. Morality not only in our talk, but in our living. Religion not only in formality but in a living and sound devotion to God. Brethren, we ought to move up on these lines. We know a nation is not born in a day, but we can make improvement on these lines. We know it takes a long time to make a man. God was eighty years in preparing Moses to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt. Our blessed Savior was here upon earth, thirty and three years before the plan of salvation was completed. The children of Israel were forty years in the wilderness before God prepared them for the crossing of the Jordan.

It used to take several weeks for a Congressman to go from California to Washington City, but now he can make the journey in a week. There is no doubt but that Abraham's servant was several days on the road to Mesopotamia, unto the city of Nabor, with his ten camels and servants to seek the bride of Abraham's beloved son Isaac. But now-a-days young men can send the message by telegraph. Abalard, Hugo, St. Victor, Peter Lombard, Alexander De Hales, Thomas Aquinas, Duns, Scotus and others reached no well rounded systematic form in the study of theology as a systematic science. But must the modern theologian stop there? nay, press forward.

The arid deserts and lonely wilderness that used to be crossed by dusty caravans and rattling teams are now being cleared away, compelling the gray mountain bear to seek a new home, and laying the railroad tracks, planting telegraph poles, swinging the electric wire and bearing news from city to city with the velocity of lightning. Remember that it has been well said, that "procrastination is the thief of time." Then let us obey the words of our blessed Master, St. John xiv. 31, "Arise, let us go hence." My point is this, let us be going in the discharge of the great duty that has been committed to our care. Let us notice, there are several towns in the bounds of the Tennessee Conference where we have no churches. Towns that number from three to five thousand inhabitants, such as Columbia, Fayetteville, Clarksville, Jackson, etc. Towns that are growing in population, Northern capital and great enterprise, and as we sweep through the western part of the State from Memphis to Nashville, a great cotton belt. We call the attention of our beloved bishops and the Church Extension Society, and the Tennessee Conference to these points. Our church should be at these places. It is the church that knows no man according to the flesh, Greek nor Jew, black nor white, bond nor free, but a man as a man, just so he is a Christian gentleman; a church that came to us in the our of need when we were in darkness and distress. Then let the banner of the grand old mother church be floating in every city and town in the Tennessee Conference. And let the congregations pay their pastors and Presiding Elders. Let the pastors bring up every benevolent claim and distribute the grand old SOUTHWESTERN in every city, town, village, hamlet and log house in the nation and especially in every family of the church.

There is a silent stream trying to make its way among the Afro-American race that perhaps we all are not aware of and that is the Roman Catholics. They are pouring the Roman Catholic literature into the hands of some of the intelligent colored men and women of the South. Let us be on the alert, and watch this thread-like stream that threatens to grow into a great ocean that cannot be passed over. The motto of the vatican is, "Ignorance is the mother of devotion." But we have had enough ignorance. We want light. In order to have light we must stand by such institutions as the Central Tennessee College, and such true and tried men as president John Braden, D.D., and Dr. J. C. Hartzell, traveling all over this broad Southland like a mighty hero hunting down ignorance and building up great institutions of learning.

The Central Tennessee College is the nucleus around which the Tennessee Conference must revolve. Then let us sustain this great institution by going down in our own pockets, taking collections from our congregations and praying for its prosperity. We may not be able to give very much. But let us remember that:

"One by one we begin to count,
Step by step the hill we mount,
Word by word we begin to spell,
And line by line comes reading well."

Favors the Election of a Colored Bishop.

REV. J. H. GRANT.

Dear Dr. Albert: Permit me to say that I now voice the sentiment of every member of our conference, in saying that the able manner in which you have handled the great question touching the election of a colored bishop in the M. E. Church has won its way into the hearts of all our people, and made a warm spot there for you. May God bless you to ever defend with an open mouth and outspoken heart the true principles of the church and of her needs. We believe that the time has come when every member who is loyal to the grand old M. E. Church should speak out in favor of the election of a colored bishop.

The election of a colored bishop would mark a grand epoch in the history of our church. Oh, that the members of the next General Conference would rightly consider the matter, and heed this righteous demand. May God so inspire their hearts, from the bishops down to each layman, so that they may lay aside all color barriers and give us one of our race on the bench of bishops. Remember, we have been loyal and submissive while waiting for the man to develop. Now we have abundant material from which to select, let us have the desired representation. Colored men sit in the halls of legislation side by side with their former masters, why not have a colored bishop to sit by side of our present bishops?

Many of our people believe, and rightly, too, I think, that a colored bishop would have been elected before now, but our men at the front who should have advocated such an election were afraid to open their mouths, because they were under the impression that it would render them unpopular. Indeed these things are facts.

Doctor, you manfully and fearlessly represent exactly what is in the hearts of our people. You have proven to be true to your trust. May God help you to see the consummation of this matter, upon which every colored member in the Methodist Episcopal Church is so firmly concentrated.

From Bishop Taylor on the Congo.

Steamship Annie Taylor, Congo, August 26, 1891.

This our mission steamer is a grand success. We came down from Boma yesterday in five hours, said to be sixty miles, and we had a strong head sea as we neared the mouth of the Congo. It is beautiful to see our boat splitting the six mile current of the mighty river. We have selected as our Viri anchorage "the Island," the best harbor on the Lower Congo, one and one-half miles from Viri station, thirty minutes walk. I walked it last Monday in twenty-four minutes. I am in splendid health, and pulling along.

With one exception, our new recruits are doing splendidly. Brother and Sister Walrath I have appointed to Viri, as transport agent, and to open an Infant Training Mission School, to which Sister Walrath is well adapted. Our former man there, J. O. Teter, and his wife, have leave of absence for a few months. They are noble workers in our cause. She is in need of a change for her health, and will spend a few months in their home in America. But his principal business will be to assist John Terry, Esq., concerning the building of the new steamer, return from America in time to meet us, homeward bound in London about March 1, to witness the trial trip of the "Kassai," then come on with the new steamer's stuff and see it carried to Stanley Pool, where he will reconstruct the boat and run it on the Kassai. He has been on the Congo over five years; is well acclimated; knows the country and the people; is a genius, and master of the situation. Meantime Bro. Wm. O. White will construct and run our steel launch sloop on the middle passage of 88 miles, Isangilla to Manganga. This boat is now all at Isangilla.

Bro. Bradley L. Burro of Kimpoko, will assist in transport arrangements, thence to Stanley Pool, and in the construction of the boat. So that this whole business will be in the hands of our trained and tried men, adding a few new missionaries as apprentices "and let those also first be proved;" the recent deflection of one of our new Congo recruits, to accept a salaried position under a Belgian company, shows that we must even more closely guard the gate. Africa demands the very highest order of missionaries, in grand ministerial qualifications, to lay the broad foundations of our church; "passed" mechanics and engineers and "apt to teach" in developing the grand resources of this people and country; holy in heart, and sound in mind and body.

We have opened a new station at Bananna, in charge of J. W. Jensen, also a new station north of Isangilla, committed to the charge of Wm. Rasmussen and wife.

We have purchased a church lot at Matadi, twenty metres front by forty deep, and hope soon to be able to build a chapel, and put in a missionary. Plenty of good building stone within ten yards of the lot. This is an important post, being the starting point of the Congo Railway, the site of their machine shop, offices and warehouses and those of the government. Here we organized a Methodist Episcopal Church, which increased, by accretion, up to the number of forty candidates for membership. The need of a church and a missionary, in view of the fact, also, that there is no such thing there of any name or denomination, is imperative.

Our people at Kimpoko have built a good new one-story, house, about 20x80 feet; and we are all in good health and good cheer. Luluaburg is still our field. I have recently purchased from the Congo State Government twelve acres of ground there, embracing the site of the buildings put up by Dr. Summers; so that as quickly as possible after we have launched our new steamer, "Kassai," we shall put in the missionaries to re-open and extend the work commenced there.

At Natonby, in the midst of difficulties, Miss Kildare is brave, hopeful and happy; and sowing good seed plentifully, so we expect a good harvest.

Mamby is also a difficult point, the French government requiring their own language to be taught there; but reinforced by her French Sister Burkhallton, and assisted by Bro. Nelme, Miss Koh is doing good work. Our mission farm there comprises over 100 acres, with one of the largest and best mission houses on the Coast.

At Bome we are contracting for a lot on the best site in town, 66x165 feet, large enough for all our purposes, and right opposite to our choice of mooring ground. Having sold our traction engine to good advantage to the government, we will put part of the proceeds into this lot, and thus give the engine a chance to grow with the growing capital of Congo.

Capt. Christian A. Borrella was converted in early life, under the ministry of father Taylor, of Boston, and was for many years a seamen's missionary in New York City. He was a ship master by profession, and after spending two years in working and witnessing for Jesus in Liberia and Angola, came to Congo just when we needed a captain for our steamer. On Sunday morning, the 9th, we walked together to preaching service at Vintop. He was taken suddenly ill, and on my return there Monday morning was very low with malarial fever. Bros. Walrath and White watched with him Monday night, and Bro. Teter and I through Tuesday night. He said he had no pain, but was "tired, oh so tired." At 4 a.m. Wednesday, the 12th, he fell asleep in Jesus, and at 4 p.m. we buried him alongside of Rev. J. S. Cutler, on Vintop. He was about 66 years of age. Bro. White lined a seven-foot box with white muslin, and covered it outside with black flannel, which made it into a beautiful coffin. We dressed the dear old saint in his best new suit, and laid him away until he shall be waked up by "the voice of the Son of man."

Just now we are in need of new missionaries, already accepted by me personally, and waiting to be forwarded; of funds for our annual cash purchases, for new and partly developed stations; and, of vast importance to the rapid extension of our work in the great fields "white already to harvest" in the upper Congo country, a balance of some thousands for the building of our new steamer "Kassai." Remit to our friends, editors of the Christian papers, or direct to the temporary treasurer, Rev. Ross Taylor, Evanston, Illinois.

God is with us, and it we work wisely with Him, He will work efficiently through us. Hallelujah!

Your brother in Jesus,

WM. TAYLOR.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Charity.

MRS. M. T. ALBERT.

After reading in the SOUTHWESTERN what a sister writes about Christianity, when it comes to speak about Christianity matter I cannot stay dumb. The first thing Christianity means is to keep God's laws and His Sabbaths. Secondly, charity is love and humanity, and charity is to do good, to help one another, and especially to give to the poor. Charity means everything in Christian manners. Many who are professing religion know it, but do not accept it, because they do not keep God's Sabbaths and commandments, as they ought to do. The gospel teaches us that many will be called, but few will be chosen. All we have to do is to do our duty as God teaches us to. We must love one another and be watching and praying, so that when the Master shall call we shall be ready.

A BROTHER in New Berne, Ala., reports that a certain Baptist minister there said some very foolish things about John Wesley and our church, and desires to hear from us on the subject. It is not worthy of notice. John Wesley is in heaven, and our church will live and aid millions more to get there.

"One of the Twelve."

I was "one of the twelve" that, a quarter of a century ago, constituted the Convention that organized the Methodist Freedman's Aid Society—the humblest, it may be, of them all, but with a voice far more outreaching than any of the rest; for the General Conference had put to my mouth a trumpet with which I could make my else feeble voice resound through all the Middle West. Before I write a word for the future, let me see if the "Old Western" was right and true in those days of yore. I have searched the files, and, thank God! I would not obliterate a singular line, or, perhaps, add a single word. The most vigorous tones of the editor's middle manhood rang out over the land many a time for universal suffrage in the District of Columbia—all we dared then to ask. In January, 1866, the Western declared that "the Nation desires and designs to purge itself from injustice to every man." It pleaded that if there might be objections to universal suffrage in the extreme South, where the blacks were so largely in the majority, there could "be no reasonable objection to such acknowledgment of the manhood and citizenship of the colored American, as this [the Civil Rights] bill contemplates." A little later we gave a spirited colloquy between Andrew Johnson President of the United States, and quite a company of colored people, of whom Frederick Douglass was spokesman. Johnson clearly intimated to Douglass that if the bill passed the Senate, as it already had passed the House, he would veto it. Douglass replied:
"The President sends us to the people, and we will have to go and get the people right." The Western stood by Douglass and his crowd against the President and
"and the people" that Douglass knew were yet largely wrong.
Again I say, Thank God! Soon the "Old Western" was at complete odds with the policy of "Andy Johnson." The President threatened the complete destruction of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, and vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, and desired to turn the freedmen over to the State Courts, in many of which they had no status and nowhere a ballot. The Western firmly protested against all this injustice and more of its kind. It unwaveringly stood against Mr.
Johnson, and claimed equal rights for the colored man in every State of the Union. It demanded rights equal to our own. To the four million freedmen we saw that we were under obligations greater than the rest of their race. This was our language: "Nor dare we forget that for generations this unhappy race have been the victims of a system destructive to self-reliance, and which enacted their perpetual ignorance. The system is destroyed, but not its effects. Helplessness and ignorance are yet the heritage of the Negro, and the Nation that emancipated must also lend a helping hand." We demanded just laws for the colored man, books and schools for him, instruction in agriculture and the mechanic arts;
we demanded home and family, and especially the elevating and glorious gospel. We warned the Negro-bater that he was crying his own special part of this more than Herculean work. I begin now to want to live another quarter of a century, to see what you have done, and to be one of your speakers at the great Jubilee meeting of 1916 A. D., and measure the marth made in His name.

I am inspired to believe that some one who has one hundred thousand dollars to spare, will crown this Jubilee by writing to Hartzell or Gray or Chadwick, asking where is there another such an opening as Gammon found.
They can tell you. Even a bris-ed Reich could do that. Earth has no such diamonds as can be quarried here. Let no pastor be unfaithful to this great occasion, but hold the appointed services, and come bringing his sheaves with him.
Let the young people, by their numerous associations, overflow the twenty-five thousand dollars the society asks. If we do well, the Jubilee will extend to heaven!
Glory! Glory!

I begin to see that this may be God's way of redeeming Africa.
He is preparing her own sons by us to go back to the land of their origin, and polish this black diamond till it shall sparkle brightly in the crown of its Redeemer. Beneath the soil of that continent is more gold and other treasures than in any other continent under the sun. These Africans may be the richest of our race. Hundreds of thousands of those in America may, in the future, hasten to go back to the sunny strand, when their intelligence and their wealth will lead all to desire them to stay here. Let us pre-empt all these imagined and unimaginable probabilities for Christ

General Church News.

The King's Household of Bible Readers.

This organization was started in 1885, in the city of Philadelphia, by the Rev. Edward H. Bronson.
It provides for the reading of the Bible in four years. The first year the historical books are studied, and, in possession of their facts, the student may intelligently interpret the teachings of the poetical, prophetic, and epistolary books, read during second, third and fourth years.

Systematic, consecutive reading and note-making, with reviews, are its distinctive features. It aims to give its members a thoughtful familiarity with every part of the Bible text. No one can faithfully pursue this course without com-passing this end.

It enters its sixth year with much encouragement. From those who have finished the course come words of enthusiastic praise. After receiving the certificate many join the new class and go over the course, saying they cannot do without it. New members say: "This is just what we need; we find it very helpful."

All are invited to join the class of 1895, now forming. For full particulars, send one cent stamp to Mrs. E. H. Bronson, Salem, N. J.

The Mohammedans recently held an anti-rum conference at Khartonm. It is declared that the liquors of christendom are more destructive of life and happiness in Africa than the slave trade for which Mohammedanism is responsible.

There is an average of nine murders a week in this country committed by drunken men, and to be directly traced to whiskey. Yet with this fearful record—and it is only one count in the indictment—there are people who say: "Do not agitate prohibition!"

In Pennsylvania the total drink bill is not less than $85,000,000 a year; $50,000,000 is paid by working men. That is the poor man's drink bill. Suppose the poor man should take this $50,000,000, and instead of paying it into the coffers of the saloon keepers and the brewers, should go to the butchers to buy meat, to the grocers and bny groceries for his family, to the clothing store, to the boot and shoe store, the furniture dealer, to the real estate man and buy a lot, to the builder and contractor for a house, and then lay by a little for a rainy day, what would be the result upon himself and upon business? Why, "hard times" would disappear; poverty, shame, crime, and sorrow would be marvelously diminished; peace and prosperity would prevail throughout a quiet and glorious commonwealth.

Mr. Editor: I want to find my people. I had three sisters, Jane Ann Bell, Harriet Ann Bell, and Mary Elizabeth Bell. My name is Mary Bell. Negro traders brought me to Mississippi from Virginia, from the Blue Ridge Mountains.
Father was Harrison Bell, mother
Millie Ann, uncle Edmund Bell.
My cousin George Bell, rather than come with Negro traders to Mississippi cut off his hand with an ax.
Any information will be gladly received. Address Mary Bell, 404

Mr. Editor: I want to make an enquiry. I am of the county of Laurens, State of South Carolina.
I had two uncles carried off in the year 1860 or 1861, named Silas Blackley and Wright. Joseph Crews bought and sold them. Their father's name was Jack Parks, and their mother's name was Annie Blackley. I am the son of their sister Lonisa. At the time they were sold my mother belonged to Ludia Little. When last we heard of them they were in New Orleans.
It may be that their children live. I

My mother married Charles Adair, and lives at Laurens, S. C. My name is Rev. John Henry Byrd,

Mr. Editor: Permit me to enquire that he was in Maryland three years ago. I married since I came

A Backshotten Buckeye on the Negro Problem.

Negro formerly of Ohio, J. A. Foreman, has an article in a recent issue of the Methodist Advocate, in which he denounces the friendly attitude of Northern people toward the colored people. He is desperately earnest in his opposition to mixed churches and schools in the South. Speaking for both races he declares that "neither one wants it." Who told him so? Speaking as a colored man for colored people, we declare that our people are in favor of human equality, without separation in Church or State, and whosoever represents the contrary misrepresents the race. Concluding, Mr. Foreman says:

"Our Southern people are a noble people, and with more than a century of experience with the colored race they certainly ought to know best how to handle the colored people."

Yes, they "ought to know." They "ought to know" that it was wrong for them to keep the Negro in slavery; to sell wife from husband, children from parents, and from each other, but did they? They "ought to know" that it was wrong to enact in verity all the facts pictured out in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," but they didn't. The lesson of freedom and humanity had to come to them from the North. And it is desperately wicked for a backslidden Buckeye to preach in favor of the South being left free from all criticism "to handle the colored people." The South shows its knowledge of how to handle the colored people by cramming him up next to the engine in "Jim Crow cars," by denying him a night's lodging in the hotel, a drink of soda water in the confectionery, by disfranchising him, by force and fraud, from all political influence, and by stringing him up to a tree, without judge or jury, whenever it suits an enemy to say he attempted to commit an infamous crime. Oh, yes, "the Southern people are noble and experienced, and ought to know how to handle the colored people." This is the way they handle them. We suppose Mr. Foreman approves of their method of handling them. We assure Mr. Foreman, however, that twenty-nine years of freedom, education, the acquisition of property, etc., have done something for the Negro, and he will before many years be a pretty hot poker to handle, especially when taken hold of at the wrong end. We always knew that backsliders were always worse than original sinners. Mr. Foreman is another proof of the fact.

Worthy of Your Attention.

The recent annual meeting of the Mississippi Co-operative and Benevolent Association, held at Natchez, Miss., evidenced the prosperity of this excellent institution. General Manager L. J. Winston, in his address of welcome, paid the following flattering compliment to the citizens of that city:

"In Natchez you find the white citizens ever ready and willing to assist the colored citizens in every honorable and laudable undertaking that elevates them morally, educationally and financially. The white and colored citizens of our city live upon terms of friendship and amity, equaled by few cities and excelled by none, North, South, East or West."

Of the association he said: "The Mississippi Co-operative and Benevolent Association is not a secret society, but a corporation, duly chartered under the laws of the State of Mississippi, for the purpose of enabling worthy and deserving people to buy homes, pay off mortgages, deeds in trust, repair property and to secure money to educate our children and to engage in legitimate business pursuits."

"If the corporation can induce our people to acquire property and save their hard-earned earnings, it will have been successful in its mission."

"The corporation, in the short space of thirteen months, has granted loans to the amount of $22,800."

"The time has come," he declared, "when our people must demonstrate to the enlightened world that we have a material interest in this grand republic, and that we are, and ever will assist in developing the resources of this country, and that we have the same material interest in the country that all other citizens have, and that all we ask in the race of life is equal opportunities and we will show like results."

"We have ministers of the gospel, teachers, doctors, lawyers, editors, merchants, bankers, mechanics and artisans, yet, gentlemen, we have much to accomplish as a people."

We must engage in the various business callings of the day. A people to be great and to command the respect of an intelligent world, must possess character, virtue, intelligence and wealth. A people possessing virtue, character, intelligence and wealth, are a powerful people. A people without character, virtue, intelligence and wealth are poor indeed.

We should as a people strive earnestly, persistently and unceasingly to advance ourselves morally, intellectually and financially, and when we attain a position of moral, intellectual and financial worth, then will the clouds of unreasonable prejudice pale into insignificance, and not till then.

A people's condition morally, financially and intellectually, cannot be changed by legislation nor constitutional enactment, but must be changed by themselves.

One thing we must learn as a people, and that is to regard true worth, and that, above all things, a good character is worth more than gold."

The address throughout was such as we could heartily commend to all our people. We only regret that we could not give it to our readers in full.

Justifies Murder.

The Morning Star, Irish Roman Catholic organ, in this city, in a recent issue, tried to do what no other religious paper has ever attempted in a civilized community, governed by civilized law, and that was to justify the lynching, or really murder, of persons charged with crime in "certain cases."

To prove its position it religiously recalled the case of "the woman taken in adultery," where in he makes the Saviour the veritable Judge Lynch of her accusers. He failed to emphasize the moral to be drawn therefrom, however, that the Saviour was really her deliverer, in that he caused the mob to scatter, and then He bade the woman to go free after he had told them: "He that is without sin among you cast the first stone."

We knew that the Morning Star was a Negro hater, but we hardly thought that its hatred to the race would lead it to quote Scripture and wickedly make the blessed Saviour the prince of lynchers, in justification of the perpetual lynching of defenceless Negroes in the South.

The application of the same Scripture which the Saviour uttered to our modern lynching saints would leave but few, if any, to murder Negroes or anybody else. With all the courts of justice in the hands of the white people, and the Negro penniless and friendless as he is, can there possibly be any "certain cases" in which the summary lynching by an infuriated mob can possibly be justified? The Father of Lies himself would be bound to answer, no.

Down the Lottery.

N. C. Addison, Esq., of Avoyelles, has issued the following self-explanatory address to the colored citizens of Avoyelles parish:

To the Young Men's Reform Republican Anti-Lottery Association, Ministers of the Gospel and Voters of the Parish of Avoyelles:

From a moral and Christian standpoint, the citizens of the United States of America, and the State of Louisiana, regardless of color, religion or party affiliation is or ought to be against the Louisiana State Lottery, any other lottery, monopoly or gambling institution. I wish briefly to state to you the facts: In 1868 the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, at the instigation of a syndicate, formed in New York in 1863, chartered the Louisiana State Lottery Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, giving it a monopoly of running lotteries in the State for twenty-five years, and now there are more than 100 policy shops in the city of New Orleans where tickets are sold. They are placed at points where they waylay the wage earner in his progress to and from his work. These policy shops are crowded daily with thinly-clad women, bare-foot children, poor workmen and household servants, who spend their daily earnings for tickets. It is mostly the poor and ignorant that enters these diabolical doors. Some of these shops keep dream books and other stimulants to aid the superstitious in selecting the so-called lucky numbers. By daily repetition of play thousands become afflicted with the lottery craze, and to gratify this many steal and embezzle in order to gratify their mania for gambling.

We beseech your aid to help crush this monster that every sister State is against and Congress has excluded from the mail. Let every man and woman remember that gambling is a vice which strikes at the heart of the home; that playing lottery is gambling in its worst form, according to the best writers of the day. Let every patriot prepare to array himself against this great monster in the next general election. Don't listen to those who pretend that the lottery folks are more friendly disposed to us. This is not a question of friendship but of right. The lottery question is non-partisan, with leading Democrats and Republicans of the country as stockholders. It matters not to us what its political faith is, for wrong is wrong and right ought to prevail. Furthermore, if the lottery is successful in the April election, and its charter granted, lottery offices will be established in every town and hamlet, and the next generation will look upon Louisiana as a gambling hell.

Don't listen to those who are waiting for lottery money. Organize at once for the rights and honor of your wife and children and generations to come.

N. C. ADDISON, Chairman.

He is organizing every ward in his parish. That's what should be done by all true sons of Louisiana throughout the State.

ONE of the most suggestive and interesting of the papers which have been called forth by the present agitation with regard to the condition of our farming population is that on "Agricultural Depression and Waste of Time," contributed by president David Starr Jordan, of the Leland Stanford Jr., University, in California, to the October Forum. President Jordan maintains that agricultural depression is due chiefly to the idle habits of most of our farmers. He cites as an illustration of this theory his experience one day when the train in which he was traveling stopped at a little town in Indiana, called Cloverdale:

"A commercial traveler, dealing in groceries and tobacco, got off; a crate of live chickens was put on; and the cars started again. The stopping of a train was no rare sight in that village, for it happens two or three times every day. The people had no welcome for the commercial traveler, no tears were shed over the departure of the chickens; yet on the station steps I counted forty men and boys who were there when the train came in—farm boys, who ought to have been at work in the fields; village boys, who might have been doing something somewhere, every interest of economics and aesthetics alike calling them away from the village, and off to the farms. Two men attended to all the business of the station. The solitary passenger went his own way. The rest were there because they had not the moral strength to go anywhere else. They stood there on the station steps, embodied ghosts, dead to all life and hope, with only force enough to stand around and gape."

THE General Committee of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet in Wesley Chapel, Columbus, Ohio, on Thursday, Nov. 5, at 10 o'clock a. m. Two or more anniversary services will be held in the city on the evening of the same day, under the direction of the Committee and the Columbus Preachers' Meeting. Communications may be addressed care of Rev. J. C. Jackson, D.D., 90 Greenwood Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

THE attention and co-operation of all ministers and other friends who are willing to assist in promoting the knowledge of Christianity and the growth of Methodism among the Bohemians in this country, is especially requested by the publishers of Krestansky Posel. There are in the United States 500,000 Bohemians, and this paper, published at Cleveland, Ohio, is the only one printed in the interest of Methodism in the Bohemian language, and is designed to be, as its name indicates, a "Christian Messenger." It is earnestly desired that any pastors having in their congregations or neighborhoods Bohemian friends, will favor the publishers by sending the names and addresses of such persons as they may deem proper ones to act as agents for this paper. Also, any desiring sample copies, will the brethren bear this in mind and do all in their power to help on this good and blessed work. Address Rev. Frank D. Chada, 26 Evans Court, Chicago, Ill., or Rev. Frank Tanchen, 34 Petrie street, Cleveland, O.

Political Review.

Nothing specially interesting has transpired in the political world since our last issue outside of this State.

In this State the Democratic State Committee have met and appointed Dec. 19th, as the day for holding the State Nominating Convention. The pro lottery faction had a small majority in the committee. The committee was unable to agree upon a set of rules for governing the manner of holding primaries.

A Republican mass meeting was held at Odd Fellows Hall Wednesday night of last week to endorse the administration of Capt. Wimberly, Collector of Internal Revenue. He was endorsed by formal resolutions, after several complimentary speeches.

As the day for the November elections draw nigh, Republican prospects brighten.

A RECENT ruling of the Treasury Department at Washington, prohibits from the mail "as printed matter," engravings, etchings, photographs, half tones, sheet music, etc., coming from foreign countries. They are pronounced contraband, and seized by custom officers as such. The press of the country is demanding in the name of the artists, industrial designers, architects, journalists, literary men, writers and lecturers upon history, fine arts, etc., librarians and curators of educational institutions, students of history, archaeology, the arts, etc., musicians and private collectors and others, that the ruling be modified, and that those articles, as heretofore, be admitted through the mail as regular printed matter. If the press of the country took the same lively interest in the interest of the freedom and equal protection of every class of citizens in this country, it would not be long before the Negro's rights would be held in every part of this country as sacred as those of the white man.

Personal.

—Rev. C. D. Shallowborne, of Shreveport, spent last week in the city.

—Rev. J. H. Pierre, of Bayou Pierre, was recently thrown from his horse, and badly injured in his side.

City Church Notes.

A Chinese supper and concert will be given at Simpson Chapel, Valence street, during the entire week, beginning Nov. 25. Able divines will attend and preach.

GOVERNOR Boies, of Iowa, is reported to have said, referring to the prohibitory law of this State: "I do not underestimate the evils of intemperance or the sorrow and suffering it brings to friends of its victims who are innocent of any wrong, and yet, with a full knowledge of all this, I do not hesitate to declare the enforcement of this law, so far as it has been enforced in this State since its passage, has pauperized more families and inflicted greater suffering on wholly innocent parties than all the intemperance that would have existed in the State if the sale of alcoholic liquors had been absolutely unrestricted during that time." This is the most unblushing and wicked bid for the saloon vote that we have ever read or heard. It is simply outrageous.

REV. J. W. Wheeler, of Texarkana, Ark., gives it as his opinion that one reason why the church does not exert the influence that she should is because too many of our pastors, leaders of the people stand in the way of sinners. He very emphatically points to the practice of some of them that attend oathbound lodge meetings in which they countenance by their vote and presence the giving of balls and such other sinful diversions for the benefit of their lodges. His protest against the practice is timely, and should lead to better results. Stand up for Christ and his cause wherever you go; and if you find that the host of the devil is too strong to be led aright by your influence, quit the accursed institution, whatever be its name or pretensions.

The Methodist Times, of London, declares the three-year limit to be an intolerable nuisance and a hindrance to the work in London. It is using every power to have it abolished. Our observations in this section of the church lead us to the conclusion that the five years limit is not the best for our work in the South. We think it would be better to have no time limit whatever. Let the matter rest entirely in the Godly judgment of the bishop; so that he may freely change a man every year or allowing him to remain as long as the bishop deems it best to all concerned.

THE colder it is, the more persistent are some people in keeping the windows next to them open on the cars. What's the use of having a fire if all the windows are to be kept open out of which to wave handkerchiefs through every platoon through which the train passes.

Mrs. Million's Ride.

When Mrs. Million goes to ride she travels forth in state. Her horses, full of fire and pride, go prancing from the gate; But all the beauties of the day she views with languid eye. Her flesh in weakness wastes away, her voice is but a sigh.

For Mrs. Million is in advanced stage of catarrh, and all the luxuries that wealth can buy fail to give her comfort. She envies her rosy waiting-maid, and would give all her riches for that young woman's pure breath and blooming health. Now, if some true and disinterested friend would advise Mrs. Million of the wonderful merits of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, she would learn that her case is not past help. $500 reward is offered by the manufacturers for a case of catarrh in the head which they cannot cure.

The liquor traffic is the crime of crimes of this age, and particularly in this country—Senator Morrill.

It is not necessary to array the appalling statistics of misery, pauperism, and crime, which have their origin in the use and abuse of ardent spirits! The police power, which is exclusively in the State, is competent to the correction of these great evils, and all measures of restraint or prohibition necessary to the effect that purpose are within the scope of that authority, and if a loss of revenue should accrue to the United States from a diminished consumption of ardent spirits, she will be a gainer a thousand-fold in the health, wealth, and happiness of the people.—Justice Greese, of the United States Supreme Court.

I was reading of a wife whose husband had been overthrown by strong drink, and she went to the saloon where he was ruined, and she said: "Give me back my husband." And the bartender, pointing to a maudlin and battered man drowning in the corner of the bar room, said: "There he is. Jim, wake up; here is your wife, come for you." And the woman said: "Do you call that my husband? What have you been doing with him? Is that the manly brow? Is that the clear eye? Is that the noble heart that I married? What vile drug have you given him that has turned into a fiend? Take your tiger claws off him. Uncoil those serpent folds of evil habits that are crushing him. Give me back my husband, the one with whom I stood at the altar ten years ago. Give him back to me."—Dr. Talmage.

Study Christ's Parables, his sayings, his declarations and his promises. They will give clearness and strength to the mind, and invigorate the brain, keeping out evil thoughts and imaginations. They will give a foundation to the intellect, no other learning can supply. They contain the spirit of the divine Savior, and will involve from the natural man beings of a higher and more righteous character. Do not rest contented until you have gathered all these precious gems of thought into your mind, and made them a part of yourself; and they will create a light in you that will illuminate your pathway along the narrow road which leadeth from earth to the eternal city.—Bartow A. Schools and Colleges.

The corner-stone to the Harper Institute at Baton Rouge was laid a few days ago. The school is to be under the auspices of the A. M. E. Church.

A note from President C. E. Libby, of Rust University, Holly Springs, Miss., says: Our school opened last Tuesday with double our usual number. Prospect beyond all former years. Our faculty has been enlarged by adding two colored teachers, so that now we have five regular colored instructors, beside student teachers, and they are doing good work.

The American Baptist Home Mission Society have elected an entire colored faculty located at Live Oak, Fla. Rev. M. W. Gilbert, A. M., is president. This is the first colored president in the history of the institution.

The Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society appointed Dr. C. N. Grandison to a similar position, with a mixed faculty at Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., last year, and is thoroughly satisfied with the result. The Northern Baptists have one or more other colored college presidents that are giving similar results. The Northern Presbyterians have done the same thing at Biddle Institute, N. C. The thing is contagious. All we need do is to thoroughly prepare ourselves for every work and possess our souls in patience. Everything comes to him who labors and waits.

Wiley University, Marshall, Tex., began the second half of the first month with 170 students. Bishop A. Grant, of the A. M. E. Church, paid this university a visit Oct. 13 and addressed the students. It was a speech of remarkable power, and will do the students great good. All will be glad to welcome him again. The prospects for the year are very good, and all looks bright for Wiley this year. Your brother, P. H. COOL.

New Orleans University opened October 5th with an enrollment on the first day of 93 above that on last year. All the teachers were present and entered upon the work with enthusiasm. President Adkinson and family spent the summer in the city, and had the buildings and grounds in splendid order for the reception of students.

The growth of the institution is remarkable, the enrollment having gone up from 204 in 1887 to 562 in 1891. The attendance this year will no doubt reach 800.

Stirring addresses were made on opening day by Revs. Ernest Lyon, J. W. Hudson and Elder Emperor Williams.

The faculty, students and the conference work together in perfect harmony. The one hope of all now is that Bishop Mallalien may be successful in finding friends to complete the purchase of the building and endow the Medical College.

Atlanta, Georgia, October 16, 1891.

Dear Brother:—Our school has opened with fine prospects. Certain means have been used against us very hard, and hard stories have been told, but the truth is making its way, and we will be better understood after a while, and will be stronger for having passed through these trials.

Our enrollment now is larger than any previous year at this date. There is the best spirit among our students we have ever had; a better disposition for work I have not seen. I think the Lord will give us a revival, and we hope to see scores converted before the year passes. We have never been in as good cheer. We greatly need a primary room for Miss Hardwick's department, and we also need a boys' dormitory, where all boys of a certain age should be kept under the care of a good man and woman. We have started, through Miss Hardwick and others, to build such a house to meet these demands; we need it so badly; we must have it, too; and we will have it.

Church Polity.

Question. In the preliminary investigation of charges against a preacher in charge, is it proper for the Presiding Elder to submit the charges to the committee and leave the committee alone to investigate them in his absence?

Answer. Like the pastor, in such cases affecting the character of a lay member, the Presiding Elder is to preside in the investigation, until the case is submitted, when the committee is to retire and find their own verdict without any interference on the part of the Presiding Elder.

Ques. Does a charge of defamation of character, or lying, come under the head of immoral or imprudent conduct?

Ans. Immoral. SUBSCRIBER.

Dear Doctor:

I am now at home and hope to continue in good health and have no anxiety about the future which I confide to the care and keeping of my Heavenly Father. I return you a thousand thanks for the $20 sent me by my brethren through you. Please extend it to them for me also. My correspondents will please address me here.

Yours faithfully until death,
S. E. H. MORANT.

ONE of the great molding forces of the last generation was the old Lyceum or Debating Club. It was an institution which trained young men to think for themselves and developed many into political leaders. It ought never to have fallen into desuetude.

It is now proposed to revive that institution in the interest of good citizenship. The Youth's Companion announces an organization called the Lyceum League of America. It is to consist of a system of local debating clubs, connected through the Lyceum Department of The Companion. This department accepts the care of the league, gives each club a free equipment, suggests topics for discussion, and furnishes valuable aid in their investigation both by books and by correspondence.

The aim of this movement is to make our growing youth intelligent on the great problems which confront the American people, and to impress them with the duties of citizenship. It is a timely step. There is undoubtedly a rising tide of Americanism which this movement will do much to swell. It will be kept entirely above the plane of partisanship.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for 34 years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. WE regret that we cannot publish the article sent us by Bro. McMorris, of Queen City, Texas, on the "Needs of the Sunday School." If our brethren would only put the SOUTHWESTERN into every family, we would soon be able to enlarge the paper, change our types, and put at least a third more reading matter in it every week, but under the circumstances we have to decline many such articles which we would otherwise be only too glad to publish. Let everybody rally for a doubling of our present circulation, between now and the meeting of the General conference. The thing can be done. Where you now send us five, rally and send us ten cash subscribers for 1892; where you have ten, send twenty, etc. The paper is now offered free the balance of this year to cash subscribers for 1892. Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—look three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." WESLEY PRETTYMAN, P. E.

For THE SOUTHWESTERN.

The M. E. Cause in Missouri.

REV. H. H. M'ALLISTER.

Our conference is but five years old, but it is the biggest five-year-old child that I ever saw, covering all Missouri and Kansas, two great States. This child is not only strong physically, but mighty intellectually. Our preachers, on the whole, look well and dress nicely. They not only read the Bible—the man's book—but we have some profound theologians, that is men strong in the doctrine of the M. E. Church. Morally our preachers stand high in Missouri. We have churches worth all the way from $200 to $25,000. In most all of these congregations the young people are moving along nicely intellectually. The old members are loyal to the old church, and not only will they speak for her cause, but I have several cases in my mind that are ready to fight a physical battle for her. God bless our old veterans in Missouri Methodism.

Sedalia undoubtedly will be in the near future our great educational centre, as our college is being located there. This is a grand location, near the centre of the State, naturally favorably envied. There is an industrious class of colored people there, who are willing to labor and to wait. I see with the eye of imagination this institution sending lawyers, doctors, mechanics, teachers and theologians to better the race. We are praying for an outpouring of the Holy Ghost on our work. Springfield, Mo.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, it is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

Taken away—sick headache, bilious headache, dizziness, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. It's a large contract, but the smallest things in the world do the business—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're the smallest, but the most effective. They go to work in the right way. They cleanse and renovate the system thoroughly—but they do it mildly and gently. You feel the good they do—but you don't feel them doing it. As a Liver Pill, they're unequalled. Sugar-coated, easy to take, and put up in vials, and hermetically sealed, and thus always fresh and reliable. A perfect vest-pocket remedy, in small vials, and only one necessary for a laxative or three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You only pay for the good you get.

That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on, through druggists.

A SMALL TRIBUTE.

Man of the cloudless face—born optimist—
God's gift to our transplanted Africa, Thy name stands high upon the patriot list
Of men who turned her darkness into day!

'Tis evening-time with thee, my friend, and yet

Youth from thy heart has still its wounded flow;
And eddies on thy cheeks in smiles we met

While Freedom's battle raged, long years ago.

Before unreasoning, cruel mobs to stand,
And, trumpet-tongued, unwelcome truth proclaim;
To undertake, with less than Gideon's band,
The war with slavery—our Nation's shame;

To cast thy lot with the oppressed and poor,
And in the Church of God be under ban;

To shut against thyself promotion's door—
This was thy work—and it required a man!

A Simeon-gladden is thy great reward,
In seeing the salvation of these lands,
And, through thy schools, the stretching to the Lord
Of many thousand Ethiopian hands.

The peace that blest good Simeon be thine;

But we could wish thy chariot might stay

Till all the old "Dark Continent" shall shine
With Christ-light, ushering in the Gospel Day.

All good seed of thy life shall yet appear—

In bonds of love the race shall be one;

And then perchance some unborn
Whittier

Will sing in fuller song what thou hast done.

CANTELOUP SWEET PICKLE.—Take seven pounds of melons, not quite ripe, lay them in a weak brine over night. Then boil them in weak alum water till transparent. Lift them out and put them in a jar. One quart of cider vinegar, two ounces of stick cinnamon, one ounce of cloves, three pounds of granulated sugar. Let this boil and add the fruit, cooking it twenty minutes longer. Pour it in a jar and cover closely. Seal it over for two mornings. Then seal it up tight.

SOFT GINGERBREAD.—One cup molasses, one cup sugar, one cup buttermilk, one egg, two cups granulated flour, one third cup shortening, one teaspoon soda. Stir all well together, add ginger to taste and enough flour to make a thin batter. Bake in a quick oven.

FLOAT.—One quart milk, four eggs, two teaspoons cornstarch, two teaspoons sugar, one-half teaspoon lemon essence. Let the milk boil in a double-kettle where it will not burn. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, and lay them on the hot milk a moment, then remove them carefully. Mix the cornstarch with a little cold milk, and the well-beaten yolks of the eggs, then the sugar. Stir all into the boiling milk, add the essence of lemon, remove all from the fire, add the whites of the eggs, and serve with cake.

Those who have seen the auto biography of Ben Butler so far as it is completed assert that it is full of spicy reading. The chapter of it, which the New England Magazine for October, by special arrangement with the publishers, brings out in advance of the publication of the book, reveals the boyhood life of Butler. It contains illustrations of his early home, his mother, himself as a young man, Waterville College, which he attended. Read between the lines one cannot fail to see the influences which were working to bring out the Ben Butler of later years. He was the same Butler in boyhood that has been so prominent and progressive ever since. One of the most important articles of the month is an article on James Russell Lowell by Edward Everett Hale in the same number of the New England Magazine. Dr. Hale is well known to all the world as a brilliant essayist, and the intimacy which existed between him and the poet gives a personal interest to his article, which adds to its attractiveness.

The Great Benefit

Which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

Our Symposium.

Good Advice.

Let our ministers cease teaching our people how to die. The great need of the colored man of this generation is how to live properly. He who lives properly will surely die properly. Teach our people their political duties, give them to understand they owe no more to parties than parties serve as a means to aiding them to methods of good living and the maintenance of order, that their development may have its fullest sway. You have made political stumps of your pulpits to aid white men to office, why can you not, my christian brothers, make a political stump of your pulpits to aid your race to a correct political idea? Stop them from being gulled into the belief that heaven and all eternity rests with a selfish political party. You, gentlemen of the cloth, know the value of a vote. It is not given to vote the Republican or Democratic ticket, but to produce good government and to protect the citizen against just such conditions as are sapping the manhood and usefulness of our race.—State Journal.

Mrs. Harris, of New Orleans, has set a worthy example for people to follow who are selling their property for unworthy purposes. She is a "white ribbon woman," and was recently offered $50,000 by a syndicate for a small piece of land. The price was a very large one, but when Mrs. Harris found the land was to be used to build seven saloons on, she refused the offer at once, preferring to lose money rather than to sacrifice principle.—Baltimore Methodist.

The recent intemperate remarks of the New York Voice, charging that the churches are in league with the saloon, are damaging and hurtful to the last limit. They do not contain one word of truth, and they disgust a great many sensible people who are naturally inclined to take the side of prohibition. The Voice has evidently adopted the theory that everybody not exactly falling into line with its particular views is the friend of the saloons. This theory is too narrow-minded to be entitled to indulgent consideration.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—F. L. Nickerson, Druggist, 75 Chelsea St., Charlestown, Mass. "Two years ago I was troubled with salt-rheum. It was all over my body, and obliging the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I can sincerely recommend it as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burt, Upper Kewwick, New Brunswick. Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her this medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. O. Jenkins, Deweese, Neb. "When a boy I was troubled with a blood disease which manifested itself in sores on the legs. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I took a number of bottles, and was cured. I have never since that time had a recurrence of the complaint."—J. C. Thompson, Lowell, Mass. "I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TWO STATEMENTS

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April I was attacked with Chagres Fever, a Spanish malarial fever, and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell and since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Royal Cornet. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Germetuer has been a God-send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may write to me.

DANIEL PAPPON,
481 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above statement I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Germetuer saved my life.

DANIEL PAPPON.

Chagres Fever is known to be not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Germetuer has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It is a similar remedy as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malarial troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quickest and most unfailing remedy for Fevers of all kinds, Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our mind every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Germetuer office, 292 Canal street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, Agent, 292 Canal street, 41 bottles, six bottles for $5.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Two Bottles Cured Her. VI

CARROLL, Ia., July, 1890.

I was suffering 10 years from shock in my head, so much so that at times I didn't expect to recover. I took medicines from my doctors, but didn't get any relief until I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic; the second dose relieved me and 2 bottles cured me.

S. W. PECK.

Vanished.

Rev. H. McDONOUGH, of Lowell, Mass., vouches for the following: There is a case of which I have knowledge, and I am very glad to avail myself of the opportunity to make known the good derived from the use of Koenig's Nerve Tonic. The subject is a young lady who had been suffering from early childhood. On my recommendation she procured your remedy, and for three months the fits of epilepsy to which she has been so long subject have ceased entirely.

A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to my address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1878, and is now prepared under his direction by the

GOLDEN TEXT.

I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever. (John 14. 16.)

LESSON HYMN. C. M.

O Friend of souls! how blest the time
When in thy love I rest,
When from my weariness I climb
E'en to thy tender breast!

The night of sorrow endeth there,
Thy rays outshine the sun,
And in thy pardon and thy care
The heaven of heavens is won.

The world may call itself my foe,
Or flatter and allure;
I care not for the world; I go
To this tried Friend and sure.

Time—Thursday night, the night before the crucifixion.

Place—Jerusalem; the upper room where Jesus ate the passover. Rulers—Herod in Galilee; Pilate in Jerusalem.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY

1. The Many Mansions, v. 1-3. Against what did Jesus warn his disciples? What did he bid them do? Where are there many mansions? For what purpose was Jesus going away? What promise of return did he make? How long will Christ's friends be with him? (1 Thess. 4. 17.)

2. The Abiding Comforter, v. 15-27. What proof of love did Jesus ask? For what did he promise to pray? By what other names is the Comforter known? Who cannot know him? What assurance did Jesus give the disciples? What contrast would soon occur? What then would the disciples know? What reward is promised to those who love Jesus? What question did Judas ask? What was Jesus's answer? Whose commands do the unloving neglect? Who sends the Comforter? What will he do? What blessing did Jesus leave to his disciples? What final caution did he give?

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:

1. A cure for trouble?
2. A test of love?
3. The source of true comfort?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG BE-REANS.

There are six Judases mentioned in the gospels, not counting those whose names are given in the list of forefathers of Jesus. Find as many of the six as you can. Find a message of peace which Jesus gave to his disciples after his death and resurrection.

THE LESSON CATECHISM.

[For the entire school.]

1. Where did Jesus tell his disciples he was going? To prepare a place for them.

2. What did he say he would do when he came again? Receive them unto himself.

3. What did he promise in our Golden Text? "I will pray the Father."

4. How did he tell Judas God would manifest himself unto his disciples? God the Father will make his abode with such.

5. What does Jesus leave us as an inheritance? "Peace I leave with you."

Doctrinal Suggestion.—The personality of the Holy Ghost.

EXPLANATIONS.

My Father's house—Heaven. Many mansions—Many apartments or rooms. I go—Only gradually there was coming to these disciples the understanding that Jesus was to die for them. Another Comforter—Another Advocate, one who would champion their cause.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

Please mention this paper. xj01

The Spirit of truth—God, the Holy Ghost. But ye see me—The spiritual life of these disciples should still associate with the spiritual life of their ascended Lord.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

98. What is our Saviour's summary of God's commandments? He said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." (Matt. 22. 37-40)

THE WANING YEAR.

I love to think, as wanes the year,
The world for me has wider grown;
Through conquered strife and silenced fear,
Through joyous hour and secret tear,
Life's psalm has gained a fuller tone
Than e'er before its chords have known.

Oh, passing year so nearly told,
I thank thee for the changes wrought;
For all the sadness thou didst hold,
For all the gladness manifold.
For quiet, earnest, helpful thought,
Take thanks for all, forgetting naught.

"BIRDS of a feather flock together," and people are known by the company they keep.

WHY do some people always travel on the cars with chickens in their sacks and baskets, instead of shipping them by express?

By appointment of the American International Convention, and the World's Conference of Young Men's Christian Associations, Nov. 8-14, will be observed as a week of prayer for young men.

WHY do some people wait till the cars are about to leave the station, to cry out "tell Jane howdy," "tell cousin Anna and aunt Lucy, I'll be there next week," and a lot of other such disgusting practices?

CHRISTIAN people should know better than to have wines and other liquors at their marriages and receptions but many of them have them. Quit it. Don't be the cause of making your children and those of your neighbors drunkards.

Say brother, why not contribute as much for the cause of Christ as you do for your tobacco every week? Why not give up all of your tobacco and devote its cost henceforth toward the spread of that holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.

WHY not deliver a weekly lecture to your people, on character, temperance and prohibition, Sabbath observance, acquisition of property, education, Bible characters, etc? It would incite you to study on right and definite lines and be of incalculable benefit to your people.

"THERE can no evil befall a good man, whether he be alive or dead." Such is the testimony of the great Socrates. "All things work together for good to them that love God." Such is the testimony of St. Paul, the great Christian philosopher. Trust in God and do the right and God himself "shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday."

The Spread of Methodism Among the Colored People in the South.—How Can it be Promoted?

BY REV. GEO. W. WELLS, A. M.

The spread of Methodism among the people of African descent in the South is of vast importance to Protestantism in the United States, especially to our Republican institutions. The multitudes of immigrants coming annually into the United States and of Catholic persuasion. This is a menace to our free government. There is a tacit agreement between immigrant agents and the pope, that such immigration be encouraged, as will strengthen the Catholic Church in the States. Catholicism is rapidly spreading among our people. It is as dangerous to the nation and to us as the "Lateco" or cannyverous plant to an unwary traveler. The Romish Church, under pretenses of ecclesiastical equality, her seeming opposition to race caste in christianity (!) America is attracting numbers of the educated portion of our people. The subject at the head of this column, I warrant, is paramount in the mind of the leaders of our branch of Methodism; for these leaders are on the watch-tower; they see the danger line; they would hang out danger signals when a crevasse is imminent in our Methodism. These leaders are loyal to our church, as our phases of twenty five years history will plainly show. For twenty five years the old church has made unparalleled progress in the Southland. In material advancement, and in membership, the astonishment of the church's most sanguine friends and supporters is called out. Why this sudden growth? Why this rush to the fold of the old John Wesley Church? The Negro has traditional and actual knowledge of the old church's fidelity to the race; her ecclesiastical legislation in favor of freedom, against all forms of slavery and human oppression from the earliest time to the present; her determination, immediately after the close of the rebellion, to better the wretched condition of the race, by educating him, and by bringing an intelligent Gospel to him, sending as missionaries some of the ablest men in Methodism to his cabin door, viz: Dr. John P. Newman, now bishop; the sainted Matlack and McDonald, presidents John Braden and Godman; editors who did herculean work, Dr. Joseph C. Hartzell and E. O. Fuller; that magnetic and brave defender of the faith and race, the lamented Bishop Gilbert Haven, whose mantle unmistakably has fallen on Bishop Willard F. Mallalieu. All this is a demonstration of the church's terrible earnestness for the elevation of our "Brother in Black." The misrepresentation of the several race churches with their Negro bishops and officers to the contrary, was not sufficient to turn the tide of membership in the direction of race churches. The achievement of the first quarter of a century has gone into history. The chapter is closed; a new lease of power is needful to begin the second quarter. The confidence of the race in the old church needs to be strengthened; reaction is equal to action; if true in a physical and political sense, is it not equally true in ecclesiastical circles? Bnt, you say, the church's friendship and interest in the Negro is settled. Yes; the fact that the Bible is the word of God was settled a thousand years ago; but each generation demands newer, better, and more forcible proofs of an old and long determined truth: so the old church is required now to take one step more, to forever put to rest this vexed question of the Negro in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and to seal forever the month of carping race churches. These race churches say, that the Negro in the Methodist Episcopal Church resemble "Toads in Rocks." There might have been a semblance of truth in this assertion twenty-five years in the past: The "rocks" of prejudice are being blasted; though small, having brilliant but sightless eyes, and it is true, having a line where the mouth should have been. We rise to inform our detractors, that we are no more an enmity, that we are part of an organic whole in the church and in Christ; that our eyes have been anointed by the universality of the Gospel of the brotherhood of mankind, and that christian education has produced an open mouth where the seam once was. Shall I predict that public opinion will go far ahead of the inclination of the church in the election of a Negro bishop? Is the church ready? Never have we been united on the bishop question; because the necessity was never felt. Now it is of absolute necessity, if we would hold our grip, in the midst of so many opposing influences. The election of a Negro bishop by the General Conference of '92, would convulse Negro Methodism the world around, by a genuine and irresistible enthusiasm, enthusiasm of that strong far-reaching kind that makes epochs in history, and in the career of a people. Elect a Negro bishop, and the Afro-American membership will double itself in two decades; elect a Negro bishop, and the race churches will have lost their reason for existing; elect him in '92, for the time is big with expectation. Elect him, and save the church from imputations, hypocrisy, and finally from disintegration; elect him for we have the material in many of our conferences; men broadly cultured and platonic, men broadly man, and broadly conservative. This demand will place the Methodist Episcopal Church "between the devil and the deep sea." Bnt, elect a Negro bishop, and the public excitement will go out in quiet laughter. When elected he must be a bishop indeed, and not a presiding elder on a large scale. The government, state and national, trusts the Negro with the highest functions. Is he less worthy and capable in God's church? Bnt, you say, these are empty platitudes; no, brother, it is but a spark from the smoldering fires in the loyal breast of the entire Negro Methodism!

The Care of Our Wornout Preachers.

REV. H. W. KEY.

The Government pensions her disabled soldiers, each State and county makes adequate provisions for their poor, wornout citizens; but a majority of our wornout preachers get a very meagre support. There seems to be a disposition among the preachers in some of the conferences to set aside the above class of preachers as they would an old wornout horse after he has served out his time and is of no more use. He is thrown out on the commons to starve and die. There is a no more deserving class of men in the church than the preachers who have been compelled to do pioneer work in those new, poor conferences, on very small salaries. I have known many cases where our poor superannuated preachers had to be buried in potters' field by the county.

It does seem to me that the next General Conference ought to make adequate provision for the support of the wornout and superannuated preachers of our poor conferences. The early policy of the M. E. Church was to have the whole church to aid in supporting the superannuated and wornout preachers of the connection. I think the best plan for the church to adopt is to carry out the early policy of the church, and make the fifth collection a general and connectional fund, as the Missionary, Church Extension and other general collections of the church. There are a great many retired, wornout preachers in our Southern conferences that have done faithful work for the church on very meagre pay, wore themselves out for the church, and are now retired without the necessities of life. At the Annual Conference they receive from $5 to $15 all told. It is for and in behalf of them that I write.

Christianity and the Farmers' Movement.

Mr. John Brisbane Walker, editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, has delivered an address at the Catholic University at Washington which is attracting much attention. The address was an argument for christianizing the socialistic movement most prominently typified at the moment by the Farmers' Alliance.

Mr. Walker censured the church in plain, bold language for its too exclusive attention to the rich and cultured classes, its evasion of the clear duty to speak out against the unjust and dishonest modes of accumulation that rear up the gigantic fortunes of the day, and its tolerance of a corruption in politics that expels christianity from the organic life of society.

A proper organization of society, he said, would result in materially reducing the burden of toil to the multitude, and, by altering the present unjust distribution of wealth, would lift the masses to comfort while lightening their labors. Justice, not charity, was the need of the hour.

The lecturer took a hopeful view of the prospects of christian social-ism. The masses were being educated to the situation and educated fast.

The postoffice, he alleged, was a great and convincing socialistic example:

"If the government can handle the mails so safely and efficiently, and at such a minimum of expense, why not express packages? And if it can ship the mails and express packages over a railway, why should it not take care of the passenger and his telegram, and his telephone message?"

One passage in the address commanded special attention by its touch of novelty and from a suspected personal allusion. It is as follows:

"It is not the unfortunate alone who are taking an interest in social problems to-day. All classes of men realize that no matter how comfortable themselves, their grand children or great grand-children, under existing laws, are liable to be candidates for charitable institutions."

WILLIAM T. Coleman, the chairman of the famous San Francisco Vigilance Committees of 1851, 1856, and 1877, in an account of their work which he has written for the November Century, refers to the recent lynching at New Orleans, and tells what he thinks the people of California would have done under the same circumstances. They would have organized in full force, he says, formed a court, appointed a judge and selected a jury; called for evidence, analyzed it carefully, put on trial the people who had been discharged by the perjured jury, given the accused good counsel and the benefit of every doubt, and finally would have executed with due deliberation those whom they found guilty.

Letters from the Districts.

The Houston, (Tex.) District Conference.

This conference convened in the Sloan Street Church, Houston, Sept. 23.

Rev. I. B. Scott, D.D., president; Rev. W. L. Smith, secretary; Rev. A. C. Onlbreath, assistant secretary; Rev. G. J. Izard, recording secretary; Rev. Tenola Edwards, treasurer.

Reports from the Presiding Elder and all the pastors, except one, were heard. Showing an increase in membership and general prosperity.

Reports of Sunday school superintendents, class leaders and district stewards were presented from nearly every charge.

During the session addresses were delivered by Mrs. M. R. Rogers Welby, on Moral obligation of ministers, and by the Presiding Elder, on Raising the ministerial dignity to a standard becoming christian ministers. Rev. G. W. Booker of the Baptist Church, Houston, and Bro. J. H. Reid of the Louisiana Conference were introduced.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, We believe it is necessary for those who go forth through us to preach Christ and Methodism should study both the word of God and the daily transactions of the church, and

WHEREAS, We are sure our local preachers and exhorters cannot possibly represent the church aright unless they read some one of our church papers.

Resolved, That we require all our local preachers and exhorters to subscribe and pay for the SOUTHWESTERN, and we ask that each pastor be prepared to report at next district conference whether these brethren do or not.

WHEREAS, To enhance a wide-spread circulation of our church papers throughout the district.

Resolved, That each pastor will appoint an agent in his charge to solicit subscriptions for the SOUTHWESTERN with paper in hand, and

Resolved, That the pastor shall furnish the agent with a sufficient number of copies which shall be sold at five cents each, and the proceeds forwarded to the publishers at once.

A resolution commending the appointment of Rev. M. C. B. Mason was passed, also one of condolence with Bro. Jeremiah Smith, whose faithful wife had deceased, and one thanking Sloan Street Church for entertaining the conference.

After some discussion on the advisability of opening a school in Houston, it was resolved that immediate steps be taken to select a site. A committee was appointed with instructions to proceed to work at once. It was a very pleasant and profitable session.

Church Polity.

Question. Our pastor came originally from the Baptist Church, and he insists that we must be baptized by immersion; and that we cannot receive the Lord's Supper unless the women take off their hats and wear white head handkerchiefs. Has he any disciplinary authority to enforce any such rules?

ORIGINAL METHODIST.

Answer. Methodism believes primarily in sprinkling or pouring, although she does not deny to any one the choice of immersion if he prefers that mode of baptism. The pastor that comes to us from the Baptists that tries to thus disparage our doctrine on the subject is a traitor that deserves to be reported and drummed out of our ministry. The head-handkerchief business is just so much pure nonsense, and no well disciplined Methodist will respect any such demand. Methodism means intelligence, and has no patience with such foolishness. The preacher that comes to us from the Baptist or from whatever other church that seeks to substitute such superstitions and senseless tomfooleries for the intelligent method of worship which we observe has no business among us, and should be sent back to whence he came.

Q. 1. How would you receive a member who comes from another denomination to us, leaves our church and goes back to the same church, is expelled, and comes back to our church to join, claiming to be directed by God to make these changes?

Q. 2. How would you dispose of a member who circulates damaging rumors against the church?

PASTOR.

A. 1. We would not receive him at all, until satisfied, that he had experienced deep "contrition," confessed his fault, and gave substantial evidence of thorough "reformation."

A. 2. Proceed as the Discipline directs in cases of "sowing the seeds of dissension" among us. If he does not give satisfaction and reform try him and expell him.

Publishers' Department.

George Jennings of Shell Mound, Miss., says, "May the SOUTHWESTERN circulate in all the homes of the colored people. We cannot get along well without spending an hour every Thursday night reading its valuable matter." He sent the cash to back up his sentiments. - Go then and do likewise.

Rev. R. H. Pantan of Manor, Tex., says our premium sewing machine is just like the one he paid $45 for of an agent. It is probably better. We advise all who contemplate getting one to make haste. We don't know how long we can secure them at that price.

John C. Posey of Adairsville, Ga., won one of the sewing machines we offer in a collection contest there recently. It was offered by the church. Rev. E. D. Giddings, P. O.

DR. W. F. Whitlock, in an interesting article on revival in a recent issue of the Central Christian Advocate, says: "The best way to prevent backsliding is to continue the revival. It is not held that there can always be a tidal wave of emotion and a uniform of ingathering into our churches, but it is held that aggressive Christian work can always be done, and that the doing thereof will both preserve those who perform the work and serve to add to their number. There is no reason why the prayers and efforts of Christians in behalf of unsaved men should not be successful throughout the entire year. To suspend aggressive effort outside of the winter revival season is to invite spiritual declension and numerical loss. It is not enough to make an active campaign for a few weeks and then simply hold the fort the rest of the year. Satan and his emissaries take no vacation. Men die and go to the judgment outside of annual revival occasions. The church that has a continual travail of soul for unsaved men, and that takes no vacation, will be the church of the future."

WHY is it that some of our ministers, and many of our members go regularly to market every Sunday morning? The thing is wrong, and you ought to quit it.

Letters from the Districts.

Dadeville District, Central Alabama Conference.

W. F. SMITH, P. E.

I have completed my first, second and third rounds with remarkable success. Glorious revivals have been carried on in every charge.

Dadeville Station, Rev. Emanuel Robinson.—They have enjoyed the reviving spirit for about eight months, which resulted in over 60 conversions, an altar built and the church carpeted.

Bethel and Tallassee, Rev. G. W. Wynn.—His revival resulted in more than 45 conversions.

Eclectic, Rev. W. H. Barnes.—His revival of four churches resulted in 71 conversions and many backsliders reclaimed. He is now buying the lumber with which to build a new church. He and wife are well beloved on his charge. All assessments will be paid.

Rockford.—This charge has suffered some on account of changing pastors, but in spite of opposition and the expelling of the preacher, there has been some success; 24 have been added to the church. Elbert Smith, local preacher, is now in charge.

Sandy Creek, Rev. E. Frazier.—He is trying to complete a new church started this year. He is a young man, an untiring worker, and makes all love him. Twenty-five have been received into the church.

Lafayette, Rev. A. N. Jackson.—This charge has enjoyed remarkable success. They have very nearly completed one church and have the lumber on the ground to rebuild Power's Chapel. More than 40 souls have been added to this church.

Roanoke Charge, Rev. B. Jackson.—His revivals closed with 70 conversions and a new church completed. All assessments will be raised. Our district conference was held at this place, and left a fine impression among both races. The SOUTHWESTERN is read very extensively by this people.

Ashland, Rev. G. H. Hamilton.—His revival closed with 53 conversions and 60 added to the church. He is now trying to complete his new church building. All the apportionments for this charge will be raised.

Nixburg and Central Institute, M. W. Williamson. This is a mission circuit. At the conference we had only one preaching point, but now we have four with 60 members.

Randolph, Rev. G. McLemore.—This charge has four appointments. The revival closed with more than 50 conversions, and 75 added to the church. Bro. McLemore is an untiring worker. He has organized one new church on this work with thirty-four members. All the assessments will be raised.

Wedowee and Union Chapel, Rev. James Yarnell.—He has succeeded admirably. He has been hindered a great deal on account of sickness and death. His step-daughter departed this life in triumph.

West Point and Bluffton, Rev. W. H. Nelson, D.D.—More than 50 have joined the church, and the revival is still going on.

Opelika, Rev. H. Matthews.—His revival is going on yet, and he is meeting with considerable success. A new church is also being built.

Alexander City.—Rev. M. M. McKinney was appointed to this work by Bishop Andrews, and stayed three weeks, and then went home. After waiting for him about two months, I appointed Rev. Emanuel Harrison, pastor of the Dadeville church, to take charge of the Alexander City Church. This is one of the strongest charges on the district. The three conferences held here were a success. Under Bro. Harrison's pastorate, more than 100 souls have been added to the charge, and all claims met.

Five Points Mission, Rev. H. M. Burrow.—This is a mission circuit.

I have not been able to reach these mission points, as I desired, but I kept them up by proxies.

Sylacauga—Two years ago we had nothing in this place, and our Baptist brethren said we were not needed. We have now a membership of between forty and fifty. I came directly from the Annual Conference and erected a temporary shanty here, in which to worship. I appointed Jeff Ingram and sent him the $20 allowed for first quarter. He has not been heard of since. I then appointed W. P. Trammell, of Gammon Theological Seminary. He has four churches, his revival closed with 25 added to the church, and he organized one new church with fifteen members. Bro. Trammell is an untiring worker, and one of the aspiring preachers of the conference.

Talladega, Rev. J. H. Scales.—This charge was added to the district at the last conference. Rev. Thomas Mitchell was appointed, but soon became discouraged and deserted his flock. I then appointed Rev. Frank Johnson, but he was only on the charge a few months, when he left the flock in triumph of Christian faith.

Fredonia, Rev. Isaiah Perry.—Four churches on this circuit. There have been more than 30 souls added, and all the benevolences will be raised.

We are trying to swell the number of subscribers to the SOUTHWESTERN to 300, and the outlook is good. Forty-five students entered our schools from this district, some to Clark University, some to Huntsville, and some to Nashville. Our Rockford Academy is in a fine condition, with Miss W. A. McElrath as teacher. Dadeville district is in fine trim all along the line.

F. M. GORDON.

The fifteenth annual session of the Rome District Conference convened in the white people's academy, at Adairsville, August 13, Presiding Elder Rev. H. R. Allen in the chair.

F. M. Gordon was elected secretary, and S. C. Upshaw and J. H. Grant assistants.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. J. H. Grant. The sermon was one of the best we ever heard.

The Presiding Elder's report showed an increase on all lines. Too much cannot be said of the grace and dignity with which he presided over the conference. He is one of the best types of a Christian gentleman; and has the utmost confidence of the brethren.

The pastors' reports showed they had done considerable work financially and spiritually. They had raised for benevolent purposes to date $360.90. The Christian deportment of the brethren was excellent. No charges or complaints were brought against them.

The local preachers, exhorters, Sunday school superintendents and class leaders had good reports.

The district stewards' reports showed that all the charges were in good condition. The total amount raised for all purposes to date was $3790.20.

The anniversary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society and the SOUTHWESTERN was largely attended. Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Field Agent; and Revs. J. H. Grant, S. C. Upshaw and F. M. Gordon delivered able addresses in the interest of the two objects. They regretted very much that the SOUTHWESTERN representative was not present.

Dr. W. H. Hickman was in attendance and addressed the conference in the interest of Clark University.

Prof. T. A. Fortson delivered an able address on education and the future outlook of the Methodist Church.

There are no men in the Savannah Conference who we esteem more than Bros. R. F. Kent, Jas. McHenry, Joe Sands and Samuel Smith. They are four of the oldest men in the conference in the itineracy, and are model Christians.

Rev. S. C. Upshaw lectured before the Sunday School Convention and conference on the map of his travels to the Holy Land, which was of great interest and profit to all. On Sunday, at 11 o'clock a. m., he preached one of his best sermons.

Too much cannot be said of the Rev. E. D. Giddens, pastor, his generous members and the white people of Adairsville. The white people gave flour, meats, sugar and coffee, etc., to assist in caring for the conference. We never were so well cared for at a district conference.

Mrs. R. J. Kent read an excellent paper on education. Mrs. Kent is the model of a true Christian.

Resolutions were adopted on the death of Rev. E. H. Gammon, and in regard to the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society.

Five young men were licensed to preach, and four applied for admission into the traveling connection.

we had a grand time. A general uplift all along the line. The Spirit of the good Lord has favored us on this district with many precious souls. We have over 53 converts at Mt. Sinai. There has been more work done at any one charge on the district in building and conversions, than has been done on the whole work for twenty years, and the people keep better order at the churches than ever before. You cannot smell any whiskey among them. Come and see. Noto has 8 or 10 converts, and Jones Chapel and Millhaven 7 converts. Our district conference has proved a great blessing to this part of North Louisiana. We need strong, single, good, young men, that will work, on this district. None of my brethren eat idle bread, and the Lord is blessing us.

J. M. Moody, Henderson Circuit, Tenn.

I was appointed to this work by Elder B. F. Anderson, in May. I started a protracted meeting the first Sunday in August, and ran it eighteen days. Rev. J. L. Massey of Memphis assisted one week; 47 converts and all added to the church. Bro. Massey is a power in the pulpit. We got some of the worst sinners in this part of the country. The Sunday school is well attended, and we have a lot bought and paid for in the town of Lexington, and when we have a church in this place it will be one of the best points in the West Tennessee district.

T. R. Wamble, Hensley, Ark.

We have been hard at work all along this year. We began a meeting the first Sunday in August. After two weeks of hard fighting, we came off the field with 24 converts. I baptized 15. Some went to the Baptist, some to the A. M. E., and some to the C. M. E. Church, carrying the love of Jesus with them. We have received about 32 in the church this year, and more are coming. We have secured 10 subscribers this year to the SOUTHWESTERN, who take great interest in it.

G. Orange, Ackerman, Miss.

My third quarterly conference reports showed the work prospering. Number added to the church this year 136. Amount raised for all purposes $66.70.

Rev. J. C. Hibbler, Vicksburg, Miss.

We have just closed a series of meetings which resulted in the conversion of 23, and 29 accessions to the church. We are pleased to feel that the Lord has attended our labors with great success. There have been 90 additions to the church since I came here in January last.

Rev. B. I. Goff, Sherman, Texas.

Six months ago we wanted a church in the city of Sherman. To-day we have just as good a church as there is in town among the colored people, and 25 new members. Now, I want 25 subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN by conference time.

Geo. W. Lewis, English Eddy, Ga.

Our camp meeting was quite a success. Ten accessions. Presiding Elder Rev. A. P. Melton was with us and preached two able sermons. Rev. M. D. Spencer of Waresboro, and Rev. R. S. Stacy of Mt. Vernon, were also with us and gave much impulse to the work. Scores of people were on the camp grounds all the while. Total collection $43.56. Good Tidings Day was observed here, and our apportionment of $2 was raised. We have raised our entire benevolent monies, and the work is on the boom. Now we are going to put the SOUTHWESTERN in the homes of the members.

[The last mentioned should have been done first. It would have made all the other work so much easier.—Ed.]

That's the natural thing to do when you need help. When your hand is extended toward us, we place in it, Free, our 200 page book. Every one is apt to be interested in the description of the means by which a friend has had his health restored. This book is just that—500 times multiplied; all told in the very words of real and reliable folks; people with "a local habitation and a name."

One other thing; this book is not of interest to those only who feel that their case is serious; it contains the witness of many over-taxed and run-down people to the fact that Drs. Starkey & Palen's COMPOUND OXYGEN has been to them the one thing needful to put them on the right side of the line of health and happiness.

Will you hold out your hand? Help is yours for the asking.

B. F. Woolfolk, Abbeville, Miss.

We are steadily moving upwards. We added 24 members to the church during our meetings. We have added to the circuit another point at Waterford, a little town on the railroad. When I first went there I found a few scattering members, but now we have 42. A house of worship is being erected, and will soon be completed. In time this point will be one of the strongest. We are also building a neat little church at Buford's Chapel, 23x40, 12 ft. walls, 18 ft. from floor to ceiling. When finished it will be a credit to the circuit. We have bought a bell, costing $73, which can easily be heard 7 miles away.

C. C. Robertson, Rock Hill, S. C.

I have done some hard work here this year, but God has graciously rewarded me. Our protracted meeting was a feast of good things. Forty-four persons were brought from the path of ruin, and are now sitting at Jesus's feet. Fifty-two added to the church. I have raised $218.25 to build and improve the churches. Our Sunday schools are organized into Epworth Leagues.

H. C. Houston, Caldwell, Texas.

Fourth quarter was held by Presiding Elder W. H. Logan. The Presiding Elder preached to a crowded house of both Baptists and Methodists, and gave sacrament to 102. Collection for the day $114.50. Collected during the quarter for all purposes $362.15. Please remember that my first collection here was 5 cents.

B. H. Johnson, Centrepont Circuit, Ark.

We have four preaching places. Twenty-five conversions and 35 accessions since conference. We often speak of the SOUTHWESTERN from our pulpits, and several have promised to take the paper.

A. Booker, Shelbyville, Ky.

We have just closed our revival with 75 conversions, 73 accessions, and 75 baptized.

E. W. Johnson, Little Bay, Ark.

There are about fifteen counties in the Pine Bluff district, in which there is a great call for the M. E. Church. The sister Methodist churches are failing to give satisfaction to the people. The district is large and the Presiding Elder cannot thoroughly cover it. I think there is a great need for a division of this district, which will give work enough for two presiding elders. I have just visited a new field, where we have neither church nor member, and a minister of the M. E. Church has never been there before. This work lies about 25 miles from the railroad. To make that trip I had to walk about 200 miles, and yet there were other such inviting places that I could not visit. I had four conversions while there.

J. A. Rush, Denver, N. C.

Our revival has just closed at Ebenezer, with 93 conversions. 23 have been received in full membership and 55 on probation.

G. W. Winn, Tallassee, Ala.

Our third quarterly meeting was held at Bethel, Sept. 26, 27, by Presiding Elder W. F. Smith. The work is in a prosperous condition.

Sunday morning the Elder gave the Sunday school a good talk, and preached a soul-stirring sermon. Collection for Elder $11, pastor $26.80. Baptized three.

A. J. McNair, Shubuta, Miss.

Rev. J. M. Shumpert, our beloved Presiding Elder, and Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, visited us on the 25th of September. Brother Mason gave a grand and interesting address in behalf of the Society, after which Elder Shumpert and the pastor took up a collection for Meridian Academy, amounting to $20.15. After the meeting the parsonage was visited with a surprise by the sisters and brothers of Pleasant Grove Church. They came in with many baskets and buckets filled with good things for the pastor and family. Those that took part in bringing the 60 pounds of good things were: Rev. A. Houze, Mr. S. Hays, Sisters Julia Noiseweather, Laura Honze, Mollie Power, Matilda Honze, Katie Eanens, and many others. On Saturday night Bro. Mason preached a soul-stirring sermon. Many souls rejoiced. His visit to Shubuta will long be remembered. Total amount realized for Meridian Academy $25.30.

S. H. Nevils, Greenwood, Miss.

Our grand revival resulted in many conversions and 27 accessions. Oct. 27 we collected $48.25 for the building of our new church. The carpenters will begin work soon. The church is alive spiritually.

Rev. J. M. Walton, at Sturgis, Miss., reported at his last quarterly conference 40 souls added to the church, and goodly sums raised to carry on the work and for benevolences.

Rev. G. N. Johnson held the third quarterly at Conway, Ark., owing to the sickness of the Presiding Elder, Bro. Morris. W. J. Cumming's report showed 9 conversions and 13 received during the quarter.

F. G. Wilbon, pastor at McCool, Miss., rejoices in 134 accessions to his membership, one new church built, and his missionary apportionment met. Rev. J. W. Winbush rendered valuable service during the revival.

Rev. M. Martin, at Hickory, Miss., writes that the result of his revival was the addition of 49 members to his church and a general awakening. One new church has been built and they are at work on another.

Rev. M. Cooper writes a cheery letter from his work at Pandling, Miss. He has held four protracted meetings, and 24 souls have been converted, one of them aged 75 years.

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen—I have been in the general practice of medicine for about 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times, and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,

Italian Evangelization.

By Rev. Wm. P. McLAUGHLIN, B.D., New Orleans, La.

Long ago the immortal Dante sang—
"Come sa di sale
El pane altrui, e come e duro calle
Lo scendere e l'asir per le altrui scale."
(How salt is a stranger's bread
How hard to go down and climb
A stranger's stair!)

In exile like himself, and at home as well, the great poet's countrymen have had at best hard stairs to climb, and saltiest bread. In 1861 the census showed in Italy a population of twenty-one millions, of which number sixteen millions could neither read nor write. And at the same time there were seventeen national universities, great libraries, marble cathedrals, and the finest art galleries in the world.

Ten years after this census the people of Italy awoke to the cause of their great ignorance and misery, and dethroned the triple-crowned tyrant of the Tiber—the vicegerent (?) of God. Mazzini the statesman, Garibaldi the soldier, Victor Emanuel the king began to make real the life-long dream and dying words of the great Cavour—"Obbia libra in Stato libro"—"a free Church in a free State." And Almighty God who directs the migration of nations with the swift unerring instinct of the flight of birds turned a great tide of Italian population to our shores.

The land of the magnolia and the orange, the clime so like their sunny Italy, has had a peculiar charm for them, and many thousands have settled in the great cities, and on the plantations of the Gulf.
New Orleans alone has to-day more than twenty thousand of them.
They come from Italy impoverished and degraded by centuries of papal misrule. Quick to resent and avenge an injury, no people are more grateful for a kindness or more faithful to a friend. The majority of them are honest, hard-working people.
They are temperate and saving and quickly amass a competency. Many of them become very wealthy.
They now control entirely the fruit trade of New Orleans and the Gulf.
Commencing as cobblers, with a bench on the sidewalk, they now have fine shoe stores and are rapidly acquiring a large interest in the leather trade.

Already the blessed work of the pure and peaceable Gospel of Jesus Christ has begun among the Italian people of New Orleans. We have a most interesting congregation and mission "up town" and are soon to have a chapel in the very thick of the Italian population, near the French Market. Besides our regular missionary, Giovanni Batis-to Giambruno, we have a local preacher, exhorter, and class leader.
Joseph Manguno, our exhorter, is a wholesale commission merchant, his face beams with love and kindness, and his whole heart and life are given to Christ. Christopher Russo, is our local preacher. He is a barber—not so musical as the "Barber of Seville," but a far more valuable member of society. He knows the Holy Scriptures thoroughly, has read much church history, and is fully persuaded that the pope is Anti-Christ. He is a tower of strength in all Gospel labor, and a power for God and righteousness among his countrymen. Our missionary himself is of the type of Giordano Bruno and Savonarola. He has a keen intellect, is studious and laborious, and a powerful preacher.

A favorite song with the children —and the old folks like it too—is—

"Quando ci viene—quando ci torna
A racorre il tuo tesoro."
"When he cometh, when He cometh
To make up His jewels."
And how they do sing—some of them who carried a musket with Garibaldi!

"Ecco in Cielo appare il segno"—
"Hold the fort," etc. No "dolce far niente" sort of music, but the "fortissimo" order—you can hear them a block distant.

Our people are diligent readers of the Bible; they are very fond of "Il Pellegrinaggio del Christiano"
—"The Pilgrim's Progress," though they find great difficulty in comprehending and appreciating "The Dairyman's Daughter."

We have had a number of the best tracts reprinted by our Tract Society, and they are read with great interest. L'Evangelista, our Methodist paper published in Italy, has many subscribers among them.

Italy for Christ is the watchword of the people here, and they are working by way of New Orleans.
They have the zeal of the ancient Waldenses and the courage of martyrs—but "the best of all is, God is with them." But I must hurry now to the telegraph office with a cablegram which they have brought to me to have sent immediately. It reads as follows:

gelical Alliance. Philemon 3.

Mr. Editor: I desire to find my people. My father's name was Daniel. He belonged to Alexander Harris, who lived on the James river, about fifteen or twenty miles west of Richmond, Va. Mother's name was Margaret, and at the time had three children, Mat, Peter and James. I and my cousin, a little girl, were sold to Aaron Branch, who carried me to Richmond, Va., and sold me to a Negro trader by the name of Gen. Moore.
My little cousin was left with Aaron Branch, where we were first sold. Her name was Annier. Her mother's name was Dinah. I go by the name of George Harris. My postoffice address is Ocean Springs, Miss.

Mr. Editor: Eliza John, who is living with me, was born in Buckingham county, Virginia, but was brought to Hines county, Miss., by Glover Johns, and was married to Jesse Cassel. Her mother's name was Rebecca Harvey. Her father's name was Spencer Harvey. She had three sisters, Jane, Silva and Hannah, and two brothers, Robert and Allen. They all went by the name of Harvey. She had two aunts, Charity and Amy. They were parted at Clinton, Miss. Alfred John, Glover John's son, carried my relatives to Vicksburg, Miss.,
and then moved to Tensas parish,
La., and then farther up the river.
That's the last she heard of him, but she had three children in Vic-burg, Jordan, Martha and Betsy.
They were owned by Dick Featherson. Their father was Nathan Johns. Any information will be gladly received. Address Charles Cannon, Port Hudson, La.

Mr. Editor: Permit me to enquire for my uncle, whose name was Wright Bright. He was born in Florida. He, his mother, my grandmother and his oldest sister came over to Louisiana, and belonged to Sam Hall, a Negro trader.

He went by the name of Wright Hall. He went off during the war and joined the United States Army, at the Mansfield battle, in 1864.
Any information as to their whereabouts will be gladly received.

In its November number the Cosmopolitan will publish a series of letters written by Gen. W. T.
Sherman to one of his young daughters, between the years 1859 and 1865 and covering most of the important events of the war of secession. These letters present graphic pictures of a great soldier amid some of the stirring scenes in which he was a giant figure, and in them the patriotic spirit of the Federal general is seen to have been most attractively tempered by a strong affection for the Southern people. The fraternal feeling which glows in these letters is in refreshing contrast to the sectional bitterness which characterized the period, and they will constitute an interesting and important contribution to the literature of the war.

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" lamp-chimneys are made of tough glass that costs four times as much as common glass; and the work on them costs a good deal more than the work on common chimneys, just as the work on a dress is proportioned to cost of stuff.

The dealer is right in saying he can't afford to sell them at the prices of common glass chimneys.

And what will become of his chimney trade if his chimneys never break? He is apt to be wrong there. He can afford to charge a fair price and give new chimneys for all that break in use.

Bring Suit Against Them.

Complaint comes from every State in the South wherein separate car laws have been enacted, to the effect, just as we predicted before the passage of those laws, that our people are being outrageously discriminated against by the railroads, in their execution. The Abingdon, (Va.) Post gives an exact description of the way those laws are made to operate against our people, not only in Tennessee but throughout the South. It says:

"The East Tennessee Railroad uses a wornout smoker with a 1 inch partition bisecting it. This car, so divided, is used as follows: Negroes must use the front end so as to be as far as possible from the whites, and to be subject to as much danger as possible as well. The rear end is used for a smoker and occupied by the rough class of whites, so as to guarantee non passage of Negroes from their caboose to the car occupied by white people. The law provides that whites must not ride with Negroes except when their car is overloaded. No provision is made for Negroes. Such a thing is a disgrace to any State and should be done away with. The colored men of Tennessee should call a convention and petition the State to see that a first class car is provided for them, since they are compelled to ride in separate cars and pay first-class fares."

Our conviction is that such conventions amount to less than nothing. The thing to do is for our people and the friends of equal justice to contribute just the amount necessary to get up such conventions and invest the same in law suits against railroads that so outrageously violate even these objectionable class legislations. We have an abiding faith that the plain letter of those laws, the constitutionality of which we do not at all admit, cannot be so flagrantly violated without meeting the condemnation of even the most prejudiced white Southern jury. Bring suits against them.

Southern Education Day.

The fourth Sunday in November—22d—is Southern Education Day. A very large proportion of the pastors in the Fall Conferences have agreed to observe that day and present the cause of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society. We have a new and appropriate service prepared and will send a supply without expense to any pastor who will drop us a card stating how many he will use. This offer applies to all pastors of the church. Already many have ordered the service.

Our schools are opening this fall auspiciously as to attendance and enthusiasm. The demand for money was never more imperative upon the society than now. Brother pastors, please observe Southern Education Day and forward collections as soon as taken. Please state your conference in sending money.

Yours truly,
J. C. HARTZELL,
Geo. W. GRAY,
J. S. CHADWICK.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 22, 1891.

East Tennessee Conference Notes.

In discussing the question of admission of a brother, an objector said: "The brother came to us from the Baptist Church. He got in trouble with us and went over to the A. M. E. Church. He got in trouble there, and went to the A. M. E. Zion Church. He got in trouble there, and he now returns to us. That brother has the spirit of getting into trouble and leaving. He does well enough, so long as he sticks, but it's just as I tell you, he has that spirit." A pretty bad spirit.

THE United States Government is considerably exercised over recent outrages perpetrated against American seamen by the Chilean authorities, and has demanded reparation. The situation is very critical and war vessels are being sent into Chilean waters by our government.

North Carolina Conference Notes.

Bishop Warren sought to impress the brethren to make accurate statistical reports. He said: "don't be ashamed of your charge, of yourself, nor of your conference in making your reports. Be sure that the names of each appear in your reports. If you have forgotten the name of your charge, look it up in your conference minutes." The bishop knows whereof he speaks.

THOSE of our people who are inclined to be deluded into emigrating to Africa should read and ponder well the following touching experience of a colored family from Georgia that has just returned from Liberia:

George B. Parks, a mulatto belonging in Atlanta, Ga., with his family, consisting of his wife and seven children, arrived here yesterday in the steamship Sorrento. He is an intelligent man and carpenter by trade, and tells an interesting story of affairs existing in Liberia. On the 22d of last May, lured by promises of the society for the promotion of colonization of Liberia, he sailed to that place. On landing at Monrovia he found the country in the most debauched condition. The American negroes who had already emigrated there had assumed the most tyrannical rule over the natives. No part of the ground was under cultivation. Parks had been a slave in the South, but he says the condition of slavery in Liberia is worse than in Georgia before the war. Children there offer themselves for sale. Parks, because he would not deal in human flesh, was ostracized by the negroes from America. After spending twenty one days there he sailed for Hamburg and then to this port. It cost him $780 to bring his family back to America. When he left Georgia he had $1250. He now has $60, which, he says, will pay his way back to Atlanta.—New York Exchange.

Better suffer the ills we know than to fly to those of which we know nothing. Move from one accessible section of this country to another if you think you can thereby better your condition, but give a wide berth to oily tongued sharpers who are seeking your destruction by persuading you to enter the wilds of Africa. What Africa needs is missionaries and capitalists, not laborers. The whole country is made up of muscled.

WHAT a sorry spectacle some of the worthless carpet baggers, that the Negro used to risk his life for, are making of themselves. Some time ago it was Judge McClure of Arkansas, and ex-Gov. Chamberlain of South Carolina, who declared the Negro hobbies, upon whose backs they rode into power and prominence, as worthless savages. Now comes ex-Gov. Blalock, of Georgia, who declares "that when the South fought for its rights of property it was doing only what our forefathers did under much less provocation, when they made George Washington a patriot and the 'Father of his Country.'" Who has ever heard of such rank treason? The idea of Jeff Davis being put upon the same pedestal with George Washington! What a wretched set the receding waves of Union soldiers left down here when they returned to their Northern homes! No wonder that set is opposed to Negro soldiers being in the same Grand Army posts with themselves.

THE following defalcations were reported in this city last week: Mr. Eugene F. Garcia, paying-teller of the Louisiana State National Bank, $190,000. He claims the shortage is the result of over-payments on checks. He was arrested, and released on $25,000 bond. Major D. A. Given, secretary of the Mechanics Homestead Association, was found short in his accounts $2,000. Alfred Lugenbohl, a trusted employee of Charles Ballojo, embezzled $10,000. Thos. H. Kelly, employee of Richardson, Williams & Co., defaulted in a large sum, unknown as yet. All these are of the "superior race."

THE bishops are holding their semi annual meeting at Cincinnati, Ohio, this week.

Political Review.

The following States hold their elections Tuesday, November 3, viz: Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa. In all but Pennsylvania the election is for Governor, and in that State for Auditor and Treasurer.

In Massachusetts the Democrats confess that the odds are greatly against them, and they have practically given up all hope of carrying it. In Pennsylvania, the Republicans having expurgated themselves from the charges brought against Mr. Quay, and the Bardley defalcation, are confident of carrying that State. In Iowa the Democrats have taken up the cause of the saloon, while the Republicans have entered into the canvass with the united support of every temperance and prohibition element, whose cause they champion, with every prospect of success. The greatest interest however has centered in Ohio and New York, where the real battle is being fought, as foreshadowing the prospects of the two great parties in the presidential election next year. A more determined fight was scarcely ever witnessed before, in an off year. The independent voters, and many of the respectable element of the Democratic party of New York, including the Democratic Lieutenant-Governor Jones, being disgusted with the rule of Tammany, have allied themselves under the Republican banner, in support of Mr. Fassett for Governor, and the party being in splendid trim, the prospects were never better for a sweeping Republican victory. In Ohio, the question seems to be as to the extent of Major McKinley's majority, some predicting that the State will take its regular place in the Republican column with a majority of from 30,000 to 35,000; for Governor McKinley, and the party of John Sherman and Foraker.

Gov. Fleming of Florida, claiming that the Legislature failed to elect a successor to Senator Call, has appointed ex-Congressman Davidson. The cases of the claimants will have to be decided by the U. S. Senate.

The Democratic party in this State is terribly wrought up over the Lottery Amendment, which seriously disturbs its unity, and a split in the party is reported in LaFourche parish.

THE failure of several of the applicants to pass the examination for teachers in the city recently, moved the Crusader to make the following timely criticism in the premises:

"It is high time for institutions where the colored youths are principally taught to drop the system of beginning the education at the top, and that it is of far more importance to instruct the pupils thoroughly in the primary studies than to cram a smattering of Latin and Greek and higher mathematics in their head before they are ready to receive such instructions. When well grounded in the elementary principles, those who wish or can pursue their studies farther, will have a solid foundation for the superstructure of a polished education. But the system in vogue in too many of the schools is simply making fools and asses of the Negro youths."

THE great Ecumenical Methodist Conference which was held at Washington, D. C., Oct. 7-20, was the grandest Protestant convocation of its kind ever held in this or in any other country. It called forth together many of the foremost Christian citizens of our age from every civilized land in the world. The program, which was fully abreast of the times, was fully and ably carried out. The reception by the citizens of Washington to the conference were worthy of the occasion and of this great nation. As usual "the colored man and brother was present and acted his part nobly. We regret that circumstances over which we had no control prevented our giving anything like a detailed description of the work of this great assembly before this. We hope, however, to give our readers a resume of the whole, however, in our next issue; as also a full account of the proceedings of the North Carolina, East Tennessee and Tennessee Conferences which were held Oct. 15-26.

Epworth League.

Sixth General Conference District.

The Sixth General Conference District Epworth League will meet in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, in Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 17-19, 1891. This district embraces the following annual conferences: Baltimore, Blue Ridge, Central Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, Holston, North Carolina, Savannah, South Carolina, Washington, Wilmington, and St. John's River.

The meeting at Chattanooga is very important, and all the conferences should have their full representation. Persons desiring further information may address Rev. Vaughn S. Collins, Centerville, Md.

City Church Notes.

Remember that the Chinese supper and concerts at Valence street church are to be held during the week beginning Nov. 2d. Admission, 10c. It was stated Nov. 25 last week.

The reopening of LaHarpe Church takes place Nov. 8. A corner stone laying will take place at 3 o'clock p. m. on that day. The church is to be named after its founder, Scott Chinn Chapel. The following will participate: Revs. E. Williams, P. E., W. S. Harris, W. P. Forest, F. T. Chinn, J. W. Hudson, Dr. A. E. P. Albert, H. Taylor, E. Clark, W. Smith, D. J. Price, John Holmes, etc. A. J. Pickett, pastor; C. H. Derbigny, clerk.

The revival at LaHarpe Street Church is a success. Eighteen souls have been converted, and many more are at the mercy seat. Pastor Pickett and his people are rejoicing.

WE heartily second the Crusader's nomination of Judge Albion W. Tougee, the manly and persistent advocate of justice and equal rights, for the office of Interstate Commerce Commissioner. He is worthy and well qualified.

THE Rev. Dr. C. H. Payne, suggests that it would be a magnificent idea to post on our college doors, "No brains made here." If the fellow hasn't any, it cannot be provided by any college in the land.

"HAVE no feverish anxiety about your appointment. It is sufficient for you to know that if your character passes you will get one. Fix your expectation on a low key, and you will not be disappointed however apparently humble and insignificant it may be."—Bishop Nindé to the East Tennessee Conference.

THE sugar planters that are raising such a howl against the colored sugar inspectors, sent to inspect and weigh their sugar, so they can get their sugar bounty, should be made to understand that if they are too narrow in their prejudices to accept with becoming decorum, the inspectors sent them by Uncle Sam, that they should not hold out their hands for the bounty. Who has ever heard of such arrogance on the part of beggars?

How can you brace yourself up to whisper to a sinner to come to Christ, when your breath is so saturated with the smell of strong drink that you can't disguise it with all the orange peeling you can chew? The sinner may desire to come, but the invitation does not smell right, however well it may sound. So he hesitates and declines.

Personal.

—Mrs. Cora Knight Clifford, A. M., widow of the lamented Rev. N. D. Clifford, formerly of Wiley University, Marshall, Texas, who has been spending the summer at her old home, East Rumford, Me., has returned with her two children to Chattanooga, Tenn., and resumed her duties as lady dean and professor of history and literature in the U. S. Grant University.

—Rev. Dr. Philander Wiley, brother of the late Bishop Wiley, and for many years professor of Greek in Asbury, now De Pauw University, died in Denver, Col., Sept. 23.

After several weeks absence, attending the Ecumenical Conference at Washington, D. C. and visiting the several annual conferences in our territory, the editor is "home again." Mrs. Albert preceeding him here several days.

—Rev. I. B. Scott, D. D., Presiding Elder of the Houston District, Texas conference and member of the Book Committee, passed through this city on his way home from the Ecumenical Conference in Washington, D. C., last week. He spent a day and night in this city, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Albert, and left for home last Saturday. He called and expressed increased devotion and interest in the spread of the SOUTHWESTERN.

—Prof. Franklin C. Long, A. M., who graduated some years ago at Atlanta University and afterward taught some years at Leland University, this city, and later on at Bishop College, Marshall, Texas, was in the city last week visiting old friends. He is now mail agent between Paris, Tex., and St. Louis, Mo., and resides at Ft. Smith, Ark. His many friends were glad to meet him. He made a pleasant call.

—Secretary Blaine is now in improved health and has returned to Washington. Thousands of admirers witnessed his return.

—Rev. W. B. Anderson and wife, of New Iberia, La., rejoice over the advent of a stranger in their home Oct. 9. Her name is Abbie Belle and is a nine-pounder.

—Cards are out announcing the marriage of Rev. J. C. Hibbler, of Vicksburg, Miss., to Miss Georgie Horner, of same city, on Monday evening, November 2d, 1891, at 3 o'clock.

THE Jim Crow car must go. The citizens committee to test the outrageous law has already succeeded in collecting $1,751. Let contributors continue to send contributions to Mr. Paul Bonseigneur, treasurer, 117 Exchange Alley, New Orleans, La.

THE absurdities of some of our predictions are made supremely ridiculous at times, especially when we eliminate God from our calculation. Here is an illustration:

Lyman Abbott says, when Phillips Brooks graduated, he went to the then president of Harvard College to consult with him respecting a choice of profession. "It is a good plan," said the president, blandly, "in attempting to decide this difficult question, to lay aside at first the impossible professions. For instance, in your case, you never could become a preacher, owing to the impediment in your speech."

The facts are that this country has produced but few preachers that equaled, much less excelled Phillips Brooks, recently elected Bishop of Massachusetts. The great Matthew Simpson, was troubled with a similar impediment, but God wanted to make him a polished shaft and a master of assemblies, and he was; in spite of the impediment. "When we are weak, then we are strong."

RELIGION is not a conglomeration of distorted dreams, hideous groans, disorderly shouts and jumping in the church, but a new heart and a new life. Is that the kind you have?

DAILY BREAD.

"They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars forever and ever."

If I can put one touch of rosy sunset into the life of any man or woman, I shall feel that I have worked with God.—George McDonald.

While you live right nothing goes wrong; a soul at peace with God cannot be greatly disturbed by the world, for it bath its pleasures in God and its blessings from God.—Jackson.

Wealth is not the way to heaven but the contrary; let all your care be to live well, and you may be sure you will never die poor.—Bishop Henshaw.

Never remain in ignorance for the want of asking. God and man are ready to teach the meek and humble.—Isaac Watts.

As the shadow in the early morning is friendship with the wicked; it dwindles hour by hour. But friendship with the good increases, like the evening shadows, till the sun of life sets.—Herder.

The test of every religious, political or educational system is the man which it forms.—Amiel.

"Give me the first five years of a child, and I will make it a saint or a devil."—A Catholic Priest.

"If I had my ministry to go over again, I would give more attention to the children."—Dr. Ashbel Green.

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."—Proverbs 32. 6.

"We can raise more Christians by juvenile Christian culture than by adult conversion—a thousand times more."—Dr. J. G. Holland.

"The time is coming when there will be two sermons preached to children and youths where there is one to adults."—Bishop Janes.

"After the observations and experience of a long life, I have come decisively to the conclusion that if I had my life to live over again I would pay ten times as much attention to the young of my charge as I ever did."—Dr. Samuel Miller.

"I am satisfied that the day is coming when, in our church, and in all churches of the world, we shall look chiefly to the conversion of children, and as a comparatively rare instance to the conversion of those in maturer years."—Bishop Simpson.

"I have, during the past year, received forty or fifty children into church-membership. Among these I have not had, at any time, to exclude a single one from church-membership. Out of a church membership of two thousand seven hundred members I have never had to exclude a single one who was received while yet a child."—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon.

Grace does not come to the heart as we set a cask at the corner of the house to catch the rain in the shower. It is a pulley fastened to the throne of God, which we pull, bringing the blessing.—Talmage.

Never bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three kinds. All they have had, all they have now, and all they expect to have.—E. E. Hale.

If a man be faithful to the truth, truth will be faithful to him. He need have no fears. His success is a question of time.—Prof. Phelps.

"Praying causes a man to leave off sinning. Sinning causes him to leave off praying."

Whoever would be sustained by the hand of God, let him constantly lean upon it; whosoever would be defended by it, let him patiently repose himself under it.—Calvin.

The Lord Jesus Christ has pledged himself and all his powers to defeat selfishness whenever it appears and in all its ways.—Kerfoot.

"Of all things which must be done, do those which are most distasteful first. Then you will have something to look forward to with pleasure."

A good conscience is to the soul what health is to the body.—Joseph Addison.

Oh, for the spirit which is content with nothing less nor lower than the highest help. To turn in temptation directly to the power of God; to cry out in sorrow for God's company; to be satisfied in doubt with nothing short of the assurance that God gives; to know that there is no real escape from sin except in being made holy by God's holiness—these are what make a man's complete salvation. It is your privilege and mine, as children of God, to be satisfied with no help but the help of the Highest.—Phillips Brooks.

It is safe to say that the cases in which a college education unfits a man for business are so few and far between as to deserve no consideration compared to the inestimable benefits which such an education really brings to all who are willing to profit by their early training. No one will attempt to assert that a college course will transform a born fool into a sound business man, but it is equally absurd to intimate that it will transform a born business man into a fool. The training in a collegiate course is largely mental, and its aim is primarily to teach students to think for themselves.—Boston Advertiser.

The minister who attempts to deal with the doubts of scientific men must know what he is talking about. If he has no clear and accurate conception, for instance, of the theory of evolution, let him never attempt to discuss it in the pulpit; but rather let him confine his preaching to the building up of character. The same may be said of social questions. To dogmatize in the pulpit upon the religion of capital and labor, without any adequate knowledge of the subject, leads the preacher into the commission of blunders that can only impair his spiritual influence. The great principles of justice between man and man, of fidelity in the discharge of duty, and the responsibility to wealth, cannot, however, be too earnestly insisted upon in the pulpit.—Christian Words.

Philip Macedon, wrestling in the games, was thrown on the sand. Rising, he saw the marks of his body, and exclaimed: "How little a parcel of earth will hold us, when we are dead, who are ambitiously seeking after the whole world while living."

Let our Lord's sweet hand square us and hammer us, and strike off all kinds of self-love, world worship and infidelity, so that he makes us stones and pillars in his Father's house.—Rutherford.

THE latest statistics of Protestantism in Italy are given by Bishop Walden as follows: Italy has above 30,000,000 of people, of whom between twenty-five and thirty thousand are connected with some Protestant organization—not more than one in every thousand of the population. In 1890 six Protestant bodies reported 23,452 members, but besides these there is the mission of the Plymouth brethren, who do not number their Israel, a few small, independent missions, and the several Anglican and other foreign churches. The entire Protestant force, however, must fall below 30,000. The Methodist contingent is about 2,500, a little more than 1,500 in the Wesleyan, and a little less than 1,000 in the Methodist Episcopal Mission. The Waldensian church what it calls "the work of evangelization" 1848, and reports 18,000, the Free Church of Italy, united in one body in 1865, but existing in separate societies before, reports 1,800; the Baptist less than 900, and the "Italian Catholic Church" (Connt Campello's) about 100. Such is the numerical strength of Protestantism in Italy.

Schools and Colleges.

The appropriation by Congress for general education has resulted in the establishment of industrial, agricultural and mechanical schools in several Southern States. The one in West Virginia will be located in Kanawha county, near Charleston, the capital of the State. The Governor has recently appointed a board of regents, composed exclusively of whites, to manage the institution. It was hoped that he would appoint at least one colored man a member of the board, but in accord with the usual sentiment, he indicates that white men know more than colored men about the education of colored people.—Ex.

It is a sin and shame that such people should attempt to pose as the best friends of the Negro.

Colored girls from the schools of St. Louis have for four consecutive years held competitive drills with their white sister students, and each year won.

W. E. B. DuBois, of Harvard University, won the Roger's memorial fellowship of $450 by his paper on "The Study of Ethics in its Relation to Jurisprudence or to Sociology."

Charles Garner, Jr., who was graduated from the Bellefontaine, Pa., high school last week, was awarded the board of education prize of $15 in gold for excellence in scholarship and conduct. He is the first colored graduate of Center county.

The declining powers of old age may be wonderfully recuperated and sustained by the daily use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Those who indulged the folly, that Mississippi meant to deal justly by the colored people, when it adopted an educational qualification for voting, will probably see their error, when they read the following campaign rallying cry, which brought success to the Democratic nominee, for Superintendent of education, in Harrison county, Miss., recently. Read it:

"If you want to be relieved of the burden of supporting the Negro schools (costing about $500 a year) and to see the term of the white schools lengthened in proportion, vote for J. L. Ladd, for County Superintendent of Education."

The State makes it a crime to be ignorant, and pays a premium to the man who offers to see that the Negro is kept in ignorance. The people guilty of this wickedness, send missionaries to the "poor heathen." Shame, isn't it?

Books and Current Literature.

Frank Leslie's Weekly will certainly interest every Methodist in this country, for it gives on its front page, in most attractive style, character-sketches of leading scenes at the great Ecumenical Methodist Council held at Washington. Grand Army boys will have their hearts filled with recollections of war days when they look at the picture of the historic tree under which Colonel (afterwards General) Ulysses S. Grant's first regiment was mustered out. The page devoted to the city of Hayti, where so many relics of Christopher Columbus are now held, is very timely. Those girls who wish a French doll for a Christmas present should not fail to write to Arkell & Harrison, 110 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GORF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Like all of this renowned composers productions, the anthems are very meritorious. A new organ book, containing 100 valuable and beautiful pieces for pipe or reed organ.—Young organists, especially those who are piano players, turned at short notice into organists, are very apt to think that they can extemporize a voluntary, when they really cannot, in crotchety and true organ style. The selections are from the best writers for the organ, good, and many of them easy. There is also a set of modulations from (C) into all the keys. Price, 75 cents. Published by J. Fischer & Bro., No. 7 Bible House, New York.

The Negro Problem and its Solution, an address by Hon. R. O. O. Benjamin, of San Francisco, Cal., has been received. It is an able exposition of a difficult problem.

O Little Town of Bethlehem! by Phillips Brooks, is a perfect practical gem from the pen of that matchless preacher and writer Rev. Phillips Brooks, D.D., recently elected Bishop of Massachusetts in the Methodist Episcopal Church. The illustrations which cover nearly every page are simply charming. No more appropriate holiday gift could be conceived. Published by E. P. Dutton & Co., New York. For sale by E. S. Upton, 94 Camp street, New Orleans, La.

All the Year Round, an art-catalogue for 1892, by E. P. Dutton & Co., New York, is the finest work of its character that we have seen in a good while. A new edition is announced, and price reduced to $1 per volume, by E. B. Treat, 5 Cooper Union, New York.

The November number of the New England Magazine should appeal strongly to Southern readers, for it contains three fine articles from subjects drawn from the South. One is John Howard Payne's Southern Sweetheart. An account of the city of Atlanta, while the third is a philosophical review of the causes of the outcome of the war.

Among the interesting features of the last number of Harper's Weekly was a full-page illustration of the consecration of Bishop Phillips Brooks.

University Extension, which is undoubtedly the foremost educational topic of the day, has the first place in the November Popular Science Monthly. Mr. W. F. Darfee, in concluding his account of The Manufacture of Steel, takes the reader among glowing furnaces and the giant arms of powerful machines, and embellishes his impressive description with many striking pictures. An essay on Ornament among savage tribes, with many illustrations, is contributed by Prof. Frederick Starr. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Fifty cents a number, $5 a year.

Decked in a new and unusually artistic Thanksgiving cover, the November Ladies' Home Journal comes as a reminder that the holidays are approaching. Everything about this issue of the Journal seems of the best. Ten cents a number or one dollar a year. The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

Harper's Young People announces a World's Fair for boys and girls, in which no less than 4000 prizes are offered. The prizes include a bicycle and a library of 100 volumes, while not a few of even the lesser prizes are worth from $8 to $20. Every boy and girl is entitled to compete. The Young People sends a prize list free, which gives full particulars. Its address is Franklin Square, New York.

The opening article of the Century for October is the closing one of Mr. Keenan's series, and is entitled My Last Days in Siberia. Col. E. V. Sumner, of the army, gives a graphic account of the Indian massacre of 1879, under the title Besieged by the Utes, to which Mr. Remington lends the aid of his pencil. A concluding paper on the Custer massacre shortly to appear will complete a group of papers on a class of frontier warfare which is almost, if not quite, in the past. J. G. Nicolay writes of Lincoln's Personal Appearance, and Gen. H. V. Boynton discusses The Relation of the Press and Public Men. In fiction, there are three short stories in addition to the conclusion of Dr. Edward Eggleston's novel, The Faith Doctor. In Topics of the Time are editorials on A Cheap-Money Retrospect, Presidential Voting Methods, The Key to Municipal Reform, and a tribute to Mr. Lowell as poet and citizen, etc.

Let's reason together.

Here's a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through the years to greatness—and it sells patent medicines!—ugh!

"That's enough!"—

Wait a little—

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money. Their guarantee is not indefinite and relative, but definite and absolute—if the medicine doesn't help, your money is "on call."

Suppose every sick man and every feeble woman tried these medicines and found them worthless, who would be the loser, you or they?

The medicines are Doctor Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," for blood diseases, and his "Favorite Prescription," for woman's peculiar ills. If they help toward health, they cost $1.00 a bottle each! If they don't, they cost nothing!

GOD'S APPOINTMENTS.

BY MARGARET E. SANGSTER.

This thing on which thy heart was set,
This thing that cannot be,
This weary, disappointing day that dawns, my friend, for thee—
Be comforted; God knoweth best, the God whose name is love, Whose tender care is evermore our passing lives above.

He sends thee disappointments! Well, then, take this from his hand!—
Shall God's appointments seem less good than what thyself had planned?

'Twas in thy mind to go abroad. He bids thee stay at home!
O happy home! thrice happy if to it thy guest he come.

'Twas in thy mind thy friend to see.
The Lord says: "Nay, not yet."
Be confident; the meeting-time thy Lord will not forget.

'Twas in thy mind to work for him.
His will is, "Child, sit still!"
And surely 'tis thy blessedness to mind thy Master's will.

Accept thy disappointment, friend, thy gift from God's own hand.
Shall God's appointments seem less
good than what thyself had planned?

So, day by day, and step by step, sus-tain thy failing strength;
Indeed, go on, from strength to strength, through all the journey's length.

God bids thee tarry now and then—forbear the weak complaint;
God's leisure brings the weary rest,
and cordial gives the faint.

God bids the labor, and the place is thick with thorn and brier;
But he will share the hardest task,
until he calls thee higher.

So take each disappointment, friend,
'tis at thy Lord's command!
Shall God's appointments seem less
good than what thyself had planned?

The Household.

Things Here and There.

Never leave vegetables in the water after they are cooked, Cover a nail with soap and it will drive in hard wood easily.

The best lap rugs to be used while bathing the baby are of white canton flannel.

Keep to your right in going up and down stairways. You lose much time because you overlook this necessity.

It may not be generally known,
but it is said to be a fact nevertheless, that ordinary rubber ink-erasers remove rust from polished cutlery without injury. Try it and be convinced.

Do not allow the horses to stop at the creek either to bathe or to drink, as they come in from work.
Cool them off first and then there will be no danger of injury, and both the drink and the bath will do them good.

There are many simple and effective disinfectants, among which are coffee pounded and burned on an iron plate, sugar burned on hot coals, vinegar boiled with myrrh and sprinkled on the floor and furniture of a sick room.

COOKIES.—One cup butter, one cup flour, one and one-half cups sugar, two eggs, one-half cup sweet milk, one teaspoon soda, and season to taste. Mix the butter and flour together as for pie crust, then add the other ingredients and mix well.

CHOCOLATE CAKE.—Dissolve two ounces of chocolate in five tablespoonsful of boiling water, beat a half cupful of butter to a cream; add gradually to it one and a half cupsful of sugar, then add the yolks of four eggs, beaten until very light; add half a cupful of milk, then the melted chocolate, and last, two cupsful of sifted flour.
Beat thoroughly, and then stir in carefully the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth; add a teaspoonful of baking powder and one of vanilla. Bake in three layers.

BREAKFAST OMELET.—Soak one cupful of bread or cracker crumbs until soft in one cup of sweet milk;
then add three well beaten fresh eggs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, beat well together, cook in a hot, well-buttered frying pan.

You Take No Risk

In buying Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is everywhere recognized as the standard building-up medicine and blood purifier.
It has won its way to the front by its own intrinsic merit, and has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Be sure to get Hood's.

General Church News.

A gentleman walking with a friend one day through a commissariat store-house, in Hong Kong, China, came to a part of the establishment where four Chinamen were engaged in emptying a large tub of rum and carrying it in gallon measures to another portion of the building. Addressing himself to one who seemed to be the leader of the party, he asked: "Do you like rum, John?" "No sir," said the Chinaman, promptly.
"Why not?" "Rum not proper,
sir; make Chinaman number one fool!" There is a sad truth in the Chinaman's answer. Many a man who might have lived happily, acted wisely, and died peacefully, has made himself a "number one fool" by the intoxicating cup; has died as the fool dieth, and been buried in the drunkard's dark, dishonored grave. Let us learn from the Chinaman that rum is "not proper."

The grave of Barbara Freitchie in the German Reformed Church cemetery near Frederick, Md., is marked simply with a headstone bearing her name, age, and "1862." There is a tangle of briars and creeping vines running wild over the mound.

Intelligence has been received that in consequence of the representations made by the diplomatic body at Pekin, the Emperor of China has signed a decree ordering the Chinese authorities to protect all foreigners and foreign mission stations in the Empire. The decree further orders the punishment of the instigators of the late antiforeign riots at various points on the Yangtze river.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, it is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

Our Symposium.

Do not try to be a complete encyclopedia of all human knowledge, for you will never succeed; and, if you could succeed, you would only make an encyclopedia by spoiling a man. He who uses his knowledge, however little it may be, to a good purpose, is far more useful in the world than any walking dictionary could be, which contains much knowledge, but whose strong binding and iron clasps effectually prevent that knowledge from being of any use to anybody.—S. S. Times.

A veteran christian, once a Presbyterian, now a Methodist, brimful of sanctification, requests me to write a comment on the text, "Owe no man anything." He is not an exegete, but thinks the passage means, pay your debts. One thing is certain, every creditor will agree with him. No use to quote Greek to him to show that the original means something else. He is rooted and grounded in the belief that it signifies "pay as you go." He has an idea that sanctification abolishes the credit system and writes over the door, "Terms Cash," and that every note, mortgage and subscription should be paid promptly on maturity. Say the old man is in his dotage, if you will; one thing is settled—no man, saint or sinner, is going to think much of my sanctification or yours if we do not pay our debts.—A. Lowry, in Divine Life.

Lowell's Power as a Poet.

The chief element of Lowell's strength was the intensity of that moral sympathy which makes his best poetry distinctly didactic.
The best chords of his lyre are exactly those in which he means to preach; and it is his main glory that he stood in the forefront of that radiant band of mighty orators, and ethereal poets, and heaven-born rulers, whose eloquence and wisdom emancipated eighty thousand slaves, and whose names are therefore written, like those of Clarkson and Wilberforce, on the noblest page of their country's history.— Nor was it only for the slave, and against the slave owner, that Lowell could plead. He was one whose heart bled for the sorrows of the poor. He saw the glory of God's world, and in some of his noblest verses has fulfilled that function of the poet which consist in using his fine sense to interpret to our blundering conceptions the meaning of its beauty, as in the prelude of his "Vision of Sir Launfal."—Archdeacon Farrar, in the October Forum.

THE MOST RELIABLE

To correct the constipated habit, remove sick-headache, relieve dyspepsia, to purify the blood, cure jaundice, liver complaint, and biliousness, Ayer's Pills are unequaled. They are an excellent after-dinner pill, assisting the process of digestion, and cleansing and strengthening the alimentary canal.
When taken on the invasion of a cold or a fever, they effectually prevent further progress of the disease.
Being sugar-coated and purely vegetable, they are the best medicines for old and young. Ayer's Pills are indispensable to soldiers, sailors, campers, miners, and travelers, and are everywhere recommended by the medical fraternity. Dr. J. W. Hayes, of Lowell, Mass., writes: "Ayer's Pills are the most evenly balanced in their ingredients, of any I know of."

"For more than twenty years I have used Ayer's Pills as a corrective for torpidity of the stomach, liver, and bowels, and to ward off malarial attacks, and they have always done perfect work."—E. P. Goodwin, Publisher Daily Herald, St. Louis, Mo.

I was master of a sailing vessel for many years, and never failed to provide a supply of Ayer's Pills, for the use of both officers and men. They are a safe and reliable and always gives satisfaction."—Harry Robinson, 22 E. Pearl St., Fair Haven, Conn.

"For a long time I was a sufferer from stomach, liver, and kidney troubles, and having tried a variety of remedies, with only temporary relief, I began, about three months ago, the use of Ayer's Pills, and already my health is so much improved that I gladly testify to the superior merits of this cathartic."—Manuel Jorge Pereira, Oporto,

Your Niece,
LOUISA A. O'NEAL.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little boy 7 years old. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. I am a member of class No. 6. John Davis is my teacher. Your Nephew, JOSEPH SHAW.

Vaiden, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my third letter to you. Papa takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I delight in reading it. So many little boys and girls have written to the SOUTHWESTERN, I thought that I would write again. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. Our teacher's name is W. M. Williams. Mamma, papa, and two of my sisters are members of the M. E. Church. I am not a member of the M. E. Church, but I hope to be one. My brother is secretary, and one of my sisters is librarian. Our superintendent's name is E. D. Williams. We have a good pastor. His name is J. S. Jenkins, and he is loved by all of us.

Your Niece,

Letters from the Laity.

Anna Edwards, French Camp, Miss.

Our third quarterly conference was held Oct. 10 and 11, by Rev. G. Orange instead of our Presiding Elder. Reports showed steady growth. Rev. G. Orange conducted the conference like a man of God. Rev. N. B. Blakeman our beloved pastor, is the right man in the right place. Accessions to church this year 66; children baptized 10.

FOR DYSPEPSIA
Use Brown's Iron Bitters.
Physicians recommend it.
All dealers keep it. 25c per bottle. Genuine has trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

Why not organize the Epworth League on every charge in our territory. It is one of the best auxiliaries that we can put in operation in our charges. Write to the Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D.D., corresponding secretary, S. S. Union, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, for further information.

The November Century contains two frontispieces. Four of Raphael's most famous pictures will be reproduced in the December Century.

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Ticker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 139 Puybas street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it, and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TWO STATEMENTS

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April 1 was attacked with Chagres Fever, a Spanish Honduras and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell and since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Royal Gementine. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Gementine has been a God-send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may call on me.

DANIEL PAPFON, 481 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above statement I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Gementine saved my life.

DANIEL PAPFON.

Chagres Fever is known to be not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Gementine has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It has a similar record as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malarial troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quickest and most unfailing remedy for Fevers of all kinds, Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our midst every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Gementine office, 202 Canal street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, Agent, 202 Canal street. $1 bottle; six bottles for $5.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Two Bottles Cured Her.

CARROLL, Ia., July, 1891.

I was suffering 10 years from shocks in my head, so much so that at times I didn't expect to recover. I took medicines from my druggists, but didn't get any relief until I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic; the second dose relieved me and 2 bottles cured me.

Vanished.

Rev. H. McDONOUGH, of Lowell, Mass., vouches for the following: There is a case of which I have knowledge, and I am very glad to avail myself of the opportunity to make known the good derived from the use of Koenig's Nerve Tonic. The subject is a young lady who had been suffering from early childhood. On my recommendation she procured your remedy, and for three months the fits of epilepsy to which she has been so long subject have ceased entirely.

A valuable book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address, and poor patients can obtain this medicine free of charge.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and is now prepared under his direction by the FOURTH QUARTER.—Studies in the Gospel of St. John. Lesson V. Christ the True Vine. A. D. 30. John 15: 1-16. Commit to memory verses 4, 5. Nov. 1, 1891.

HOME READINGS.

M. John 15: 1-8. Tu. John 15: 9-16. W. 1 John 2: 4-11. Th. 1 John 2: 24-29. F. Rom. 12: 1-15. S. Eph. 4: 11-24. S. Matt. 7: 13-20.

GOLDEN TEXT.

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit. (John 15: 8.)

LESSON HYMN, 7, 61.

Chief of sinners though I be,
Jesus shed his blood for me;
Died that I might live on high,
Died that I might never die;
As the branch is to the vine,
I am his and he is mine.

O the height of Jesus' love!
Higher than the heavens above,
Deeper than the depths of sea,
Lasting as eternity;
Love that found me,—wondrous thought?
Found me when I sought him not!

Time—Thursday night, the night before the crucifixion.

Place—Jerusalem; the upper room where Jesus kept the feast.

Rulers—Herod in Galilee; Pilate in Jerusalem.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY

1. Fruitful Branches, v. 1-8.

To what does Jesus liken himself and his Father?

How does the Father treat the branches?

How were the disciples made clean?

Where did Jesus bid them abide?

Why?

How only can the branches bear fruit?

What will be done with those who abide not in Christ?

What promise of answer to prayer did Jesus make?

How could the disciples glorify the Father?

What fruit ought every Christian to bear? (Gal. 5: 22, 23.)

2. Faithful Friends, v. 9-16.

In what were the disciples urged to abide?

What was the condition of abiding?

Why had Jesus thus spoken to them?

What commandment did he give?

What is the greatest test of love?

How would Christ's friends be proved?

What new title is given to the disciples?

Why?

For what had they been chosen?

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:

1. How to be useful?

2. How to be joyful?

3. How to be blessed?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG MEN.

Read a parable about a vineyard told by the Lord.

Read a parable about a vineyard given by one of the ancient prophets.

Find who it was that taught men to regard God as their father.

THE LESSON CATECHISM.

[For the entire school.]

1. What does Jesus say he is: "I am the true vine."

2. What does he tell us to do? To abide in him.

3. What shall be the result of abiding in Christ? Much fruit.

4. What does Christ call those who obey him? His friends.

5. What is the Golden Text? "Herein is my Father glorified, etc."

EXPLANATIONS.

True vine—In a land of vineyards this was a familiar figure. It shows the relation of Christ to every disciple. Taketh away—God has no use for idle Christians. Purgeth it—Prunes and cleans it that it may be strong. Cast forth as a branch—Cut off and thrown away. My words—My teachings. If Christ's words abide in us his Spirit will control and sanctify our lives. Ordained you—Not ordained as is done in some churches to church officers, but set apart in the sense of being commanded to do a special thing, namely, to preach the Gospel.

Doctrinal Suggestion—The love of Christ.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Dr. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuritis, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting read.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

99. How does our Savior explain the commandments? He teaches that they not only forbid sin in act, but in thought. (Matt. 5: 21, 22, 27, 28.)

100. What is our Lord's precept, commonly called the Golden Rule? "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." (Matt. 7: 12.)

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by a pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business.

Now, there are scores of aersapillars and other blood-purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

If it doesn't do good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases—and pulmonary consumption is only lung scrofula—just let its makers know and get your money back.

Talk's cheap, but to back a poor medicine, or a common one, by selling it on trial, as "Golden Medical Discovery" is sold, would bankrupt the largest fortune.

Talk's cheap, but only "Discovery" is guaranteed.

Tennessee Conference.

The Tennessee Conference met in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Wednesday, October 21st. Bishop Good-sell conducted the opening devotional exercises. The roll of the conference was called and nearly all the members answered to their names. C. B. Wilson was elected secretary and Charles Alexander assistant. W. D. Denny was elected treasurer. After some minute business had been attended to, Rev.
Dr. C. H. Payne, corresponding secretary of the Board of Education, was introduced. He spoke on the "Higher Education of the Members and the Ministry, as a need of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The church requires one thousand ministers every year to keep up the supply from her pulpit. Of the 1065 students in our schools who were aided last year by the Board of Education, 872 proposed to enter the ministry, 200 to enter the foreign missionary field. 158 of the students aided last year were women, and the amount given to each student averaged $45.42. This is a loan without interest and no security is required only the honor of a Christian student. The Children's Day collection had raised the permanent fund of the Board of Education to $225,000.

Children's Day originated with the Methodist Episcopal Church, although all churches now have Children's Day. The Tennessee Conference raised $131.70 and receives about $1000 for aiding students in the bounds of the Tennessee Conference. Dr. Payne made a very happy impression upon the conference and also at night, when he spoke on Methodism and Higher Education he had the close attention of the crowded house.

Rev. Dr. A. E. Albert was introduced to the conference and advocated the cause of the SOUTH WESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE in an earnest address which impressed the conference favorably, and no doubt aided largely in the collections which followed. The conference vote on the admission of women stood for the principle, 48 for and 3 against.

Dr. Davidson spent a short time with us during the session of the conference and addressed the brethren in an afternoon meeting.
He stated that he represented a church with 29,000 Sunday schools, 296,000 officers and teachers, 1,313,000 Sunday school scholars and 120,000 conversions in these schools during the last year.

Assistant Corresponding Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, Rev.
Dr. Gray, spoke on the Freedmen.
He stated that we had 41 schools, 337 teachers and 10,000 students in our schools; that emancipation gave freedom to 4,500,000 slaves, that they were the poorest of the poor; ignorant of all that pertains to a high, noble industrious life, and the only way they could be educated was for the Christian North to come to their rescue.
The South was impoverished, and could do nothing in the way of educating this mass of ignorance as they had been impoverished by the war, and not only the means was lacking to do this work, but also, largely, the disposition.

The vote of the laity on the admission of women was very light, for admission 544, against admission 389.

C. B. Wilson, pastor at Murfreesboro, and an alumnus of Central Tennessee College, was elected delegate to the General Conference and H. W. Key reserve. The laymen elected Thomas Johnson, of Nashville, delegate and G. D.

Fields reserve. It is encouragingly to the friends of the colored people, that at the close of Dr.
Gray's address, a subscription was taken up for the purpose of laying the foundation of a chapel at Central Tennessee College, Rev. H. W.
Key promising the first $100, providing the conference would raise the other $900. In a few minutes the subscriptions reached $176.
The bishop appointed Rev. H. W.
Key financial agent to assist the brethren in raising money in their respective charges. The conference received $500 from the Book Concern, which was a very great boon to the superannuates, widows and orphans. Sunday morning conference love feast was held, the house being crowded and a great many testifying to the love of Christ. The bishop at the church where the conference was held and other pastors supplied the pulpits in the other colored churches. The bishop's sermon at 11 o'clock will long be remembered for its depth of thought and excellent spirit. At night the bishop preached in the M. E. Church South.

On Monday morning the conference met at 8 o'clock, Thomas Allen and J. W. Richmond were admitted on trial.

The collections for missions was $483.63; for Freedmen $276.50.

The conference adjourned with the benediction by the bishop, after the appointments were read.
The people seemed to linger about the church as if it was a very dear place to them. The conference has been a very pleasant one, the weather delightful. At the close of the preaching on Sunday night there were perhaps fifty persons forward for prayer.

Epworth League Convention of Orangeburg District, S. C. Conference.

J. W. MOULTRIE.

The second annual convention of the Orangeburg District Epworth League met at Trinity M. E. Church, Camden, S. C., Sept. 17, at 12 o'clock.

President Grice opened the convention with appropriate devotional exercises. At the conclusion of which, he, in behalf of the convention, thanked the good people of Camden for their open doors and warm hearts. Revs. J. P. Robinson and J. W. Monttrie were elected secretaries pro tem on the first day. Short addresses were delivered by J. W. Monttrie, J. B. Middleton, J. A. Brown, and E. Forrest. The program was interspersed with music.

At night Rev. J. L. Grice, of Orangeburg preached from I Sam. xvii, 48, 49. At the conclusion of which two persons joined the church and one was happily converted. The second and last day was full of interest. It was unanimously resolved to establish the league at every point possible, at once.

The literary program which included an outline of the various mountains of Palestine, by J. L. Grice, was very interesting and entertaining. Rev. E. C. Brown, Presiding Elder, addressed the convention on points of Epworth League work, touching organizations, etc.

At night Rev. B. G. Frederick preached an excellent sermon on John 1, 29.

Officers for the year: president, J. L. Grice; first vice-president, J. A. Brown; second vice-president, J. P. Robinson; third vice-president, J. P. Clarke; fourth vice-president, Thos. Sims; corresponding secretary, B. G. Frederick; recording secretary, J. W. Monttrie; treasurer, J. B. Middleton.

Resolutions of thanks were tendered to the good people of Camden for their hospitality, and to the president and secretaries for faithful service.

Mrs. A. Gordon of the Camden Industrial Home, and Mrs. D. E. Bulkeley of Orangeburg, were present and favored the convention with short but timely addresses. The convention was a success and a blessing.

Gainesville, (Ga.) District Conference.

W. H. HARRIS.

The Gainesville District Conference held here Aug. 12-16, was a grand success, and showed the progress being made by the M. E. Church in Georgia, and especially in this part of the State. Rev. J. W. Fisher preached the introductory sermon, which was an able and instructive effort.

The business of the conference was expedited in a quiet and rapid manner, evincing the executive ability of Rev. M. M. Alston, Presiding Elder of the district, and showing that the men who composed this body were well informed in parliamentary usage. The reports all showed that the district was in a progressive condition and that all were working hard to further the cause of Christ.

Many able sermons and addresses were delivered during the session. The Rev. Nixon, Presiding Elder of the Elberton district of the M. E. Church South, was introduced to the conference and made an able, broad, and liberal address. In the course of his remarks, he said that the M. E. Church was the large ship and the other Methodist Churches were only small boats.

Friday night was given to Dr. Hickman, president of Clark University, and Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society. These gentlemen were greeted by a large and appreciative audience in the spacious hall of the Bowman Institute, the church being too small to accommodate the people.

To say these gentlemen did well would be a mild way of expressing a fact, plain to all present. Dr. Hickman succeeded admirably in making known the advantages held out by Clark University. Bro. Mason made an eloquent speech in defense of the M. E. Church and her institutions. Friday evening the conference was again made happy by the presence of Prof. T. A. Fortson of Clark University. The professor spoke on the education of our boys and girls, to the benefit and encouragement of many. Prof. Fortson is one of the conference favorites. On Sunday there was preaching at all of the churches in town, by the preachers of the conference. Among the many resolutions passed, was one compelling all local preachers to take the SOUTHWESTERN, and one expressing grief at the unexpected demise of our friend and benefactor Rev. E. H. Gammon. After tendering thanks to the Presiding Elder and secretaries for their work, and to the pastor, Rev. S. B. Buford, and the people of Elberton for kind entertainment, the conference adjourned to meet at Union Grove, near Social Circle, Ga.

The people of Elberton were highly pleased with the conference and extend them a hearty welcome to come back whenever they like.

A. J. PHILLIPS, P. E.

We shall soon be on the fourth round, and we shall soon close another year's work. We hope to see the reports of the brethren come up full on all lines. Make good reports. Do not neglect the financial part of your report. Try to bring up every dollar assessed your charge for every benevolent cause. Do not forget the dear old SOUTHWESTERN. Let every brother try to increase its circulation on every charge. Let us make the paper what it ought to be in point of circulation. Please have all the deeds of each charge at the fourth quarterly conference, that I may be able to see them and report intelligently at the Annual Conference.

For the cure of colds, coughs, and lung difficulties, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is unequalled.

John W. Fisher, Union Grove Cir., Ga.

My work is in the finest condition spiritually and temporally. This is my first year on this circuit. Our protracted meeting resulted in 52 conversions. I shall be able to carry up a first-class report to the annual conference. My fourth quarter was held Sept. 26, 27, by our beloved Presiding Elder M. M. Alston. The Elder's visit was a benediction to everybody. Rev. R. T. Adams, of Covington, was with us in our quarterly conference. The Elder preached one of his best sermons. Collection $35.70. The SOUTHWESTERN was not forgotten. A resolution has been passed in my stewards' and leaders' meeting that no brother shall hold office in Union Grove Church unless he takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I shall see that the resolution is carried out. May the SOUTHWESTERN live long to do much good.

L. J. S. Bell, Edwards, Miss.

Thursday night, Sept. 24, members of Kinsey Chapel M. E. Church and their friends, and also members of the Baptist Church, agreeably surprised the writer and his family with 75 lbs. of eatables. Then they all went to the church, where ice cream and other refreshments were served to the large number of friends who had come to honor the pastor and his family. Bro. Bell says: "Come again, and don't let it be too long before you come."

A. Gray, Lake Providence, La.

Our third quarterly conference was a grand one. The Presiding Elder, Rev. S. Priestley, came unexpected, just in the midst of a great revival. W. J. Cunningham, Conway, Ark.

Our protracted meetings resulted in 7 converts. All were baptized and joined the M. E. Church. We are also finishing up the second church built on this charge this year. I am doing all I can to raise all of the benevolent money. I have 100 en elopes for Self Denial Week distributed on the charge. I am also pushing the SOUTHWESTERN.

A. Butler, Waynesboro, Miss.

I have just closed a revival meeting which was a grand success. Young and old were happily converted, 50 were added to the church, and the good work still goes on. We received an old brother about 70 years old. Last Saturday and Sunday 33 were baptized.

D. F. Dudley, Garlandsville, Miss.

Third quarterly conference was held Sept. 18, Rev. J. M. Shum-pert presiding. Forty members and a large audience in attendance. Bro. Mason failed to come, but we had our protracted meeting and 21 joined the church. The Lord's Supper was administered to 123.

J. Jones, Anderson, Texas.

On the fourth Sunday in September we rallied and raised $50 to finish paying for Freiborough Chapel.

Simon Mitchell, St. Charles, La.

Sunday, Sept. 27, was our grand tribe rally, which resulted in the collection of the sum of $67.75. We have been blessed to witness in our midst the two former pastors of St. Charles, our well beloved father W. P. Forest of Thompson Chapel, New Orleans, and S. Evans of Camp Parapet, La. Also, Elder E. Baptist of St. John the Baptist, Wiley Jones and W. Gross of the Baptist Church of St. Charles, and C. Pierson of Plaquemine, La. We have on hand $160.75 cash ready to build a parsonage. Four conversions.

E. D. Hubbard, Pittsburg, Texas.

Our third quarterly conference convened Sept. 26, 27, Rev. Wade Hamilton presiding. He preached to a crowded house on Sunday, and administered the Lord's Supper to 65. Collection, $13.90 for benevolent purposes.

G. N. Matthews, Lutherville, Ga.

Elder N. S. Sterling held the quarterly meeting at Lutherville, Ga., Sept. 19. The church is prosperous, having had 45 accessions and 35 converts. 123 partook of the Lord's Supper.

Jacob Gay, Farmington, Tenn.

Fourth quarterly was held Sept. 29, Rev. J. P. Price. On the 30th Bro. Price preached an interesting farewell sermon, after which 60 partook of the Lord's Supper. Our new church is nearly finished and will cost $700.

T. J. Thompson, Claw, Ark.

Our third quarterly was held Sept. 5 by Elder A. J. Phillips and everything is prosperous. He preached on Sunday to a crowded house. Closed our revival and the Lord has blessed us with 60 converts.

G. J. Izard, Kendleton, Tex.

The Newman Chapel is nearing completion, and was dedicated Oct. 25. The members have wrought manfully and built this church at a cost of $1600 within 6 months. They have not neglected the pastor during this time, and on the 31 Saturday in Sept. they presented him with a handsome suit of clothes and new hat. The benevolent fund has not been overlooked and we feel proud of our work.

Rev. Wm. Bell, Thornton, Miss.

We gave a grand entertainment at Bee Lake on Oct. 2 and 3. Collection, $55.25. Organized one new church on the circuit, and have taken in 11 members.

A. A. Lacey, Slaughter, La.

We are closing a year of peace. Have nearly all our missionary money raised, and the Sunday school camp meeting was a success. The SOUTHWESTERN is doing a grand work among our people. It is a shining light in our homes.

J. Burton, Cotton Plant, Miss.

My revival closed with great success. Sixty-three joined the church.

R. A. Swan, Max Meadows, Va.

I came here last October and found 4 members. We have since bought a lot and built a new church 25x40. We have sixty Sunday school scholars. Gave two rallies during the year and realized $125.92. Our fourth quarterly was held on Sept. 20th, and our faithful Elder, G. T. Wright, was with us. We cannot get along without the SOUTHWESTERN. It has been said that there was no room here for the M. E. Church, but thank God our banner is unfurled.

Henry Dickson of Huntsville, Tex., circuit, seems to be having a good time on his charge. At his last quarterly he reported $105 raised, and the benevolences liberally met. He is coming up to the conference full-fledged. The SOUTHWESTERN was remembered with 3 subscribers.

H. B. Gladney, P. O., at Trim Cane, Miss., says times were never better on the Tampeco circuit. Ninety-three have been added to the church and 67 baptized.

son, P. O., recently had a picnic. $3.76 raised and a good time generally.

Bro. John H. Coppage is in the midst of a revival at Lawrenceburg, Tenn. Sixty-one converts; 40 have joined, and 26 mourners still pleading. We like such reports as that. Short, but full of interest.

Elder W. H. Logan held the fourth quarterly conference at Miliken, Tex., Oct. 3rd and 4th. He preached two splendid sermons that gladdened the hearts of the congregation.

Books and Current Literature.

Baptismal Remission, or the Design of Christian Baptism, by Rev. G. W. Hughey, A. M., D. D., the enlargement of an able sermon on the subject, before a district conference in Missouri, is the best exposition of the subject that has ever come to our notice. It demolishes the unscriptural absurdity of baptismal regeneration, and gives in the most graphic style the scriptural design of Christian baptism. Its wide circulation would be of incalculable advantage in all our Southern work. Price, 60c. Cincinnati, Cranston & Stowe; New York, Hunt & Eaton.

James Strong, S. T. D., LL. D., has contributed several able works upon the several doctrines of Christianity, but in no instance has he displayed such scholarship and ability as in his recent volume on The Doctrine of a Future Life. The doctrine is sustained from a scriptural, philosophical and scientific point of view, including especially a discussion of immortality, the intermediate state, the resurrection and final retribution. Price, 60c. New York, Hunt & Eaton; Cincinnati, Cranston & Stowe.

Children of the Church, by the Rev. B. F. Baazell, D. D., is a splendid brochure, which will be found very helpful for the instruction of the baptized children of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in families and children classes. It is neatly gotten up in the size and style of our regular church catechism. Cincinnati, Cranston & Stowe; New York, Hunt & Eaton.

False God's and Sabbath Desecration, is the title of an excellent sermon by Rev. James A. Johnson, preached in the M. E. Church at Lacon, Ill. Single copies, 5 cents. Ten copies, 35 cents. Fifty copies, $1. Rev. J. A. Johnson, Lacon, Ill.

The Friendly Five, by Mrs. Mary O. Hufferford, illustrated. Cloth. 12 mo. Price, by mail, post-paid, 90 cents. A girl's juvenile. The scene is a select boarding-school and the heroine is a very plain mountain girl, who, by a peculiar circumstance, has come into the school, and who proves her right to be there by a neat bit of shrewd and brave detective work. Hunt & Eaton, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York. Cranston & Stowe, 190 West Fourth Street, Cincinnati.

Among other articles of interest to be noted in the November Lipincotts are: Some Colonial Love Letters, by Anne H. Poems are contributed by Clinton Scollard, Barton Hill, Harrison S. Morris, and others.

The Review of Reviews for October, 1891, contains an excellent group of articles. These articles are written appropos of the decennial meeting of the Methodists of the world in Ecumenical Conference at Washington. The account of the Conference and its programmes is given by the American Editor. An essay on the progress of Methodism and its value as a factor in the unification of the English speaking race is furnished by Mr. W. T. Stead, English editor of The Review of Reviews. This is followed by a brilliant and extended character sketch of the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, M. A., of London, who is, perhaps, the most conspicuous delegate from the ranks of British Methodism to the Washington Conference. A full account is given of Mr. Hughes' remarkable work and its methods in London, and the sketch is a most timely contribution to current religious thought and history. These articles are illustrated with portraits showing the faces of more than fifty prominent Methodists, including the bishops of the Northern and Southern branches of American Methodism, the editors of prominent Methodist papers, and a number of the most prominent of the British delegates, including Mr. Hugh Price Hughes, Rev. Dr. Stephenson, and various others. The Review of Reviews is published simultaneously in London and at 13 Astor Place, New York.

Praise Ye the Lord! Sing the Doxology.

BY C. C. McCABE.

When the Treasurer's monthly statement was read at the meeting of the Missionary Board on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 20, and a supplementary report was made of the receipts for the current month up to date, it was found that the Missionary Society was free from debt; all appropriations of the General Committee, all outstanding drafts by the Secretaries for work in foreign lands provided for, and money in the treasury.

Dr. Crawford proposed that we sing the Doxology. It was done devoutly and gratefully. What a burden has fallen from us! What a millstone is loosed from our neck! The Lord has been with us.

Now, let us all conspire to keep out of debt forever. This hour of prosperity is, however our hour of peril. The pressure upon us from all our Foreign Missions is very strong for very largely increased appropriations. Some of them have been unwise enough to ask for eighty per cent. advance for 1892. We must cut them off rigorously, relentlessly, sorrowfully, and then a wail will again go through the church: "The general Committee is cutting us down; the Senior Secretary is opposed to Foreign Missions." Nevertheless we propose the following toast in this feast of love: "Twelve hundred and fifty thousand dollars for 1892 by collections only, and no more debt on the Missionary Society till millennium."

When the General Conferencee wants the opposite policy adopted the way is easy, for nothing is easier than spending other people's money. All the comment I would make upon it would be the words of Abraham Lincoln when the woman read him an original poem: "For them as like that sort of thing I should think 'twas the sort of thing they'd like."

But that General Conference or General Committee that honestly desires to carry out the wishes of the people will sterily refuse to hang the mill-stone of debt about the neck of the Missionary Society again.

General Church News.

All the inhabitants of Bethlehem, the town of the nativity, are now said to be Christians.

In the English mission to British Guiana there are 3,000 Christians among the Accowio tribe of Indians.

Twenty five years ago there were no professing Christians in the Chinese province of Shantung; now there are 300 places where Christians meet regularly on the Sabbath.

At Ningpo, China, Rev. Mr. Suthill, Wesleyan, recently baptized 100 persons, and received 500 on probation. Ningpo is not far from Shanghai, and our missionaries anticipate similar results at that place.

Christians should not forget that their first great work is carrying the gospel to sinful men. They ought never to lose sight of this fact, nor turn aside for anything. Other lines of work are inviting and interesting, but this must be the first great work.

Robert Morrison went to China in 1807, and died after twenty-seven years of labor in 1834. At his death there were only four converts and four Protestant missionaries in the whole Empire. Now we find Morrison's converts replaced by a host numbering 35,000 church members, who last year gave $44,000 for the spread of the Gospel in their own land.

General News Items.

Very few people are aware that Talleyrand was a resident of Brooklyn for several years. His headquarters, in 1794, was on Fulton street, about a block from the ferry.

W. H. Vanderbilt remained on his father's farm until he was thirty years old, when the Commodore put him in training for a railroad career.

Andrew Carnegie began life at the trade of an engineer. Then he drifted into telegraphy.

Finally, everybody knows that the foundation for the Astor affluence was laid by a fur peddler; that the Vanderbilt millions have their origin in a vegetable garden and a country tavern; and that J. D. Rockefeller, whose wealth exceeds $100,000,000, a few years ago kept a small grocery in Cleveland.

Meeting of the Educational Commission.

The Education Commission, authorized by the last General Conference and appointed by the bishops to consider the subject of reorganizing the educational work of the church so as to give it more of unity, breadth and effectiveness, and to report a plan for the same to the next General Conference to meet in Washington, D. C. Oct. 6.

The delegates appointed were as follows:

From the General Conference Districts, Principal George M. Steele, Professor Wm. Wells, Professor John R. French, President D. H. Wheeler, Professor Wm. G. Williams, President J. F. Goncher, President Alexander Martin, President H. W. Rogers, President George H. Bridgman, Hon. John Evans, Rev. Dr. D. W. Hays, At-large, Secretary C. H. Payne, Secretary J. C. Hartzell, Secretary J. H. Reid. Bishop H. W. Warren was appointed president of the commission.

It was the decided opinion of the commission that the time had fully come when an advanced step should be taken and our educational work should be strengthened by being systematized and brought to a closer federation with a more direct and helpful connectional supervision.

A plan was outlined and agreed upon which it is believed will aid in promoting this most important department of church work and help to place our institutions of learning on a better footing. A sub-committee was appointed to formulate the proper legislation necessary for the whole educational work; this committee will meet in Cleveland November 11, and an adjourned meeting of the whole commission will be held in Omaha at the opening of the General Conference session.

Second Ecumenical Methodist Conference, Washington, D. C.

A Call to Prayer.

Believing that the great need of the Church of Christ is a plentiful baptism of the Holy Spirit; that such a baptism would give energy and efficacy to all our agencies and organizations, and that without it all our efforts must fail of their one high purpose—the salvation of men; believing, moreover, that such a baptism may certainly be secured by those who will humbly and diligently wait upon God for it in persistent and faithful prayer, we earnestly and affectionately invite the ministers and members of the Methodist churches to devote the week commencing on Sunday, November 15, so special supplication for the outpouring of the Holy Ghost. We earnestly beg that such prayers be offered in private, in the family, in day and Sunday schools, and in such social or public services as may be arranged by the authorities of the several churches.

T. Bowman Stephenson, vice president of the Wesleyan Methodist Church; J. Woods Ballard, vice president of the Irish Methodist Church; Henry T. Marshall, president of the Methodist New Connexion; Joseph H. Ferguson, president of the Primitive Methodist Church; Frederick W. Bourne, president of the Bible Christian Church; M. T. Myers, president of the United Methodist Free Churches; Thomas Bromage, president of the Wesleyan Reform Union; Bishop Thomas Bowman, Methodist Episcopal Church; Bishop A. W. Wayman, African Methodist Episcopal Church; Bishop J. J. Moore, African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church; Bishop J. C. Keener, Methodist Episcopal Church, South; Genl Supt. A. Carman, Methodist Church, Canada; Bishop W. H. Miles, Colored Methodist Episcopal Church.

WHATEVER else may be said of Bishop H. M. Turner, he has a way of impressing his views upon the nation in a way that is certainly very pronounced and emphatic. Not long since he spoke to a large congregation of colored people in Boston, Mass., in which he advocated the emigration of 100,000 or 150,000 colored people from this country to Africa.

His observation, he said, had taught him that there was little hope for the colored race in this country; that the best thing a number of them could do was to get some other country, set up a government of their own and demonstrate that they had in them native ability to administer the affairs of State.

In Africa he saw such a country. It was rich in gold, silver, precious stones and minerals of all descriptions, and with such a people starting to govern themselves would need to make them strong and mighty. He solemnly believed that the black men and women in America would finally be the instrument to redeem and Christianize Africa and plant on her soil one of the greatest governments on which the sun ever shone. A few weeks ago, in a conversation he had with President Harrison, the latter wondered why the colored people took so little interest in the subject. The bishop stated that in his talk with the President on the subject he suggested an appropriation by Congress to purchase a tract of land in Africa and the appointment of a commission of twelve, seven colored and five white to carry on the negotiations.

Political Review.

While we go to press (Tuesday) the flakes that execute the free-man's will are falling in the ballot boxes of New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Iowa, and one or two other States. We will give the result next week. The indications, however, point to great Republican gains everywhere.

Since the great lottery parade in this city last week, Tuesday night, the antis have made enormous gains. It made them more enthusiastic and determined for their cause to contemplate the possibility of the State and city government falling into the hands of such a crowd.

The Democratic primary election comes off on the 10th, when it will be seen which faction, pro or anti, will be put in command.

Is it not about time the Republicans were taking a hand in this fight—not the Democratic faction fight, but in the struggle for the honor of the State? Opposition to the lottery is a main-brace in its present stricture, and the party should now make no delay in expressing itself. It is not invited and does not want to join with the Democrats in their fight, its dignity would not admit of that, but the time has come when it should thoroughly arouse and organize its forces on the anti lottery line.

North Carolina Conference.

The recent session of the North Carolina Conference was without doubt its best session. Conversions were reported by the hundreds; one district alone, that of Rev. E. M. Collett, reported over 700 conversions. Many new churches and Sunday schools, and much improvements generally.

Bishop Warren presided, to the joy of all the brethren, and made lasting impressions. Dr. O. N. Grandison was unanimously re-elected secretary, and delegate to the next General Conference.

They followed Dr. Grandison in its vote in favor of the admission of women to the General Conference, by a vote that was practically unanimous.

Drs. C. H. Payue, of the Board of Education, Gray of the Freedmen's Aid, Spencer of the Ohio Extension, and Albert of the SOUTHWESTERN, were among the welcomed visitors.

The Conference pledged unanimous support to the SOUTHWESTERN.

Shorter Time to New York.

City Church Notes.

Mrs. Eliza Gant, matron of the Old Folks' Home, returns sincere thanks to the members of Mt. Zion M. E. Church who surprised the Old Folks' Home on south Rampart between Seventh and Eighth streets last Friday night with many pounds of assorted groceries: sugar, coffee, tea, meat, grits, flour, lard, salt, etc.

The grand financial rally at Williams Chapel for rebuilding their church October 11, resulted in the collection of $773.60. Company A. Mrs. C. Matthews captain, collected $132; B. Mrs. L. Parker captain, $103.25; C. Mrs. R. Fisher captain, $119.55; D. Mrs. D. C. Mead captain, $129; E. Mrs. Nellie Sanlbury captain, $82.95; F. Mrs. V. Haymon captain, $17.80; G. Miss A. Messiah captain, $76.20; H. Mrs. F. Bostick captain, $83. Friends, $30. Rev. Henry Taylor, pastor, is happy over this victory and the liberality of his good people.

A generous donation. Mayor Shakespeare recently received a check for $10,000 from Mrs. C. B. Surget, a philanthropic lady of Bordeaux, France, with the request that it be distributed among the charitable institutions of this city. The same was distributed to several charitable institutions in this city, both Roman Catholic and Protestant. Of this amount our Old Folks Home, corner of Eighth and St. Dennis streets, received $500; for which the thanks of our people are hereby tendered.

Wesley Chapel, Rev. F. T. Chinn, pastor, which has been undergoing extensive remodeling and repairs, is now nearly completed. The cornerstone laying on Monday, Oct. 26, was a grand affair, and but for its tragical termination would have been the most creditable held on a weekday in this city. As it was, Mr. Meine, editor of a scurrilous sheet, The Ferret, ended the services in a panic, by his dastardly firing four pistol shots at an antagonist, whom he had "written up" in his paper, and from whom he expected an attack. The shot flew widely off their marks, and wounded four persons, three men and a child, not at all concerned in the difficulty. It is to be hoped that an example will be made, in this case, such as will forever deter all such as make it a point to come to such places and such occasions to settle their differences, by firing into each other, from ever repeating such a scene. It is a monstrous shame that our people can never assemble in large crowds without having their meeting thus broken up by such murderous behavior on the part of some of our young people. It was fortunate however that no one was really killed or dangerously wounded; and that the disturbance took place after nearly all the exercises had been concluded. Nearly all our city pastors and Elder Williams and Dr. Albert were present and took part in the services. The sermon by Rev. J. W. Hindson was masterly. The Grand Lodge of Masons and Patriarchs and several benevolent societies took part in the services. The crowd was immense.

Personal.

—Prof. A. W. McKinney of Huntsville Academy lectured in New Bern, Ala., on the 22d and greatly pleased his audience.

—On Oct. 2, fire was discovered in Rev. H. B. Moore's desk, in his residence at Gainesville, Texas. He lost a number of valuable books before the fire was extinguished.

—At Tallahoma, Tenn., Oct. 2, a colored boy was arrested and put in jail. During the night the white caps took him out and hung him. Great indignation is aroused among all citizens. The colored people have offered $100, the town $600, and the Governor $600 as a reward for the arrest of the perpetrators of this outrage.

—Christian people of all names and lands will rejoice to learn that the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, the great London preacher, is so far recovered as to leave Mentone for the south of France.

—Our venerable friend Rev. W. D. Godman, D.D., of Gilbert Seminary, Winsted, La., mourns the death of his aged father. His death occurred while the editor was absent, hence no notice has been published of the same. We extend to the doctor our heartfelt sympathy. We hope next week to furnish our readers an obituary notice of Gen. Godman, the deceased father of Dr. Godman.

—Mr. Wiley Holmes, of Pass Christian, Miss., on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Rev. W. S. Harris, called last week.

—Mrs. E. Bridgett, Poland, La., informs us that her husband, Rev. J. H. Bridgett, is very sick, and that his recovery is very uncertain. We hope he will survive his present illness.

—Rev. Stephen Priestley of the Monroe district, is home on a short visit. He expects to start out on his fourth round in a few days. He brings cheering news from his district.

—Rev. J. F. Marshall, of the Baton Rouge district has every Sabbath engaged for work on his district until conference. He comes in and out during the week and reports gratifying results from every point.

—Rev. Ernest Lyon, A.M., Sunday School Agent has returned from an extended tour in North Louisiana, and reports progress in his work. His Sunday school convention in Mansfield, was a grand success.

—Bishop Mallalien's tireless activity may be in a manner appreciated by the following from Rev. J. C. Gowan, of the Southern California Conference, over which the bishop recently presided: "Bishop Mallalieu went to Santa Barbara as soon as the conference closed, and preached Tuesday evening. Next day he dedicated the Methodist Church in Peru. Thursday he laid the corner stone of a new church at Ventura. Friday he was at Pasadena. Saturday and Sunday he was in San Diego, preaching twice. Monday he was in Riverside, planning for a new church; and Tuesday he was on his way to Flagstaff to preside over the Mission Conference."

—Rev. O. H. Tiffany, D. D., for many years one of the most distinguished of Methodist pastors and eloquent preachers, died at Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24. Zion's Herald truly says: "He was the preacher for great occasions, and rarely disappointed the most sanguine expectations. He died as pastor of Hennepin Ave. Church, Minneapolis. He was born in Baltimore, Md., July 3, 1825. A graduate of Dickinson College, he first joined the Baltimore Conference. He has served the most important churches in the connection at Baltimore, Washington, New York and Philadelphia. He leaves a wife, two daughters and one son."

As we go to press we learn that Bishop Mallalien will hold the Louisiana Conference. We will publish episcopal plan of visit for spring conferences next week.

When an opportunity comes your way, don't grease your fingers and let it slip through them.—Richmond Recorder.

A man gets too old for a great many things, but the ability to make a fool of himself is never outgrown.—St. Joseph News.

When he contemplates the undertakers' bills a man realizes that he saves a good deal every year of his life.—Binghamton Leader.

Do not wait until you are attacked with Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, or any relaxed condition of the bowels, but have Maguire's Bismarck constantly on hand to meet the emergency. Price 75 cents per bottle. Expressage paid if 5 bottles are ordered. J. & C. MAGUIRE, St. Louis, Mo.

DAILY BREAD.

He who has Christ for his Leader and Captain may follow him with confidence, courage and comfort.

Apostles never wasted a moment on a gospel of patchwork. Their twofold text was, "Turn to the Lord," which meant repentance, and "Cleave to the Lord," which meant a life of faith and holiness.

"He cites from every authority except from Almighty God," was the terse comment of a listener to a sermon which had bristled with quotations from Huxley, Shakespeare, Renan and other lights of literature.

It is glorious work to preach for souls. No throne ever built for a man comes near the dignity of the pulpit which proclaims Christ and the great salvation, and that pulpit is best filled which helps most to fill heaven.

The pastor who allows slight difficulties to change his schedule will find himself sidetracked so often that he will never reach success. Follow your program in all cases except where invincible obstacles arise. Invincible obstacles seldom arise to thwart an earnest man.

Morality is a good thing, and a moral man is far more admirable than an immoral man; but morality alone can not save. Christ says, "Ye must be born again."—Exchange.

Love cannot be hid any more than light, and least of all when it shines forth in action, when ye exercise yourselves in the labor of love, in the beneficence of every kind.—John Wesley.

It is a great thing to love Christ so dearly as to be "ready to be bound and to die" for him, but it is often a thing not less great to be ready to take up our daily cross and to live for him.—John Caird.

It is self-absorption that carves wrinkles in the face and streaks the hair with gray. Kindly thought and labor for others dependent and beloved—the living out of and not in the petty round of personal interests—keep heart and energies fresh.

Success is the world's criterion of merit; Fidelity is God's. The reward of being "faithful over a few things" is just the same as being "faithful over many things;" for the emphasis falls upon the same word—it is the "faithful" who will enter into "the joy of the Lord."

In a sermon of Bishop Foss, he says: "Some say, 'I really feel as if my heart-strings would break.' Well, who made your heart-strings? Does He who made the instrument not know how much tension it will bear? Why, He is, in fact, tuning it to concert pitch!"

Christ always sails in the ship of prayer; he steers safely; he sees the hidden rocks and secret shoals, and needs no star or compass. He fills the sails of the Church's ship with prosperous gales, to bring her into safety. He turns calms into storms, to obey his Church's cry; and raises the waves of the sea, so that saints are glad because of a storm to bring them to a calm haven. Oh, happy storms that drive a saint to heaven! Oh, happy heaven that enjoys a perpetual and everlasting calm.—Lee.

Would people who take the back seats in prayer meeting feel at home near the throne in heaven? If God is good why should any body be ashamed to have it known that they love him? Did you ever know any body who repented on a sick bed who didn't backslide when they began to get better? If God, angels and good men are all anxious about the salvation of your soul, isn't it about time you were becoming anxious yourself.—Selected.

Rules For Church Goers.

Come.
Come early.
Take a front seat.
Bring somebody else.
Do not start a discussion.
Make the stranger welcome.
Talk the meeting up and not down.

If the meeting drags, do not you drag; make it snap somehow.
Do not think of that engagement to-morrow. Too much world in your heart will act like water on a fire.

Look just as pleasant as you can. It is contagious. Remember that it is God's service and not the human being service.

Sing. Suppose you do not know one note from another, you will feel better for having tried, and it will encourage others.

Finally, take home that part of the meeting that hit you the hardest and think it over. Do not pass it over your shoulder to the one back of you.—Selected.

Schools and Colleges.

Rust University, Holly Springs, Miss.

Opened September 29, with twice the number of students as a year ago.

The new Rust Hall, in process of erection, is giving an added inspiration to this already popular institution of the South.

Four years ago next March was a trying time for the university, and there were many sad hearts, when Rust Hall, a pride of the school, was seen rapidly melting away in the all-devouring flame. It has been a marvel how the school has been held together since then; but so it has, and that without the loss of interest on the part of its patrons. Had there been a waning of interest, there is now abundant reason not only that that waning should cease, but that new interest should be awakened like the looker-on beholds the massive walls and broadened dimensions of new Rust Hall, as it rapidly rises story after story, until there shall be brought forth "the headstone thereof with shoutings, crying, grace, grace unto it."

While old Rust Hall was a magnificent building, much more so will be the new; especially when it shall be taken into consideration its enlarged capacity and more modern improvements and appliances for the convenience, comfort, and safety of all who may occupy it. Its recitation, assembly and normal department rooms, dining room, kitchen, dormitories, and chapel with seating capacity of twelve hundred, its steam heating apparatus for heating the whole building, are worthy of mention.

"Beautiful for situation," is Rust University, "on the sides of the north." Its line of buildings, Industrial Hall, McDonald Hall, new Rust Hall, and Elizabeth L. Rust Home for girls, crown the summit of this highest land in Mississippi. Fronting which are the many acres of campus carefully kept, over whose grassy Southern slope are scattered here and there the stately oak. A thing of beauty do all these appear from the city which they overlook. As necessary as are all the attractive features that might be placed upon and around an institution like this, were all that could be said of it, it might find no place in the heart of any one desirous of the intellectual and moral improvement that would naturally be expected, especially from a higher institution of learning. How is it with Rust University in regard to the more important particulars to which we are now referring?

The grade of scholarship demanded for matriculation exceeds that of most schools in the South. Students lower than a grade of the fourth English have not been received. While this may have had the effect to considerably lessen the numbers that might otherwise have been in attendance, it has given the university an opportunity to attend to the work of education in higher English and the languages. Completing the English course, which embraces the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, the student is permitted at once to enter upon the normal course of four years instruction—a magnificent course to fit for teaching,—or college preparatory, a three years course, to be followed by a regular college course of four years, either classical or scientific. That these courses have been well carried out in the past is proven by the scores who have graduated from the various departments of this institution, and, as lawyers, physicians, preachers, or teachers, have gone out doing grand work towards the uplifting of the race. And that the same or better results may still be reached, we have but to refer to the able corps of teachers who now fill the various chairs. Special mention is to be made of the worthy president of Rust, who has so ably and wisely conducted its affairs, that, under some of its trying times, it has not ceased to advance, and besides, has received the support and gained the respect of all, both colored and white, who have known of this institution.

Graduates who are proud of their Alma Mater because of what she has done in the past, will have greater occasion to be proud of her for what she will do in years to come.

Besides the literary work accomplished, the industrial is by no means forgotten. Competent instructors are found in their places to teach carpentry, printing, shoemaking, farming, sewing and house-keeping.

The following are the various departments of Rust University: College, College Preparatory, Normal, English, Commercial, Musical, Nurse Training, and Industrial; and the following are the instructors for the same: Rev. C. E. Libby, S.T.D., president and professor of Mental and Moral Sciences; Rev. D. W. Byrd, A.B., professor of Ancient Languages; Rev. L. D. Bragg, A.M., B.D., professor of Mathematics; Cora F. Murphy, preceptress and professor of History, Literature, and French; Rev. D. H. Sawyer, A.M., principal of Normal Department; Eliza Robinson, assistant in Normal Department; Sarah J. Bragg, M.L.A., assistant in History and Literature; E. H. McKissack, principal of Commercial Department; Juliet Caldwell, M.D., instructor in Nurse Training; Mand Kellar, principal of Musical Department; L. D. Bragg, Librarian; W. L. J. Jones, instructor in Carpentry; T. A. Green, instructor in Printing; J. C. McGee, instructor in Agriculture; J. M. Mulvany, instructor in Shoemaking; Sarah C. Libby, instructor in Needlework; Sophia L. Johnston, superintendent of Elizabeth L. Rust Girls' Industrial Home; Ida M. Gibson, instructor in Millinery and Dressmaking, and principal of Art Department.

Wiley University, Marshall, Texas.

Wiley University has just received from Rev. Mr. Stover, through his agent J. L. Langdon, Muskotah, Kan., a very fine library containing nearly 500 books, and the best books in print. They will furnish unlimited advantage to all students who may come to Wiley. If God would raise up some friend who would build a monument for himself or herself that will give them a start on the new building, a thing that is so much needed it would be one of the grandest monuments that a Christian man or woman could desire.

They expect this year the largest enrollment that Wiley has ever had. So says a note from President P. A. Cool.

Our school opened with our new president and a host of students, Saturday, Oct. 10. On the call of our worthy professor, Henry B. Pemberton, an Epworth League was organized in Wiley University.

Officers were elected as follows: Prof. H. B. Pemberton, president; Mr. Walton Brown, vice president; Miss Roberta L. Allen, secretary. The league was named Whittaker Epworth League, in honor of our ex-president's wife Harriet Whittaker.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces painful lumps or swellings, which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the ears, nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, a sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Kauright, N. J.

Dear Brethren: As we have begun another year's labor for the Lord and the Church, let each pastor push his benevolent collections in the first part of the year. You must remember that the Tennessee Conference pledged itself to raise $1000 for Central Tennessee College. Let the West Tennessee District raise $250 of that amount, which we can do. Don't forget the "Southwestern." Let every pastor put a copy in every family on his charge, and it will aid him in his work.

Notice.
To the pastors of the Central Alabama Conference: As soon as your fourth quarterly conference has elected the lay delegate from your charge to the Annual Conference, send his and your name to me, that I may the more readily notify you of the place you may stop at during the session of the Conference.
J. R. TODD.

"There is a good deal of sarcasm in that," remarked a man suffering from ague, as the druggist handed him a bottle of medicine labeled "Shake before taking."

The brusque and fussy impulse of these days of false impression would rate down all as worthless because one is unworthy. As if there were no motes in sunbeams! Or comets among stars! Or cataracts in peaceful rivers!

Because one remedy professes to do what it never was adapted to do, are all remedies worthless?

Because one doctor lets his patient die, are all humbugs? It requires a fine eye and a finer brain to discriminate—to draw the differential line. "They say" that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have cured thousands.

"They say" for a weak system there's nothing better than the "Discovery," and that the "Favorite Prescription" is the hope of debilitated, feeble women who need a restorative tonic and bracing nerve.

And here's the proof—Try one or both. If they don't help you, tell the World's Dispensary Medical Association so, and you get your money back again.

A LONGING.

Oh, for the light of those eyes,
So tender and blue;
Oh, for the love of that heart,
So warm and so true.

Oh, for the sound of that voice,
So soft and so low;
Oh, for the blush of those cheeks,
Like roses that glow.

Oh, for the touch of that hand,
So small and so white;
Oh, for a kiss from those lips
That thrill with delight.

Oh, for a word from that mouth,
As pure as the snow,
Oh, for one tear, for one smile,
From her, ere I go!

Buttermilk for Freckles.

There is nothing that equals fresh buttermilk for removing tan, freckles, sunburn or moth spots, says The Ladies' Home Journal. It has the great advantage that it does not injure the skin, but renders it soft, like a little child's. Take a soft cloth or sponge and bathe the face, neck and arms thoroughly with buttermilk before retiring for the night; then wipe off the drops lightly. In the morning wash it thoroughly and wipe dry with a crash towel. Two or three such baths will take off all the tan and freckles. It will keep the hands soft and smooth.

How to Wash Colored Dresses.

Nothing spoils colored fabrics so much as to begin them and let them remain waiting for a convenient season to be finished. After being once wetted they should be rinsed and dried as quickly as possible, otherwise the colors will run. Everything that is hot should be avoided also. They should not be washed in hot water; they should never be boiled; they should never be dipped into hot starch; they should not be ironed with a hot iron, and they should be hung to dry, not in the sun, but in the shade. A cloudy day when there is a slight breeze, is the best day of a day for drying colored goods. Soda and all chemical washing compounds should scrupulously be avoided. Soap must not be rubbed on them. Wash quickly in two soapy waters, and rinse in clear, cold water. Colored dresses should always be hung to dry with the inside outwards. Salt, alum, ammonia and ox gall may be used to "set" the color; but with good materials carefully washed in this manner no such aid is necessary.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

I like a new hat. I am still enough of a girl for that, and I like to see the girls in their pretty new hats; but I want to say this to them: Don't get a hat that is too fine for your frocks. Don't spend all your money in elaborate laces and plumes and jets, when a simple little turban, made of cloth like your frock, or a black felt trimmed in shape to your face, and trimmed with a wing or two, or some loops of ribbon, will not only be becoming, but will stand the winter's wear, and, by being brushed often, look almost as good as new.—Mrs. Mallon, in The Ladies Home Journal.

Have large, strong bags to put the dirty clothes in as you take them off. The bags should be of substantial brown linen or ticking, with a string of strong tape sewed to the side seam, a little below the hem at the top. If the clothes are left lying loose in the bottom of the closet, they may be injured by mice or roaches.

Strawberry, Raspberry and Pineapple Water-Ice.—Sweeten the water, put it into the freezing can, then mash and stir the berries or grate the pineapple, press the juice out through muslin, add to the water in the can, sweeten again to taste, and freeze; allow a quart and a half of berries to each quart of water, and a large pineapple to two quarts.—St. Louis Republic.

Our Symposium.

Home Life in Jail.

Meeting in a county prison a physician sentenced for two years for malpractice, the writer was as founded with this conversation. The prisoner was a man who had been noted for his enjoyment of the luxuries of existence. He said: "It is a great mistake you fellows make in thinking you are inflicting punishment when you send men here. I have been here a year, and can truly say I have enjoyed it so much that I shall not feel sorry if my pardon is not obtained. You see, it has been vacation, with just enough to do to amuse me. The novels in the prison library are entertaining, and I am very fond of dominoes and checkers, and find some first-rate players among them. Now it strikes me in this way, you have been accustomed to every luxury, how must it be to the poor devils who never have a square meal outside! Do you wonder that they flock by hundreds and thousands to the jails in winter! My only surprise is that you can keep any of them out at all."—William P. Andrews in the October Forum.

"They Say."

In dealing with rumors, the following rules may be of value:

1. Hold in suspense all rumors, especially evil ones, until traced to their origin or proved by sufficient evidence.
2. Don't spread a rumor unless you know it to be true, and not then, unless by so doing some good will be accomplished, or at least no harm will be done. Some one has suggested that a rumor be put through three sieves: First, is it true? second, is it kind? and thirdly, will it do any good to tell it?
3. Spread good news far and wide, as you would the sunshine.
4. Always believe the best, and discount all evil reports. Don't be a pessimist or a croaker.
5. Don't run after rumors, and especially in times of excitement, or you may find time for little else.
6. Don't worry about personal rumors, the truth will be known in time, and character counts in the long run.—Evangelist.

Let Negro preachers preach less of the "mysteries of the Kingdom," and discourse upon the duty of a man and the possibilities of existing more. Stop teaching our people to prepare for death by neglecting life.—Meridian, Miss. Fairplay.

IT PAYS

To be cautious in the choice of medicines. Many are injured by trying experiments with compounds purporting to be blood-purifiers, the principal recommendation of which would seem to be their "cheapness." Being made up of worthless, though not always harmless, ingredients, they may well be "cheap," but, in the end, they are dear. The most reliable medicines are costly, and can be retailed at moderate prices, only when the manufacturing chemist handles the raw materials in large quantities. It is economy, therefore,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable components of which are imported, wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where these articles are richest in medicinal properties. "It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consulted their own interest, they would never use any other; for it is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most economical."—James F. Duffy, Druggist, Washington St., Providence, R. I.

Our Children's Legion.

For Our Boys and Girls.

BY UNCLE CEPHAS.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 11 years old. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. My teacher is Prof. Hardy. He is a good teacher. Mamma belongs to the M. E. Church. Our pastor is Rev. J. K. Loggins. Our Sunday school is getting along nicely; we have a nice lesson every Sunday. Rev. Thos. Cole was our pastor last year, and was loved by all; we miss him very much. Mamma takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I delight in reading the children's letters.

Your Niece,

Houston, Tex.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am not a member of the church but desire to be one. Mamma is a member of the M. E. Church. I go to every day school. My teacher is Mr. A. D. Geren. We all like him very much. Mamma takes the dear old SOUTHWESTERN, and I delight in reading it.

Your Niece,

Lexington, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I will be 11 years old Dec. 20th. I go to school and to Sunday school. Cousin Pinkie Coleman is our superintendant, and Sister Anna Edwards is my teacher. Papa and mamma are members of the church, and we all read the good old SOUTHWESTERN.

Your Niece,

French Camp, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am 3 years old, and have been to Sunday school 3 times. Sister takes the SOUTHWESTERN. I cannot read yet, but will learn.

Your Niece,

Ocean Springs, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am nine years old, and have five sisters. Three of us belong to the church. Father and mother belong to the church. We take the SOUTHWESTERN, and are delighted when it comes. My studies are fourth reader, geography, arithmetic and Swinton's word book. Mother is superintendent of Sunday school.

Your Niece,

Lucretia L. Russell.

I had catarrh of the head and throat for 4 or 5 years. I used Elys Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

The proprietors of Elys's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, it is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Tuck, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 139 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it, and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

Editorial Notes.

Man is his own star, and the soul that can Render an honest and a perfect man Commands all light, all influence, all fate;
Nothing to him falls too early or too late.
Our acts our angels are, or good or ill,
Our natal shadows that walk by us still.

—John Fletcher.

THE new Edison Electric Motor, superior to anything now extant for the propulsion of city street cars, is about to be utilized on the Carrollton Railway in this city.

W. R. MORROW, Littig, Texas, contributes to our column an article on "Books and Reading," in which he gives valuable suggestions which we would have been glad to have given to our readers, but for the length and the crowded condition of our columns.

THE Chilean complications continue to disturb the relations of the United States to that country, and no solution has yet been reached. It is to be hoped however that the Chilean government will readily see the justice of the claims of our government, and pay the indemnity called for, in satisfaction of the massacre of our seamen by the police and others in the streets of Valparaiso.

THE joint anniversary of the Sunday School Union and of the Tract Society, will be held in Kansas City, Mo., from Friday, November 20th, to Monday, November 23rd. The speakers will be the Rev. J. M. D., editor of the Epworth Herald; the Rev. J. C. Davison, of Japan; Dr. J. M. Free man, and Dr. J. C. W. Cox.

A GLANCE over the spring plan of episcopal visitations exhibits the fact that Bishops Foster, Nide, Merrill, Hurst, Newman, Vincent, Walden and Mallalien, are to hold our Southern conferences. They have all, at one time or another, most strikingly manifested their deep interest in our work in this section, and our people look forward with joyful anticipation to the pleasure of having them to preside over the next session of their conferences. This is especially true of Bishop Mallalien, whose residence among us during the past two quadrenniums has been such a source of grand and glorious results. In the name of all our people we most cordially and heartily welcome them.

Echoes From the Ecumenical Conference.

In the course of this address on "Christian work in Agricultural Districts," after treating in a masterly manner our work among both races in the South; made this telling remark in reference to organic union:

He said he was glad that the Methodist were coming together in Canada, but he thought it would be better if they would now unite the whites and blacks in Canada in one Methodism, and they would lead the world in the matter of union. He recommended a return to the circuit system, and a more generalization of the laymen. The triumphant test of Christianity would be to reach the last man on the outer rim of the world.

Bishop Foss regarded the question of amusements as being appropriate among the great topics of the conference. He recognized the need of amusements, cordially approved them when harmless and noninjurious, condemned demoralizing amusements, believed in the utilization of home as the world's great pleasure garden, and in the leading of Christian men and women into such religious activity as to occupy their minds, and so polarize their hearts against debasing amusements. He favored the Christian standard based on the New Testament, which allowed large personal liberty, and at the same time enjoined certain things, including a surrendering of personal liberty for the general good. Finally, he inveighed against those diversions which could not be enjoyed in the name of Christ.

Bishop Hurst's address of welcome and of farewell to the Ecumenical Conference were highly commented upon as masterpieces of Christian eloquence. He welcomed the delegates in three languages—English, French and German.

Church Polity.

Question. 1. Is it right for a Presiding Elder to go to any charge and tell the people that the pastor should get them in order to have success on his work?

Q. 2. Is it right for a Presiding Elder to tell the preacher that he must go from house to house and joke and play with the members in order to have success on his work?

Q. 3. When the Sunday school superintendent does not discharge his duty in the Sabbath school, whose place is it to take charge of the Sabbath school?

HOOSIER.

Answer. 1 and 2. The preacher in charge is not called to pet or play, nor crack jokes with anybody, but to visit from house to house and lead the people to Christ. No true Presiding Elder will give such advice to any people. We judge however that Bro. Hoosier has given only one side of these questions. While the preacher in charge is not to be "petting and joking" his people, he should not be everlastingly abusing and quarrelling with them. This is probably what the elder meant when speaking against the pastor's present demeanor. Now, wasn't it?

A. 3. When the Sunday school superintendent fails in his duty, the preacher in charge is in duty bound to take care of the Sunday school himself until another superintendent is secured or the present one amends his ways. This, however, does not justify any capricious and unnecessary officious conduct on the part of a pastor, who wants to be superintendent, steward, class leader, trustee, and everything else in his church. There is always two sides to every such question.

City Church Notes.

The corner stone laying and the changing of the name of LaHarpe Street Church to Scott Chinn M. E. Church, last Sunday, was a grand and solemnly impressive service. Rev. J. W. Hudson preached the corner stone sermon, and A. E. P. Albert, D. D., delivered the biographical address of the church and its founder, Father Scott Chinn. Presiding Elders Emperor Williams and Landry, Sunday School Agent Lyon, Revs. F. T. Chinn, Reese Thompson, of Franklin, and other brethren, were present and assisted Rev. A. J. Pickett, the pastor, in the services. The church was literally packed, so immense was the crowd. The collection was a very handsome one.

REFERRING to the National University at Washington, and the correspondence between Bishop Hurst and Dr. Meeks, as to whether Negroes of competent culture will be admitted, the New York Independent, says: "Of course they will be admitted, and we should not be surprised if Bishop Wilson (of the M. E. Church South) voted for them. That is an old and played out fight. Dr. Meeks would not like to see the Negroes rejected, and then have them go over to the Catholic University." We don't know. The tone in his talk is such as to lead us to think that he expects a separate heaven to be provided for the Negro, so as to keep him out of social reach of his white brother.

Baton Rouge District.—Notes on the Fourth Round.

J. F. MARSHALL, P. E.

The work of a gospel minister is ordered of the Lord. For that reason Satan busies himself to thwart the plans of God's servants and impede the progress of the good work. But facing the enemies of the Cross with faith and confidence, the preachers on this district have braved every opposition to push forward the work of the Redeemer's kingdom. The result has been the conversion of a goodly number of precious souls, the increase, improvement and development of the Sunday school work, building and improvement in church property, and an outlook for an increase in all directions in benevolent collections. Merrill Chapel is near the line of the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, and a few miles within the territory of the latter. The fourth round has begun here. Bro. J. Benn has been an acceptable pastor to these people for one year. He has had difficulties to encounter, but is a true and faithful servant of Christ. The quarterly meeting was a delightful one.

New Roads is in a beautiful section of country on False River. Here is where the next meeting was held, with the assistance of Bro. A. A. Lacey, of Slaughter, who did us good service.

Bro. R. Turner is always cheerful and is doing well.

Bro. H. C. Gair has had a good year at Letsworth. He is a true minister of the gospel.

The church at Red River Landing has enjoyed a year of great prosperity under the pastorate of Bro. R. J. Thomas. While others have had conversions, Bro. Thomas has excelled them all in these parts, having had 42. He has also raised all the apportionments for benevolent collections.

Sumner Chapel, though some distance from any M. E. Church, is filling an important place, and bids fair for much future usefulness to Methodism. Aro. G. J. Rogers is the experienced and zealous pastor, who has done well this year. Bro. Adolph Sumner, who gave the site and contributed largely to the erection of the building, during Bro. Priestley's presiding eldership, and after whom the church takes its name, is the leading and most important member. He is a man of means, being the owner of two plantations, valued at not less than $8000. His less fortunate and weaker brethren find in him a friend ready to help the needy.

Bro. Sumner's sunny face gives you a welcome to his "latch string" which is always out—before he utters the word.

We have but little at Melville, but Bro. W. E. Hill promises to try to increase it before conference.

Bro. J. H. Rylander has been serving the people at Wiley Chapel three years, and is much respected and beloved.

Musson and Shiloh have been pastored by Bro. D. G. Pharris, with whom the people are highly pleased. He is closing up the year in good shape.

Bro. E. P. Harris, pastor at Hartzell Chapel, sustains the reputation of a good preacher and pastor. The people he serves know this and are loud in asking his return. He is planning to build a new parsonage.

Plaquemine is a growing place, and Hurst Chapel, our church here, is destined to be one of the best on the district. Bro. J. D. Pool, the pastor, is active and full of plans and work. He proposes to remodel and improve the church, and has part of the money on hand for that purpose. The people and pastor are mutually satisfied.

We have nothing at Indian Valley, but Bro. S. Williams is trying to secure a lot of ground.

Bro. Jos. Jones is loved by the people at Bayou Goula. He has had a good year, and will close up well.

More as other places are visited.

Huntsville District, Texas Conference.

W. L. DUNCAN.

Met in Thomas Chapel, Willis, Tex., Oct. 7, Rev. F. Parker presiding.

W. L. Duncan was elected secretary; L. J. Hogan and S. H. Grant assistants.

The conference resolved to observe temperance in all its forms, as recommended by the Discipline; and that no one will be licensed to preach who will not wholly abstain from the use of tobacco.

All local preachers and exhorters who expect to continue as such, must read the SOUTHWESTERN (that is, subscribe and pay for it).

C. G. Curtis was elected conference treasurer.

A paper on "Justification" was read by A. Alexander, and discussed by the conference.

Revs. W. H. Logan, Presiding Elder of the Navasota District, and James A. Featherston, were introduced to the conference.

The following papers were also read and ably discussed:

Regeneration, by E. Holliday.
The SOUTHWESTERN, H. Dickson.

Church Extension, L. J. Hogan.
Sanctification, L. Felder.

Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, W. L. Duncan.

How shall we revive the interest of our quarterly meeting occasions? Tobias Ward.

Home Missions, O. O. Adair.

Relation of the benevolences to the growth of the Church, C. G. Curtis.

The relation of the church to the laboring classes, S. H. Grant.

The Presiding Elder, pastors, and other members of the conference, made good reports, which showed great prosperity.

During our pleasant stay in the town of Willis the good old SOUTHWESTERN was not forgotten. Some cash subscribers were taken.

Sunday was a blessed day. Love feast at 9 a. m., conducted by Revs. H. Dickson and T. Ward.

W. L. Duncan preached at 11 a. m. At 3 p. m. Rev. Mr. Lafavey, of the M. E. Church South, preached. At night, S. H. Grant. S. Kelly preached the missionary sermon.

The different collections were sent off by C. G. Curtis.

Local preachers and exhorters were assigned to work by the different pastors.

The conference pledged to stand nearer the SOUTHWESTERN than ever.

Collection during conference, $60. The brethren are going to give the Presiding Elder a nice present.

Many thanks and good words were given to the people of Willis and the good pastor, C. G. Curtis, for good treatment.

Sunday School Convention.

S. S. ROGERS.

The Shreveport District Sunday School convention passed off nicely. Rev. E. Lyon, A. M., Sunday School Agent, opened the meeting and explained the object of the convention, after which Mrs. M. J. Wilson, of this city, made the welcome address.

The convention accomplished much good in the upbuilding of Sunday school work. Collection, $25.75.

Papers on different subjects were read.

On Sunday night Brother Lyon preached a grand sermon to a crowded house.

For scrofula in every form Hood's Sarsaparilla is a radical, reliable remedy. It has an unequalled record of cures.

B. H. S. Ferguson, Holly Springs, Miss.

As it is well known, Holly Springs is the educational centre for the State of Mississippi, and partly so for some of the adjoining states. We were assigned here in 1889, and under feelings of sadness came and entered upon the duties of a pastor so far as I knew how. We had heard so much of the place being a hard one that naturally we expected to find it so, but trusting God, we expected to stay. We began immediately collecting money to build a new church, which was much needed, and though we had a hard struggle, we went forward and are now holding services in the new (though incomplete) building. The 27th of September was rally day, at which time we collected $125 in cash and subscriptions to upwards of $150. On Oct. 14 we laid the corner stone of new Asbury M. E. Church. The services were conducted by Dr. Revels, Presiding Elder, assisted by Rev. Mr. Miller, president of the State Normal School, and Rev. Mr. Honnoll, pastor M. E. Church South and principal of Malone Institute. Collection, $72.55 cash. The white friends contributed liberally, among them

Dr. Malone contributing $20, Dr. Libby $25, and Mr. L. H. Johnson $10. Rev. Mr. Miller delivered a short but grand and appropriate address. Mr. Monnoll followed with another, in which he referred to 22 years ago, when passing through Holly Springs, there was "a little revival going on." Several of our standard bearers of the church were converted then. Oct. 25th was the day set apart for "class leaders' rally" for first place in rank of leadership, and every leader was trying to come out ahead. It resulted as follows: Class No. 1 (whose leader died a few days before), $2.50; No. 2, R. W. Miller, $11; No. 3, J. C. McGee, $55.70; No. 4, Sarah Wilkins, $21.75; No. 5, Foster Wilkins, $6; No. 6, B. Bell, $3; No. 7, Lou Bill, $6.75; No. 8, E. H. McKissack, $9.55; No. 9, "Asbury Volunteers," pastor, $50.05. Total including public collection, $220 cash. The Sunday school, under the superintendency of E. H. McKissack, collected $15. We might well boast of having the best Sunday school in the State. At night Misses Addie Talbot, Ada Revelo and Fannie Phillips read essays pertaining to Sabbath school work. The pastor and Presiding Elder addressed the school. At 11 a. m. Rev. Dr. Libby preached an able sermon. At 3 p. m. the Presiding Elder preached a grand sermon, and at night the pastor.

Collections in one month's time, $449. The faculty and scholars of Rust University are always our great help under such circumstances. We praise God for such a blessing as Rust University and its faculty. There was placed in the corner stone, one copy of the Bible by Mrs. Dr. Revels, one copy of "The House of Bondage," by Mrs. B. H. S. Ferguson, our church and college papers, etc.

J. C. Hibbler, Vicksburg, Miss.

We have closed a series of meetings which resulted in the conversion of 23 souls and 29 additions to the church. We have put gas lights in our church, at a cost of about $70.

W. M. Kenzie, Williston, Texas.

The third Sunday in October was our rally day. We raised for the pastor and church $134.40. Mrs. M. L. Liples was awarded the prize, she having raised the largest amount.

Red Oak and Longview Circuit, Texas.

Rev. J. Jordan, pastor, had a grand financial rally Sept. 27, in which many of the members and friends contributed from 25 cents to $1 each towards the pastor's support.

Our people at Kendleton, Tex., have been having a good time of hard work. They commenced in June to build a church, and have completed one worth $1600, with a debt remaining of less than $50, and only $200 help from the Church Extension Society. They have also purchased an $80 bell of us. They are to be praised for their efforts. Rev. G. J. Izard is pastor.

Three hundred accessions on the Exprairie Circuit, Texas, where Bro. S. R. Gipson is in charge, is the result of revivals held this year. 175 were converts. All were baptized by pouring or sprinkling. All benevolent claims will be raised. A banner charge. Bro. Gipson says he was greatly aided by his local preachers.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, the other has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery on the side of the comparison to which they belong. And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial. If the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back, as they do, if they do not benefit or cure you,

THE REST CURE

Is very often the best cure. But many people cannot afford to rest indefinitely. Worse still, the very knowledge that they cannot, seriously interferes with the best use of the rest they have. Too often going to the doctor means that the patient shall stop short, while cares, duties, and expenses keep right on. Many therefore hesitate and delay.

Drs. Starkey & Palen's COMPOUND OXYGEN presents an easy way out of this common dilemma. Has done it for a score of years, and for more than three score thousand people. The agent used is pure Oxygen. The method used puts it directly where it can do the most good—in the Lungs. The treatment neither interferes with business or pleasure. This simple thing has made multitudes of run-down, over-worked, nervous, and sick people as good as new. A book of 200 pages tells who (in small part), and how in their own words. Gladly mailed free on receipt of address.

There are "other makes" of Compound Oxygen, as there are "other makes" of U. S. Bank Notes. This calls for caution only.

Littell's Living Age. The numbers of The Living Age for October 24th and 31st contain: The New Emperor and his New Chancellor, National Review; Modern Astronomy, Contemporary Review; Science and Society in the Fifties; Temple Bar; etc.

For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year) the subscription price ($3) is low; while for $30.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4.00 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both post paid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The Antinatal number of the American Sabbath, the official organ of the American Sabbath Union, contains the addresses of Drs. Patton, Henson, Fernelly, Major-Gen. O. O. Howard and others, delivered at the late hearing before the National Commissioners of the World's Fair in Chicago. The number is full of valuable matter bearing upon the question of Sunday opening during the Exposition in 1893. Every citizen, every citizen, indeed, would do well to procure a copy. It can be obtained by enclosing 15-cents, and addressing The American Sabbath, 23 Park Row, New York.

By perusing the pages of the French Fashion Journal republished in English by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th street, New York, it can readily be understood how they have become "the favorites" with Ladies. Issued in Paris by different publishers, they are the leading Fashion Journals of the "Old World." It is not, therefore, a matter for surprise that unbiased critics should have pronounced them the best Fashion Journals ever offered to the American public. La Mode de Paris and Album des Modes are rivals for the first place, single copies being 35 cents each, or $3.50 per annum. La Mode, the Family Magazine, is only 15 cents a copy, or $1.50 a year. Do not allow new agents to substitute inferior publications for these, which can be mailed to you from New York at the prices here given.

Harper's Magazine for November opens with a strikingly original Thanksgiving story, The Inn of the Good Woman, written by Elizabeth Butterworth, and appropriately illustrated by W. T. Smedley. An appreciative paper, with portraits and illustrations, on the character and career of the famous Confederate General, Stonewall Jackson, is contributed by the Rev. Henry M. Field, D.D. The Treatment of Cancers and other Tumors is discussed in a brief popular article by Drs. B. Farquhar Curtis and William T. Bull. Charles Dudley Warner opens the Editor's Drawer with some pleasant allusions to the "tall girl," and the tendency of the new generation towards unusual height and gracious slimmness.

The A. M. E. Church Review (quarterly) for October has a well diversified table of contents that fully sustains its well earned reputation for scholarship and special interest. Single copy, price 40c. Per year, $1.50. A. M. E. Publishing House, 631 Pine street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Forum, which month after month usually has discussions of the most important subjects that engage the public attention, comes for November with a thorough review of the politics and the armies of Europe, which consist of two leading articles: one, Dangers to the Peace of Europe, by Prof. Edward A. Freeman, the eminent historian, the other is, The Armed Truce of Europe, by Mr. William R. Thayer, the well-known American student of foreign affairs, who has made a fresh study of the subject in Europe. Political articles of a domestic sort are, The Degradation of Pennsylvania Politics, by Mr. Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia. Mr. Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts, explains the interesting act of the Massachusetts Legislature regarding the lobby. Judge Charles S. Zane, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah, explains how the Edmunds law has killed polygamy in the Territory. Another article somewhat of a political nature is an instructive review by Mr. Charles H. Cramp, the celebrated shipbuilder, on the rise of American shipbuilding and the chance for commercial supremacy. Likewise, the danger that the Farmers' Alliance is in of losing its original purpose, and becoming a mischievous organization, is pointed out from a friendly point of view by Senator Morgan of Alabama. Other articles of interest in this number are, The Profit of Good Country Roads, by Mr. Isaac B. Potter, secretary of the New York State Roads Improvement Association. A description of English University Life for Women, by Miss Clough, principal of Newnham College, Cambridge, Eng.; and a forecast of the Commercial Future of the Pacific States, by Captain William L. Merry, formerly secretary of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The first number of the Nineteenth Volume of St. Nicholas contains the beginning of a serial for boys, by Brander Matthews. It is called Tom Pudding, and deals with the search of a New York boy for buried treasure in the upper part of Manhattan Island. Local color is given in the first chapter by the bright flames of an election-night fire. This is Mr. Matthews' first venture in writing a long story for the young.

The Century has just "come of age," and in its November number begins its twenty-second year with some notable "features." The Century will soon print a series of letters by Gen. W. T. Sherman, written in 1866, setting forth his view of the same events, and giving his view for opposing the work of the committee. Prof. Wilbur Fisk, Tillet, of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, writes upon Southern Womanhood as Affected by the War, in the course of which he quotes letters from half a dozen representative Southern women in response to a number of questions addressed by him to them on this subject.

Primitive Paths in Prophecy, prophetic addresses given at the Brooklyn Conference of the Baptist Society for Bible Study, edited by Geo. C. Needham, is a work of great value, which calls the reader from his own notions of Bible truths to the ever supreme "Thus saith the Lord." The addresses were delivered by prominent ministers of the Baptist denomination. Chicago: Gospel Publication Co., 10 Arcade Court.

Departed Gods. The Gods of Our Fathers, by Rev. J. N. Fradenburgh, Ph.D., D.D. This is one of Dr. Fradenburgh's best works. It is a concluding volume in a series which are treated in a popular way, and yet with great thoroughness, the great religions of the world, both living and extinct. The work must be seen and read to be appreciated as it deserves. Price, $1.20. Cincinnati: Crans-ton & Stowe. New York: Hunt & Eaton.

We have received the great sermon preached by the Rev. Thos. H. Pearne, D.D., before the Cincinnati Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, entitled, Fifty Years in the Itinerary. It is a production worthy the great "master of assemblies," from whom it emanates. Cincinnati: Western Methodist Book Concern.

The Election of a Colored Bishop.

This question has been discussed with perfect freedom and remarkable coolness by many of our most thoughtful, faithful and loyal ministers of both races, in our territory, for several months; and we doubt not that before the sitting of the General Conference next May, others will insist upon getting a hearing through our columns upon the same subject.

Thus far, the discussion has been practically unanimous, in the expression of the faith that the election of the right kind of a man, of African descent, to the Episcopal office in our church, would prove of immense benefit to the whole church, and especially to our colored work. That such would be the case scarcely admits of a question from any source. The West ern, the California and the Northwestern Advocates, the Epworth Herald, and several other of our papers, have practically admitted this much, and have admitted, too, the perfectly logical foundation of this "modest request;" while even our good friend Dr. Potts expresses readiness to consider the question, whenever a man, whom the church might deem worthy and well qualified, appears within the range of his telescopic vision.

Indeed, it is this possibility, yes, probability, that retards the crystallization of more vigorous efforts toward the organic union of our Methodism with that of the Church South. We are "the ebony wedge," the insuperable barrier. The Church South will not in this generation consent to organic union with us, so long as the Methodist Episcopal Church recognizes the Negro as a man, and upon terms of perfect equality, as she does; and there are men and women in our church to-day that would suffer their right arms to be cut off rather than consent to repudiate that principle. The election of a man of African descent in the Methodist Episcopal Church is written among the moral certainties of the future. How early in the future we dare not predict, but it is in the very logic of events, and will come, unless we frustrate present necessary premises by our own rashness.

Let the race churches, separated by imaginary lines, enter into organic union among themselves if they so desire; but our people do not believe in race churches. We go in for the unity of only one race, and that the human race, especially in ecclesiastical matters. Let the church ever be the nearest visible picture of heaven. Let our people continue to discuss, like intelligent men, the great question that they deem of importance to the greater development of the work among them; but let them guard against any spirit of impatience or restlessness as to immediate results. "Time," as Bishop Newman remarks, upon other important matters, "is an essential element." With her schools, colleges, universities, and her multiplied agencies among us, the great church to which we belong is fitting the men and women that will demand and command, by their towering superior qualifications, the honor and preferments that any other race enjoys in any church on the footstool. Prepare, discuss, wait; "let patience have her perfect work;" and the future, remote or immediate, will prove the correctness of our prediction.

The N. Y. Independent, in its anxiety for the organic union of the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, cries out:

"Why should there be a Methodist Episcopal Church and a Methodist Episcopal Church South, both having the same doctrines, the same usages, and the same general form of government?"

Answer: Because of the presence of the colored element in the Methodist Episcopal Church, upon terms of perfect equality and possible episcopal advancement. "Only that and nothing more." We are the ebony wedge that keeps them apart. Our people will not leave the old Church, she is not ready to renounce her righteous principle in the premises; and the Church South has not sufficiently grown in grace to accept our standard; neither can our Church afford to backslide upon common grounds with our brethren of the Church South in this matter. Hence the impossibility of union for still another generation. This is the "profound philosophy" of the whole matter.

THE age is one of rapid progress—and we are in it. Our patrons are among the most progressive of the nation. They are quick to take advantage of a good offer. We make a great many; and we now offer a set of the memoirs, either of Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, McClellan, or Lee, in their respective original editions, for 50 cents a set, in connection with a year's subscription to the Cosmopolitan Magazine, $3, and a year's subscription to this paper, $1.50, in all $4.50. Thousands of orders have already been received by the publishers, so that if our friends wish to avail themselves of this extraordinary opportunity, they must wake up. If not on reading terms with the magazine, send postal card request for a free sample copy to the Cosmopolitan Publishing Company, Madison Square, New York City.

THE present state of Europe suggests to the thoughtful man scores of questions which the ordinary student of foreign politics finds it hard to answer. Why has Italy allied herself with her old enemy, Austria? Why does Russia threaten the peace of Europe? Why are France and Germany hereditary enemies? What is the exact status of Turkey in European affairs? Why is war said to be imminent? and where and how is it most likely to break out? All these questions are answered in the November Forum by Edward A. Freeman, the imminent English historian, than whom no one probably is better qualified to discuss them. Incidentally he throws interesting light on the foreign policies of Mr. Gladstone and Lord Salisbury, and the efforts of interested parties to embroil England in continental quarrels.

THE practice of working convicts in work such as properly belong to free citizens for a livelihood is just now bearing its legitimate fruit at Briceville, Tennessee, where the populace have arisen in a mob, liberated the convicts, given them citizens clothes and bade them escape. The Governor has offered a large reward for the arrest and conviction of the leaders of the mob, and also liberal reward for the arrest and conviction of all participants in the riot that resulted in the burning of the stockade and release of the convicts. The convicts were employed in the mines in that section. The matter has created great excitement, and the outcome is looked forward to with interest. The failure of the Legislature to adjust the difficulty is the foundation of the present lawlessness in the mountains, and the public are indignant in their expressions.

Political Review.

Tuesday, November 3rd, elections for various State officers were held in the States of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Iowa, Maryland, Illinois, Mississippi, Michigan and New Jersey.

The Republicans were successful in Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Colorado, South Dakota, and secured the Legislatures of New York, Massachusetts and Iowa. It was a great day for the Republicans.

Pennsylvania swung back into the Republican column with one of her old time majorities; Kansas repudiated her Farmers' Alliance heresies, and followed suit, while the others named above did the same.

In Massachusetts, the personal popularity of Gov. Russell, Democrat, secured his re-election, while the balance of the Republican State ticket was elected, with a Legislature of the same faith.

In New York, Tammany and Mr. Flowers "barrel" prevailed over Mr. Fassett, Republican, for Governor. The Legislature however is claimed by the Republicans. Gov. Boies, Democrat, re-election in Iowa was largely due to the fact that he was the candidate of the "saloons," which was determined to elect him. The only State wherein the election was carried almost exclusively upon national issues, was Ohio, where Major, William McKinley representing the national policy of the Republican party, upon the questions of honest election by national protection, protective tariff and an honest dollar, was elected over Gov. Campbell by 25,000 plurality. This is prophetic of victory for the Republicans in the Presidential election next year; and places McKinley in the foremost rank among Presidential possibilities. The Legislature being composed of 43 Republican majority on joint ballot, insures the election of a Republican to succeed John Sherman. Foraker and Sherman are now the most prominently mentioned. While we think it due to the nation as well as to Senator Sherman that he be re-elected; it would be a splendid thing for the Legislature to elect both of them; Senator Sherman as his own successor, and Gov. Foraker, in place of Brice, of New York, (a non-resident), whom the Democratic Legislature of Ohio elected as Senator for Ohio some months before.

I received my machine to-day and was glad. Found it all right. There are three or four more who say they are going to send for one as soon as they can. ROLIN CHAPMAN.

This machine came to New Orleans by rail, then went up the river to a plantation landing, but it "got there" all the same, as they all do, though occasionally one is delayed a little on the road. Nearly 200 have been furnished in this way by us. All have been received and all give satisfaction.

In his excellent paper on the relation of the day school teacher to the Sunday school, read before the Shreveport District Sunday School Convention, Bro. S. S. Rogers showed plainly how such teachers can enlarge their usefulness if they will but enter fully into the aid of the Sunday school work in their neighborhoods.

LEAVE to the hidden providence of God whatever you find troublesome, and believe firmly that he who watches over all his creatures will take a loving care of you, of your life and of all your affairs. Drive from your imagination whatever annoys you; think no more of that which will happen to-morrow; for the same eternal Father who has care for you to-day will watch over you to-morrow and always. If he sends you trials or afflictions he will give you invincible courage to bear them. Grasp firmly the hand of his providence and he will ever lovingly bear you up. Where you cannot walk he will carry you. It is the privilege of his children to claim his protection in times of trial and danger. What should you fear, since you belong to a God who has assured you that, to those who love him, everything turns eventually to their greater happiness?—Selected.

Reproducing an editorial of ours denouncing the lottery, the Southwestern Presbyterian says: We are glad to see that the religious organs of our colored people, who have the domicile in our city—the SOUTHWESTERN (Methodist) and the Christian Herald (Baptist)—are openly opposed to the continuance of this pernicious institution, from whose demoralizing and impoverishing influence no race are greater sufferers than theirs.

We regret to learn that some of the officials of Centenary Church, Memphis, Tenn., have arisen in arms against the pastor, Rev. C. L. Seward, appointed there by Bishop Goodsell at the recent session of the Tennessee conference; and denied him admittance to the pulpit. This is rebellious in the extreme, and deserves the most summary action on the part of the authorities of the church. Every Methodist pulpit in Methodism, white or black, is subject to episcopal appointment annually, and no man or set of men can prevent his occupancy of the same. The civil authorities will strictly enforce this claim, and the men that countenance or participate in such action make themselves liable to civil and criminal prosecution. We regret to notice such disloyalty on the part of some in whose loyalty we have hitherto reposed the most unlimited confidence; and trust that everything will soon be satisfactorily adjusted. Take your discipline as your guide and you will never err in such matters.

GOVERNOR Tilman, of South Carolina, has set his face against the lynch and mob law. He recently called out the Morgan Rifles to protect the black man who shot the mayor of Spartanburg, and laid down the following mandatory law for the guidance of the sheriffs: "It may be as well understood once for all in South Carolina that the law must be enforced and that sheriffs, instead of dodging real or imaginary mobs, must defend the prisoners with their lives if necessary. If an officer of the law can not protect a prisoner, then he has no business to arrest him, and the prisoner once arrested must be safe from molestation of any authority except that of the courts."

When South Carolina and Texas come out thus against mob law as Gov. Hogg did a few days ago, there is room for hope in the Negro's future in the South. Let us keep our trust in God and continue to demonstrate our worth and manhood.

The Epworth League was given a tremendous uplift by the Ecumenical Conference. Let all our people join it.

Books and Current Literature

Living Thoughts of John Wesley, a comprehensive selection of the living thoughts of the founder of Methodism, as contained in his miscellaneous works, by Rev. James H. Potts, D.D., has recently been published by our Book Concern. In this work Dr. Potts has rendered incalculable service to the Church. As he justly says in his preface, "Everything that Mr. Wesley wrote is worth reading," but since it is next to impossible for the average reader to read all of Wesley's works, it was a happy thought which led Dr. Potts to cull from the rich mines of his many works the many choice gems which he has here gathered into one volume. No Methodist preacher's library is complete without it, and every layman, as well as minister, of whatever church, would be greatly benefitted by its possession. A moment's notice of this great book is sufficient to convince any one that the selections were made by an experienced master's hand. The essentials of what Mr. Wesley really wrote are nearly all compacted together in this one handy volume of 562 pages. Price $2. New York: Hunt & Eaton; Cincinnati: Cranston & Stowe.

The King's Messenger, by Emily Huntington Miller, is an interesting and instructive volume, with the most wholesome moral lesson. Price, 90 cents. New York, Hunt & Eaton; Cincinnati, Cranston & Stowe.

"My son," said a preacher to his nine year old boy, "I wish you would always, if possible, select, as your most intimate companion, a boy that is above yourself, so that you may be made better by his association with you." After a little thought the boy replied: "Well, how about the other boy?"—Selected.

DAILY BREAD.

Afflictions are not only to be endured, but to be considered, that good may come from them. They have their purposes in the economy of life.

1. They quicken our sympathies and promote a fellow feeling.

2. They tend to wean us from this fading world.

3. They humble our pride and bring us to a sense of our real dependence.

4. They remind us of the source of all our blessings, and cause us to lament our ingratitude. Adversity has taught many a man to think of the former days of his better life and repent the follies of his wicked career.

"Afflictions, though they seem severe, In mercy oft are sent;
They stopped the prodigal's career,
And caused him to repent."

—Michigan Christian Advocate.

Children should be taken to church once every Sunday, not more until they are old enough to desire it. The habit is invaluable, and this invests it with the charm of association. The remembrance of the father's reverent manner and the mother's earnest devotion, the stillness and the calm of the sacred atmosphere, will form a chain too strong to be broken to bind them in the after life to the service of God's house.

—Elizabeth Scovil.

Keep up your spirits by thoughts. Enjoy the pleasant company of your best friends, but in all employments be temperate. Learn the art to be preferred before all others of being happy when alone—which consists in the encouragement of good hopes and rational pursuits—in leading an industrious life, and in having constantly before you some object of attainment. In your converse with the world be ever careful for the sake of peace, to speak ill of no one, treat your known enemy with civility and to shut your ears against evil reports of all kinds.—Stan dard.

Schools and Colleges.

The Cemetery Hill School of Montgomery, Ala., of which E. M. Jones is principal, opened its tenth session Oct. 5.

The school never had a better opening. The enrollment the first day was 343, and up to date, Oct. 28, 405 pupils have been enrolled. The indications are that 500 will apply for admission this school year.

The school is well graded—covering eight grades, and has a faculty of experienced and faithful teachers. The work is thorough, and the school has a prosperous outlook.

Montgomery is destined to lead the State in school facilities. There are a half a dozen schools in this city for colored youths, and prominent among them, is the great State Normal School, with Prof. W. B. Patterson, president. Montgomery will soon, not only boast of being the capital, but the "Athens of Alabama."

There are now about 2,000 colored children attending school in this city, and still they come. The educational fever is contagious and the colored people of this place have caught it.

E. M. J.

Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., under the presidency of Rev. C. N. Grandison, D.D., is enjoying a year of exceptional prosperity. The influx generally expected soon after Christmas has not yet come in, and yet the school is even now filled to overflowing. The imperative demands there now, are more rooms and increased facilities to reap the rich harvest which has come to the present management. A recent visit there in company with Bishop Warren and Dr. C. H. Payne, qualifies us to speak with emphasis of the marvelous worth and possibilities of this institution under the management of Dr. and Mrs. Grandison and their associates.

President J. S. Hill, B.D., of the Morristown Tennessee Academy, has good reason to be proud of the marvelous success which has attended his work at that institution. The school is enjoying great prosperity. That Prof. Hill shares so largely in the esteem of his brethren is not to be wondered at when his great and successful work is considered. The new building, which will be the pride of our work in East Tennessee, and which is so much needed, is now going up nicely. The conference promises to raise $500 within the next 30 days to help forward the enterprise.

The Clark University Boycott.

The undersigned members of the Savannah Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church desire for ourselves and for the conference and for the members we represent to set forth hereby our own unfaltering faith and love for every interest of our beloved church, and that we are not in sympathy with the very improper step recently inaugurated to boycott Clark University, and any and every attempt to connect the Savannah Conference with this ill-advised action is gratuitous and without authority.

Respectfully, L. J. Preston, W. H. Lovelace, R. R. O'Neal, John P. Wragg, C. W. Adams, Wm. Young, Wm. Hopkins, Presiding Elder E. L. Hammett, C. O. Fisher, A. S. Johnson, W. C. Hunter, V. D. Jenkins, Presiding Elder M. M. Alston, J. D. Jenkins, J. W. Murphy, A. G. Gill, J. H. Matthews, N. S. Sterling, C. K. Wright, Presiding Elder A. J. Wilson, S. C. Upshaw, G. W. Arnold.

Meridian, Mississippi.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society has been with us, spent several days, and great good has resulted all over the Meridian district. On the opening of the Meridian Academy, Sept. 21st, we enrolled 43 pupils, double any previous year. At this writing, we number 102. Bro. Mason and Elder Shumpert were with us, and gave us a good send off for another successful school year. The appointment of Bro. Mason as Field Agent was a God-sent blessing to the race. Everybody here is delighted over such a grand appointment. Everybody is looking forward to the erection of a grand building at this place. Let this building come and Meridian will put on a new life for God, the race, and Christian education. Our next rally day for the Meridian Academy is in November.

The brethren of the district should not forget their pledges and obligations for the school. Come brethren, let us build at Meridian a first-class building for our school. Now is our chance. Won't we accept of it?

J. H. Brooks, Prin.

Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., has matriculated this year 125 young colored men for the study of medicine. The senior class has 30 members. New Orleans University Medical School has enrolled 22, of which 5 are in the senior class and will graduate next February. Meharry has already furnished one-half of the practicing physicians among the colored people of the South. With the New Orleans Medical School fully equipped, they will soon meet the wants of our people in the South. Let benevolent friends continue their beneficence toward both, and let our young people preparing for the study of medicine crowd their halls. Especially would we urge the charitably disposed to liberally respond to Bishop Mallien's earnest appeals in behalf of the New Orleans Medical School, which so much needs the aid of such friends.

The colored school of Bastrop, La., fall term, opened Sept. 7. Ninety-five scholars were in at tendance last term, and there will be a greater attendance this term. The writer and his wife are teaching the school. This is a very promising part of the State, and many of our people are in good circumstances. They own a great deal of valuable property, but educational facilities are very limited. They have only three months of public school in the year at some places and at others none. The ambitious youths who desire to equip themselves for usefulness in life, have no special inducements of education to push them forward. We are greatly in need of a high school of learning among our people in this section. For such an institution I think Bastrop or Monroe would be a suitable location. If there is any philanthropist whom God has blessed with means who desires to help a people who have suffered by misfortune, to educate and train them for practical citizenship and general usefulness, North Louisiana is your opportunity where you may immortalize your name for the good of humanity.

Yours for the work,
M. H. HUNTER.

Catarrh, Not Local, But Constitutional.

Dr. Dio Lewis, the eminent Boston physician, in a magazine article, says: "A radical error underlies nearly all medical treatment of catarrh. It is not a disease of the man's nose; it is a disease of the man, showing itself in the nose—a local exhibition of a constitutional trouble." Therefore, he argues, the use of snuff and other local applications is wrong, and while they seem to give temporary relief, they really do more harm than good. Other leading authorities agree with Dr. Lewis. Hence, the only proper method of cure for catarrh is by taking a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, reaching every part of the body through the blood, does eliminate all impurities and makes the whole man healthier. It removes the cause of the trouble and restores the membrane to its proper condition. That this is the practical result is proven by thousands of people who have been cured of catarrh by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Obituary.

Rev. Wm. H. Groves, of Newnan, Ga. Rev. Wm. H. Groves, pastor of the M. E. Church at Newnan, Ga., departed this life Oct. 26, 1891, near the 45th year of his age, in full triumph of faith. Seldom has it been our lot to chronicle the death of a more devoted, beloved, and humble Christian minister. In all his dealings with men he was sincere and blameless as a man, and as a Christian his life was spotless. Unpretentious, simple and earnest as a preacher, he disarmed critics, broke the power of enemies, endured suffering, believed in Christ, overcame the evil one, and is crowned at last. The love of God through Christ was the theme of his life and preaching, and in his dying hour his solace and hope. He leaves a wife, seven children and a host of friends to mourn his loss. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church at Newnan, and conducted by Rev. Dr. C. O. Fisher, of Atlanta, in an able and impressive manner. Strong men wept as they listened to the Doctor's portrayal of the Christian life as it was illustrated in the sacrifices, self-denials, and peaceful death of the deceased. A number of the leading ministers of the Savannah Conference were present, and fully 500 of the citizens of Newnan and adjoining neighborhoods, including both white and colored, listened to the funeral discourse. Through the hospitality of his flock, a highly creditable interment was made of the remains in the cemetery at Newnan. Peace be to his ashes. Our Presiding Elder, Rev. A. J. Wilson, secured a very handsome amount for the relief of his widowed mother, from the following friends: Revs. M. M. Alston, G. W. Arnold, A. G. Gill, J. D. Jenkins, N. S. Sterling, J. H. Matthews, S. C. Upshaw, Wm. Young, C. W. Adams, C. K. Wright, John Croley, E. L. Hammett, R. R. O'Neal, J. P. Wragg, W. H. Lovelace, L. J. Preston, Samuel Smith, Wm. Hopkins, Messrs. A. R. Burch, J. S. Reid, J. W. Murphy, Chas. Smith and R. F. Milner. Total, $21.50.

Brother Jackson Brown, of Eutaw, Ala., died Oct. 21. He was one of the oldest members of the church. As a friend he was affable, obliging and faithful; as a member of society he was peaceable, sociable, courteous and kind. As a Christian he was true to his profession, firm and steadfast, uniform in resisting wrong, in advocating right. In the earnestness of his life work, in the value and prudence of his counsels, in the general character of his make up, and in labor and influence,—he was a bright star in the church.

F. J. Brown, pastor.

Bro. McEles, of Lauderdale, Miss., who had been a member of the church and a class leader for 18 years, departed this life Oct. 12, aged 65 years. The brother could not read, yet he was a Sunday school scholar for 15 years, and never was known to miss Sunday school, class meeting, church services, or paying the pastor 50c. or a dollar on every benevolent assessment.

Mr. Ruben Bonds died Oct. 41, aged 80 years.

Little Maggie McEroy, daughter of Bailey and Harriet McEroy, caught fire on the night of October 29, and was burned to death. Age, 7 years. She caught fire some time in the night, and no one can tell how. She was in the room with the other children, in bed, no lamp burning, and very little fire in the fire place. It is thought she got up in her sleep and went to the fire.

The Rev. John Lea, once pastor at Franklin, Alexandria and Spring Creek, La., departed this life, saying "I am going down to Jordan with sword in hand." He was visited by the pastor and members. He left for glory Nov. 1.

Stony Point, La., Oct. 12.—Clarcey Robson, Sept. 22, aged 78.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. It is a Sarsaparilla, and it is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. I consider Drake's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Malt for general debility and weak lungs, the best medicine extant and take great pleasure in recommending it to the public; though having taken only one bottle I feel decidedly more benefited than by any medicine I've ever taken.—Mrs. M. L. McPart, Baltimore, Md.

Those who believe that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure them are more liable to get well than those who don't.

If you happen to be one of those who don't believe, there's a matter of $500 to help your faith. It's for you if the makers of Dr. Sage's remedy can't cure you, no matter how bad or of how long standing your catarrh in the head may be.

The makers are the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y. They're known to every newspaper publisher and every druggist in the land, and you can easily ascertain that their word's as good as their bond.

Begin right. The first stage is to purify the system. You don't want to build on a wrong foundation, when you're building for health. And don't shock the stomach with harsh treatment. Use the milder means.

You wind your watch once a day. Your liver and bowels should act as regularly. If they do not, use a key.

The key is—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a dose.

THE BOYS WE NEED.

Here's to the boy who's not afraid
To do his share of work;
Who never is by toil dismayed,
And never tries to shirk.

The boy whose heart is brave to meet
All lions in the way;
Who's not discouraged by defeat,
But tries another day.

The boy who always means to do
The very best he can;
Who always keeps the right in view,
And aims to be a man.

Such boys as these will grow to be
The men whose hands will guide
The future of our land; and we Shall speak their names with pride.

All honor to the boy who is A man at heart, I say;
Whose legend on his shield is this:
"Right always wins the day."

A Lesson in Longevity.

The Medical Age draws a lesson in longevity from the life of George Bancroft, in which it admits that there is no system of living which will insure longevity, yet, withal, there are certain considerations tending that way, and which, if carefully lived up to, offer probably the best chance of reaching close to, if not quite, the one hundred year period. The following pertinent advice is given:

1. Live as much as possible out of doors, never letting a day pass without spending at least three or four hours in the open air.

2. Keep all powers of mind and body occupied in congenial work. The muscles should be developed and the mind kept active.

3. Avoid excesses of all kinds, whether of food, drink, or whatever nature they may be. Be moderate in all things.

4. Never despair. Be cheerful at all times. Never give way to anger. Never let the trials of one day pass over into the next.

5. The period from fifty to seventy-five years should not be passed in idleness, or abandonment of all work. Here is where a great many men fail—they resign all care or interest in the worldly affairs. They throw up their business, and retire to private life, which in too many cases proves to be a suicidal policy.

6. During the next period, the period from seventy-five to one hundred years, while the powers of life are at their lowest ebb, one cannot be too careful about "catching cold." Bronchitis is a most prolific cause of death in the aged. During this last period rest should be in abundance.

Some of the most delicious pan cakes, or griddle cakes, as they are more properly called, are those made of sour milk or buttermilk and wheat flour, with or without the addition of a little shortening.

A new fancy is to bake these cakes in the size of a large pan, butter lightly while warm, heap them with strawberries slightly crushed and sprinkled with sugar.

Put a second pancake on top of this layer and heap it again with strawberries, sprinkled with sugar, as before. Cut the cake in triangular pieces, like pie, and serve it with whipped cream.

The proper rule for these cakes is a quart of sour milk or buttermilk, a quart of flour, a half cup of butter and a heaped teaspoon of soda.

Sift the soda through the flour twice, rub the butter through it, add the milk to make the batter and a level teaspoon of salt. Beat thoroughly.

The milk must be very acid to neutralize the amount of soda given. If it is not quite sour enough, lessen the amount of soda. Some housekeepers prefer to soak the flour and sour milk used for these pancakes together over night. In that case add in the morning the butter melted and the soda dissolved by itself in cold water.—New York Tribune.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the foregoing published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

Mr. Editor: I want to enquire for my uncle and brother. My uncle was named Oato English. He had a brother named Anthony English, but he was called Tony for a short name. Their mother was named Aria. He went from Campbell county, East Tennessee, near Fincastle. They were made free by their master before the war, and then Oato went North. He married a woman named Sarah Wheeler. She belonged to a man near Jacksboro, Tenn., named Tom Wheeler. My brother was stolen and carried away by Slaughter and Mark Richardson. Our mother was named Elizabeth Richardson. Our father was named Anthony English. My brother was named James Richardson. My name was Mary Jane Richardson. We went by our mother's name. We were born free in Campbell county, Tenn. Any information will be gladly received. Address Mary J. Field, Mason, Tennessee.

Mr. Editor: I see that your paper has been the instrument of old people like myself finding their relatives from whom they have been separated for as much as fifty years. Now I am real anxious to find some of my friends. All of us belonged to George Edward's estate, on Cooper's Run, Ky. My mother's name was Dinah Edwards. My father's name was Bob. My sisters are Letty, Jennie, Cynthia, Dinah and Julia. My brothers were Jim, Price, Robert and Edward. I went to Nashville with George Brown. Sister Jennie was carried to New Orleans by Miss Mary Edwards Hurd. Address Amanda Williams, care Rev. Wm. Hill, Gonzales, Tex.

Mr. Editor: I want to find my people who went from Huntsville, Texas, to Drew county, Arkansas, with their owner, Wiley Fitzgerald. Father's name was Joe Wilcher, and mother's name was Harriet Elizabeth Fitzgerald. Sister's name was Beckie, and my name at that time was Cynthia. My name now is Cynthia Ross. At that time I had one child whose name was Joe Wilcher Fitzgerald. Address Cynthia Ross, Gainesville, Texas.

Mr. Editor: I desire to find Mrs. McMorris and Mrs. Ella McMorris, formerly of Mississippi. Last heard from they were at Little Rock, Ark. Address any information to Rev. Charles Brown, Garland City, Ark.

Mr. Editor: I wish to enquire for my niece, Miss Eighter Stauley. The last I heard from her was seven years ago in Norfolk, Va. I also wish to enquire for my two sons Noah and Charlie, whom I left in North Carolina in 1851. Their mother's name was Clarkie, and belonged to James Nickerson Whibry. My name at that time was Peter Blanchet. I belonged to Josiah Blanchet. I was sold at Gates Court House to Richard Nelson. My father's name was Oliver Redrick. My mother belonged to Josiah Blanchet. Address Peter Hirth, Browns Wells, Copiah county, Miss.

The attention of our readers is invited to Neal's Climax Statistical Cards for making up statistics in the M. E. Church. It is a wonderful improvement over the old cumbersome blank sheets now furnished by the Church for that purpose. Our publishing agents could not do better than to adopt the new system. The card, only 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, contains every item now found on our present blanks of 54 inches of folded paper. Price before January 1, 1892, $1 per hundred; after that date, $1.25 per hundred. Address Rev. T. C. Neal, North Manchester, Ind.

The Wilberforce, Ohio, Alumnae for October, the initial number, is bright and spicy, and gives promise of great usefulness. We welcome the venture.

Presiding Elder Morant, of Alexandria District, Louisiana Conference, has favored us with a copy of the Minutes of his conference. It is creditable to all concerned.

Our Symposium.

The United States for the fifth or sixth time since the beginning of the current year have become involved in a serious difficulty with a foreign power. This sort of thing is getting to be monotonous, and we hope, for the sake of the dignity of our country, that this last insult will not be allowed to end, as the others, by a mere protest, but that the National Government will see that ample reparation is made. The cause of the present trouble briefly summed up is as follows:

One of the sailors of the American cruiser Baltimore was riding in one of the street cars of the city of Valparaiso, with a few of his comrades, when he was attacked by a mob, dragged out of the car and stabbed to death. Others were also severely wounded, and it seems that the police joined in the attack.

Now nothing short of the arrest and punishment of those implicated in this dastardly deed should be accepted by the United States.—N. O. Down Town Herald.

Poverty is uncomfortable as I can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard to sink or swim for himself. In all my acquaintance I have never known a man to be drowned who was worth saving.—J. A. Garfield.

The Bible does not act upon us like magic. It works no miracle, but as we read and meditate upon it, it gives us light and guidance. It creates and fosters good principles. It stimulates holy affections and purposes. It is as we esteem it more than our necessary food that we shall develop a Christ-like character.—Inquirer.

A good rule is to take short views. Sufficient to the day is the toil thereof; no man is strong enough to bear to-day's load, with to-morrow's load piled on top of it. The only look far ahead that you and I should take should be the look towards the judgment-seat and the offered crown at the end of the race. That is a way to get a taste of heaven in advance.—Rev. T. L. Onyler.

Gen. Booth was not far from wrong when he wrote that "the drink difficulty lies at the root of everything. Nine-tenths of our poverty, equalor, vice and crime, springs from this poisonous taproot. Many of our social evils which overshadow the land like so many upas trees would dwindle away and die if they were not constantly watered with strong drink."—Jewish Messenger.

Your Cough

Has not yielded to the various remedies you have been taking. It troubles you day and night, breaks your rest and reduces your strength. Now try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, before the bronchial tubes become enlarged or the delicate tissues of the lungs sustain fatal injury. As an anodyne and expectorant, this preparation has no equal. It soothes the irritated membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose. The worst cough.

Can Be Cured

by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Dr. J. C. Gordon, Carroll Co., Va., writes: "I use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice, and pronounce it to be unequalled as a remedy for colds and coughs."

"After the gripe—cough. This was my experience—A hacking, dry cough, with an incessant tickling in the throat, keeping me awake nights, and disturbing the household. I tried a great number of 'cough-cures,' but they gave me only temporary relief. At last I concluded to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had used half a bottle, I had my first all-night sleep. I continued to improve, and now consider myself cured."—A. A. Sherman, Coeymans, N. Y.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been saved from fatal illness.

E. D. Estabrook, Canterbury, N. B., says: "In the winter of 1850 I was a surveyor of timber in Sacramento, Cal. Being considerably exposed, I took a bad cold accompanied with a terrible cough. I tried several remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was thought I was going into a decline. On the advice of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half a bottle completely cured me."

THE South continues to enjoy its little pastime of lynching Negroes without effective protestations from any source. The Negro continues to cry out for protection, in vain.

OUR colored Baptist brethren are preparing to appropriately celebrate Emancipation Day, Jan. 1, 1892. On that day they propose to raise funds to assist in testing the iniquitous separate car law.
Let our people of every faith prepare to properly celebrate the day and to raise funds for the same holy purpose.

Zion's Herald declares that many of our white brethren are afflicted with the "episcopal fever." Why should it be thought a thing incredible that some of our colored brethren should catch the contagion from them; especially so when our whole colored membership and the race throughout the nation are praying for the election of a colored man to the episcopacy?

BISHOP Arnett, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, said at the council: "The elevation of the Negro depends on three books;
the Bible, the spelling-book and the bank-book. With the Bible the Negro hopes to unlock the door to heaven; with the spelling-book he hopes to enter into the treasures of learning; with the bank-book he will find the way into the Anglo-Saxon heart."

SOME of the brethren are writing rather rough letters, complaining that their articles do not appear when they think they should.
It is simply impossible for us to publish everything that is sent us in the next issue of the paper. If any brother thinks he can do it, if he will come down here, we will vacate and give him a chance to try his hand.—N. O. Christian Advocate, M. E. Church South.
Exactly like colored people.
Another proof of the unity of the races.

THE latest translations of the Scriptures issued by the American Bible Society is the work of a colored man, Rev. Mr. Onley, who was born a slave in the ownership of a brother of Jefferson Davis.
The translator and his wife were educated at Oberlin. The language into which he has rendered the synoptical Gospels and the Acts is the Shesha, cognate with Zulu, and spoken by some 250,000 people in Southeastern Africa. We are coming.

For the SOUTHWESTERN. The Pastorate and Responsible Positions.

BY REV. P. M. CARMICHAEL.

The work of the pastorate is one that, if we succeed at, must have all our time and energy. Some may think the larger the work the less we have to do, but not a few of us have learned differently. As we grow in knowledge and develop into manhood, comes our increased responsibilities.

Men are selected for responsible positions by their worth, thus the man is sought for place or position.
Man is so apt to think more highly of himself than he ought to think, it has therefore been very appropriately said, others can see us better than we can see ourselves.
The highest intellectual attainments are not everytime the best qualification for a minister. We should not only know how to do a thing, but how to do it well.

Responsibility, duty and work are not always pleasant, but for the joy that is set before us we run for the prize.

When we begin to seek easy places and places for name and fame, we have somewhere laid down the cross of Christ. If we would fulfill the law of Christ, we must of necessity learn to bear burdens with our flock. "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." We cannot do this well without the mind that was in Christ. We only regret that the church is so worldly that we do not have added to the church daily such as should be saved.

Austin, Texas.

For the SOUTHWESTERN. Self-Support.

BY REV. E. M. COLLETT.

Mr. Editor: I wish to call attention to the comparative figures of missionary money of our black and white work in the South. The following table of figures will show how much money we paid into the missionary treasury in the last decade, and how much we received from the same treasury in the same length of time. The first column of figures shows how much we paid in, and the second shows how much we received. The colored work received $7.94 for every dollar it paid in, and the white work $8.70 for every dollar it paid into the treasury. Every preacher and layman in this Southern field ought to study these figures well, and no man of us can glance at these figures without being greatly moved to efforts of self-support. But have we received too much help?
by no means, but we that have had help for a long time must begin to feel that we are men, able to take care of ourselves and help others that need help more than ourselves. Self-reliance should be our motto, let us teach it continually. Many of our charges and districts that get missionary money ought to be self-supporting, and the money that they now get should go to other charges, and to open up new fields. There are hundreds of new fields that could be opened if we only had the money. We should enter those fields at once. But let us not despise the day of small things.
The North Carolina Conference raises nine hundred dollars more a year than it did four years ago.
This shows a grand increase, and doubtless there are other conferences doing equally as well. The present decade will go far beyond the past.

The SOUTHWESTERN should be made self-supporting at once. We have over two hundred and fifty thousand members in its patronizing territory, and if we can not support this paper without any aid from the Book Concern, we ought not to call ourselves men. We ought to dream self-support, talk self-support, pray self-support, and preach self-support till we and the whole membership shall be aroused and educated along this line. The SOUTHWESTERN should have at least ten thousand subscribers by the first of January next. Now I call attention to the following table of figures, please study them.

Olip this article out and put it in your scrap-book.

For the SOUTHWESTERN. The Organic Union of Negro Methodism and our Colored Membership.

BY REV. D. W. HAYS, D. D.

While the Ecumenical Conference was in session in Washington, D. C., another meeting was held apart by several of the delegates, to consider the question of organic union among the different colored Methodist Churches of this country. The speakers urged the importance of the movement with gratifying unanimity. To what extent they represented the spirit and wish of the respective bodies from which they came without official designation, remains yet to be seen. Many, no doubt, will wait with eager expectation to see what the future may develop. I have no desire to delay the consummation of the great undertaking by pointing out obstacles. That must be overcome. Let the fraternal wave roll on! Its bearing upon any portion of our own membership will not be attended with disintegrating consequences. One of our prominent educators, who happened to be present at the meeting, was heard, however, to express the opposite view. He was of the opinion that the procession of a great big Negro church, making an ostensible parade of numbers, would present a mighty temptation.

I will not question that those who have stronger leaning towards a great crowd, than towards great ideas, might be easily induced to fall into line, but not many such persons, I imagine, have a place amongst us. The old church is big enough for us. We love her and propose to stand firm in our attachment regardless of what course others may pursue.

I think no small injustice is being done our tried people by whispers heard, now and then, from unfriendly sources, which are intended to cast the shadow of suspicion upon the sincerity of their devotion and loyalty to the church of their choice. They are held up as being uneasy, and ready at a signal, to draw off and form an independent church, unless certain demands are complied with at an early day.
I had thought we were made to suffer enough without being now subjected to such gross misrepresentation and reproach. It is time for these whispers to be silenced or else compelled to openly vindicate the truth of what they are so industriously trying to circulate to our hurt. We are not afraid to have the light turned on and a scrutinizing search instituted. We even challenge it.

If any man be found in rank with us fostering plans of secession, and endeavoring, by covert means,
to promote the same, let him be exposed in the most public manner.
I cannot close this brief paper without adding, that all those who would judge rightly of the feelings, desires, hopes and aim of the colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church should subscribe for, and read regularly with care, each number of the SOUTHWEST-ERN. True to its mission as one of the official organs of the church, it thoroughly canvasses every phase of the situation and faithfully records its impressions. Its tone is boldly aggressive, but intensely loyal, and speaking without equivocation or truckling, voices the sentiment of a large majority of our preachers and laymen.

An Appreciated Letter.

Rev. L. P. Oushman, who will be long and gratefully remembered, for his faithful years of service among us, and who for several years was editor of this paper, and Presiding Elder in the Texas, and subsequently in the Louisiana Conference, is now pastor of an important charge in the New England Southern Conference at Lynn, Mass. While here in this work he was always the court of last resort to whom many of our people used to go to borrow money to bridge them over their financial difficulties, to redeem their property from tax sales, seizures, etc. In many cases he was promptly refunded his money, while in many others he was left to collect in the great coming day. How much good he thus accomplished will never be known; for he never makes mention of them. In a recent personal letter he sends us two such notes to be returned to the widows of the deceased makers of the prom-issory notes given him for money loaned. In this letter he says so many good words that our people will appreciate, we venture to make the following excerpts:
"We are just over a heated political canvass. The Republicans were unfortunate in their nominee for Governor. He possessed but little strength. On the stump he was in no way equal to Governor Russell, the Democratic nominee.
The Senate and House are strong Republican, and all the other candidates on the ticket, with Mr.
Allen, were elected by over 14,000 majority. Mr. Allen is laid upon the shelf to dry. There let him remain.

The Prohibitionists made a great noise, used an immense amount of slogans, were very kind and gentle in all their reference towards the Democrats, but their kind words for the church, deacon, class leaders, stewards, trustees, and the Republican party, were like angel's visits, few and miles between. There was a falling off in their vote, as compared with last year, of nearly six thousand.

I have a pleasant field of labor in which to work, and I enjoy my work as a Methodist minister more and more each year of my life.
Mrs. Oushman is improving in her health. Clara (his daughter), makes her home with us, though most of the time away, engaged in missionary work connected with the W.
F. M. Society. Lewis (his son), is in Helena, Montana, is the advertising and circulating agent of the Helena Journal, at a salary of over $2,000 per year. Frank is on the Boston Traveler, and both of them members of the Methodist Church.

It is nearly five years since I left New Orleans. What changes, * * * * * and others seemed to be in the church for what they could get out of it, not to serve it.
I was sorry as I learned of their leaving, and yet was not much disappointed. The Emperor holds on his way. I was associated with him six years, and I have none but the most pleasant memories.
God bless the grand old man! I read the SOUTHWESTERN with increasing interest. My blood boils when I read of the brutal assaults upon and murders of so many of our people. God will be a swift witness when his day of vengeance comes.

Fraternally,
L. P. CUSHMAN.

TRAVEL in the South, for colored people is getting to be more and more intolerable. Not only is the separate coach law being enforced in the ordinary coaches, but efforts are being made to drive respectable colored people, fully able to pay the additional tariff, out of the sleeping car. A few days ago a colored man was forcibly ejected out of a sleeping car in Texas by State authorities. More recently a Pullman Car conductor was arrested in Shreveport for carrying a colored passenger on his car. The Negro porter is all right, but the Negro passenger, is an offense, and must be driven out.
It remains to be seen how long our people will continue to submit to such inhuman treatment without testing the constitutionality of this Jim Crow car law. The American Citizens' Equal Rights Association, co-operating with the committee of citizens which was organized in the Crusader office the other day, propose to make the infamy an issue, before the Supreme Court of the Nation. Let every self-respecting colored man, contribute his means, and let every friend of public right and justice unite with their help and sympathy in the movement. Contributions will be received and credited to the cause at this office.

NEXT Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. A good way to observe it is to conclude the services of the day with a liberal collection from every church to assist in testing the constitutionality of the "jim crow car law." If worthy of our constitutional rights, we should be sufficiently patriotic to contribute of our means to secure and maintain them. Our "white bishop," Bishop Mallalien has set us the example by contributing $25 to the cause, and promises to do more if necessary. Let every one of our presiding elders, pastors and people follow his godly and patriotic leadership. Amounts sent to this office will be acknowledged, and turned over to the committee in charge of the task of testing the iniquitous law. They have already collected over $2,000 toward the fund.

THE Lay Conference of the Michigan Conference adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the General Conference has extended the Presiding Elder's term of continuation service on one district to six years, it is best that a term or more in the pastorate should intervene before appointment to another district.

The conference expressed the opinion of the great majority of the ministry.

COMMENTING upon the New York election the N. Y. Herald, says
"We are convinced that the election of Mr. Flower will prove to be a sort of boomerang to the Democratic party in the Presidential campaign next year and a blessing in his disguise to the Republicans."

Letters from the Districts.

Paris District, Texas Conference.

R. L. HOFFMAN.

The second district conference of the Paris District, Texas Conference, convened in Clarksville, Texas, at the St. Paul M. E. Church, Oct. 20th, 9 o'clock a. m., with Rev. P. Morgan, Presiding Elder, in the chair.

Rev. A. Taylor, of Bonham, was elected secretary; Rev. W. H. Jackson, of Paris, recording secretary and treasurer; Rev. P. L. Jackson statistical secretary, with Rev. W. B. Perry and V. M. Cole, Jr., assistants.

Rev. F. Gilmore deserves praise for the hospitality shown delegates and visitors while in Clarksville.

The Presiding Elder's reports showed a general increase of the work on the district.

The illness of the wife of Rev. W. J. Holland prevented his being present.

The pastors' reports showed nearly all benevolent moneys collected.

Strong resolutions were passed indorsing the work and labors of Rev. P. Morgan, Presiding Elder, during the four years he has labored on the district; also, asking the Bishop to return him.

Revs. W. H. Jackson, P. Prnitt, P. L. Jackson, and F. Gilmore, raised $35.50 on a district home.

Rev. I. P. Pittsfield, of the Missionary Baptist Church, was introduced to the conference.

Revs. Wm. Bartley and P. L. Jackson were elected delegates to meet at Houston, Dec. 2, relative to a State Sunday School Institute. The statistical reports show an increase of 200 members since last year.

Rev. P. Morgan was presented a $55 suit of clothes by the ministers and friends on his district.

Prof. R. L. Hoffman, of Paris, and Rev. F. Gilmore, of Clarksville, were appointed as a committee on resolutions for the SOUTHWESTERN. They reported the following:

WHEREAS, The SOUTHWESTERN, by the diligent management and untiring efforts of its editor to ennoble to the world the principles and workings of Methodism, and the undaunted courage with which it defends the cause and depicts the outrages that are being perpetrated upon the Afro-Americans of the South;

Be it Resolved, That each pastor urge upon the local preachers and exhorters on his charge to take the SOUTHWESTERN.

Be it further Resolved, That each pastor see to the distribution of the SOUTHWESTERN in every home on his charge; and that this conference, while in session, shall take steps to further the interest of the SOUTHWESTERN (our church organ), by soliciting subscribers.

Sunday was a gala day for the preachers and visitors. At 9 a. m. a model Sunday school was conducted by 14 experienced teachers. It was a grand success.

At 11 a. m. Rev. W. H. Jackson preached a noble sermon. The Mayor of the city was present and paid high tribute to the discourse.

At 3 p. m. Rev. Peter Morgan, Presiding Elder, preached a soul-stirring sermon.

Revs. P. L. Jackson and Taylor Moore, of Palestine, occupied the pulpit at 8 p. m. Fully 300 communed.

Collections during the conference were $151.25.

W. H. M. S. of the East Tennessee Conference.

MISS MARION A. GARNER.

The ladies of the W. H. M. Society met at Morristown, Tenn., Oct. 17, for the purpose of organizing a Conference Society.

Mrs. Cora Provine, conference corresponding secretary, made some remarks in regard to the aim of the meeting, after which Mrs. L. E. Prentiss was elected president of the meeting, and Miss Marion A. Garner secretary.

The officers for the several districts, and for the conference, were elected upon the nomination of the nominating committee.

Encouraging reports from the different auxiliaries were read by the conference recording secretary.

The conference corresponding secretary and treasurer read the report of her yearly work. Her report stood highly approved.

A paper was read by Mrs. L. A. Branner, giving many interesting and instructive points on the work and duty of the Woman's Home Mission.

The most encouraging feature of the evening was the report made on young folk's work by Mrs. Hannah Trigg.

Having been deprived of an address from Mrs. L. E. Prentiss on account of her having to leave on the early evening train, Dr. A. E. P. Albert, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, favored us with a most excellent and encouraging address, picturing woman in her philanthropic sphere.

The conference collection was then taken up, amounting to $4.20. Knoxville, Tenn.

C. L. MADISON.

Dear Brethren: Now is the time to obtain subscribers for our church paper (the SOUTHWESTERN). The paper should be in every family. It can be had from now until January 1, 1893, for $1.50 cash. The people have the money now to pay for the paper, and if they subscribe now their subscriptions will always end in the fall, when they have money to renew. We all need the information the paper gives. There are always great and important questions being discussed about the Negro and white man. We want to be informed on both sides. The information we get from one copy of the SOUTHWESTERN is worth more than all of the jaw-bone clash we get from Tom, Dick and Harry. We get the minds of the leading men of the church, and the editor's comments on their letters, which give us a chance to see the matter from both sides.

Brethren, get the people to take the paper and read it, and then when the Presiding Elder delivers a lecture about their church and church work, ignorance will not sit up in the corner and criticize all that is said and done. Ignorance is the mother of superstition, and until we can get our people well informed, some of them will continue to think that every idea the Presiding Elder or pastor advances is for personal ends. We have some old soreheads now that are no more in harmony with their Elder and pastor than the devil is. They sit up in church and their very look will defeat any plan that does not come up to their notions about things. Brethren, if these men are to be kept in office (as generally is the case), get them to take the paper which is a looking glass for all such. May be they will see themselves as they are. Some of them remind me of the tale about the dog that stood on the hay. They do nothing themselves and they will not let the good people do anything. Hear what some of them say: "The Presiding Elder gets too much money for one sermon. The pastor's salary is too high; he don't do anything but sit down and read his book. We have to work hard in the hot sun for our money, etc." They say "The Church Extension Society don't give us anything. The schools that are built are nothing to us. We will have to pay just as much to send our children there as some one that never gave a dime towards the building." Such is the talk of many of those who are held as leaders among the people. Now, my point is to get the people to read the paper, and they will see that we are doing just what every nation under heaven is doing—trying to be a people and to make our mark in the world. Suppose the pastor is trying to build a nice church, pay off his Presiding Elder, collect all of his benevolent moneys, and help the stewards to pay the pastors' claims—is that not his duty? Ought not the man or men that fight against him, from one end of the year to the other, be turned out of the church forever?

W. S. Rollins, Indianapolis, Ind.

Hinton's Chapel, Green Castle, Ind.—There has been an eye sore of a heavy debt for eight or ten years on this district. It will take up too much space of your paper to give the whole history of this church. It has been sold twice, but thank God, to-day, under the leadership of Lawyer M. A. Moore and Dr. Martin, and the many white friends, the long standing debt of $667.95, has been paid and the church is entirely out of debt and undergoing repair, under the pastorage of C. T. Lewis, who is also one of the three colored students of Depaw.

Thomas Printess, pastor of North Indianapolis, is another one of the three students who is serving his fifth year as pastor, and by the aid of Mr. Barnes, a white gentleman, who is a strong Baptist and a strong friend of Bro. Printess, gave us a neat church lot, which we now have built a church upon at a cost of $850. Mr. Barnes is one of Bro. Printess' best friends. He is now standing at his back while attending school.

Rev. P. J. Smith is now serving his third year in Depaw. He will do us great service when he comes out.

Anderson, Ind.—Our church at Anderson has just been repaired, giving us a first-class church and parsonage. B. J. Davis, the pastor, is one of our best workers.

Bloomington, Ind.—One of the best built churches in the district for the money, at a cost of $1500, has just been completed. Rev. O. H. Taylor, pastor, is serving his third year.

Wiley's Chapel, Jeffersonville, is undergoing several hundred dollars repair. This has been long and much needed. Rev. T. L. Ferguson is the pastor and leading this work. We are closing our third quarter of the year with better success than any year previous.

Caught in a Storm.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL.

While I was in Edwards, Miss., the 22d of last month, holding the fourth quarterly meeting, I was caught in a storm. The sky was clear, the stars shining in their beauty, and no sign of clouds in any direction. Yet about 10 o'clock p. m. the storm broke in upon me. My attention was called to the singing of one of the sweet songs of Zion, after which a good number of members, Baptist, Methodist, and other friends, came in with baskets and bundles of dry goods, and presented them to me, and said: "Dear Elder, we take this method to express our appreciation and the high esteem in which you are held by us. May you live long to do work for the Master."

For four years I have tried to be a faithful servant to this people, and it is a very pleasant thing to know that my efforts have not been in vain.

God bless these friends, and may spiritual basketsful be sent to their hearts, churches and families.

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrh is to take a constitutional remedy, like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Letters from the Pastors.

SPECIAL TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Please take notice, 1st, That all anonymous letters go directly to our waste basket; 2d, Letters must be written on only one side of the paper; 3d, No frivolous questions will be noticed; 4th, Abbreviations should not be used; 5th, Notes and items must be condensed so as to insure brevity; 6th, We return no manuscript.

F. J. Brown, Eutaw, Ala.

My protracted meeting on the Eutaw charge was held in September and October, and resulted in a grand revival. After we had carried on the meeting for two weeks with no results, we all prayed more earnestly, and by much sacrifice and fasting, God heard our prayers and poured out his spirit in the hearts of the people, and a shower of the Holy Ghost was felt and seen. At the close of the meeting we had 36 converts, and admitted 40 into the church. The work still goes on at both of my points, Springfield and Eutaw.

A. F. A. Polk, Paris, Texas.

Mt. Zion Church is closing one of the best years, financially, in its history. Sunday, October 11, Presiding Elder Morgan preached two noble sermons. 168 communed. Collection $24.85. Paid Elder $20. Oct. 18th was rally day on pastor's salary. Collected $134; paid pastor $106.75. This church is spiritually alive.

N. Hays, Kosciusko, Miss.

I have just closed my protracted meeting; 15 conversions. Baptized 12 adults and 1 child. Two came to us from the Baptist, and one from the African Church; total number received, 24.

A. M. Trotter, Jackson, Miss.

It was my great pleasure to spend Sunday, Nov. 1, with our good people in Meridian. Sunday morning I met 170 bright and inquiring scholars in the Sabbath school. The school was well officered—each one knew his place and duty. Bro. Wadkins, the superintendent, presides with majesty and ease. Bro. L. J. Jones preached an edifying sermon at 11 a. m. At 3 and 7 p. m. I preached to two very fine congregations. The congregation showed its high appreciation of its pastor, Rev. A. D. Payne, by raising for him a very liberal collection, in his absence.

The faculty of Meridian Academy, presided over with so much grace and dignity by Prof. J. H. Brooks, worship here. One of the faculty, Mrs. V. A. McInion, is the organist. She does her work well.

P. R. Woodson, Spencer Circuit, Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This is my third year on this circuit. The first Sunday of the month I was at Lock's Chapel, and met a large congregation. Rev. John H. Coppage was with me and preached a powerful sermon. We hope to have many converted to the Lord, and the SOUTHWESTERN put in every family on the charge. The rally at Lawrence Chapel on the third Sunday in October was a real success. Collection $40.

J. N. C. Coggan, Holly Springs Circuit, Hickory Flat, Miss.

Our third quarterly conference was held Oct. 17, 18, Rev. H. R. Revels, D.D., presiding, in the new church built this year by the present pastor. We are now in possession of about $600 worth of property. The Doctor preached to a crowded house, both white and colored. Many souls were made to rejoice. Collection, $15.50.

J. W. Hill, St. Louis, Mo.

We have now a membership of 175, with two strong boards of officials. Our Epworth League is of great educational and spiritual benefit to our young people. Bro. J. M. Arbuckle, shipping clerk of our Book Concern here, is our Sunday school superintendent. He is doing a grand work. Our church is most admirably located, and gives great promise of splendid development. Our third quarterly meeting was held Oct. 25. At the same time we had a rally, in which our collections amounted to $145.70. Our people are falling in love with the SOUTHWESTERN. The editor will do well to call by. We would be pleased to make it pleasant for him. The editor is specially invited to attend our conference in March.

[We will be there if life lasts.—Ed.]

J. H. Swann, Belton, Texas.

My fourth quarterly conference was held Oct. 24, 25, Rev. Maok Henson, Presiding Elder, in the chair. Reports showed that 11 persons had been received in full membership. Paid Presiding Elder $25.70; pastor $50.70. Paid for building and improvements, $104.75. Conversions this year 34; additions, 50; subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN, 7; raised for benevolent purposes, $43.30.

H. O. Williams, Ball Town, La.

I have just closed my revival meeting at Shady Grove Circuit, with 113 converts and 8 backsliders reclaimed. We were assessed $4 for Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, and raised $5 and sent it to Dr. L. G. Adkinson, president of New Orleans University. We are winding up a good year's work for the Master. We want a colored bishop in our church.

L. P. Kimball, Cordele, Ga.

My revival closed at Persia with 6 accessions and 1 convert. In Cordele we began our revival with the quarterly conference. The Presiding Elder stopped over with us four days. Twelve persons were added to the church, and 2 truly converted. $30.55 has been raised towards building a new church in this place.

Rev. S. McDavis of Georgetown Mississippi circuit, has had a successful year. It has raised over $30 of the $45 apportioned, and has sometime yet left to raise the balance.

T. A. Cotton, Daleville, Miss., has closed his protracted meeting and added 100 to the church. The Sunday schools are flourishing, and have placed a $20 set of books in the library. A new church has been built and an Epworth League organized. That's good. Praise the Lord!

I Read, I Tried, I Profited.

That's the new "VENI, VIDI, VICI," that thousands of restored men and women send back to us after their experience with our Compound Oxygen. A book of 200 pages, tells who, and how, and why. It covers every phase of sickness. Each sufferer will find his own case described—his way of relief made plain.

This book is sent for the asking by
DRS. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Wm. Payne, Gloster, Miss., reports his work in excellent condition. His recent revival resulted in 17 conversions and 16 accessions. He was assisted by Revs. J. A. Tircuit, of Jackson, La., J. T. Norx, and Presiding Elder S. A. Cowan, of Vicksburg, Miss.

Books and Current Literature.

An important table of contents is given in the November-December number of the Methodist Review. Professor L. T. Townsend writes a masterly article on The Genesis of the New Testament. Recent Missionary Discussions, by Bishop J. M. Thoburn is inspiring. Dr. Henry Colman re-opens an important question in his paper on Pre-Adamites. Regeneration as a force in Reform Movements, by Rev. C. M. Morse, is important for its sociological features.

Our Little Men and Women for November reaches us with as warm a welcome as usual. For our boys and girls who have just learned to read, it is the best magazine that could be provided. $1 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Perfectly charming is the November number of Paney. The hastiest glance convinces us that this is the magazine to put into the hands of our young people. The Paney is still unsurpassed. $1 per year. D. Lothrop Company, Boston, are the publishers.

The November number of Babyhood closes the seventh volume of that standard nursery guide for parents. It contains an article on The Family Medicine Chest, by the medical editor, which gives precise instructions as to what ought to be kept on hand in every household for use in an emergency. At the same time the writer points out the dangers of indiscriminate domestic doting. There are other medical articles of interest to mothers. Twenty cents a number, $3 a year. Babyhood Publishing Co., 5 Beekman street, New York.

A New Study of Carlyle, Moral and Religious Development of Thomas Carlyle, by Dr. Ewald Flngel, of the University of Leipzig. Translated from the German by Jessica Gilbert Tyler, with a full-length and very striking portrait of Thomas Carlyle, furnished for the American edition by Carlyle's niece. This important book is by a rising scholar and author of Germany, Ewald Flngel, Privat-Docent in the University of Leipzig, and one of the editors of Anglia, the leading German periodical devoted to English philological and literary studies. It is fresh, independent and profoundly suggestive criticism of the great English author. It was highly praised by the Allgemeine Zeitung and other critical journals, and by several prominent students of Carlyle, notably by James Anthony Froude and Charles Eliot Norton. This translation has been read and approved by the author. The great and permanent interest of the subject, and the admirable way in which it is treated by the author, will secure for the book wide attention in this country and in England. Price $1. It is on the best of paper and in fine binding, and will make a beautiful gift to any friend. The revival of ethical study at this time, and its importance, will make particularly interesting the moral and religious development of one of the greatest of modern thinkers. M. L. Holbrook, publisher, 25 Bond street, New York. For sale at Eyrie's Book Emporium, Canal street, New Orleans.

I HAD catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The sense of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Meyer, Waverly, N. Y.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50c.

Organic Union of Methodist Bodies.

Commenting upon the Ecumenical Conference, the Western says: There was further a great movement toward the organic union of the colored Methodists of America, aggregating a million of members. This cannot be secured without greatly affecting our quarter of a million colored communicants. Their representatives were not authorized to treat on this question. They were present not as delegates from a colored Methodist Church, but from the great Methodist Episcopal Church, which in the days of their weakness took them to her bosom, and now has no wish to cast them off. She will never initiate a movement looking to this end. Neither will she be found fighting against Providence. She will never play the part of Pharaoh. She has faith in the love and loyalty of her sable sons, and after they have deliberated, should they decide to merge their interests with the proposed united Church, her benedictions will follow them; should they decide to remain in her fold, she will continue the same beneficent care in the future as in the past.

However much the Western and the SOUTHWESTERN may differ in the treatment of other momentous questions, they always agree in the discussion of the race question, whether in or out of the church. Referring to the organic union of our colored members with the other colored bodies, if they unite, we do not share the anticipation that "our quarter of a million colored communicants will be greatly affected." Our colored people are unalterably opposed to any and all race churches. It is the principle involved that we abhor; besides this, we do not believe that the old Church wishes to "cast us (them) off." Indeed, her faithfulness towards us all through the days of our "weakness" and utter helplessness, even down to this present moment, emphatically proves the contrary; and unless offered, or cast off, as a peace offering to the Methodist Episcopal Church South, our people will not be seriously effected. Our faith in the old Church is too well founded. We rather incline to press forward to the full realization of the possibilities which are before us therein, to which our people, and many of their best friends in the church, prayerfully and hopefully look forward.

The Lottery is a Black Man's Question.

EVERY Negro citizen of Louisiana old enough to vote, or, if a female, able to influence a vote, should see that it is cast against the Lottery Infamy, and for the following plain reasons:

1. Every colored citizen, worthy of the name, should, and does, feel an interest and pride in his State. He is here to stay, and no one can force him away against his will. Now, whatever affects the honor and prosperity of this commonwealth, concerns the honor and affects the interests of the humblest citizen who has a vote to cast, nay that of wives and mothers, sons and daughters. Will our colored citizens help to brand the disgraceful name, "Gambler," upon the fair brow of Louisiana? would they give the control of the State to a syndicate of gamblers? are they willing to have all the business interests of Louisiana injured by the mania for gambling, fostered by the State herself?

2. It is a black man's question again, because his race is being cheated and fleeced by the lottery more than any other in the community. It only requires a passing glance at the lottery shops on every square, and near every market, to convince the most skeptical of this. It is the hard earnings of our toiling colored people (men and women, draymen, washerwomen, etc.), which is swelling the millions spent by Morris and his unknown confederates in champagne, cigars, race horses, etc.

3. It is the black man's question equally with the white, because lottery playing is unfitting their race more and more for citizenship, and postponing the settlement of the race question. Gambling in lottery tickets is making our Negro population more and more averse to labor, which with intelligence and virtue, is the only foundation of good citizenship, and converting their young men into idle and shiftless vagabonds.

4. Colored parents are interested in this question. It is the commonest thing in the world to see little Negro children investing their two bits in the lottery unredeemable paper promises. Are the colored parents, many of whom are sincere Christians, willing to have this temptation perpetuated for another twenty-five years and increased for to get the promised bribe (one and a quarter million.) Lottery webs will be spread, not only in greater numbers in our city, but at every crossroad in the country; nay, their children will not need to go out of their houses, for the tickets will be offered them at their yard-gate and on the door-steps of the public schools. Are they willing to rear a race of gamblers?

5. Colored preachers are interested in this question. By virtue of their superior education, thus far they have been the acknowledged political leaders of their people, and as such exposed to the arts of politicians. Let them beware, lest they bring upon their churches the onus of Achan (Joshua vii.), and upon themselves the doom of the builder of destroyed Jericho, "He shall lay the foundation thereof in his first-born, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it" (Joshua vi.) 26.

The conduct of such as receive help from the lottery company for church enterprises and ministers' salaries, reminds one of the fable of the goose that laid the golden egg.

Enough money will be given to secure the vote or political influence to repair a church building, or erect a new one, or pay a preacher's salary for a year or so; but this will be at the expense (to say nothing now of the moral aspects of the case) of the gradual but sure impoverishment of the congregation, and increasing inability to support the church or pastor.

We call upon the Negro race to aid in this fight against an evil more to be dreaded than war or pestilence.

A Brave Governor.—He Comes Out Strongly in Favor of Law and Order.

IN HIS proclamation offering $1000 for the arrest and conviction of each of the leaders and $250 for each of the lynchers of the Negro prisoner, Lee Green, in Linden county, Texas, Oct. 26, Gov. Hogg says to the sheriff of this county:

If this is not enough to stimulate the detection, arrest and conviction of those criminals, or if you find any obstruction in your way to the full performance of your duties in the premises, please so inform me that all needful measures may be taken within my power to maintain the dignity of the constitution and laws. Every citizen charged with a felony in this State is guaranteed by the constitution a speedy, public trial before an impartial jury, the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him and to have a copy thereof; the privilege of being heard by himself or counsel or by both; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; that he shall not be held to answer for the offense unless on indictment of a grand jury, and that cruel or unusual punishment shall not be inflicted on him.

The prisoner was denied each and all of these sacred rights, so solemnly pledged to him; for, while in the custody of the law, in jail, he was taken by a mob, burned at a stake and murdered. If he was guilty of the foulest murder each member of the mob is none the less guilty of a like offense. Their crime is deepened by the insult to the constitution and the shame reflected by the atrocious, barbarous act on the name of their county and State. If he was guilty, the mob's action is an indignity and reflection on every law-abiding juror and official in Cass county, for it proclaims to the world that they would not enforce the law. If he was innocent, then the mob has committed a crime so often inflicted on the weak by the blood-thirsty brutal strong. No citizen who loves his own life or appreciates his State can have no respect for a murderer. His contempt must intensify when he sees the mob return from a lifeless victim whose blood has been shed while a shackled prisoner.

There is no room for mobs in Texas, and they must cease their criminal raids if any virtue clings to established government. They are a menace to the life and liberty of every unprotected citizen; they are enemies to the bill of rights; they are incubators and propagators of crime, visiting vengeance on the defenseless, often innocent, striking down the bulwarks of liberty and laying waste to civilization.

In these days of organized society their fiendish work is without excuse, and cannot be tolerated. The prevalence of mobocracy means the subversion of law and order. The two cannot remain in harmony. As a rule, the men who join mobs against the helpless to take their lives stand ready to serve on the jury to acquit an influential criminal and to prate about the miscarriage of justice. It is time some of them were brought to trial for their crimes before honest juries.

I hope you will do your part in this case, as I shall cheerfully perform mine in it and all others of like brutality and disregard of our constitution and laws.

JANUARY 1, Emancipation Day, will soon be here. Prepare for its appropriate celebration.

In keeping with a time-honored custom, President Harrison has issued his proclamation, designating Thursday, November 26, as National Thanksgiving Day. Let all our people appropriately observe it.

Zion's Herald is thoroughly allopathic in its treatment of those who are afflicted with the episcopal fever. It is savagely drastic in its attitude toward all such as harbor any such symptoms.

THE annual meeting of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at the office of the board, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, Wednesday, Dec. 2, 2:30 p. m.

C. H. PAYNE, Corresponding secretary.

A NOTE from Rev. Reese Thompson, Franklin, La., says: "I congratulate the SOUTHWESTERN in the many good things it has done and is doing for our people, and the high moral stand it takes on every question that is for the elevation of the community at large. Especially for the care and vigilance it takes in the grand interest of our pastors and their sufferings and wants. God bless every interest of the paper, and give the editor judgment and manly stability to prosecute his great work in the future as he has in the past."

THE nomination of Senator-elect Green and Representative-elect Jackson by Ohio Republicans was what secured the full Afro-American vote for the ticket. The result proves this beyond a shadow of a doubt. Give our people proper recognition and the party's success in Ohio is assured. Nearly all of the 30,000 Afro-American voters in this State voted last Tuesday.—Cleveland, Ohio Gazette.

Why doesn't the church profit by this fact? Verily, "the children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light."

Political Review.

Since the election held in several of the States recently, a general lull has taken hold of the political world, and only speculations of the effect of the same upon the presidential election next year are heard in any quarters.

In this State the Lottery, hitched on to the McEnery kite, or vice versa, won the day in this city in the Democratic primary election last week. The Lottery octopus starts out with 139 votes in the Democratic convention from this city; the solid delegation. The present indications are that the Democratic convention, "bag and baggage," will be controlled by the Lottery.

Major Andrew Hero, Jr., Assistant U. S. Treasurer, has appointed Mr. R. L. Desdune, a worthy and able colored Republican of this city, to an important and responsible clerkship in his department. This is a well merited recognition, for which Major Hero will receive the thanks and appreciation of many of his fellow-citizens.

MAYOR Rich, of Mobile, Ala., who after being elected by Negro votes to his present position, and who in return offered to give them jobs as "street sweeper and government spittoon cleaners" has further demonstrated his ingratitude by further insulting that class of his supporters, by the following incident. Instead of imposing a fine upon them or releasing all the parties, the other day, "he ordered two colored girls whipped with a cat or six tails," because they refused to give up the whole sidewalk to some overbearing white girls that they pushed off rather than give up their rights in the premises. The Times Democrat correspondent commenting thereon, says: "The whipping was satisfactorily done at the guardhouse with a cat of six tails. It is probable that this will prevent any repetition of the offense in future." Nay, rather, it will tend to make the Negro to be more scrutinizing in bestowing their patronage and support upon such hypocritical demagogues.

Personal.

—Note from Bishop Mallalien to the California Christian Advocate, says: "We had a blessed revival season at the meeting of the New Mexico Spanish Mission at Peralta. More than a score came forward for prayers, and about a dozen joined the church. The mission starts out on the new year with the purpose of doubling its membership."

—We extend to Rev. Dr. O. R. Franklin, of the Central Alabama Conference, our heartfelt sympathy in the irreparable loss he has sustained in the death of his wife, who departed this life at Birmingham, Alabama, Oct. 29.

—Bishop Fitzgerald's many friends will regret to learn that his young son has been seriously sick, and is now totally blind; the result of his illness.

—There may not be much in a name, but there is no doubt much in family training. Dr. W. F. Whitlock of the North Ohio Conference; Dr. E. D. Whitlock, of the Central Ohio; and S. H. Whitlock, of the Illinois—three brothers—are delegates elect to the General Conference of 1892. This is not accidental, but doubtless the result of the best training.

—Rev. J. H. Iford, formerly pastor of the A. M. E. Church at Shreveport, La., is dead. He was highly esteemed among his brethren, and his death casts a shadow of sadness among his many friends, both at Shreveport and Alexandria, where he was well and favorably known.

—Mt. Lebanon Lodge No. 20, F. and A. M., of Shreveport, presented Bro. Morant with $5.

—Rev. Wm. P. McLaughlin, D. D., of the mission district has returned from an extensive visit in Ohio, and is looking the picture of health.

—The wife of Rev. R. L. Crawford, of Ames Church, is dangerously ill, and not expected to live through this week. We fervently hope for her recovery.

—Our readers will regret to learn that Bishop Merrill is now lying in a critical condition at his home in Chicago. His recovery depends very largely upon a painful and dangerous operation, in the abdomen, which has been decided upon by his physicians. Let the whole church pray for the providential intervention in his behalf.

—Rev. Reese Thompson of Franklin, who is here under medical treatment, we are glad to note is slowly but steadily improving. He ought not to have done so, but he did preach an excellent sermon at Williams Chapel, last Sunday.

—Mrs. Mary Carnick, evangelist, who worked successfully in the LaTeche region last winter, has come South again to engage in the same work. She can be addressed at this office.

LET the whole church unite in praying for a glorious baptism of the Holy Ghost, and all else that is necessary to our good will be added to us.

THE General Missionary Committee have decided to devote 55 per cent to the foreign, and 45 to the home work.

THE attention of our readers is specially invited to the very excellent article, by Dr. Hays, upon the "Organic Union of Negro Methodism and our Colored Membership," in another column. It expresses the conviction of our people so clearly and forcibly that they will no doubt respond to its spirit with great enthusiasm. Read it.

DAILY BREAD.

The following is a will left by a drunkard of Oswego, New York: "I leave to society a ruined character and a wretched example. I leave to my parents as much sorrow as they can in their feeble state bear. I leave to my brothers and sisters as much shame and mortification as I could bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart—a life of shame. I leave to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character and a remembrance that their father filled a drunkard's grave."

Faith's life is a song. She marches to battle with a psalm. She suffers with a hymn upon her lips. She glorifies God in the fires. She passes out of the world to the music of the Te Deum, and not to the dolorous notes of a dirge. She thrusts out the wailers and lamenters from the chamber of her departed and enters the room having with her none but the Lord, who is the resurrection and the life. Does doubt compose sonnets or chant hosannas?—Christian Statesman.

The discreet but persuasive power of the Christian wife and mother was displayed in our presence recently with gratifying effect. As we arose from the breakfast table, the father said: "We are so pressed with the obligations of the day that we will not take the time to read the Bible this morning." "Oh, yes," said the wife, "there is always time to worship. Give us a message from the Bible to help us through the day." And she brought the Bible, opened it, and gave it to her husband to read. The prayer was richer because of the counsel with the Father which was first taken, and the heavy burdens of the day were more easily borne.—Zion's Herald.

When a boy I began to read very earnestly, but at the foot of every page I read, I stopped and obliged myself to give an account of what I had read on that page. At first I had to read it three or four times before I got my mind firmly fixed; but I compelled myself to comply with the plan, until now after I read a book through once I can almost recite it from beginning to end. It is a very simple habit to form in early life, and is invaluable as a means of making our reading serve the best purpose.—Lord Macanlay.

Rev. M. Cecil had a hearer who, when a young man, had solicited his advice, but gradually absented himself from the church. Mr. Cecil rode to his house, and after the usual salutations, he said:

"I hear you are dangerously situated."

The gentleman replied, "I am not aware of it, sir."

I thought it probable that you were not, and therefore have called on you. I year you are getting rich. Take care, for it is the road by which the devil leads thousands to destruction."

A New York merchant has, within ten years lost six book-keepers by death. He could not understand the strange fatality. The symptoms seemed to be about the same in each case, and all finally died of consumption. At length he became convinced that the room in which the young men were compelled to work was the cause. It was a small room in the back part of the store, where no sunlight could possibly get in. Accordingly he fitted up an office on the top story where the sun could stream in through the wide windows all day long. The change in the health of the book-keepers was almost instant: They soon became strong and rugged, and no deaths have since occurred. This piece of history has a warning to those who are trying to live and labor away from the sunlight. The penalty is death.

But to those whose hearts are filled with shadows the results are quite as disastrous. There can be no soul health where there is gloom. The sunlight of God's presence must stream into the heart, chasing away all shadows, and flooding every corner with its own glad light. That will give light and health and growth. If we do not live in the sunlight, no one can be blamed but ourselves. The "Sun of Righteousness" shines. He shines for all. Why not bask in his life-giving beams?—Epworth Herald.

Schools and Colleges.

Boston University will soon have additional funds for the aid of needy students, Mrs. Lovicy D. Paddock having just bequeathed it thirty thousand dollars for this purpose.

New Orleans University and our people in the South have no truer and more faithful friend than Bishop Mallien. Whether upon the frontier of our country or across the great waters and in foreign lands he never forgets them. His plea is ever in their behalf. While on the Pacific Coast a few weeks ago, he found two friends who gave ten thousand dollars each towards the endowment of our medical school. Another friend has given him the usufruct of ten orange trees for a series of years. These will average about three hundred dollars a year toward the support of the school. Who else will help the good bishop? He needs now $4,500 to help pay for the property, and $200,000 endowment.

Our schools are opening this fall with greatly increased attendance. Presidents and principals write enthusiastic letters. Our three hundred and fifty teachers are entering with enthusiasm upon their year's work. With very few exceptions, our buildings will be crowded to overflowing. The cry is, "More room! more room!" For this cry let the Lord be praised. What will our great church say to it? Will not the pastors echo this cry from all their pulpits, and call the people to largely increase their contributions to this cause?—Christian Educator.

T. G. Hodgkins, of Setanket, New York, has given $200,000 to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington City.

The next meeting of the American Association of Educators of Colored Youth will be held Dec 28-30, at Nashville, Tenn.

Wiley University has 245 students. The King Industrial Home, in connection with this noble work is in a prosperous condition. The buildings are too small to accommodate all who come. Who will move for the central building? No room in the King Home.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its goodness as a "household" remedy—there is now of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by O. L. Never Questioned.

While other baking powder makers are exposing the impurities and shortcomings of the powders of their competitors, and the official tests by the Government are revealing the improper ingredients, the low strength, and lack of keeping qualities of other brands of baking powder, no question is raised, no doubt is entertained of the great qualities, the absolute purity and efficiency of the Royal Baking Powder. It stands alone, above suspicion.

Do not permit the grocer or peddler to substitute any other brand in place of the Royal.

Church Polity.

Question. By what authority do some of our pastors allow women to preach in their churches?

LOYAL MEMBER.

Answer. Upon their own; they violate the Discipline of their church everytime they do so. Our General Conference has denied the women license to preach, and no pastor has a right to disregard that supreme authority, in our ecclesiastical government, and set her up to preach, in defiance of that authority.

Q. Is it right for the Sunday school agent and the pastor and the officers of our church to call a Sunday school convention without the knowledge of the other pastors on the district. And is it right for that private community to assign work for each pastor to do without consulting them, and is it obligatory upon them to attend under those circumstances.

ANXIOUS ENQUIRER.

A. There is no law covering such a case, consequently there can be no offence. Enquirer is entirely free to exercise his judgment in the premises, to attend or to let alone. Unless he has other plausible reasons however, he should attend by all means.

TO JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER.

BY WILLIAM HAYES WARD.

Dear singer of our father's day,
Who lingers in the sunset glow,
Our grateful hearts all bid thee stay:
Bead hitherward and do not go.
Gracious thine age; thy youth was strong.
For Freedom touched thy tongue
With fire;
To sing the right and fight the wrong
Thine equal hand held bow or lyre.
O linger, linger long,
Singer of song.

We beg thee stay; thy comrade star
Which later rose is earlier set;
What music and what battle scar
When side by side the fray ye met!
Thy trumpet and his drum and fife
Gave sancy challenge to the foe
In Liberty's heroic strife;
We mourn for him, thou must not go!
Yet linger, linger long,
Singer of song.

We cannot yield thee; only thou Art left to us, and one beside Whose silvered wisdom still can show
How smiles and tears together bide
And we would bring our boys to thee,
And bid them hold in memory crowded
That they our saintliest bard did see,
The Galahad of our table round.
Then linger, linger long,
Singer of song.

The night is dark; three radiant beams
Are gone that crossed the zenith sky;
For one the water fowl, he seems,
For two the Elmwood herons cry.
Ye twain that early rose and still Skirt low the level west along,
Stark when ye must, to rise and fill
The morrow's east with light and song.
But linger, linger long,
Singers of song.

Sleep as a Medicine.

A physician says that the cry for rest has always been louder than the cry for food. Not that it is more important, but it is often harder to obtain. The best rest comes from sound sleep. Of two men or women otherwise equal, the one who sleeps the best will be the most healthy and efficient. Sleep will do much to cure irritability of temper, peevishness, and nervousness. It will restore vigor to an overworked brain. It will cure a headache. It will cure a broken spirit. It will cure a sorrow. Indeed, we may make a long list of nervous and other maladies that sleep will cure. The cure of sleeplessness requires a clean, good bed, sufficient exercise to promote weariness, pleasant occupation, good air, and not too warm a room; a clear conscience, and avoidance of stimulants and narcotics. For those who are overworked, haggard, nervous, who pass sleepless nights, we commend the adoption of such habits as will secure sleep, otherwise life will be short, and what there is of it sadly imperfect.—Selected.

LEMON PIE.—For the crust three cupfuls of flour, one cupful of butter and lard, rather scant measure (three times as much lard as butter), and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mix these ingredients, then add one-half cupful of water, and mix lightly. Line a tin with this crust, leaving edges large enough to turn under, then press them down well with the thumb. Prick the crust thoroughly and bake. Filling for pie: two dessert-spoons even full of cornstarch, the same of flour; mix with cold water until smooth; turn on one cupful of boiling water, and let thicken; add the yolks of two large eggs, one cupful of sugar, juice and rind of one large lemon. When this cools, put into the crust, and cover with a meringue made of the whites of the eggs, and two spoonfuls of powdered sugar. Set in the oven, and brown.

To clean brass fixtures, rub them with slices of lemon, then wash in hot water.

Bent whalebones can be restored and used again by simply soaking in water for a few hours, and then drying them.

Georgia follows Kentucky, in its efforts to re-establish the whipping post. Of course the intention is that colored men should be the victims.

Recorder Townsend has resigned and returned to the ministry, where he should have staid at first, if called of God to that work. You cannot serve God and Mammon.

Nebraska is not very healthy territory for the growth of mob law. The mob that hung a colored man there a few days ago is not getting along so nicely now. Warrants have been sworn out for a number of members of it and several arrests have been made. Nebraska won't tolerate mob law.

Hon. Frederick Douglass spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church on the night of the 13th inst. His theme was "Hayti," and he replied to all criticism that had been made concerning him as related to Hayti, and he did it very well and concisely. He not only pronounced a well deserved eulogy on Hayti and President Hyppolite, but spoke in glowing terms of fulsome praise of President Harrison, and came out boldly for him for President in 1892. The grand old man has lost none of his eloquence, and is as strong mentally to-day as ever before. Many Englishmen who were present at the meeting made speeches, and their feelings showed plainly the esteem in which Mr. Douglass is held abroad.

Babyland for November is out. The touching stories, the funny jingles, and the lovely pictures of Babyland fascinate us more and more. No better investment of 50 cents for the entire year. D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Our Symposium.

Earnestness is becoming to every prayer, every testimony, every appeal, every sermon, every resolve, every act and every word. In the religion of Christ there is no place for listlessness, recklessness or indifference.—Michigan Advocate.

As to the special matter of the unification of the colored Methodists, we shall have something to say after we have had an opportunity to converse with the leading men among them. If they should determine that the cause of Christ will be best promoted by their coming together in one body, we promise, as far as in us lies, to help the movement in all possible ways.—Nashville Christian Advocate, Church South.

Our neighbor doesn't believe in social nor ecclesiastical comingling of the races. What about heaven, neighbor?

There are two things which will fill the pews of a church. One is a preacher's brains, and the other is piety. When you can combine both, the most satisfactory results will be obtained.—David J. Burrell.

In arousing the feelings, about the weakest conceivable appeal is to tell people how they ought to feel. The opposite emotion is sure to arise. The way to produce an emotion is to present the truth or fact that naturally excites it. Pleading with people to have certain feelings, or scolding them because they do not have them, never accomplished its purpose.—The Watchman.

"God is behind all great enterprises. He is behind all movements in the nations. And it seems to me that it is to the English speaking peoples that we must look for the future progress of America. Republican institutions are the legitimate outcome of English ideas. Even the Spaniards living here admit that they are better off under the English laws and ideas than they would be under a Spanish civilization."—B. F. DeCosta.

The question is as to the general trustworthiness of the Bible. Can we accept the old testimony at all if it is full of false statements in historical facts, which are not incidental but essential? This is the point for which we are fighting not as to the mere verbal inaccuracy, but as to the broad truthfulness and trustworthiness of the Bible; against a destructive criticism, which throws wide open the gate which would lead us down into a self-seeking rationalism.—Prof. W. H. Green.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alternatives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alternatives.

"I consider that I have been

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatism to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plains, Mo., N. Y.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 250 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Foley, Mine Boss, Breckenridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

"My niece, Sarah A. Loece, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losce, Utah.

Our Children's Legion.

For Our Boys and Girls.

BY UNCLE CEPHAS.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am nine years old, and stay with my uncle who is the pastor here. My father and mother live at Crawford, Miss. Every week I read the Children's Legion, and hope I will see this letter.

Your Niece,
LIZZIE CANNON.

Brinkley, Ark.

Dear Uncle Cephas: Our Sunday school in Baton Rouge is grand, and is constantly improving. Our people have conceived the idea that the Sunday school is the foundation of the wide-spread of intelligence. Rev. W. R. Butler, our pastor, and Miss Alice Thomas, our superintendent, are a blessing and a power among our people. We take the SOUTHWESTERN. I am 14 years old.

Your Niece,
ELMIRA B. SPEARS.

Straight University.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a church member and go to Sunday school. Papa and mamma are members of the church, and are both class-leaders. Our pastor is M. Cooper, and all the children love him.

Your Niece,
DAPHNE NEWELL.

Dear Uncle Cephas: Our Sunday school is splendid. The first Sunday in October we had 30 in the Bible class. I go to day school. We take the SOUTHWESTERN.

Your Niece,
ANNIE DYAS.

Pleasant Hill, La.

Dear Uncle Cephas: Mr. Willie Copeland is my Sunday school teacher, and I teach a class of little ones. I go to school and study history, grammar, spelling and geography. Mother is dead, but grandma is living. I am a member of the church.

Your Niece,
JOSIE P. KING.

Nolensville, Tenn.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my second letter, and I love to read the letters from my little cousins. I am 15 years old, and go to every day and Sunday school. I am the secretary. My studies at day school are geography, history, grammar, arithmetic and comprehensive geography. Mother and I are members of the church.

Your Niece,
MAGGIE WILSON.

A Philosophical Family.
Amelia has pimples and sores in the head. From humors internal her nose has grown red.
She's a boil on her neck that is big as a bell.
But in other respects she is doing quite well.

And pa has dyspepsia, malaria and gout. His hands with salt-rheum are all broken out.
He is prone to rheumatics that make his legs swell.
But in other respects he is doing quite well.

And ma has night-sweats and a trouble-some cough.
That all of our doctors can't seem to drive off.
She wakes every night and coughs quite a spell.
But in other respects she is doing quite well.

There is nothing like philosophy to help one bear the ills of life, but in the case of this family what is most needed is a good supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It would cleanse Amelia's bad blood, cure pa's ailments and check ma's cough. The "Golden Medical Discovery," by its action on the liver cleanses the system of impurities. It cures humors, ulcers, boils, scrofula, salt-rheum, erysipelas and all kinds of sores and swellings. The only guaranteed blood-purifier.

Neuralgic Persons

And those troubled with nervousness resulting from care or overwork will be relieved by taking Brown's Iron Bitters. Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 139 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it; and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

Physicians recommend it.
All dealers keep it $1.00 per bottle. Genuine has trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

Why don't you get the boarding houses and different business houses with whom our people trade, to advertise in the SOUTHWESTERN?

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TWO STATEMENTS

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April I was attacked with Chagras Fever in Spanish Honduras and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell and since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Royal Gomedium. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Germetier has been a God-send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may call on me.

DANIEL PAPFON
451 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above statement I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Germetier saved my life.

DANIEL PAPFON.

Chagras Fever is known to be not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Germetier has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It is a singular record as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malaria troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quickest and most infallible remedy for Fevers of all kinds, Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our midst every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Germetier office, 202 Canal street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, Agent, 202 Canal street. At bottle, six bottles for $5.

GOLDEN TEXT.

The Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. (Mark 14, 41.)

LESSON HYMN, L. M.

O who like thee, so mild, so bright,
Thou Son of man, thou Light of light?
O who like thee did ever go,
So patient, through a world of woe?

O who like thee so humbly bore
The scorn, the scoffs of men, before?
So meek, so lowly, yet so high,
So glorious in humility?

And death, that sets the prisoner free,
Was pang, and scoff, and scorn to thee;
Yet lo through all thy torture glow'd,
And mercy with thy life-blood flow'd.

Time—Thursday night, the night before the crucifixion.
Place—The Garden of Gethsemane. Its name is not given by John.

Rulers—Herod in Galilee; Pilate in Jerusalem.

Connecting Links.—The supper is ended; the prayer is ended; the hymn is sung; out from the supper-room, down through the city streets, out of the unguarded gate, down the steep way into the valley, over the Cedron, or Kidron, into the lonely garden, pass the Savior and the eleven. The hour of agony, when he sweat, as it were, great drops of blood, has gone by; there is a tread of a throng, a clanking of armor, a glitter of lights; Judas is at hand.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. Betrayed, v. 1-3.
Where did Jesus go from the temple?
Who went with him?
By what name is the garden known? (Matt. 26, 36.)
Who also knew of this place of meeting? How?
Whom did Judas lead to the garden?
How were they equipped?

2. Defended, v. 4-11.
How did Jesus greet the officers?
What did he declare to them?
How were they affected?
What did he again ask?
Their answer?
What request did Jesus make?
Why did he ask this favor?
Who came forward to defend Jesus?

To what violence did he resort?
How was the injury repaired? (Luke 22, 51.)
What did Jesus say to his defender?

What did he say about the means of defense? (Matt. 26, 52, 53.)
3. Fettered, v. 12, 13.
What did the officers then do to Jesus?

Before whom did they first take him?
To whom did Annas send him? (Verse 24.)

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:
1. The baseness of a false disciple?
2. The rashness of a zealous disciple?
3. The love of Jesus for true disciples?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG BROTHERS.

Find why the Lord was called Jesus of Nazareth.
Find what sort of trees grew in the garden of Gethsemane.
Find on what evening of the week this sad incident occurred?

THE LESSON CATECHISM.
[For the entire school.]

1. Where did Jesus and his disciples go after the last supper? To the garden of Gethsemane.
2. Who sought him there? Judas and a band of men.
3. What did they do to Jesus? They seized him and bound him.
4. Before what two rulers did the band take Jesus? Before Annas and Caiaphas, the high priests.
5. What did Jesus say of their

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Dr. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

conduct in the Golden Text? "The Son," etc.

EXPLANATIONS.

A garden—Gethsemane—An inclosure on the side of the Mount of Olives—a favorite retreat of Jesus. It was probably a plantation for the growth of olives and the manufacture of olive-oil. A band of men—Partly, doubtless, Roman soldiers. Officers—Jewish officers of a sort that we would call "police-men." Luke tells us that some of the chief-priests were there also. Lanterns and torches and weapons—The old olive-trees in the garden made it dark. Went backward—The divine majesty of Jesus abashed these wicked men. The treacherous kiss of Judas had probably preceded this incident. Let these go—He does not forget his disciples, but secures their release. He would preserve them in body and in soul. The cup... shall I not drink—The terrible ordeal he was to pass through for our sins he regards as if it were the cup of poison which was sometimes handed to criminals who had been sentenced to death. Doctrinal Suggestion.—The wrath of man working the purpose of God.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

105. Is it not a fearful thing to die? It is to all but true Christians.

106. Why should not true Christians fear to die? Because the sting of death is removed, and they know that they shall go to heaven.

107. How long will the bodies of men lie in the grave? Until the last day, when Christ shall come to raise the dead for judgment.

You Can Rely

Upon Hood's Sarsaparilla as a positive remedy for every form of scrofula, salt rheum, boils, pimples, and all other diseases caused by impure blood. It eradicates every impurity and at the same time tones and vitalizes the whole system.

Constipation, and all trouble with the digestive organs and the liver, are cured by Hood's Pills.

REV. J. M. ANDERSON, of Marietta, Ga., says that no greater need is felt in the Savannah Conference, than that of a Sunday school agent, to travel through that State, to organize Sunday schools and institutes, to counteract the tremendous influences that are being brought to bear by the devil, Roman Catholics, and other denominations to capture and lead our young people astray. This he declares is the thing next in importance to that of the election of a colored bishop.

Taking butter from milk was known in the earliest times. It was left for our time to make a milk of cod-liver oil.

Milk, the emulsion of butter, is an easier food than butter. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is an easier food than cod-liver oil. It is rest for digestion. It stimulates, helps, restores, digestion; and, at the same time, supplies the body a kind of nourishment it can get in no other way.

DR. WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF Pure Cod Liver Oil and Phosphates

It has required much experience and care to enable the proprietor to combine the Oil and Phosphates so that they would become thoroughly efficacious together, and he has the only recipe by which this can be accomplished. Another important advantage which the Pure Cod Liver Oil possesses is the fact that it is the only cod liver oil that can be taken for a longer period than it can be done in any other manner. This fact alone would recommend this form of using the Oil even if the phosphates did not also add to the healing qualities of the preparation. The perfect incorporation of the phosphates with the cod liver oil has only been accomplished by the adoption of the following rules of chemistry; and a medicine has been prepared which while it is so efficacious is also perfectly palatable and pleasant.

OF LIME, SODA, IRON.

CURES
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, DEBILITY, WASTING DISEASES, and all SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

Almost as palatable as cream. It can be taken with pleasure by delicate persons and children, who, after using it, become very fond of it. It assimilates with the food, increases the flesh and appetite, builds up the nervous system, restores energy to mind and body, creates new, rich and pure blood, in fact, rejuvenates the whole system.

FLESH, NERVE, BLOOD, BRAIN.

This preparation is far superior to all other preparations of Cod Liver Oil. It has many imitations, but no equal. The results following its use are its best recommendations. Be sure, as you value your health, that you are getting the genuine. Manufactured only by DR. ALEX. B. WILBOR, Chemist, Boston, Mass. Send for illustrated circular, which will be mailed free.

TRADE SCHOOL.

Clark University has one of the best trade schools in the South. Blacksmithing, carpentry, carriage-making, wagon-making, painting, harness-making, shoe-making, printing and draughting are all taught.

There was about $15,000 worth of work sold out of the shops this past year. Much of this work ranks with the best in the markets.

A Special course in the Trade School has been introduced, whereby a student with an English education can devote all of his time in the Trade school, and thus completing his trade in a short period of time.

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society has a splendid building, well equipped, under two skilled teachers. The young ladies who have reached certain classes are put in this building, and taught all the principles of house-keeping, including dress-making and needle work. All the girls not in this building are taught some of these things in the grades.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

There is a normal department thoroughly organized, and conducted by a man of large experience in normal work. Special attention is given to methods of teaching.

ENGLISH GRADES.

There are the regular grades in English after the best common school methods, from the primary to the sixth year.

MUSIC SCHOOL.

The Music School is organized after the best methods, under a skilled teacher, and instruction is given on piano or organ, and also vocal drill to classes or individual lessons.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

The Gammon School of Theology is located within a few rods of the University, and offers the very best advantages to the student preparing for the ministry. For this school, address Dr. Thirkield, President.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

There will be a night school organized to help those students who are behind in certain studies, and especially those who have to work during the day for support.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the school is strict, but seeks to develop in the student self-control and self-reliance.

NOVEMBER'S FEAST-DAY.

Welcome, thou grand old Feast-day!
Again the russet fields
Lie idle in the soft, gray light,
Shorn of their splendid yields;
Again the lanes have glimmered
With farewell Golden-rod,
And Gentian fringes closed above
The olive-tinted sod.
But thou, O grand old Feast-day,
Thou hast no need of these
To draw us to thee. Though thou bring Gray skies and leafless trees,
A hundred welcomes to thee!
Ye altar-fires of Home,
Shine out!—and kindred, gather
From sea to mountain dome!

So hail thee, grand old Feast-day!
The wind-swept orchard boughs
Have hung their ruddy gold and green
Upon the earth; the mows
Are rich with grain; the furrows
Sleep 'neath the sun's veiled ray—
And all the land is glad, and greets
A new Thanksgiving Day!

—Good Housekeeping

TODAY is Thanksgiving Day.
Remember the poor, and share with them the rich bounties with which our heavenly Father has so graciously favored you.

MEMBERS of the Little Rock Conference will please take notice that the seat of the conference has been changed from Van Buren to Little Rock, Ark.
THOS. MASON.

TODAY is National Thanksgiving Day. What grateful remembrances it should inspire in every devout worshipper. Let us all observe it. We have, many, many things for which to thank God, notwithstanding the afflictions, disappointments and burdens which we have experienced since this day a year ago. Thank God; we are alive, and that it is as well as it is with us.

In transmitting to us a biographical sketch of his father, recently deceased, Rev. W. D. Godman, D. D., of Winsted, La., says: "I mourn my dear father's death, and feel the loneliness it brings. But there is, among us, a great feeling of satisfaction and even joy, that he has passed away from the rough conflict with suffering, and has gone so peacefully to the home of the saints. I and my family came via Columbus, Ohio, in June, thinking we might 'see his face no more.' When we parted he said with a smile, 'we'll meet again.' I expect so to live that, in God's infinite mercy, I may meet him and my sainted mother, who died Jan. 1, 1873. Heaven is richer by the loss of earth. May God bless you and I with riches of gracious experience. I enclose a statement—poor and inadequate—but I scarcely know how to write of one so dear to me."

General Missionary Committee of the M. E. Church.

Annual Meeting at Cleveland, Ohio.

REV. J. W. CORNELIUS.

The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church consists of the sixteen bishops, the officers of the society and board, representatives of fourteen General Conference districts and fourteen members of the Board of Managers. Its annual meeting was held at First Church, Cleveland, Ohio, beginning Wednesday, Nov. 11th. Rev. Thomas Bowman, LL.D., senior bishop, presided at the opening session, and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dr. Manshell. S. L. Baldwin, D.D., was elected secretary, Sanford Hunt, treasurer, and Esri Cranston, assistant.

After the preliminaries of organization, Bishop Foss read the report of a committee appointed at the last meeting, on the purchase of property in Wn Hn, China, from the W. F. M. Society. After some discussion the report was adopted appropriating $2,455 for this purpose.

Arthur Edwards, D.D., editor Northwestern Christian Advocate, explained the serious nature of Bishop Merrill's illness and bore the bishop's message to the committee; "Tell them that I love them all."

Dr. Peck also presented a report which recommended that domestic missions be taken up first at this meeting. Dr. Goncher was in favor of alternating at the annual meetings in the order of considering domestic and foreign missions; which suggestion was subsequently incorporated into the rules.

The seventy-third annual report was then read by Dr. Hunt. The cash receipts for the year ending Oct. 31st, were $1,228,888.04, an increase over last year of $93,616.22, of this $1,078,583.81 were from the conferences; legacies, $117,515.44; annuities, $16,295.05; sundry receipts, $16,435.74. In addition the treasurer has received for contingent appropriations, $22,169.23. The society is entirely out of debt and has in the treasury $25,303.09. During the last ten years there has been a steady increase in the conference collections. The doxology was sung in gratitude to God for this favorable result.

O. C. McCahe, D.D., senior secretary, moved that $1,100,000 be the limit for appropriations for next year, which was agreed to. Dr. J. O. Peck moved that $100,000 be allowed for contingent expenses, office expense, publications, incidentals.

Dr. Leonard moved that 47½ per cent of moneys appropriated be for domestic missions, and 52½ per cent for foreign missions. Bishop Fowler moved that it be 45 and 55. Bishop Andrews urged that three-fourths of the human family were still in heathen darkness, and that therefore less should be spent for home missions and more for foreign missions. Dr. Goncher said there had been 12,000 conversions in a single conference in one of the foreign missions during the year past, and that this increased the demands of that work. Bishop Fitzgerald favored an equal division of the fund as there is great need in all the Northwest. Bishop Goodsell took the same position. Dr. Leonard also said that the money given for foreign missions had to be applied for Church Extension work, for the establishment of schools, Sunday schools, literature, etc.; but on the other hand you must face the question in the United States of doing more for our great cities. Bishop Walden said that on the basis of 45 and 55 the home work would have $35,000 and the foreign work $38,000 more.

Bishop Hurst said we had been retrenching in foreign fields, but there never had been such success in all our history as in the past year. We must increase in order to hold our ground. Bishop Foster thought our home work must look more than our foreign work, toward self support, and that therefore the division ought to be 40 and 60. Bishop Foss thought that we were now giving too much to the colored people in the South. Chaplain McCabe did not believe there was any occasion for missionary to be disappointed. Seventy thousand five hundred dollars more were given to India last year than in 1884. Foreign missionaries have a fair support, while some of our men on the frontiers live in dinghies not worth ten dollars. Dr. Maxfield felt that the foreign population in this country introduced a tremendous issue. They settle in companies and are thoroughly inimical to our institutions, to our Sabbath, to our public schools. Dr. Durrell said that in many portions of New England the need was just as great as in the far West or in the South or in any foreign field. Bishop Mallalien favored 50 per cent for home work. Here in Cleveland, in Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Chicago, foreigners are very numerous and thoroughly American. Never before were we on the verge of such a peril to Protestantism. Dr. Buckley said we are really in the midst of a heathen, a Catholic, a Jewish population—an increase by immigration is an increase of some pointed form of religion. The best way to get money for the missionary cause is to show practical business men that we are trying to save our own country.

After some other discussion the percentage adopted was 45 to domestic missions and 55 to foreign missions; which will give $33,000 more to the home work than last year, and $37,000 more to the foreign work.

According to the new rules adopted for this committee, domestic missions were taken up and appropriations were made first for Scandinavian Missions in the several conferences amounting in the aggregate to $60,200. To the various German Missions in the domestic field, $50,350 were appropriated.

On Thursday, the appropriations for domestic missions were continued. J. M. Durrell, D.D., addressed the committee on the difficulties encountered in prosecuting our work among the French. Being thoroughly hostile to the English government, they are hostile to the English language and to all English speaking populations, especially to Protestantism. They are of a migratory and vacillating character. Bishop Bowman believed there never before was such a prospect. One woman in St. Louis whom he knew of, had been instrumental in the conversion of 100 French Catholics. Prof. Upham and others spoke upon the same subject, and $5,000 were appropriated for French Missions in this country, with others yet to be considered.

Fourteen thousand dollars were also appropriated for Spanish Missions and schools in New Mexico.

On Friday, Chinese Missions in the United States were first considered. Rev. Dr. Bovard of San Francisco, said that heathen Chinese were altogether unfitted for American citizenship, but that converted Christian Chinese became good patriots, and liberal contributors to all our benevolences. Dr. J. O. Peck praised highly the superintendent of our Chinese Missions in California, Rev. Dr. Masters. Chang Wong Fang, one of the Chinese converts was now a very efficient missionary among them. Dr. Harrower of New York, Dr. Baldwin and others represented the Chinese Mission in New York, and appropriations were made to the various Chinese Missions in the United States amounting to $11,400. Five thousand dollars were also appropriated to maintain our very successful missions among the Japanese in California. Six thousand eight hundred dollars were appropriated for Bohemian and Hungarian Missions and $5,750 for Italian Missions and $800 for Portuguese Missions in New England.

On Saturday, missions among the American Indians were taken up, and $8,800 were appropriated for their support. The growth of missions among the Indians was represented as perfectly astonishing in the Indian Territory.

A resolution of sympathy to Bishop William Taylor, who recently had a narrow escape from death by highwaymen, was passed. Missionary appropriations to regular conferences were considered and amounts about equal to those of last year in some cases slightly in advance, were appropriated.

A communication from the W. F. M. Society was received and approved. It appropriates $278,000 for the missions in their charge.

Dr. Goncher made a report from a special committee appointed last year on the propriety of dividing the foreign and domestic missions into two societies. A resolution was passed recommending the General Conference to authorize such a division.

An animated discussion arose when our white work in the Southern States was under consideration. M. L. Cnrl, D.D., the representative of that district said, we are not antagonizing the Southern people nor the Southern church. Bishop Wilson of the M. E. Church South, has said that they haven't the men nor the money to occupy the territory. If you will go over the field you will find vast portions of it unoccupied. In some states there are whole counties where there is not a Methodist Church. We are not building altar against altar. We have 200,000 white members south of the Baltimore Conference. The shortest cut to organic union is a strong M. E. Church on Southern territory. There have been 2,000 conversions in Arkansas the past year within our church. Bishop Bowman earnestly concurred in this representation, and gave many instances to vindicate its accuracy, as also did Bishop Goodsell, Dr. Buckley and others. Rev. W. F. Speake of Baltimore, Bishop Foster, Bishop Foss and others believed that some of our work in that territory should be discontinued.

On Monday the white work in the South was taken up.

Bishop Goodsell spoke of the vast distances traveled by preachers in the Austin and other Texas conferences, it often requiring $50 or $60 to get to the conference. Dr. Maxfield thought Texas was the key to the situation in our Southern work. Bishop Warren said our work in Florida was doing well, and a little encouragement there will develop an admirable Christianity. Bishop Andrews thought that one of the districts in the Georgia conference should be abolished. Bishop Mallalien deprecated any discrimination against our Southern work. $69,300 were in the aggregate appropriated to the white work.

The colored work in the South was then considered. Dr. Tevis thought we ought to put on somebody able to hear it, not on the colored men. Dr. Leonard had recently attended the Delaware conference and said it was one of the largest of the colored conferences, was striving hard for self support and was giving considerable missionary money. Bishop Mallalien protested against reductions; and Bishops Newman and Bowman also urged the maintenance of the work in the South. $57,200 were appropriated.

$66,650 were appropriated for missions in the Rocky Mountain conferences. Dr. Maxfield spoke of the splendid openings in Montana and the expense of our work in that cold region where fuel, heavy clothing, etc., were necessary. Dr. Bovard said a new era has dawned in New Mexico and the recent National Congress of Physicians has declared this territory to be the best in the world for the cure of nervous and some other diseases. Bishop Andrews spoke of the transformation of Utah and read sentiments recently published of Chief Justice McCane. Dr. Buckley declared that Mormonism was dead and that Methodism was the organization of all others to capture that population. Dr. Peck spoke of heroic missionaries in Wyoming, a State almost as large as both Dakotas.

After the appropriations were all made to Domestic Missions it was found that the original amount agreed upon, $495,000, was not sufficient, and therefore it was increased to a round half million—$500,000.

Foreign Missions were taken up Monday afternoon. The amount first agreed upon to be distributed for them was $605,000, which was afterwards increased to $635,000.

Missions in Africa were first taken up. Chaplain McCabe desired to read a lengthy communication which Bishop Taylor had made to the board at New York; but this was not agreed to. $5,400 were appropriated. $50,545 were appropriated for missions in South America.

At the morning and afternoon sessions of Tuesday appropriations to Foreign Missions were continued. The amount allowed to the three conferences in India was $124,339. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has appropriated also $56,000. Wonderful revivals in India have been reported during the past year and were frequently alluded to by various speakers. Some doubt however was expressed as to the propriety of baptizing native heathen on a simple profession of Christianity where there was no evidence of real conversion.

The appropriations for four conferences in China were $115,572. Bishop Fowler believed that the real brain of Asia was in the Chinese. Bishop Goodsell, who has recently visited all these Chinese conferences, made a very eloquent address while the appropriations were being considered. $30,000 were appropriated for work in Germany; $9,500 for Switzerland; $48,170 for work in Norway, Sweden and Denmark; $43,634 for Italy; $9,000 for Malaysia; $20,000 for Bulgaria; $68,377 for Japan; $17,562 for Korea; and $1,000 for Lower California.

In discussing the amount allowed for Malaysia, Bishop Newman declared his opinion that Singapore was one of the most important mission stations on the earth. Bishop Fowler said that 200 languages were spoken in Singapore, and that the Bible is distributed there in 42 languages. Bishop Andrews doubted the expediency of maintaining a mission at Borneo. Bishop Hurst said that the person already on the ground in Borneo, Mr. Luring, was one of the greatest linguists in the world, being able, though only a young man, readily to speak 25 languages.

The place of the next session of the Missionary Committee was selected. Rev. Dr. Goncher nominated Baltimore by the request of the City Station and the Baltimore Preacher's Meeting. Chicago and New York were also put in nomination, but Baltimore was selected by a large majority.

On Wednesday questions of property in connection with all the Foreign Missions were considered with great care and particularity and appropriations for them were made. Contingent and other appropriations were also made. Resolutions very highly complimenting the citizens of Cleveland for their generous hospitality and accomplishing the representatives of the press were also passed, and at noon on Wednesday the committee adjourned sine die.

City Church Notes.

[Brief items of news from the city churches will be welcome either handed us by pastors or lay men.]

Sunday, November 15, was a great day at Scott Chinn M. E. Church (LaHarpe street). Twelve candidates were baptized by sprinkling, and read into full membership, after which they partook of their first communion, with many others who also partook of the Lord's Supper. The sermon was by Rev. Wm. Evans. Rev. Stephen Priestley read the ritual and otherwise assisted the pastor, Rev. A. J. Pickett. Over 300 persons were in attendance. O. H. Derbigny, recording steward.

Publishers' Department.

Rev. Thos. Cole, of Marshall, Texas, is the originator, we believe, of holding "Advocate Meetings." Selections from the paper are read according to a program, using papers of different dates. One of these meetings was held last Friday night in connection with an Epworth League meeting. This is a good idea, and one which all the brethren can profitably follow.

Convened in Scott's Chapel Nov. 5, Rev. D. Jones, D.D., presiding. D. E. Skelton was re-elected secretary; J. H. Ross and W. H. Powers assistants.

The pastor, Rev. D. E. Skelton, then delivered an address of welcome.

The Presiding Elder, Rev. D. Jones, D.D., read his report, showing the district to be in a good condition, in benevolent collections and in revival work. Many churches had grand revivals. The Elder reported the sudden and shocking death of the wife of Rev. H. W. Tate, one of our beloved brethren; also, the death of the daughter of Rev. D. E. Skelton.

Twenty-four pastors reported their work.

The second day's session was entirely given up to a Sunday School Institute. Rev. H. W. Tate, vice-president, called the house to order. Rev. D. Jones, D.D., was elected president; H. W. Tate re-elected vice-president; W. H. Evans, treasurer; J. H. Johnson, corresponding secretary.

Interesting papers were read and discussed.

The reports from local preachers, exhorters, Sunday school superintendents, and district stewards, were called for, and 72 reported.

The licenses of the following local preachers and exhorters, were granted or renewed: W. H. Nutter, G. O. Moore, G. R. Moore, J. H. Bean, Robt. Turner, J. Jackson, N. Alexander, Benj. Alexander, Lee Spencer, E. D. Jones, D. Pugh, J. S. Asher, W. H. Powers, Benj. Bradley, J. H. Johnson, A. W. Bird, Samuel Chase, E. D. Gray, Mark Hawkins, R. F. Broadbent, S. E. Young, G. E. For local deacon's orders: G. E. Wooding, Primus Keene.

The Sabbath services were glorious. The Sunday school was largely attended. Revs. Felix Ross and W. Singleton, preached glorious sermons. The Methodist and Baptist churches were crowded all day.

This was the first time a conference ever met in this place, and the people only wish it would come again.

Conference adjourned, to meet in Paris, Ky., in 1892.

Benediction by D. Jones, D.D. Collection, $100.15.

S. E. H. Morant, New Iberia, La.

We passed an excellent time at New Iberia, with Bro. Anderson, pastor.

The church is alive, and $60 of his benevolent money has been raised and reported at his fourth quarterly conference.

Improvements are constantly going on, among which a new stove has been purchased for the kitchen.

Iberia has gone beyond all former years in benevolences.

"Listed," as the brokers say, at "100 Doses One Dollar," Hood's Sarsaparilla is always a fair equivalent for the price.

Letters from the Pastors.

SPECIAL TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Please take notice, 1st. That all anonymous letters go directly to our waste basket; 2d. Letters must be written on only one side of the paper; 3d. No frivolous questions will be noticed; 4th. Abbreviations should not be used; 5th. Notes and items must be condensed so as to insure brevity; 6th. We return no manuscript.

C. R. Buffington, Macon, Ga.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, A. M., Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, was with us recently and addressed an appreciative audience on "Christian Education." He was listened to with rapt attention, as he delineated the influence of the church on other Christian bodies, her broad basis upon which every nationality could stand, and her educational facilities for the betterment of the people. All felt benefitted.

J. D. Mead, Mexia, Texas, Landers Chapel M. E. Church.

We had a grand and successful time at our corner stone laying. It was a gala day for this section. Rev. O. C. Minnegan, M. D., delivered two sermons, which were rich in style. Collection for the occasion, $72.75. We had the presence of Misses Carrie McDonald and Lanetta Gregory, of the Mary Allen Seminary, Crockett, Texas. We are now enjoying the benedictions of a favoring heaven.

W. T. Trammell, Sylacauga, Ala.

Our camp meeting was highly appreciated by all the people around Sylacauga and elsewhere. We have succeeded in getting a lot on which to build our new church. The president of the Marable City Land Company promises to give us a deed to one and a half or two acres of land. Our Presiding Elder, Rev. W. F. Smith, spent a week on the camp grounds, doing effective work. He is away now at Atlanta, visiting his family. We added a few more to our membership here during the camp meeting. Collections, $20.

A. Porter, Memphis, Tenn.

We have our church built, all but ceiling, and we have a Sunday school numbering about 60 or 70 scholars. This school was organized by Rev. J. L. Massey and Bro. J. E. S. Read.

H. B. Hart, Vidalia, La.

This is my first year at this place, but we are doing all we can. We need a new church at Vidalia. We are yet holding church in the school house, but they will need the school house in a few weeks. Vidalia is a nice little city, and if we don't do something we will lose our hold at this place. Brethren, think of me at this poor charge, and speak for it. Our hearts are willing but our pockets are poor. I am in this country walking to my different points to preach. I left Vidalia on Saturday morning and walked to St. Joseph to preach on Sunday night, a distance of 50 miles. Pray for me at this place that we may get a new church. Most everything is Baptist, but I am holding my own.

W. L. Duncan, Huntsville, Tex.

The 24th of October found the Presiding Elder, Rev. F. Parker, with us. The reports from the pastor and brethren were very flattering. Everything is on an increase. The membership has been increased from 93 to 140, some of whom had been taken from Satan's camp, and others that had fallen by the wayside. The apportionment, $80, has been raised, excepting a few dollars. Sunday the Lord poured out his blessings upon us. Paid Elder in full. The young men of our church and two sisters formed themselves into a pastor's club, and made him a present of one of the best conference snits. The names of the persons in the club are: B. Carter, Jesse Carter, John R. Porter, Johnnie Carter, Ella Johnson and Annie Dairy.

C. W. Butler, Ingram's Mill, Miss.

My third quarterly conference convened Oct. 31. Reports showed success all along the line of Christianity. The Elder, Dr. Revels, preached to a large congregation, after which he administered the sacrament, and 61 came forward for prayers. Collection, $13.60. Paid Elder $9; pastor $43.10. The frame of our new church is up.

S. D. Troupe, Batesville, Miss.

The third quarterly conference at Spring Hill Church, Miss., was held Oct. 11, 12, Rev. H. R. Revels, D.D., presiding. The Elder preached twice and 71 partook of the Lord's Supper. The late revival resulted in 42 conversions.

Wm. Bell, Bee Lake, Miss.

Third quarterly conference was held Oct. 17, 18, by Elder McDonald. Paid pastor during quarter, $52.80; entire collection for quarter $94.85. Conversions, 3; new members, 12—8 of them from the A. M. E. Church.

R. H. Ponton, Monroe, Tex.

Fourth quarterly conference was held Oct. 10, 11, by Rev. Mack Henson. Reports were gratifying. Converted 29; new members, 25. We have built a nice church at a cost of $1000, against which there is a small unmatured debt.

M. H. Hunter, Bastrop, La.

Fourth quarterly conference was held at Mt. Olive M. E. Church, Sept. 22, by Rev. S. Priestley. Reports showed a gradual improvement in every department. Collection $75.60.

George W. Ziegler, Ninth Street M. E. Church, Covington, Ky.

The organization of our congregation of the Ninth Street M. E. Church into clubs, is meeting with much success. The clubs are styled "Self Help," and are for the purpose of raising revenue for the church needs. The result shows an encouraging state of affairs in this the most prosperous of our churches. The following amounts were collected in their recent rally: Sallie Hayes, $31.53; Fleming Harris, $29.55; Bedford Williams, $29.34; James Connor, $25.10; Clemmie Walls, $24; Lilly B. Boswell, $21.60; Edwin Jackson, $24.16; Thomas Martin, $21.17; James Bratton, $25.50; Thomas Herskins, $20; Lizzie Jones, $19.85;

Susan Barnes, $18.02; Samuel Payne, $18; Anderson Ward, $16.07; William Page, $15.31; John T. Wells, $16.56; Little Grant, $12.30; John Carr, $8.15; total, $376.56. Well done.

B. Carr, Stony Point, Miss.

My charge is alive in every sense of the word. Our church debt will be paid soon, and we will raise all our benevolent money. Too much cannot be said in praise of our people here.

D. A. Bragg, Carrollton, Miss.

We are marching on to victory. Our third quarterly conference was held by Rev. A. McBeth. Reports showed the work in a good condition. We have been for 22 years trying to secure a church site at Rising Sun, and we have at last succeeded. On the fourth Sunday in October we raised $65 as a commencement to build there.

A. D. Payne, Meridian, Miss.

On the first Sunday in November, by the exchange of pulpits with the Rev. A. M. Trotter, of Jackson, Miss., I had the pleasure of spending that day with and preaching to his people. I met a nice school. At 3 o'clock and at night a large congregation greeted me. Bro. Trotter and people have built one of the best churches in the State. After such grand work done by their pastor the people could but love him.

Moses Smith, St. James M. E. Church, Waco District, Texas.

Our grand Sunday School Missionary concert and entertainment given Oct. 31, was quite a success. Collected $29.

F. D. Bowers, Houston, La.

Our fourth quarterly conference was held Oct. 24, 25. Our beloved Presiding Elder, Pierre Landry, and his amiable wife, were present. Honma never has been better entertained. The quarterly sermon preached Sunday, October 25, was a soul-stirring sermon, one that shall be thought of for years to come. Collection $19. Amount raised by Mrs. Landry for education, $5. We pray God to bless the Presiding Elder and his wife.

W. B. Anderson, New Iberia, La.

Our fourth quarterly conference just closed, was a grand occasion. Our much esteemed Presiding Elder, S. E. H. Morant, was on hand to hold it. His presence here gladdened many a heart which had been in deep sorrow on account of his misfortune. Thank God he is the same most worthy S. E. H. Morant. Raised for missions, $15; Church Extension, $5; Freedmen's Aid, $10; Sunday schools, $1; Bible cause, $1; tracts, $1; education, $5; Sunday School Agent, $10; Bishops, $5; conference claimants, $5; General Conference fund, $2; total, $60. We have paid our Presiding Elder for the conference year, $48. Information comes to us that Bishop W. F. Mallalieu will preside over our next conference. Thank God for that.

B. J. Reddix.

I am glad to say that at our fourth quarterly conference everything went nicely. We had Elders Duncan and O. D. C. Bryan to preach for us. We had a glorious time all day for the spirit of God was with us. The collection was $24.80. Rev. O. D. C. Bryan ad-turns the air to ozone—makes it life giving. How do you know? Your lungs tell you. How? They give it to your blood which hurries it through your body. In four minutes every part of you is the better for a full breath of fresh air. You know it all over. So much for a flash of lightning. Now for a discovery of science. Drs. Starkey and Palen's Compound Oxygen is exactly similar in composition and effects to the clearer air of the lightning's flash. The manner of application is exactly the same, the proof exactly similar. How do you know? You feel it. You feel it all over. Nature's help, in nature's way, for nature's needs—that's Compound Oxygen. It was discovered more than twenty years ago. Ever since, and in widening circles it has given strength to the weak, hope to the despondent, and years of life to the given over to die. We can prove this to any one who could be convinced that there ever lived such a man as George Washington. The evidence can be had for asking.

ministered the sacrament and preached a glorious sermon. We have had a little trouble, our land being taken away from us at Grandco; but thank God we have bought more elsewhere, and expect to have a new church soon.

W. R. Butler, Baton Rouge, La.

October 18th was a high day at Wesley Chapel. Rev. E. Lyon, Sunday School Agent, and Rev. Thos. McCary, of Mt. Zion M. E. Church, New Orleans, were present. The Agent lectured on Saturday night, on "The disposition of benevolent monies of the M. E. Church." The fruits of that lecture were seen on Sunday at the missionary rally. Brother McCary preached the missionary sermon. Collection $76.80. Brethren, I think you would profit by having the Sunday School Agent with you on such occasions.

The entertainment given by Miss Alice Thomas, our Sunday school superintendent, for the purpose of carpeting the pulpit, was a financial success; $22 was raised and the carpet bought and put down. Fifteen were received into full connection on the second Sunday, and the good work still goes on. We have no right to complain; our church is holding her own. Rev. H. J. Wright, of Donaldsonville, paid us a visit last week.

At Stonewall, Miss., recently, a snapper was given to raise funds for fixing up the altar and pulpit. The entertainment was under the direction of the following young ladies: Misses Anna Patterson, Georgie Danlap, E. and J. Drackford. A table was set aside for the general indebtedness of the church, and was in charge of Sisters Bettie Goodman, R. Eastling and C. Piggue. The total result was $31.

Rev. J. W. Winbush writes from Goodman circuit: "The Lord has prospered our work. The result of our protracted meetings was: Goodman, 14 conversions and accessions; Spring Lake, 23; Conparle City, 15; Georgeville, 16. Will raise $50 for benevolences. Elder McDonald held our third quarter with good and satisfactory results." This is the kind of work that builds up the church.

Rev. H. P. Coulter writes that when he was assigned to the Bear-don circuit he found no church, no money, and but few members. He went to work with characteristic energy and raised money to buy a frame building, and has succeeded in getting 30 members. Such men are an honor to the church.

John Brigham, Gateville, Tex., received 14 at his third quarterly. Oct. 23 his young people gave him a donation visit that was greatly enjoyed.

D. W. Frierson, Free Hope circuit, Texas, has had a successful year so far, having had 18 conversions, received 12 by letter, and 1 backslider has been reclaimed. $41 has been paid on church debt, and a goodly sum raised for benevolences.

Rev. R. Williams, Sulphur station charge, Texas, reported 16 conversions and $72.50 raised during third quarter. Everything looks prosperous.

Bro. White, the Kildare, Texas, pastor, says he began there with a membership of 32 and now has 76. He will not be satisfied unless he gets a round hundred.

Rev. F. L. Teague, Marion, Ala., had an interesting time during his last quarterly season. Rev. H. N. Brown, Presiding Elder, was present. Rev. J. A. Holiday, of Georgia, and Prof. McKinney lectured. The Presiding Elder was paid in full. $53 raised for benevolences. The funeral services of Sister Hester Bennett were also attended. Twenty-three accessions to the church.

No president or governor has ever issued a finer proclamation than is the following:

It is a very glad incident of the marvelous prosperity which has crowned the year now drawing to a close that its helpful and reassuring touch has been felt by all our people.

It has been as wide as our country, and so special that every home has felt its comforting influence. It is too great to be the work of man's power, and too particular to be the device of his mind.

To God, the beneficent and the all-wise, who makes the labors of men be fruitful, redeems their losses by his grace, and the measure of whose giving is as much beyond the thoughts of man as it is beyond his deserts, the praise and gratitude of the people of this favored nation are justly due.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 26th day of November present, to be a day of joyful thanksgiving to God for the bounties of his providence, for the peace in which we are permitted to enjoy them, and for the preservation of those institutions of civil and religious liberty which he gave our fathers the wisdom to devise and establish, and us the courage to preserve.

Among the appropriate observances of the day are rest from toil, worship in public congregations, the renewal of family ties about our American firesides, and thoughtful helpfulness toward those who suffer lack of the body or of the spirit.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this thirteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixteenth.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

The special attention of our readers and of the whole church, is invited to the article by Rev. T. C. Carter, D.D., of the Methodist Advocate, in his paper of Nov. 18, in favor of the election of a colored bishop. The article in question speaks for itself, and if Dr. Carter speaks for our white work in the South, as we have every reason to believe, then it is evident that the white and black of the Methodist Episcopal Church are practically a unit in favor of the election of a colored bishop by the next General Conference. It now remains for the Northern portion of the church to squarely face the issue and decide to give it a trial. Thus far, our good friends, Dr. Moore of the Western, Dr. Cray of the California, and Dr. Warren of the Northern, have very favorably considered and expressed themselves in the premises, while the Epworth Herald, the Northwestern, and several others of our papers, have shown at least a friendly disposition towards the proposition; several of our bishops, too, have expressed themselves, to this editor, in favor of such an election. We gladly record the fact. Now let the whole church, North and South, unitedly recognize the justice of the claim, and trust this additional responsibility to one of our best colored elders, and see if the colored man does not "measure up" to the highest expectations of the church, as he has done in all other work previously entrusted to him. Try him.

Political Review.

The meeting of the National Republican Committee at Washington, D. C., this week, has called there quite a number of Republican leaders to the National Capital. The committee will appoint the time and place of meeting for the next National Convention.

Members of Congress are wending their way to Washington to arrange preliminaries in regard to the opening of the next Congress on the first Monday in December. Democrats especially are active in planning for the success of their several candidates for the speakership and the several other offices of the House.

The senatorial canvas in Ohio between Sherman and Foraker is turning decidedly in favor of John Sherman, the old war horse. It is reported that he has a majority now.

Gov. Nicholls in this State has disbanded the Attakapas Rangers, of which the chief regulator of Iberia was captain. This was because the captain is a lottery man. This is a fair illustration of the old saying, "when thieves fall out honest men get their dues." The Rangers were the gang that Gov. Nicholls sent out in the sugar region during the labor troubles there to murder helpless and defenseless Negro laborers.

The Warmoth satellites are manifesting the most active enterprise in seeking to crush out the popular uprising against his obnoxious leadership. The people, however, are united against his pretensions, and will show him that ward burners and his federal emissaries shall not be permitted to overrule their preferences in the primaries.

Gen. James H. Godman.

Gen James H. Godman, of Columbus, Ohio, died October 4, 1891, within a few days of 83 years of age. He was a distinguished member of the legal profession in Ohio, and served the State in both houses of the legislature. At one time he was engaged in building and controlling an important line of railroad, being president of the Bellefontaine & Indianapolis, part of "The Bee Line" When the tocsin of war sounded in 1861, at the age of 54, he raised and organized a company of volunteers and went immediately to the front, in obedience to the first call. He was eager to serve the Union cause in his native State, Virginia; and went with his regiment to join the force of McClellan in West Virginia. He went with his distinguished leader to the Army of the Potomac, in which he served continuously until he was severely wounded at Fredericksburg, having served as Colonel and Brigadier General.

After his recovery he was elected Auditor of State and served two terms, eight years. Because of his experience and financial skill, he was afterwards employed by the State for several years as examiner of county auditors' accounts, in which capacity he saved the State large amounts of money.

In private life Gen. Godman was a devoted Christian, and as husband and father he made his home of the happiest. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1842, and throughout his long career loved her and served her in many capacities. He was trustee of the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio, from the first organization until his death. He crowded his life with good deeds, and has doubtless begun a glorious life "beyond." His death was due to a complication of ailments resulting from his wounds and old age.

He was a man of extensive reading, and of rare excellence of judgment. Literary men and scholars have told me that they always came from his converse enriched with additional knowledge and broader views of life's problems. His was an eye that "kept watch o'er man's mortality." His heart was ever open to the sorrows of fellow-men, and his purse was at the command of the needy. He was always a friend of the Negro. He habitually employed Negro servants and helpers; and put his legal knowledge at their service in time of need; rejoiced when their freedom came, and contributed to their education.

Leaving the amount now subject to annuity $402,842.04

The General Fund, as reported, includes with conference collections seventeen special gifts of $250 each, for frontier churches. Last year there were thirty. We exceedingly regret this large decrease of these special gifts. We could have used, to most excellent advantage, at least 100. Our special gifts of $100 under the Mountain Fund Plan have been eighteen as against twenty-one for the year preceding. The necessities and opportunities to which this plan is adapted have multiplied while our receipts have diminished. Of our frontier gifts of $250 each, five were carried from last year into this, and nine will be carried from this year into the next, the special conditions, to which they are severally subject, not yet having been complied with.

We begin the year, Nov. 1, 1891, with grants to 317 different churches, on conditions to be complied with by each severally, to the aggregate amount of:

Donations..... $67,200.00

Loans..... 76,425.00

Donations..... $3,150.00

Loans..... 250.00

$3,400.00

Requiring for work already in hand..... $147,025.00

To provide for this, we have in hand:

Cash and negotiable securities..... $78,297.45

So that, to provide for present demands, requires an additional amount of..... $68,727.55

Our Church Extension Building was purchased in 1878, and with improvements cost..... $331,163.86

Revenues raised from the property have paid off principal, besides interest October 31, 1891..... 13,394.36

Leaving balance of indebtedness..... $17,769.50

This debt is funded as follows:

Mortgage on the premises at 5 per cent..... $15,000.00

Bonds bearing 5 per cent 5,000.00

$20,000.00

Showing balance to credit of sinking fund $2,230.50

That we are able to make so favorable report is an occasion for devout thanksgiving, but that, after twenty six years of careful planning and diligent effort, the average of returns by collections from conferences to the calls of this General Committee should fall below fifty cents on the dollar, is occasion for the most anxious concern. The generosity of our people in providing for local church support, and in contributions to the missionary cause, shows that the reason for failure is not lack of liberality, but rather, lack of general and systematic observance of the plans of the Discipline for the support of Church Extension. We sincerely hope that the General Committee may be able to devise some means of securing a settled policy of responding in full to the apportionments made, and for the more successful prosecution of this work.

In behalf of the Board of Church Extension.

C. D. FOSS, President,
A. J. KYNETT, Cor. Sec'y.
JAMES LONG, Treasurer.

A communication from the Board of Church Extension referring back to the Bishops and General Committee the question of the election of a second assistant corresponding secretary, was by the General Committee, referred to the Board of Bishops, with whom the right of nomination rests.

The usual standing committees were appointed. The total amount asked from the church was fixed at 25 per cent of the amount asked for missions, or, $312,500 for Church Extension on the $1,250,000 line for missions.

While the generosity of the few who have contributed most generously, especially to our Loan Fund and for frontier churches has made up in part for this lack of service, the cause has suffered irreparably every year. We have been compelled to disregard the cry of the needy and to turn away from open gates leading to richest harvest fields. During the past year alone we have been constrained to decline 140 applications made in due form and recommended by conference boards, asking donations of $31,050, and loans of $82,575, and have declined 258 others below the amounts asked, granting less by donations of $46,295, and by loans of $15,420 below amounts asked.

And yet we stand at the threshold of our new year with 317 applications granted of donations aggregating $67,200, and loans of $76,455, requiring additional receipts to do the work in hand of $67,000 as soon as the churches interested can raise the additional amounts needed to complete their work, and which we have required them to raise as a condition of getting aid of us. Besides these are others remaining on file, not yet considered, and still others coming by every mail, calling for immediate help. We regret that our failure to do more lies so largely with the failure of many of our larger and stronger conferences to make any advance for years and a positive decline on the part of others. The progress made has been chiefly by the weaker conferences of the church.

And all this in the presence of great activity and boasted success of the chief enemies of our country and our Protestant Christianity—the Roman hierarchy and the rum power.

We exceedingly regret the decline of personal gifts for frontier churches from 30 last year to 13 this, and for Mountain Fund Churches from 21 last year to 19 this year, while the needs and opportunities of the field have demanded a large increase of both.

Oppressed with a deep sense of our responsibility to God for the Christian care of this country, we look with the greatest concern upon the apathy and practical indifference of so many preachers and people, who should be laborers together with God in this, and in every department of Christian work. There has never been a time when a revival, which shall include the bringing in of the tithes, with the consequent opening of the windows of heaven, was more needed than now.

Let us lift up our eyes and behold the field, white already to the harvest. Let us encourage ourselves with our Father's promise: "He that reapeth receiveth wages and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together." In no other field do the golden sheaves shine so clearly and so sweetly under the smile of our God.

Personal.

—Rev. J. R. Howard, who was until very recently President Thirkield's private secretary at Gammon, is now teaching at Gainesville, Fla. He expects to join the Florida Conference at its next session. Glad to hear it.

—Rev. Stephen Priestley of the Monroe, and J. F. Marshall of the Baton Rouge district, left last Saturday to complete their fourth rounds.

—Presiding Elders Landry and Williams are in the midst of their last rounds in their city work, and report a splendid exhibition of the result of the year's work on their districts.

—No sadder death has occurred for a long time in this city, than that of the wife of Rev. R. L. Crawford, pastor of Ames Church, on St. Charles Avenue, which took place on Monday evening of last week. She came here a bride only about a year ago, and the divinely mated pair spent a year of happiness unalloyed except by the exigencies of the work in that pastorate. She had especially endeared herself to all her acquaintances. During all last winter she, in connection with her husband, devoted two or three evenings a week to teaching a free night school in the chapel of the church, which was quite fully intended. Her remains were next day taken to her former home at Greenwood, Ind., for interment, after short but impressive services at the church. Sympathy that cannot be expressed in words is felt for the bereaved ones. Her age was 30 years. Her death was a triumphant one.

—Hon. T. B. Stamps of the Standard-Pelican, has resigned his position as deputy internal revenue collector.

—Rev. Geo. Ansley, of the Savannah Conference, mourns the death of his wife, who departed this life Nov. 1st. Obituary next week.

—The whole church will rejoice to learn that Bishop Merrill, while not entirely out of danger, is considerably better, and may get well without the surgical operation which was deemed imperative a few days ago. He is in Chicago.

—We congratulate Rev. T. C. Carter, D.D., of the Methodist Advocate, President Grandison of Bennett College, Presiding Elder D. W. Hays, D.D., and Bros. R. L. Howard and Johnson, and Rev. C. B. Wilson upon their election to the General Conference by their respective conferences, i. e. the Holston, North Carolina, East Tennessee, and Tennessee.

—Bishop Turner of the A. M. E. Church, is now in Africa, and is writing an interesting account of his voyage over, through the columns of the Christian Recorder.

—Prof. J. H. Reed, A.B., of New Orleans University, has taken charge of the Houston Texas Academy recently opened there. Success to you, Bro. Reed.

—Rev. Wm. P. McLaughlin, D. D., preached at Hammond last Sunday.

—We were pleased to welcome to our sanctuary last Saturday, Prof. Collett, of New Orleans University. He reports the institution in a splendid condition. The attendance, scholarship and religious interest were never equalled.

Cheap Excursion to New Orleans.

Agents of the Queen & Crescent route on Dec. 1 will sell tickets at all stations between Meridian and Shiloh, to New Orleans and return, at one fare for the round trip, good until Dec. 7 for return.

Does Protection Protect?

Certainly, in one instance, it does. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great protection against the dangers of impure blood, and it will cure or prevent all diseases of this class. It has well won its name of the best blood purifier by its many remarkable cures.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy yet efficient action. Sold by all druggists. Price, 25c. per box.

Colored Bishop.

THERE is not much use in trying to avoid the inevitable. Perhaps it is better to stand from under. It is certainly safe to give this question a fair study. The question of what the colored race may be somewhere in the future does not particularly enter the field of thought just at this time. The angel in the crude block of marble does not depend upon your criticism or mine, but upon the ability, design and chisel of the artist. A few hundred years ago it had been a wise prophet to stand beside "Prince John" and fully measure the quantity and quality of the Saxon of to-day. Let the providences of God provide for the hidden possibilities of his creatures. Are the colored people of the Methodist Episcopal Church entitled now to a bishop of their own race? Do you say, if so, then the German wing of our church are entitled to a bishop of their own tongue. Well, we are not opposing even that proposition. But the cases are not strictly parallel, our German people are not shut off from us by social customs or legal relations. They live with us and mingle with us on equal social relations. They are not colonized by climatic lines or social ostracism. If the lines are as distinctly drawn as in the other case then give them a bishop.

Here are more than 200,000 members of the Methodist Episcopal Church living the other side of this color line. They have their district organizations, district conferences officered by their own people. Their distinct schools from the university down, largely officered by scholars of their own race and in many particulars they are as distinct from us as though they were living in Africa. We are not here to prophecy whether this social distinction will be a fact of the future or not, it is a fact now. Are there, nearly a quarter of a million of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church loyal to the old church? Let the facts in their history answer. For years they have been living in the midst of their own race of large and prosperous organizations with their own officers from the bishop down, yet our people have never faltered in their allegiance to the old church.

It may but be just to our colored people to say that their loyalty has cost them something at times. They have been tantalized by some of their sister churches who have been officered by their own race, as being led by their white brethren. Is it said that the church is waiting for a man for the place? There may be force in this suggestion, but is it really worthy of the place it holds? Is it not true that when our colored brethren have been entrusted with responsibilities that they have measured up to the work among their people about as well as we have so far done among our people? Is it not probable that there are men now among our colored people who if this responsibility were placed upon them would tower as much above the less favored of their race as our bishops do above the less favored of our race? Twice in the past decade on two continents—the Methodism of the world has recognized in its councils and on its platforms the bishops of our sister colored churches, but our colored Methodism will all its culture are still asked to "show us the man."—Methodist Advocate.

Talking of patent medicines—you know the old prejudice. And the doctors—some of them are between you and us. They would like you to think that what's cured thousands won't cure you. You'd believe in patent medicines if they didn't profess to cure everything—and so, between the experiments of doctors and the experiments of patent medicines that are sold only because there's money in the "stuff," you lose faith in everything. And you can't always tell the prescriptions that cures by what you read in the papers. So, perhaps, there's no better way to sell a remedy than to tell the truth about it, and take the risk of its doing just what it professes to do. That's what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of New York, does with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If they don't do what their makers say they'll do—you get your money back.

Rev. Wm. Smith.

The Louisiana Conference mourns the death of one of her best and most honored ministers, in the person of the Rev. William Smith, who, after a brief spell of sickness, departed this life last Friday night, Nov. 20, at about midnight, from Thibodaux, his last appointment and the scene of his latest battles and conquests. He was buried there last Saturday morning; among the people whom he had served so faithfully, and in whose tenderest affections his memory will ever be embalmed and cherished. The news of his death came to us so unexpectedly and so suddenly that the shock therefrom scarcely permits us to realize the terrible fact. We did not know that he had been sick, and had no premonition whatever of his sudden removal. Sad indeed it is for us to contemplate and realize the fact that William Smith, so dear and endearing to all of us, has quit the walks of men and gone to his reward. We can scarcely control ourselves from weeping as we attempt to write an obituary of his precious life, victories and death. He was one of a class of nine of us, that joined the Louisiana Conference at Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 12, 1878, under the presidency of the now sainted Bishop William L. Harris, D.D., LL.D. The members of the class were Pierre Landry, Wm. Smith, from the Sixth Street Church, New Orleans; Alex. Priremus, Z. T. Gayden, J. W. Hudson, John Qualls, now of the Little Rock Conference; Daniel Sims and Jeremy S. Bean, deceased; and A. E. P. Albert.

Farwell, Bro. Smith, we'll meet you in the morning, the Lord being our helper.

Rev. Wm. Smith was one among the very best men we've ever known, and one of the best pastors and preachers the Louisiana Conference has ever produced. A good preacher, a kind and faithful pastor, a genial and agreeable companion, he was always and everywhere welcome by any congregation, and among all of his brethren in the ministry; sustaining everywhere a pure and blameless character, he passes out of our ranks into the ranks of the saints in light, without the smell of the fire of suspicion resting against his Christian character. His life, his triumphs and his death, are a rich legacy to the church, and an ample illustration of the full and free salvation that he so powerfully preached and exemplified. He now rests from his labors and his works do follow him. He was a native of Virginia, and was converted when quite a young man. He was recommended to the Annual Conference by the Sixth street Church of this city, and was appointed by Bishop Harris, as an unordained local preacher, as assistant pastor to Father Henry Green, at the church that had recommended him. The following year he was ordained a deacon by Bishop Andrews, and reappointed as preacher in charge of the same church. January, 1880, he was admitted with his class into full connection in the conference, by Bishop Harris, and appointed to Whitehall. He was ordained an elder at Shreveport, by Bishop Foss, January, 1881, and appointed to LaHarpe, now Scott Chinn M. E. Church, New Orleans. He afterwards served, to the gratification of those charges and the conference, in succession, the following charges, viz: Donaldsonville, 1882-84; Glenoe, 1885; Clinton Street (now Williams Chapel), New Orleans, 1886; Thibodaux, 1887; Glenoe again, 1888-90; and Thibodaux again, 1891; from whence he banded his sheaves together and shouted the harvest home. Bro. Smith has a wife that preceded him to heaven a few years ago. After remaining a widower nearly two years, he remarried a charming and accomplished Christian lady, who with a child a little over a year old, are left behind to mourn their irreparable loss. We extend to them our heartfelt sympathy.

Servant of God well done. Thy glorious warfare's past. The battle's fought, the victory's won, And thou art crowned at last.

Schools and Colleges.

A college item is to the effect that in the three Connecticut colleges—Yale, Trinity, and Wesleyan—attendance at morning prayers is made obligatory upon the students. Students at the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale are exempted from the prayer rule; and, in the absence of any explanation for the distinction, the academic youth say that the scientific boys are beyond the prayer line by reason of their pursuits.

Ann Arbor (Mich.) University this year graduated 620 students. This surpasses in numbers that of any institution of learning in the United States.

New Orleans University observed the week of prayer appointed by the Ecumenical Conference, and last Sabbath twenty-two were received into the church on probation and four by letter. All who joined on probation were happily converted during the week, a number were reclaimed, and students and teachers were made to rejoice in the wonderful outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The meetings will be continued this week. Praise the Lord for the wonderful outpouring of his Spirit.

REV. J. A. Featherstone, of the Texas Conference, is publishing and editing a little paper at Navasota, Texas, in which he is carrying on a fight as to who should be the delegates from that conference to the General Conference. The idea is certainly in bad taste and contrary to all Methodist usages. In his method of treating the subject he goes off upon the absurd tangent, that the more experienced one is, as to the duties involved, the less his claim to re-election should be considered. Nonsense. Why are Blaine, Sherman, Allison and other great national characters the power in the national council that they are? Why, simply because they are experienced, and their States had too much sense to cast them aside, simply because they had been in office before. Why not have some sense?

Marriages.

In Kosciusko, Miss., by Rev. W. McDonald, Mr. Jordan Simpson to Miss C. A. Fuchses.

Nov. 16, Mr. W. Y. C. Wilson to Miss Abbie Cross, of Baton Rouge. W. R. Butler officiated, and Revs. H. James and T. A. Brown assisted.

At the church, Nov. 8, Rev. A. C. Culbreath and Miss Sarah Vogle. Rev. G. W. Gray, of the M. E. Church South, officiating.

Columbia, Texas.

Rev. P. H. Davis, pastor of the M. E. Church in Canton, Miss., and Miss C. L. Jackson of the same town and church, were united in holy wedlock on the night of the 11th inst. It was a very brilliant and happy affair. A large number of their friends, both white and colored, were present. May happiness be theirs, and may they live long to enjoy it. J. Campbell officiated.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. "Dyspepsia" does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not.

Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison they belong.

And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back as they do if they do not benefit or cure you.

A MILLION SOULS FOR JESUS.

[Let us make the watch-word for the whole church: "A Million Converts in One Year"—Chaplain McCabe at the Erie Conference.]

A million souls for Jesus!
Pass it along the line,
A million gems fresh gathered Within His crown to shine.

A million sheep now straying
On mountains bleak and bare,
By watchful shepherds gathered
With loving word and prayer.

'Till the dear Lord receives them
His blessed fold within,
Saved from the desert pathways
Of wandering and sin.

A million souls for Jesus,
Each with his torch aflame,
To light the darkened places,
And saving grace proclaim.

Invincible the army,
Should such a wondrous throng,
Put on the sacred armor,
And sing the glad new song.

Ho! to your towers, God's watchmen,
And work and sing and pray,
Till ye shall see the breaking
Of this long promised day.

A million souls for Jesus!
Like white doves flocking in,
Make ready to receive them
From the dark ways of sin.

A million souls for Jesus!
Lift up the standard high,
And shout the thrilling watchword
Till victory is nigh.

Millions of gold and silver
For missions still may flow,
Till all the blinded nations
The precious name shall know.

But a million souls for Jesus!
Redeemed and gathered here,
May bring the longed for kingdom
More infinitely near.
A million souls for Jesus!
To Heaven on wings of prayer
Lift up the grand petition, Till it is answered there.

—By Mrs. Emily Bugbee Johnson.

Points for Parents.

HOW TO BRING DOWN A SON.

1. Let him have plenty of spending money.
2. Permit him to choose his own companions without restraint or directions.
3. Give him a latch-key and allow him to return home late in the evening.
4. Make no inquiry as to where and with whom he spends his leisure moments.
5. Give him to understand that manners make a good substitute for morality.
6. Teach him to expect pay for every act of helpfulness to others.
7. Allow him to occupy a seat in church with the boys rather than a pew with his parents.
8. Permit him to regard the Sunday school unsuitable for boys on the verge of young manhood.
9. Let him spend the Sabbath hours between services on the street.
10. Be careful never to let him hear your voice in prayer for his salvation and spiritual growth.

HOW TO BRING UP A SON.

1. Make home the brightest and most attractive place on earth.
2. Make him responsible for the performance of a limited number of daily duties.
3. Never punish him in anger.
4. Do not ridicule his conceits, but rather talk frankly on matters in which he is interested.
5. Let him feel free to invite his friends to your home and table.
6. Encourage his confidence by giving ready sympathy and advice.
7. Do not discourage "collection manias;" they help to give information and fix habits of investigation and perseverance.
8. Be careful to impress upon his mind that making character is more important than making money.
9. Live Christ before him all the time; then you will be able to talk of Christ to him with power when occasion offers.
10. Be much in prayer for his salvation and spiritual growth.

The giant powder works at Ohappergate, Cal., blew up Nov. 6, killing three men and wounding a boy. It is claimed the explosion was predicted by a spiritualist who had been threatened with tar and feathers if he did not leave town.

The report that Jay Gould, the railroad magnate was dead, has proven to be untrue.

On the Majenta plantation, near Greenville, Miss., Wm. H. Hood, white, shot and killed Homer Dnvalba, colored, Nov. 12. As usual the plea is entered that Hood was an "impudent nigger," and the murder committed in self-defense.

Rev. B. A. Imes, of Memphis, Tenn., of the class of '75, Oberlin College, was the only race delegate from the United States to the International Congregation Council in London. He crossed in a Cunard boat. The captain invited him to preach Sunday, and Mr. Imes did so. A white passenger made some abusive remarks because Mr. Imes was a member of the race. The captain summoned the passenger and ordered him to make an apology. He refused to do so and engaged in further abuse. The captain told the passenger to pay the passenger the difference between the first and third-class passage and to put him in the steerage. On arriving in Liverpool the passenger complained to the company, but when they learned the facts they not only upheld the captain but presented Mr. Imes $150 for his work.

John Hossack, one of Ottawa, Canada's oldest citizens, died there Nov. 8, in his 85th year. He was an old-time abolitionist, and assisted many slaves to escape out of American bondage into Canada. He was sentenced by the United States Court in Chicago, while a citizen there, to ten days imprisonment and $100 fine for rescuing a fleeing fugitive slave from a U. S. Marshall, and helping him to escape into Canada. In September, 1860, he was nominated for Governor of Illinois on the abolition ticket. He numbered among his warm personal friends such men as Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, Charles Sumner, Joshua A. Giddings, Ben Wade, and other staunch abolitionists and anti-slavery men. For many years Mr. Hossack was blind and led a retired life. A wife and ten children survive him. Mr. and Mrs. Hossack celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1883.

There is a strong movement on foot in the new territory of Oklahoma to have President Harrison appoint the Hon. Edward P. Sh- ahead McCabe Governor to succeed George W. Steele, who has just resigned.

The suggestion is an eminently wise and patriotic one. No man in the territory has done more to advertise its resources and to augment its population than Mr. McCabe has. Indeed, he has been foremost as an Oklahoma boomer.

President Harrison will have to travel a long way before he finds a more deserving and capable successor of George W. Steele as Governor of Oklahoma than Edward P. McCabe.—N. Y. Age.

Such an act would be the crowning act of his administration.

The following from the Washington, D. C., correspondent of the Shreveport Caucasian, is quite creditable to Major McKinley, Governor elect of Ohio, as well as to American womanhood. "The next morning after the election about half of the women in Washington rushed for the morning paper before they had completed their toilets. They wanted to see if Major McKinley had been elected Governor of Ohio. Whenever the Major runs for office the women of Washington, irrespective of party or politics, are on his side. They talk for him, hope for him and some of them pray for him. That they do so is to their credit and to the Major's too. Their interest in him is not that which their sex is usually supposed to display in a gallant or handsome man, but genuine love for him because of his tender devotion to his invalid and at times helpless wife. If the women of the country could vote I think Mr. McKinley could be elected President or anything else, and an Ohio man who was here a few days before election told me that the friendly influence of the women out there, in Democratic as well as Republican households, was a strong factor in the situation."

Anxiety about the future is natural, but needless. There are some things which are beyond our control; there is no need to be anxious about them. There are other things which are largely within our power; they should be met manfully in the discharge of duty. It is also a good thing to be anxious about divine help; it has been promised, and it will surely be given.—United Presbyterian.

THE BEST
APERIENT

In modern pharmacy is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Except in extreme cases, physicians have abandoned the use of drastic purgatives, and recommend a milder, but no less effective medicine. The favorite is Ayer's Pills, the superior medicinal virtues of which have been certified to under the official seals of state chemists, as well as by hosts of eminent doctors and pharmacists. No other pill so well supplies the demand of the general public for a safe, certain, and agreeable family medicine.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever used; and in my judgment no better general remedy was."

Ever Devised

I have used them in my family and caused them to be used among my friends and employees for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge many cases of the following complaints have been completely and permanently cured by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above.—J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take"

Ayer's Pills

and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—Wm. H. DeLaune, Dorset, Ontario.

"Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic I ever used in my practice."—J. T. Sparks, M. D., Yeddo, Ind.

GOD'S TRUE MINISTER.

Simple, grave, sincere:
In doctrine uncorrupt: in language, plain,
And plain in manner: decent, solemn, chaste,
And natural in gesture: much impressed Himself as conscious of his awful charge,
And anxious mainly that the flock he feeds
May feel it too; affectionate in look,
And tender in address, as well becomes A messenger of grace to guilty men.
—Cowper.

WE extend our hearty congratulations, for his able counsel, to T. McCant, Stewart, Esq.

ONLY four more weeks to Christmas. And yet how many who are reading these lines, yea, you, yourself may not live to see it. Prepare to meet thy God.

WE welcome to our list of exchanges Il Pensiero, the organ of our Italian Methodist Missions in this city. It is printed by our New Orleans University, boys upon the University press, and makes a neat and presentable appearance.

THE California Conference, by a standing vote, unanimously requested Bishop Fowler to continue his residence on the Pacific Coast during the next quadrennium. That's what every preacher, layman and Sunday school scholar in our section is ready to do in favor of Bishop Mallalien's continued residence in New Orleans.

THE main building and library of Straight University, this city, was destroyed by fire last Sunday midnight. The loss will be about $30,000, which is partially covered by insurance. The fire originated from a heating stove on the ground floor. Our people all regret this terrible loss, and extend the hope that old Straight may shake herself out of the ashes for a second time and come forth in better shape than ever.

WHEN the Louisiana Lottery-curse was fostered upon this State it was pointed out as the best evidence of the Negro's unfitness to participate in government affairs. To-day, in the Democratic white primaries, the lottery is being supported three to one by the same people that used to thus abuse the race. Thus far the lottery has 297 supporters in the next Democratic convention to only 176 opponents. Tens of thousands of the colored citizens of this State stand ready to assist the white Anti-lottery folks in ridding the monster from this State. The question now is, will their white supremacy prejudices permit them to accept the assistance.

THE GREAT ECUMENICAL.

Christian Work in Agricultural Districts.

By Rev. J. C. Hartzell, D. D., of Cincinnati, Ohio, Methodist Episcopal Church.

[Address before Ecumenical Methodist Conference, Washington, D. C., Oct. 16, 1891.]

What I shall say will have special reference to agricultural districts and population in the United States. It is the old problem of the country church, how to plant it and how to hold and maintain it as a fortress of social and moral power in the midst of villages and less thickly settled portion of our country.

Every third person in the United States lives in a city of eight thousand or more inhabitants. New York with its suburbs numbers three millions, so that this young American metropolis, next to London, is the largest center of population in the world. Chicago, one thousand miles from the seaboard, in two generations has leaped from a village hamlet to a metropolis of one and one-quarter millions of people, and when the World's Columbian Fair begins in 1893, it will have at least one and one-half millions. This growth of cities will continue. Improvements in the methods of communications between continents and nations, and the achievements of science and invention are scarcely begun. The social and commercial forces which are now building our cities will continue to operate. But if one out of every three of the people of the United States live in large towns and cities, then two out of every three, or twice as many, live in smaller towns and the rural districts, taking our most densely settled territory, that lying east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river, contains two-thirds of our city population. Even here, fully one-half of the people dwell in country townships of less than two thousand inhabitants. In our Southern States, which include one third of the national domain, only seven persons out of a hundred live in cities, while in the far west, 95 per cent live in rural districts. Taking our nation as a whole, fully one-third, or twenty-one millions, live in villages and farming districts or still more sparsely settled regions.

Our cities must be evangelized. All the thought, prayer and leadership necessary to accomplish that work must be given. On the other hand, the permanent maintenance of the institutions of the gospel in our rural districts is a question of equally vital importance. The actual relations between cities and rural districts are such that the salvation of either is impossible without the combined moral forces of both. American leaders in education are giving larger attention to the country school house. Dr. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, has lately said that one of the dangers to the efficiency of the American school system, centers in our rural regions. The planning of daily United States mail in country sections by the Post Master General shows a wise tendency in administration. In politics, the Farmers' Alliance has come to be a powerful factor.

The majority of the world's population must always live in rural districts. The tide toward the cities may not end, but must be greatly modified. The reflex waves are already setting toward the mountain villages and farms of New England. Machinery cannot do for agriculture what it does for manufactures. The demand for laborers for the farm will increase as agricultural conditions improve. The plow will always be the emblem of man's greatest wealth. The muscle and brain and moral stamina which build our cities and lead the thought of the world, and give to commerce its stability and strength, come chiefly from the rural districts. How long could our missionary and other benevolent movements be maintained if they were compelled to rely upon the city churches for workers? Only a small per cent of the advanced students in our Christian colleges are from cities. In 1888, outside of the city where the institution is located, only four per cent of the graduates in Rochester University were from large towns or cities. The Christian ministry receives its chief supply from the country. In a sermon some years since, Dr. Herriek Johnson said, that the great city churches of Presbyterianism furnish very few candidates for the ministry. Our metropolitan congregations are supplied very largely with pastors, and pastors' wives and effective laymen and workers in city evangelization, from the ranks of young men and women who were born and received their early training in rural sections. The little town of Socowan in New Hampshire, under its faithful pastor, Dr. Woods, prepared one hundred youths for college. Dr. Josiah Strongs says that the collegiate and professional record of that town contains more than 130 names, and that among them were two missionaries, six journalists, twenty-one lawyers, thirty-five physicians and forty-two ministers. Of the 1,571 Congregational ministers born in one hundred years up to 1885, twenty per cent came from country places of a thousand inhabitants or less. Seven towns with an aggregate population of about 5,000, gave 154 ministers. The students of Andover Seminary are nearly all from the country. Taking the churches which sent them, those will less than one hundred members furnish two students to each three hundred communicants; while from churches of three hundred and over, it took four thousand members to furnish one candidate for the ministry. These illustrations from Congregational and Presbyterian Churches are the more remarkable for the chief strength of these divisions of Christ's army is in cities. In all ages the church has depended chiefly for her leadership, on the strength and moral force of her young men and women who were physically and morally prepared for their work away from the intense and absorbing activities of large centers of population.

There is a great need of a forward improvement of consecrated church activity among the rural populations of America. The difficulties are many and as various as sections differ, but if the church has the spirit and faith of her Master, difficulties are but the shadows of angel hands beckoning her on to victory. The farm neighborhood church is being weakened by removals to the larger villages, and these again are giving their best life to the churches in the larger towns and cities. Eighty Congregational villages and country churches became extinct in Illinois in twenty years. I heard a Methodist Presiding Elder say a few weeks since that two or three of his country churches would probably die. Another difficulty is in securing not only prominent ministerial supplies, but supplies of sufficient intellectual and moral force to direct and spiritually feed the intelligent minds and souls of our country people. A distinguished minister, in giving advice to the young men, said: "When you fill a city pulpit, wear your best clothes, but when you preach in the country, preach your best sermon." An expert has shown by statistics that of the non church going population in the Eastern and Middle States, fifty per cent live two miles from any church. How shall these outlying populations be reached? In many places American populations are being supplanted by foreigners who are Roman Catholics or infidels. I have seen scores of such places in various parts of the North and West practically abandoned by Protestants. In the Southern States where ninety-three per cent of the people live in rural villages and districts, the call for larger planning and more consecrated work is great. There are sections among the white people, especially among the mountain regions of the central South, where many thousands scarcely ever attend an intelligently conducted, Christian service. And as for the seven millions of Negro population who live outside of cities, the demand for increased intelligent, Christian activity is still greater. The ministry of that people is much better than could reasonably have been expected in so few years from slavery. Many of her Christian ministers and leaders are doing noble work, and they long, and are waiting for the incoming tide of greater Christian sentiment and activity to touch and uplift their less favored people in the villages and agricultural districts. The Negro cabin church in rural sections is often a bar-leque on Christianity. I speak from personal observation and express the sentiment of our best Negro ministers and people.

How shall Christian work in these districts of our country be increased in efficiency and extent to reach all? I have no faith in aggressive Christian work among any people except under the direction of some organized and aggressive branch of Christ's Church. So-called union churches which ignore all creeds and denominational lines have proved to be inefficient and ephemeral. Co operative movements by which various denominations have sought to blend methods, have failed upon trial under the most favorable circumstances. Sectarianism is a fixed factor in Protestantism. Among families there is great practical wisdom in the saying that high fences make good neighbors. The same is true of denominations. Unity of spirit with diversity of methods, each church following her own traditions and plans as God may lead her, will bring the largest results. Every branch of the church militant must build the wall over against her own house.

The spirit and genius of Methodism have had many of their most signal triumphs in reaching and saving the people in agricultural districts. The Methodist circuit rider threading his way through mountain passes or over the Southern or Western plains has gone into history as the permanent type of much that is heroic and successful in Christian endeavor. Methodism needs no new methods in planting and maintaining the country church wherever needed. There is great need that she returns more fully to the old circuit system. Our Bishop Foster a few weeks ago told the Cincinnati conference of the marvelous outpouring of the living Spirit which resulted in the ingathering of thousands of souls on the great circuits of Ohio Methodism fifty years ago. This system means one man of age and experience and power in the pulpit, and one or two young men associated with him with as much territory as is needed to support them. This secures experienced direction of the work of the church and as acceptable preaching, at least a part of the time, to the thoughtful people of the country as is given to the churches in the city. It is a fact that Methodism is losing many of her best families throughout the agricultural districts, simply because they become weary of being forced to have as pastors men who cannot feed them intellectually and morally. Then again there is need that the local preacher arm of power in the church be rehabilitated with efficiency and strength. With wise management the Epworth League can utilize the country church, the school-house and neighborhood social gatherings for Christ and his kingdom. No new methods are needed. What is wanted is a revival of the spirit of aggressiveness in the church. The country church must be dignified more than it is. The work of the country pastor must be appreciated more than it is. The question of quality must be emphasized as well as the quantity, and the man who, in the country district, preaches the gospel to the smaller company, and because of the peculiarly favorable conditions, gets nearer and directs the rising tide of intellectual and moral power in the growing youth about him, is certainly doing a work equal to that of the city pastor. A large proportion of the time of the latter must be spent in simply holding his church from disorganization in the midst of the tremendous currents of evil about it.

Especially among the different Methodisms of America, operating on the same territory there should be a spirit of unity, unquestioned and Christ-like, and a perfect willingness to go wherever the Spirit of Christ, in the midst of that unity, may lead. Our Canadian brethren have done well to unite the two white Methodisms of Canada into one body. If now, they will gather up the three or four fragments of African Methodism in their midst, and unite all, white and black, in one greater Methodism of Canada, she will continue to lead the Methodist world in the matter of organization.

The final test of the triumphant Church on earth will be in its ability to reach the last man on the outer rim of the world's population. We have an illustration in national life. The strength of the nation is measured by its power to protect its poorest citizen on the farthest border of its domain. The English statesman voiced this sentiment when he said: "The rights of the proudest Englishman on the banks of the Thames are not secured, until the rights of the poorest Indian on the banks of the Ganges are made secure." So with the church: Her highest test of power for good is in her ability to give spiritual food to the souls that are farthest from God; to touch and lift up the lowest in the social scale, and give the blessing of the sanctuary to those most removed from the centers of population.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Spread of Methodism in the South.

By C. N. GRANDISON, B.D., D.D.

Twenty odd years ago when the Methodist Episcopal Church reentered the Southern field, she found herself preceded by two other Methodist bodies, the African M. E., and the African M. E. Zion Churches, which following in the wake of the victorious Federal army had largely pre-empted the ground.

The advance agents of these two African denominations were for the most part intelligent and shrewd men, zealous for the spread of their peculiar Methodisms, and I fear some of them were sometimes unscrupulous in their methods of propagation. They found most of our people of Methodist proclivities in the Southern Methodist Church. These agents expatiated upon the horrors of the abject bondage from which we had so recently been emancipated and the glorious freedom that had come to us by the stern arbitrament of arms. They discoursed upon the restrictions and limitations to which our people were subjected in the Southern Church, and in language, eloquent and fitting, invited the people to come out into a church of their own wherein they could worship God under their own vine and fig tree. To understand and appreciate the force and effect of this skillful appeal is necessary. In the days of slavery the colored members of the Southern Church had been compelled to worship in the gallery or rear of the church, or where in towns and cities they were permitted to have meeting houses to themselves, their pastors were white men, and they were not allowed to hold social meetings in the absence of a white face. In the public worship in white churches the colored members felt a natural restraint; they could not give vent to their feelings in bodily motions, shouts and ejaculations, which were considered the most proper means of expressing their religious experiences and internal states. In their social meeting it was both unwise and unsafe for them to give expression to the real burden of their hearts, their desires for freedom. Hence the African Church when they came to us found the desire for separate meeting houses already ardent on the part of colored members in the Southern Church. The people did not stop to enquire anything about denominational organizations. They knew nothing of different denominations; they wanted to be to themselves in their worship and that was enough, and the African offered them that. They knew nothing of the "Mother Church," they were sick of the slave-holding and privilege-restricting Southern Church. Hence the African Churches reaped a large harvest in membership; and, as before remarked, the Methodist Episcopal Church, when she re-entered the Southern field, found it already well occupied.

A LITTLE RETROSPECT

THE MOTHER CHURCH AND HIGHER MOTIVES.

To the motives which had led the colored people out of the Southern into the African Churches she opposed another and higher set of motives why colored Methodists should come into her communion. She explained that she was not the same as the old proslavery organization out of which they had come; but that she had always stood for freedom, and suffered herself to be rent in twain in '44, rather than allow one of her bishops to exercise his episcopal functions so long as he was complicated with slavery, even through his wife's inheritance; that as she believed in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, colored men were eligible to any and the highest positions in the gift of the church; that her financial resources being large, she could and would assist us in supporting our ministry, in building churches and establishing and equipping educational institutions for us, and that she would put into them to teach our boys and girls, men and women of the highest qualifications, mental and moral, men and women who would associate with the students and patrons on terms of equality, and thus elevate our people.

Special paper for the following Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church: Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, West Texas, Tennessee, East Tennessee, Little Rock, Central Alabama, Savannah, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Largest Circulation of any Religious Newspaper in New Orleans.

THURSDAY, DEC. 3, 1891.

THE California Conference, at its recent session, unanimously and heartily approved the administration of Dr. B. F. Crary as editor of the California Christian Advocate, and recommended him to the General Conference for re-election to the responsible post he so ably fills.

We would gladly join in such a resolution, for in our opinion, no editor in the church does more and better work with the means at his command than our venerable friend, the Rev. B. F. Crary, D. D.

BISHOP Mallalien, seconded by Bishops Newman, Goodsell and Foss, stood nobly by every phase of our Southern work at the General Missionary Committee meeting. Bishop Mallalien especially, by the liberal advances that he advocates on every such occasion, has well deserved and won for himself the proud title of the great forward movement bishop of the church. His brethren throughout the South, next to good Bishop Gilbert Haven, upon whom his great mantle has fallen, regard him the best substitute for a bishop of their own kith and kin that the church could have possibly elected. God bless and spare his precious life to us for many years to come.

WE congratulate the G. A. R. upon their signal victory over the caste prejudice of the Southern white G. A. R. that were disposed to ignore or pen them to themselves in a race organization of their own. In keeping with the verdict rendered by the National Encampment last August, Commander-in-Chief Palmer has ordered Department Commander Hodges of this department to recognize posts 9, 17, colored posts in this city and section. A copy of the letter has been sent to Col. James Lewis, commander post 14. As Adjutant Gen. Pfisterer expresses it, we have no doubt that the colored posts after having been properly recognized by the authorities of the department and national headquarters, will so conduct themselves as to be an honor to the organization, and merit the commendation of their superior officers.

THE attention of our reader and of the church is specially invited to the remarkable clear and logical argument presented by Dr. Grandison in his communication in another column, on the "Spread of our Methodism in the South." While some of his statements seem startling, they are not altogether without foundation, and deserve the considerate attention of thoughtful people in the church. His conclusion however savors of a lack of faith in his part in the final outcome, in which, we are free to say, we do not share. We do not believe that such an exigency will ever come, which will bring about the day when "not a baker's dozen of Negroes will be found in the Methodist Episcopal Church." Our faith is too well founded in the sincerity and honest intentions of the old church toward our people, and in the Divine Hand that has guided her in her dealings towards us all these years to entertain such a fear. The fear exists in certain quarters however; and we would be unfaithful to the trust reposed in us by the church, if we failed to recognize it, and to allow the church to know all about about through our columns. Hence our ready publication of Dr. Grandison's article, and our earnest request that it be read by our readers generally.

The National American University and the Negro Question.

AT the recent meeting of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cincinnati, a banquet was tendered them, and several addresses were delivered. Bishop Hurst spoke on "The American University," and his address was published in the Western Christian Advocate of November 5. From it we make the following extract:

"The welcome this university scheme received was wonderful. There is not a single important institution of our own church, or any other church, that has not sent congratulations, and God bless you to this plan. Our own colleges say: It will not interfere with us. It is not intended for the college curriculum, but provided for post-graduate and professional training for men or women, white or black—any persons who possess a good moral character and the requisite degree to enter a university course."

The above excerpt from Bishop Hurst's able and patriotic address is a source of unspeakable horror to the hide bound, bigoted and Negro hating propensities of Dr. Meeks, the fossilized editor of the Central Methodist organ of the M. E. Church South. He feels outraged at the idea that Negroes are to be admitted, if otherwise qualified. He fairly foams at the mouth and declares that there remains now but one thing for the Church South to do, under the circumstances, and that is "to withdraw its endorsement and support" from the institution.

The idea that such a man should occupy such a position as editor of a great church organ, and should thus express himself in reference to his darker skinned brother, for whom the Lord Jesus Christ died quite as much as for himself, is to us, at least, sacrilegious. We wonder if that antiquated old man ever reads that part of the good Book that teaches that God is no respecter of person, but that "in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted with him." Read it. It may be found in Acts x ch. 34-35 verse.

ONE of the official Advocates, edited by a colored man, very severely presses the subject of the possible election of a colored bishop in the Methodist Church. It is undoubtedly right in its contention that it will be in order to elect a colored bishop just as soon as one is found that proves himself so superior that he deserves the honor by the side of any white competing candidate. But the partiality which our New Orleans contemporary shows to the topic would seem to convey the impression that it had somebody in mind who would make an available candidate in 1892.—N. Y. Independent.

Why, bless your old heart, you never before struck a nail so squarely on its head. Of course we have "somebody in mind" who would make an available candidate in 1892; and if you knew our colored ministry as well as we know it, you too would have "somebody in mind" from among them, "that would make an available candidate in 1892." We have in mind a dozen colored ministers, any one of whom would exactly fill the bill. To admit less is to confess that the Negro ministry in the old church is inferior to that to be found in the Negro race churches. Their bishops, as Dr. Carter well says in his paper, the Methodist Advocate, have presided over the Ecumenical Conferences in England and America with such dignity and ability as to elicit the highest praise of two continents. We have just such colored bishop timber in our church.

Let the grand old mother church elect one; and the Independent, which never fails to recognize real merit wherever found will be among the first to see it, and to sing the praises of the diamond in ebony, as he proves himself to be of the "first water." Come now, Bro. Carroll, put your strong shoulders to the hub, and give the wheel of progress another shove upward, in the full recognition of your friend and "brother in black."

Political Review.

The National Republican Convention has been called to meet at Minneapolis, Minn., June 7, 1892.

The Democratic National Committee will meet at Washington, Dec. 8, to arrange for their National Convention.

The Republican State Central Committee of this State has been called to meet in this city Dec. 19.

The lottery and anti lottery fight inside the lines of the Democratic party continues with increasing intensity and bitterness. Whether the Republicans will now have the moral courage to step into the breach, and pluck victory for their party and for the anti-lottery cause, remains to be seen.

WARMOTH'S Postmaster Eaton of this city has shown his utter unfitness for the position that he fills, by the wholesale charges that he has made to the effect that railway postal clerks were a set of thieves, gamblers, drunkards and seducers of the tender sex; who, to keep up their expensive habits, robbed the mails, and gave the grounds for the numerous complaints constantly heard against the inefficiency of the mail service in this section of the country. Mr. Eaton owes it to that branch of the service to retract his sweeping charges, prove them, resign, or be bounced. It is true that our mail service is not altogether what it should be, but it is not true that it is any worse since the passage of the Anti-lottery postal law. That is just what the pro-lottery, (we were about to say the pro-slavery, for such it is) press is trying to make out. It is simply magnifying mountains out of mole-hills, just to show how, by permitting interference with the lottery matter through the mail, the service has deteriorated. Such is not the case, and Postmaster Eaton should have had the good judgment to see through the villany, or should have pronounced his own unfitness for the place he occupies, and resigned. We do not wonder that the postal clerks of the country feel outraged over his utterances, and demand their retraction, his resignation or removal. He should either make good his charges or be bounced.

THE Plain Speaker of Orangeburg, S. C., wants a colored man elected bishop by the next General Conference; and two co-ordinate corresponding secretaries to the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society elected by the next General Conference, "one of whom should be a colored man." It makes the same application to the missionary and church extension societies. It says:

The colored members of that body should be men of unquestionable devotion to the church as well as to the interests of the race that they are expected to represent. Most of the colored delegates are to be elected. Let the churches and conferences act wisely. Earnest and faithful prayer to God for guidance in making our choice of delegates is the duty of the hour.

Tonching the admission of women as delegates to the General Conference, it says:

"This question will engage the conference for several days, perhaps weeks. The ablest men of the church, such as Buckley, Moore, Albert, Parkhurst, Lanahan, M. son, Hurlbert, Grandison, McCabe, etc., will shake the church by the discussion of that subject at Omaha."

Don't know brother; some of these men have not been elected, and we are not sure that they will. They ought to be, though.

Schools and Colleges.

We have received from President Thirkield the last Quarterly Bulletin of Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga., in which we find an excellent account of the formal opening of the school with Dr. Hawthorne's admirable address and other items of interest with reference to the seminary. The attendance exceeds that of last year, but the seminary should have 100 students enrolled. The great demand in our conferences for the kind of men who are fitted to do efficient work in the seminary, and the small number of graduates from our colleges and academies combine to limit the attendance, though we have a large territory from which to draw. However, beginning only eight years ago this fall, the seminary has 46 graduates from the three year's course in the field who are doing effective work in our conferences and educational institutions. When our conferences become fully awakened to the necessity of a larger number of thoroughly trained ministers for a really efficient prosecution of the work there will be 200 students instead of an enrollment of seventy-nine.

President Cool and faculty of Wiley University, Marshall, Tex., gave a fine Thanksgiving Day dinner, to which they invited President Wolverton and faculty of Bishop College of the same place. The program included an address of welcome by President Wolverton, a speech by Dr. A. O. Coffin, Professor Wells and others.

Personal.

—Rev. R. O. Barrow of Springfield, called last Monday, and reported his work in good condition.

—Rev. Emanuel Harris of Rosedale, called last Thursday, and reported his work in good condition.

—The Rev. Asbury Lowry, the veteran editor and preacher, is quite sick. We hope to hear of his early recovery.

—Mrs. Mary Karnik, evangelist, is now working in Baton Rouge. There have been 11 converts, and the altar is full of seekers.

—Rev. R. L. Crawford, pastor of Ames Church, who has been so sadly bereft of his wife, says in a private letter, that he expects to remain away a few days longer.

—Editor Fortune, of the Age, has won his suit against a New York hotel-keeper for denial of equal accommodation in the fellow's establishment.

—Presiding Elder Landry has appointed the Rev. Wesley Turner, of Raceland, in charge of Thibodaux in place of Rev. Wm. Smith, deceased.

—The whole church will rejoice to learn that Bishop Merrill, who has been so very dangerously ill, is now convalescent, and is able to be about his room and to conduct his personal and official correspondence. The Lord be praised!

—Revs. H. Roundtree of Summerville, H. May of Pass Christian, I. L. Pratt, of Moss Point, Miss., and H. L. Kennedy of Handsboro, Miss., gave us a call on their way to the Brookhaven District Conference at Magnolia, Miss., last week.

—Rev. W. E. Shinn, at one time pastor of Ames Church, this city, and more recently pastor of one of our churches in Buffalo, N. Y., has quit our church and established an independent church in Buffalo, N. Y. He was dissatisfied with work given him, hence his withdrawal.

A Well Deserved Compliment.

The Sionix City (Iowa) Journal, commenting upon the presence and address of the Rev. M. O. B. Mason, B. D., Field Agent of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society, at the Sheldon District Conference there, says:

"The conference and congregation enjoyed a rare treat in the way of an address by Rev. M. O. B. Mason, B. D., of Atlanta, Ga., on the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational work of the church. Mr. Mason is a colored man about 31 years of age, with probably no Anglo-Saxon blood in his veins, born in slavery, educated in the freedmen's schools of the M. E. Church, and a graduate from the New Orleans University. He was appointed last July as Field Agent for this department of church work and certainly proves himself a workman that need not be ashamed. He is a gentleman in the full meaning of the term. Educated and cultured, and yet meek and humble as a child; thoroughly religious, a hard student and a man of deep thought. As an orator he is a master. With a wonderful flow of language, fine adaptability, and a fund of original wit, which he uses with telling effect, he is a power on the rostrum. He spoke for an hour and a quarter and held the audience in a vice like grip. While his argument was able and convincing beyond a doubt of the necessity of educational and religious work in the South, yet the man himself as a living witness and the incarnation of the fact, is the greatest argument and exhibition of the truth in the matter that the church can produce."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

A Memorial to the General Conference.

REV. I. B. SCOTT, D. D.

I ask the attention of our annual conferences of the South to the following memorial to our next General Conference. It is my purpose to bring it before the next session of the Texas Annual Conference and ask its adoption. This I trust will be done at everyone of our Southern conferences. If we mean to perpetuate our work in the South we ought to lay the proper foundation. There is no portion of the church in this country which is in greater need of cultivation, and just that kind of encouragement such a step as is herein requested would afford. In my humble judgment, such a prayer as is hereto attached ought not to be considered out of place. True such an undertaking would entail considerable outlay for the present, but I believe it would pay in the long run. At any rate, the church is not speculating on its financial returns, but seeking its further development and perpetuity.

You of the South know as well as I that in order to hold our intelligent young people something must be done. We are surrounded by an ever increasing pressure. If you have anything better to suggest please do so; if not, let us put this through our annual conferences and then seek the approval of the General Conference. I shall be glad to know what you think of the plan, either through the paper or private correspondence.

A MEMORIAL TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE.

WHEREAS, The work of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South is rapidly increasing in intelligence, wealth and the aggregate number of its communicants, and

WHEREAS, The schools of the church are annually preparing and sending forth our young men and women who are certified by them to be thoroughly equipped to fill positions as clerks, compositors, etc., and,

WHEREAS, We believe it would be the means of not only quickening the circulation of our literature and increasing the sale of our books among the more than two hundred thousand members of this section, but draw them nearer the church and awaken in them a more lively interest in the same, therefore be it

Resolved, That the annual conference memorialize our next General Conference to establish at New Orleans; a regular depository which shall carry a full line of our books, periodicals and Sunday school literature,

Resolved, That we also request the establishment in connection with the SOUTHWESTERN a printing office fully provided with presses and printing material for the publication of the paper and to do such job work as is expected of an office of the kind; and in which some of our young people might find employment.

Quick or You Lose It.

Perhaps some who intend to avail themselves of our splendid sewing machine offer are thinking that the chance will be kept open indefinitely. This is a mistake. It is liable to be withdrawn at any time after Jan. 1st. The announcement occupies a good deal of valuable space, and we have faithfully carried out its provisions for a year and a half to the joy of over 200 homes. A good many orders are still coming in, yet we fear many are holding off, thinking that the offer will always be open. Better not trust to that. All new subscribers for next year get the balance of this year free, which makes the offer still more valuable.

Old as well as new subscribers can have the benefit of the offer, but don't delay too long.

ple through contact as well as by instructions imparted.

For the first time since the great session in '44, the colored people were brought face to face with the old "Mother Church," as they affectionately called her, and learned of different Methodist denominations. Her promises were great and her ability to fulfill her promises was unquestioned, and her disposition to fulfill was not so much as mooted. Many therefore flocked into the church, large numbers both of laymen and ministers, coming from the African communities. It was thought, and reasonably, that if the church laid no caste or privilege restrictions upon her colored members, and promised to do so much for them in the way of ministerial support, building churches and establishing schools, it was of course better for the people in their beggarly condition, just out of the house of bondage, to connect themselves with that great and influential denomination.

A DUAL CAMPAIGN AND MIXED CONFERENCES.

The church undertook to bring together in one in Christ Jesus the Negro who had been and was the subservient element in Southern society, and the white man the ruling element. She had congregations of whites and congregations of blacks, separate of course, but the conferences were mixed. Quite frequently white presiding elders were over districts composed almost wholly of colored preachers and membership, and in the white presiding elder's quarterly rounds he was usually entertained in colored families. Sometimes there were white pastors over Negro congregations. Conducting a dual campaign exposed the church to opposition from two directions at the same time. The African Churches thought they had a right to all colored people of Methodist tendency, and the Southern Church were equally as sure that they could care for all white people of like proclivity. The African, to retrieve what they had lost, to prevent defection in the future, and to cripple the influence of the Methodist Episcopal Church among the colored people, raised the cry that the church was ruled by white bishops, that all our property was deeded to white conferences, that the colored people had no control over it whatever, that the colored were but servants for the whites, and a deal of stuff of similar import and purpose. The Southern whites gazed on white members with such taints as, "mixed up with Negroes," "sanctioning Negro equality," "Negroes may be members and even officers, in white congregations," "you will have to send your children to school with Negroes," etc.

The church, in entering upon her dual campaign in the South had calculated that the majority of the old Union element in the South were also abolitionists and in sympathy with the church in her advanced views on the Negro question. But in this she was mistaken; for these people, while they believed in the preservation of the Union, partook of all the race antipathies and prejudices of their surroundings. They may not, all of them, have believed in slavery; still they believed in keeping the Negro in his place.

SEPARATION AND A DUAL POLICY.

Our white preachers, most of whom were from the North, soon ascertained that they would make but little headway among the whites so long as they were in mixed conferences, and therefore seceded from the General Conference the act permitting a division of the conferences on the color line. I am aware that the general opinion at the North is that these divisions were first sought and urged by the colored brethren on the ground that in mixed conferences the white brethren naturally came in for the honors, such as secretary of conference, and delegates to General Conference, etc. This is not true. On the contrary, the colored brethren knowing what capital their African rivals would make of the separation, strenuously, almost pathetically, pleaded with their white brethren not to withdraw from them. I well remember that in my own conference, more than twelve years ago, the first day the question was up it was voted down, a majority of the white brethren voting for division, but two voting against, while the colored brethren voted as solidly against division. I well remember the arguments need by a certain white brother in favor of division, and how he begged the colored brethren to loose and let go the white brethren who were hindered in their work among the whites by their conference relations. Seeing the little effect their other arguments had upon the brother in black, the white brethren themselves used the argument ad hominem, that if the white brethren were permitted to withdraw, we would have our own secretary and General Conference delegates; and, saving in the matter of having for the time being a white bishop to preside over us, we would have the entire control of the affairs of conference. Even then they did not prevail, and so brought to their support the presiding bishop—since deceased, who used the influence of his high position in favor of division in something like a set speech.

The church had been between two fires by reason of her dual campaign in the South, one from the Africans, the other from the Southern Church, and her agents hoped by their dual policy and separation to silence one of those fires. In this, however, they were again mistaken; for the enemy, seeing they had made a breach, continued their assault with increasing vigor. The breach widened, and continues to widen, so that to day there is no closer fellowship between the colored and white members in the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South than there is between our colored members and the members of the Southern Church. You want the proof? Well, then, proof you shall have. One of our bishops has told me that in presiding over a white conference in the South, he asked for introductions, and, while every local preacher in the Southern Church, or licentiate in the Baptist Church, who happened to be present, were brought forward for introduction, he was surprised to see two intelligent Negro preachers, one a presiding elder, entirely ignored. Be it said to the credit of that bishop that he called these brethren forward and introduced them. In a conference covering the same territory as my own, I know a white brother who invited one of our brethren into his pulpit to invoke the divine blessing, and thereby broke up his congregation. This same brother lost another small flock by going to a Negro camp meeting and taking a seat among his colored ministerial brethren. In another conference a white brother was discriminated against and had it made hard for him generally, because he attended the Gammon Theological Seminary. I once happened, in Chattanooga, when a reception was being tendered one of our bishops in the name of our Methodism in that city, and though the colored have two churches there, and Dr. Hays and Revs. Harris and Johnson were in the city at the time, yet not a single Negro was invited or expected to participate in that reception. If anybody wants names, let him write me and they will be furnished.

The African, also, seeing that the church was endeavoring "to go forward by going backward," renewed their fusillade against us. It is surprising, therefore, that the spread of our beloved Methodism in the South is not as rapid as it was in the earlier days of its re-entrance upon its Southern field! When the church conducted a dual campaign, she had the respect even of her enemies for her courage and consistency, and love for her many children because of her inward goodness and manifold benefactions. But when she consented to a dual policy, she incurred the contempt of her enemies and the suspicion of her children.

HOW TO REPAIR THE BREACH.

There is, there can be, no denial of the fact that in our ranks there is a deep and widespread undercurrent of dissatisfaction. The dissatisfaction is caused, in part, by the tantalizing of the Africans who, from sexton to bishop, are officered by colored men of acknowledged ability, the dual policy the church is pursuing in the South in concession to the prejudices of a part of her constituency, and the mistakes and blunders, not to say wretched administration and political intrigues of some of her agents in this field. Now, if the church would hold her own, and continue to prosper among the colored people, in the face of all we have to confront us in our work, just as she has made concessions to the prejudices of our white brethren, just so must she now yield something to our sense of justice and our natural longings for the placing on high some of our own race, to whom we may with pride point our children, to quicken their aspirations and to inoite them to higher endeavors and loftier achievements in the intellectual and moral realms. He who is most vehement in denying the condition of things I have endeavored to describe, does so because of a consciousness, of which he can not rid himself, of an unrest on the part of the people that bodes what I fear to mention. I make bold to assert, at the risk of being misunderstood, and encountering a storm of emphatic denials, impugnations of my motives, indefinite imputations, and innuendoes, that, if the pecuniary interests of our connection with the church and the humiliating taints the Africans might fling, and the fear of the same, into our faces were eliminated, should a Negro bishop and larger official representation be refused us, in the next decade there would not be left in the church a baker's dozen of Negroes, except in the case of a few advanced individuals who cherish the hope of seeing in the not very distant future the complete obliteration in social, political and ecclesiastical life of all race antipathies and race prejudices, and hence all race discriminations and restrictions based on color. There is no use in denying this fact, and what is the use in trying? I trust I shall not, in defense of my position, be driven to tell what I know. The sooner this truth is known and appreciated the better it will be for all concerned.

If the church intends to keep us within her fold, would it not be wisdom on her part, in so far as she has the power, to change the ground of our loyalty to her?

How a Student Makes Money.

DEAR READERS—I am able to pay my board and tuition, wear good clothes and have money in my pocket by spending my odd hours and vacations plating jewelry and tableware and selling platters. I have made $20 per day, never less than $4. I paid $3 for my plater to M. C. Delno & Co., Columbus, O. Any one can profit by my experience by writing there for circulars.

NO LIME IN Royal Baking Powder

The ROYAL BAKING POWDER is made from Cream of Tartar specially refined and prepared for its use by patent processes by which the Tartrate of Lime is totally eliminated.

This highly important result has been attained only with great care, labor and expense. In money alone a half a million dollars has been invested in patents, machinery and appliances by which the crude Cream of Tartar, being procured direct from the wine districts of Europe, and subjected in this country to these exclusive processes, is rendered entirely free, not only from the objectionable Tartrate of Lime, but from other foreign substances.

This adds greatly to the cost of manufacturing ROYAL BAKING POWDER; but, as all its other ingredients are selected and prepared with the same precise care, and regardless of labor or expense, an article is produced that is entirely free from any extraneous substance, and pure in all respects. The ROYAL contains no ingredients except those certified by the most eminent chemists necessary to make a pure, wholesome and perfect Baking Powder.

It costs more to manufacture the Royal Baking Powder than any other; but it is, as shown by chemical analysis, the only "absolutely pure" Baking Powder made.

Obituary.

Sister Nancy Ansley, the wife of Rev. George Ansley, one of the honored fathers and members of the Savannah Annual Conference, departed this life Nov. 1, 1891, in full triumph of faith. The writer was called upon to attend her funeral at Union Grove M. E. Church, in Newton county, the pastor being absent to see his sick wife. Sister Ansley was one of the historical landmarks of our church in this State. Her husband was one of the brave heroes that helped to organize the M. E. Church in this State just after the War. She was a "preacher's wife" in those dark days, and shared the hardships of a preacher's life in those days of strife with the many forms of opposition to the M. E. Church. Sister Ansley lived with her husband for more than forty years. Their home was one of love and peace. During the whole of the forty years of their married life they never had a cross word. She leaves a husband, two children and many friends to mourn her loss. She was more than 60 years of age, and was afflicted for 18 months with paralysis. Her remains were interred near Union Grove M. E. Church. R. T. Adams.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GOVY, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

THE work at the several U. S. navy yards looks like war. Never since the Civil War has so much activity been displayed at the navy yards.

Too large—the old-fashioned pill. Too reckless in its way of doing business, too. It cleans you out, but it uses you up, and your outraged system rises up against it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have a better way. They do just what is needed—no more. Nothing can be more thorough—nothing is as mild and gentle. They're the smallest, cheapest, the easiest to take. One tiny, sugar-coated granule's a gentle laxative—three to four are cathartic. Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

ETERNITY.

Eternity is not, as men believe,
Before and after us, and endless line.
No, 'tis a circle, infinitely great,
All the circumference with creations thronged:

God at the centre dwells, beholding all,
And, as we move in this eternal round,
The finite portion which alone we see
Behind us, is the Past; what lies before, We call the Future. But to Him who dwells

Far at the centre, equally remote
From every point of the circumference, Both are alike—the Future and the Past.

Drunkenness a Disease.

A physician at Dwight, Ill., has discovered a remedy, and used it quite effectually. It is supposed to be bichloride of gold, but what else no one but the doctor knows. He refuses to publish his discovery, and that is unprofessional, if he is now sure of his facts. A physician who knows what will cure leprosy ought to tell it. Drunkenness is more than leprosy. That is a disease, we believe, but most men who have it are guilty of great impenitence in bringing it upon themselves. Some may have a hereditary taint that tends to intemperance, but can resist it if they would only try, and especially if they would ask God to help them.

The Dwight cure is attracting wide attention, and many go there to be treated. We think it worth a trial. The policy of licensing thousands of men to make drunkards, and then of building asylums for them, is not statesmanship.

No woman ought to marry a leper, or drunkard. Of the two the leper is far preferable. Leprosy does not make a man a fiend; drunkenness does. Drunkards ought to be segregated from human society, just as lepers are.—California Advocate.

To Make a Christmas Cake.

Here is an excellent recipe from the December Ladies' Home Journal which is guaranteed will make a thoroughly satisfactory Christmas cake, provided, always, the directions are carefully followed.

One pound each of sugar, butter, citron and currants; two pounds of raisins, seeded; one and one-half pounds of flour, two-thirds of a cup of currant jelly, twelve eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, the same of salt; a dash each of cayenne pepper and black pepper, and one cupful of molasses. Divide the flour into two parts: into one part put one teaspoonful of cinnamon; one nutmeg, grated; one-fourth teaspoonful of cloves, and two-thirds teaspoonful of allspice. Mix fruit with the other half of flour. Cream the butter and sugar, add the eggs, well beaten; dissolve the soda in warm water, and stir in the molasses. Mix all well together, and put in pans lined with buttered paper. This will make two large loaves. Bake in a moderate oven for two hours. The result is a Christmas cake which will delight the heart of a good housewife and please the palates of those who eat it.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE.—Cover one-third box of gelatine with cold water, and let stand several hours; then set on the stove in a basin of hot water until thoroughly dissolved. Sweeten and flavor one quart of rich cream, and whip to a stiff froth. Beat well the whites of four eggs, stir three of them into a cream, and mix the fourth with the gelatine, which is stirred rapidly into the cream. After all is well stirred together, turn into a glass dish which has been lined with lady fingers and sponge cake.

Roast chickens are a delicacy, if the chickens are of a good quality. Obtain, if possible, chickens with a whole breast-bone; truss them neatly, and let them be carefully singed; put celery dressing inside each chicken; tie a piece of buttered paper of a slice of bacon over the breast, and roast in a moderate oven, basting frequently. About ten minutes before they are done, remove the paper or bacon, and sprinkle them freely with salt. Serve with plain gravy in a boat, not in the dish, garnished with thin slices of broiled bacon rolled up.

A druggist says that an article much sold now in the drug trade is perisip. It is obtained by a cruel process. A pig is agitated or tortured by pricking with a knife and afterwards killed. The stomach is immediately taken out and put through a chemical process. The product is a brownish crystal or scale. Most of our pepsin comes from Phil Armon's Chicago slaughter houses.

In Virginia there are 15,000,000 acres of valuable land lying untitled. The greater part of it is the property of large holders who get no income from it and who do not possess the capital needed for its cultivation. The State authorities have come to their aid and are striving to attract immigrants who will take it up and put it to service.

The Guide to Holiness is now in its fifty-second year and is commended by ministers and people of the several Evangelical Churches. It studiously avoids controversy. It aims to show that Christianity is love, pure love, and urges Christians to claim their privilege, which is a fullness of love in Christ Jesus. The December Forum will contain an article by Governor William E. Russell on the Significance of the Democratic victory in Massachusetts and its bearings on the next year's campaign. Our Symposium.

For years the Federal power has effected to be wonderfully sensitive about the protection of its citizens abroad, the least hint of any mistreatment being sufficient to start diplomatic correspondence for the purpose of securing explanation or reparation. At the same time citizens of the United States were murdered by the hundreds and thousands with the open and avowed objects of depriving them of the very rights of citizenship which the government had given to them, the government standing idly by witnessing massacre after massacre and never making the slightest effort to protect from inhuman barbarism its own citizens inside its own domain.—Conservator.

It is easy to treat the various aspects in which Jesus Christ is our ensample as merely commonplace, but it is far better to study them afresh and draw strength from the Father by doing as the Son did. What a world of worry it will save us, if we will only keep to the promises! What errancy it will guard us against to follow Christ in strictly doing "as it is written!" What a loftiness of love and of service can be ours, if we will be like Christ "alone" with God!—Northern Christian Advocate.

Doubt is not necessarily and essentially sinful. It may be an incident in intellectual and spiritual growth; the natural uncertainty that comes sometimes to honest and devout souls in feeling their way out of darkness into light, or in struggling up from a lower to a higher plane of Christian experience and faith. God sees that it is sometimes good for us to be left for a time to grope our way. Prof. Drummond well says: "Christ never failed to distinguish between doubt and unbelief. Doubt is can't believe. Unbelief is won't believe."—Cumberland Presbyterian.

No one would suspect me of any want of sympathy with music; but I confess that I think it would be a great advantage if, during public worship, the singing were very much more congregational. Nothing can compensate for the absence of hearty united congregational singing of well-known words to well-known tunes.—Hugh Price Hughes.

SORE THROAT

Bronchitis, colds, coughs, asthma, and even consumption, in the early stages, yield to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Singers, actors, auctioneers, public speakers, clergymen, teachers, lecturers, and all who are liable to disorder of the vocal organs, find a sure remedy in this wonderful and well-known preparation. As an emergency medicine, in cases of croup, whooping cough, etc., it should be in every household.

Two years ago I suffered severely from an attack of sore throat

And Bronchitis

It seemed as if I could not survive, all the usual remedies proving of no avail. At last I bought of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking two bottles of this medicine I was restored to health.—Chas. Gambini, Smith's Ranch, Sonoma Co., Cal.

"There is nothing better for coughs than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I use no other preparation."—Ann S. Butler, Providence, R.I.

W. H. Graff & Co., Druggists, Carson, Iowa, certify that all throat and lung troubles are speedily

Cured By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It leads all others. "In January, 1890, I was taken down with measles and scarlet fever, and exposing myself too soon, caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was forced to take to my bed and was so ill that the doctors despaired of my recovery, supposing me to be in quick consumption. Change of climate was recommended, but I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and soon found relief. After using several bottles, I was cured, so that I am now as well and rugged as ever."—John Dillander, Craneam of Steam Shovel, G. S. & S. P. R. Co., Justin, Texas.

HUNT & EATON,

Our Children's Legion.

For Our Boys and Girls.

BY UNCLE CEPHAS.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am 12 years old, and seeing so many letters it encouraged me to write. Our Sunday school is alive. I have five sisters and one brother. Mother died when I was small. Mr. Charley Jennings and wife are my adopted parents.

Your Nephew,
LANNON TURNER.

Millford, Texas.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I go to school every day and like it very much, but I like vacation too sometimes. I want to work and be a great man. I know I can make a name for myself anyhow. My sister was a school teacher here. I love good books and know they will help me, but ought to be careful and not read detective stories.

Your Nephew,
GABRIEL M. COLE.

Meridian, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 12 years old. I go to Sunday school at Thomas Hill, and day school at Smith Chapel. Mamma, papa and my oldest sister are members of the church. I think the death of grandmother last Wednesday, Nov. 11, will hasten me to join. Because she loved me so well. I want to meet her in heaven. She was 72 years old and God saved her, and if I join the church and do right God will save me too. Papa is a local preacher and takes the SOUTHWESTERN. He hasn't paid for it yet, but I hope he will soon, because we delight in reading it.

Your Niece,
F. E. STARR.

Starrville, Ga.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 12 years old. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. Our superintendent is Mr. J. F. Hason. Our pastor is Rev. S. C. Upshaw. We all like him very much for he takes so much interest in the children. I have been going to day school; my teacher is Miss A. C. Davis. Our principal is T. M. Dent. My mother takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I delight in reading the Children's Legion. Mamma and papa belong to the M. E. Church.

Your Niece,
MAMIE WINN.

Rome, Ga.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little boy 10 years old, and go to school every day. I am learning my lessons well. My studies are third reader, Swinton's word primer and second geography. My father, Rev. F. Gilmore, is pastor. He takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I love to read the children's letters. Papa has paid all the Church Extension debt that has been so long hanging over the St. Paul M. E. Church here, and he is getting ready for conference. We had the district conference here October 29, and had a nice time. Rev. P. Morgan is our Presiding Elder. I am studying hard to be somebody in this world if the Lord lets me live, and a worker for the M. E. Church.

Your Nephew,
HENRY W. GILMORE.

Clarksville, Texas.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am ten years old, and go to school every day. Our teacher gave his little class a sociable at Mrs. M. A. Wiley's. Some good talk was given us of our future lives. The best of all and the first I ever seen was "Our Father Jacob's Well" (it was lemonade). Elder Jackson gave it its name. I wished you had been there. God bless you and the little cousins. I read the SOUTHWESTERN. It is the greatest paper in the world. We have the best Sunday school in North Texas.

Your Nephew,
PETER MORGAN.

Paris, Texas.

AGENTS WANTED in every County and Parish in the United States, on commission, to sell DR. KENNER'S GREAT MAGNETIC CURE. It is a humbug. It relieves and cures all ailments. An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Ticker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this Machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 189 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it; and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

THE whole civilized world stands appalled by the news of a terrible earthquake in Japan, which occurred there Nov. 28, and continued until Nov. 5. Over 6,000 shocks have been experienced. Thousands of people have been killed outright or wounded, 40,000 houses demolished, and 200,000 have been rendered homeless. The earthquake is unprecedented.

WE warn our people against the insinuating literature and arguments of the missionaries of the Seventh Day Adventists, who are operating among them and posing as great defenders of religious liberty. They are stealthily seeking thereby to undermine the Christian Sabbath, because they do not believe in it. Beware of them.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Wandering Flocks.

BY STEPHEN PRIESTLY.

In many localities, and especially in the up-country parishes of Louisiana, our people are given to rambling, by the plans adopted by some of the ministers, with very few exceptions. The terms used, for this rambling are Union meetings, Basket meeting, Grand rallye,
Silver dollar Days, Tribes' days,
Class Union days, etc.

The pastors generally will have to pay four or five visits to different charges in order to secure the help of strangers for his support and the support of his church and the benevolent causes of our church.

This system makes a wandering congregation and a rambling pastor. First, the preacher has two or three charges; the congregation and members of his church know that the pastor must necessarily be away two or three Sundays from each of these charges during the month. Secondly, the members take advantage of these Sabbaths and either stay home or go off visiting with their pastor to the other charges. Now, here are one or two charges or churches without a pastor and some of the members only attend church when a big meeting takes place.

Thirdly, the Sunday school is neglected, and has only a name in many places. The young men and young women ramble and wander from church to church, paying for horses and buggies to accommodate their friends and ladies, and pay more or as much money in rambling as the church gets for whatever purpose given.

In many instances pastors are invited and feel it an honor to tell their members when he is invited to preach away and thus neglect their churches two or three Sundays, and especially when it happens to be a rainy Sunday or sickness, etc.

Fourthly, this system of wandering and rambling has had its good and evil, as other things have had, but cannot live much longer among our people. As they are being educated they will have to be more self dependent and not ramble; work more at our own churches and don't depend upon strangers. Does it not show weakness on the part of the church, rather than strength when we have to resort to so many plans to get money.

Fifth, a rambling congregation carries much news. Many of the pastors have no small amount of trouble at times with this wandering and tramping class. They live on free grace and try to support their churches by the help of strangers. Class meetings, prayer meetings and Sunday schools are only names, and the ramblers never see them, because they are about ten or fifteen miles away tramping to some big meeting.
This was well in the old time past when pastors were few. We should let go the past and take a hold on the present, and serve the present age.

The best way to test a true working Methodist congregation and pastor is take notice of their church records, take notice of the accounts at the Cincinnati Book Concern,
New York Book Concern, and the SOUTHWESTERN whether they take books for class discipline among the members of the church.
These are good proofs of a Methodist congregation and a firm pastor. It has been said by pastors, they had to go about to get their bread or starve. This is an insult to their people, and only makes them do much less while the pastor is away to some other place rambling among people who may flatter him, and help to pull down the charge that he should stick to and build up. Don't ramble. People get lost when they ramble.

Sixthly, no congregation wants a rambling man or woman, no father or mother wants a son or daughter to wander away from home. The same is true of the merchant, shop boss and the farmer. A double minded man cannot be trusted. A rambling preacher never amounts to much, as a general rule, and he loses his good name, and his influence, if he has any. He loses his time, which belongs to his congregation, his friendship at some places. He loses the love of his Sabbath school, the time for taking up the benevolent collections; the presents and donations that people would bring to him at his own charge; and the worst of all, he loses his salary and a comfortable support for himself and family. I advise young pastors to stop and study! Stop and reason! Stop this way of rambling for fame and flattery.

Funeral of Rev. Wm. Smith.

BY REV. PIERRE LANDRY.

Dear Dr. Albert:

Upon receipt of the following sad message dated Thibodaux, La., Nov. 28, 1891. "Rev. Wm. Smith, our beloved pastor here, is dead.
Died Friday at 12.35 a. m., and will be buried Saturday at 10 a. m.
Don't fail to come."

WESLEY TURNER.

At the hour appointed and under the direction of the Revs. Charles Monroe, of Schriever; Travis Larkin, of Morgan City; D. G. Butler, of Napoleonville; Allen Luster, of Woodlawn; Austin Kennedy and Wesley Turner, Methodist; L. D.
Cunningham, Congregational; and the Rev. Mr. Garrison of the Baptist church, the obsequies were held.

At the conclusion of the sad services at Calvary M. E. Church, the remains were followed by one of the largest concourses of people and mourning friends ever witnessed in Thibodaux, and deposited in a vault especially built for the purpose in the Protestant burying grounds.

On Sunday, the 26th, at 7 p. m., the church was crowded to its utmost capacity to hear a eulogy on the life and usefulness of the dead pastor by the writer, who was assisted by Bros. Campbell and Bailey of the A. M. E. Church and Gabriel Watkins of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, and Bro. R. Higgenbotham. After a collection of $18 to defray funeral and other expenses, the following report by a committee appointed for the purpose was approved:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his wise providence to remove from us, and that in the prime of his useful life, the Rev.
Wm. Smith, the beloved pastor of this church, who passed from labor to reward on Friday at 12:35 a. m., and

WHEREAS, In his death this church and community in common with the great church he represented and of which we are a part, do mourn over a loss not easily repaired. Therefore be it

Resolved, That with bowed heads in submission to the will of God, we do hereby express to his grieving widow our deepest sympathy in her great loss and sore trials.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be handed to sister Wm.
Smith and a copy be forwarded to the SOUTHWESTERN for publication.

Signed: Wesley Turner, chairman; Walker Wilson, Joseph Williams, committee.

The Roll of Honor.

BY REV. R. THOMPSON.

Dear Brethren:

You are aware that by a vote of the conference it is the duty of the treasurer to make out what we are pleased to call the Roll of Honor.

Twenty-five per cent per member being the required amount to put a church on the roll. Preliminary to the roll, I desire to say a few things that concerns us; and that are being considerably agitated by some.

The things that concern us as ministers of the Louisiana Conference. The average amount of support for the ministry of the Louisiana Conference this year is $276.52 or $23.04 per month.

The average amount of benevolent money per member is 24 per cent. It is a well known fact that many of our brethren undergo great privations in the country and plantation charges to stick to their work and bring up their benevolent collections. It is but just to say of many of them, that they have done herculean work: we know whereof we speak. It is commendable for us to have done so well under such adverse circumstances, yet we should not rest contented until we have fully established the principle of self-help in every one of our charges and among all of our people. The M.
E. Church has been the Negro's true and tried friend from the conference of 1784 to the conference of 1888; and there is every evidence that she will be his friend to the end. From 1880 to 1889, the Missionary Society has appropriated to the Louisiana Conference $59,506.
In the same length of time, the Louisiana Conference has raised for the Missionary Society $6,207, or about ten per cent of the amount appropriated.

The Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society has raised and expended in the South mostly among our people in the twenty-five years, nearly three million dollars, and has real estate to the amount of one million eight hundred thousand and eight hundred dollars. The greater part of this is for the higher education of the colored people. These things concern us very much. We should be deeply interested in them. Let us as true Christians and loyal Methodists do our duty. The church will stand by us, and God will bring us out more than conquerors.

The following is a list of the charges that came up to the Roll of Honor last conference:

Colored Bishop.

BY REV. J. C. HOUSTON.

We are driven to our pen on this question by the many things that are being said on the outside and inside of the church derogatory to the interest of the thousands whom it seeks to bless.

The Rocky Mountain Advocate said in a recent issue: "To elect a colored man Bishop because he is a colored man and, as a matter of policy, would be yielding to a race prejudice which is not part of the spirit of our Methodism." We do not ask a colored Bishop simply on the ground of color, nor a matter of policy. But upon the ground of Negro proficiency and church consistency. The "race prejudice," we think, is rather with the Mountain editor.

The Texas Christian Advocate undertakes to help us out of distress by the following advice:
"The best thing to do with the colored members of the M. E.
Church is to set them up for themselves or to dismiss them by certificate to existing organizations of their own race."

This good Southern brother does not seem to understand the ecclesiastical economy of the church whose course he seeks to dictate.
The church has three ways to dismiss its members, viz: expulsion, withdrawal and certificate. We have not deserved the former nor ask the latter, and do not expect to.

Then comes our Dr. Potts, of the Michigan Advocate, who speaks as if a thousand years are but a day in his sight. He says: "One hundred years would be a brief space for the evolution of men from a condition of slavery to the topmost round of ecclesiastical privileges in a church whose jurisdiction engirdles the world."

This quotation is fully in keeping with the Doctor's past editorials on the subject, and betrays a spirit foreign to the expressed principles of the church. If it takes the M. E. Church one hundred years to educate and otherwise qualify one man, it would be better to advise her broad-hearted philanthropists to keep their money in their pockets and burn down her universities and colleges. The thing is absurd. We fear that the Doctor needs St. Peter's experience at Joppa.

The Nashville Christian Advocate of the Church South, reasons on this point thus: "To maintain that there is not one person in 250,000 fit to be a Bishop, is to take an extreme view of the inferiority of the class to which these persons belong."

When our Dr. Albert expressed himself in favor of the election of a colored Bishop, he was not alone, as some of the papers would have the world believe; he expressed a desire formed in the breast of every Negro member in the church, and we assure the objectors that this desire is not born of a selfish ambition for the high places in the church. Nor is it prompted by that restless egotism which sighs for the recognition of the public eye. But that higher motive which looks rather to the interest of the church than of the race.

We are satisfied that the election of such a Bishop would help the church numerically, financially and spiritually. It would throw wide a door through which thousands would enter her fold. It would put theory into practice. It would put life into the expressed principles of the church and soul into her promises. Some years ago many of us regarded the claim that there was a lack of qualification, but to day this excuse is regarded by us as an effort to cover something blacker than the faces of those whom it opposes.

Church Polity.

Question. What is the estimated population of Africa, and what portion of the population are Christians?

Answer. The population is estimated at about two hundred millions, one-fourth of whom are Mohammedans, and most of the remaining three-fourths pagans.
There are about 1,750,000 Coptic and Abyssinian Christians, about 875,000 Roman Catholics, and about the same number of Protestants.

Q. When and where was the first Methodist mission started in Africa?
A. At Monrovia, Liberia, where Melville B. Cox landed March 8, 1833.

Q. How many Methodist missions, where located, and how many missionaries sent by the Methodist Episcopal Church are they in Africa now?

A. There is one mission connected with the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with headquarters at Monrovia, Liberia. The workers are nearly all native ministers. There are about twenty five ordained ministers and about sixty other helpers.
Bishop Taylor's missions are along the Congo, Cavalla, and other rivers, covering a very large extent of territory. There are sixty or seventy missionaries from this country in connection with these missions. We cannot be more exact.

Q. What States, if any, in Africa may be considered as under Christian civilization?

A. Abyssinia is known as a Christian country, but its ancient form of Christianity is very corrupt.
Christian civilization exists in Liberia, Sierra Leone, Senegambia, the South African Republic, Cape Colony, Orange Free State, and Congo Free State; but, of course, there are very large numbers of pagans and Mohammedans within the boundaries of some of these States which are under Christian influence.—Christian Advocate.

Address of Welcome.

[By Miss Estell Levy to the Monroe District Conference at Bastrop, La.]

Christian Friends and Brethren:

We heartily welcome you to our church and city. We extend to you the hospitalities of our town and a kind and warm reception at our homes and firesides. We have been waiting and waiting faithfully for years for this day. Many of the pioneers that planted the banner of Methodism in North Louisiana are asleep, but still live and their work still goes on.

The names of Revs. Feener,
George Washington, James M.
Vance, Joseph Dutch, Sam Osborne, etc., shall ever be in remembrance never to be forgotten.
We who are gathered here upon this occasion can but say though they have died they still live. In behalf of all denominations and all classes of citizens in our town,
I welcome your honorable body in Bastrop.

PRIZE fights are now known as

Letters from the Districts.

Bristol District, Va.
J. L. WITTEN.

The third session of the district conference of the Bristol District convened on Thursday, Nov. 13, with Rev. C. Boyd in the chair. The Elder made a very able and encouraging address.

J. L. Witten and P. P. Brooks were elected secretaries.

The work of the conference was dispatched with order and decorum; seasoned with thrilling and interesting talks from first one and then another member.

The Presiding Elder spoke in the interest of the SOUTHWESTERN. He emphasized the necessity of placing just such a paper in our homes to feed the minds with religious thoughts, to broaden our sympathies and elevate our aims.

Resolutions were adopted exhorting the preachers to divide the benevolent collections into four equal parts, and to take a part every quarter; to collect 25c. from every member by each quarterly conference; and to wholly abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks and tobacco.

Able speeches were delivered on the several subjects by members of the conference.

The next session, next fall, will meet at Rural Retreat.

On Sunday, at 11 o'clock a. m., Rev. C. Boyd, Presiding Elder, preached a soul stirring sermon.

At 3 p. m., Rev. F. A. Hatcher preached. At 7 o'clock, Rev. P. P. Brooks preached. These were all excellent sermons. Every one was held spell-bound.

Paris District, Texas Conference.

P. MORGAN, P. E.

I am closing up one of my best years, spiritually, intellectually and financially. Up to date, peace and harmony prevail.

Rev. Wm. Bartley has done a grand work at Texarkana. The people all love him.

Bro. Ned Graham served DeKalb Circuit this year, but did not do much, there being no church on the work and only eight members. Yet he is willing.

Bro. D. Friarson, on Free Hope Circuit, is a patient, earnest worker, and is not without success. His dear wife has been sick for two years, and up to date does not appear any better. She rather seems to be sinking. Our prayers are going up to God in their behalf.

Bro. F. Gilmore is closing up his second year at Clarksville with much success. Under his faithful administration, the last dollar of indebtedness against St. Paul Church has been paid.

Bro. P. L. Jackson has been none the less faithful on the Clarksville Circuit. His pastoral labors speak credit for him.

Bro. J. W. H. Moore has wrought well on the Blossom and Detroit work. He has rebuilt the church at Bagwell and is planning to build one at Detroit.

Bro. W. J. Holland, of Gibson Circuit, has not done as much as was expected, in consequence of bad health this year, both on the part of himself and family.

Bro. P. H. Halley has closed out a year of toil and hardship on Red River Circuit. We have a lot on this circuit, but no church as yet.

Bro. Moses Littlejohn has done very good work on the Wolfe City Circuit.

Greenville work has suffered a little, caused by Bro. Pollard not being able to attend to it. Bro. J. G. Gilliam is closing up the year instead. We are trying hard to build a church at that point. A large portion of the material is on the ground.

Bro. Paul Prewett, on the Cooper circuit, is making himself one of the coming young men of the Texas Conference. His work this year is round and full. They all want him again.

Bro. W. H. Jackson, at Paris, closes the year successfully.

Bro. W. B. Perry has accomplished good work on the Brookston circuit. He is building a church at Northwest Paris.

Bro. L. Woodward, one of the Texas fathers, has done good work at Honey Grove. He leaves in peace with all.

Bro. A. Taylor has finished up a good pastorate at Bonham. All love him and want him to stay another year.

In conclusion, I will say that a fair average has been reached on all lines. Four new churches are being erected. A goodly number of boys and girls have been sent to Wiley University, and many more are preparing to go later on. God has blessed us spiritually and financially. Now we are preparing to meet Bishop Harst. To this end I close my fourth year's work on the Paris district. The district is now four years old; though a mission work almost totally.

Gainesville District, Florida Conference.

A. DEBOSE, P. E.

I have completed my first, second and third rounds with splendid success, revivals having been carried on in nearly every charge.

Gainesville, Rev. P. Swearingen—Has enjoyed a short revival which resulted in 7 converts. This is his first year, and he is very successful in raising money to pay off old indebtedness of our church. Mikesville—Rev. O. F. Niblack—His revival resulted in 27 converts. He is doing remarkable work on his charge. Has bought and on the ground the lumber to erect a $1000 church.

Newnausville, Rev. A. S. J. Allen—His revival resulted in 7 converts. This brother is a young man, and is making splendid progress in general.

Hagne Station, Rev. J. Jenkins—He is an earnest worker, and is expecting to erect a new church soon. He had a short revival also, which resulted in 3 converts.

Micanopy, Rev. E. Sabie—Is expecting to erect a new church in Rochelle. One has been added to the church.

Gordon, Rev. J. Keller—His revival resulted in 16 converts. This is his first year, but he is an untiring worker and is liked by all.

Liberty Hill, Rev. E. Ferguson—He is doing a splendid work on his charge.

Stark, Rev. P. McCray—This place has enjoyed a great revival, which resulted in more than 10 converts. This brother is an earnest worker.

Walde, Rev. R. Small—This charge is having splendid progress. The pastor is preparing to erect a parsonage, which will be the first. Four have been added to the church.

Arredondo, Rev. T. Austin—He is having success on his charge, and is expecting to erect a new church at Union Lake.

Cedar Keys, Rev. L. Welch—This brother is an earnest worker, and is very successful on his charge. He had a glorious revival which resulted in many converts. He is preparing to erect a new church at Rosewood.

Pleasant Plain, Rev. F. M. Spicer—Had a glorious revival which resulted in more than 27 converts. He has built a new church, but it is not completed. Bro. Spicer is having much success, and is one of the aspiring preachers of the conference.

Archer, Rev. J. A. Bain—He is doing very well on his charge.

Connell Pond, Rev. J. Hills—This charge has suffered somewhat on account of changing pastors, but we hope for its success.

Levyville, Rev. S. Wright—He is doing splendid work on his charge; has erected a new church in Old Town. Revival resulted in 5 converts.

Otter Creek, J. J. Debose—This charge was added to the district at the last conference, but was left unsupplied. When I returned I appointed Bro. J. J. Debose, and he has made a splendid success. He has erected a new church, and had a revival which resulted in 5 converts.

We are doing all we can to see that the SOUTHWESTERN is in as many families as possible. Gainesville district is in a prosperous condition all along the line.

P. G. Goins, Anniston, Ala.

The Haven Chapel quarterly conference convened here Nov. 22. Rev. N. H. Speight held the quarter for us, the Presiding Elder being at Heffan. We raised $8.50 for the Presiding Elder. Rev. Speight preached a soul-stirring sermon and baptized six little ones. The work here is doing nicely, and as soon as we get a church our sheaves will be many. All the local preachers and stewards promised to subscribe for the SOUTHWESTERN by the next quarter.

P. W. Baldwin, Steens Creek, Miss.

My third quarterly was held at Spring Hill, Nov. 14, 15, Rev. J. Campbell presiding. Pastor reported 68 accessions since district conference, and one new church built at a cost of over $300. This is my third year on this circuit. The membership has been increased from 160 to 238. Two houses of worship have been built, one at Spring Hill and one at New Begin. The sisters of Bethel Church presented the elder with $6 on a snit of clothes which he accepted gracefully. On Sunday the elder preached an able sermon and administered the sacrament to a goodly number. Collection for Presiding Elder, $12.60.

A. B. Venable, Bonchast village, La.

Our Presiding Elder was with us Nov. 10, 11, 12, and held our fourth quarterly conference. He preached one of his soul-stirring sermons and administered the Lord's Supper to many souls. We had a good time. The church is spiritually and financially alive. Converts 23, added to the church this year 23. We have part of our benevolent collection on hand and expect to come to conference all right. Paid pastor, $97; Presiding Elder, $20. We have not forgotten the SOUTHWESTERN.

S. M. Bolden, Jefferson, Tex.

Sunday, November 15, was a grand day at the St. Paul M. E. Church. At 3 p. m., the Rev. Wade Hamilton, Presiding Elder, preached to a crowded house. At 8 p. m., the president and wife of Wiley University were with us. He spoke in the interest of the school and the need of a Christian education. The lecture was very impressive. Jefferson is sending a good many students to Wiley this term. Collection closing the day, $40. Come again president and wife. God bless the church that sends out such efficient men and women.

A. Quinn, Decoto, Miss.

Our fourth quarterly conference convened Nov. 13, Rev. J. M. Shimpert presiding. The elder preached a grand sermon and administered the Lord's Supper to 151 persons. Conversions this year 65.

J. W. Brownlee, Linwood, Ark.

We are building a church in the back woods, south of Linwood, and hope to finish before our fourth quarterly conference. Rev. O. W. Taylor, of Sweet Home, held our third quarter. A very useful young man of the A. M. E. Church joined.

A. Butler, pastor at Waynesboro circuit, Miss., has added 77 to the church this year, and raised $120.50.

NOTE.—All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and 50c. trial bottle free to all. Write to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Letters from the Laity.

G. W. Baker, Hernando, Miss.

We are doing grandly at this point. Bro. O. W. Walton is doing all he can to bring the many souls to the kingdom. I visited the district conference that convened at New Midway M. E. Church on the 19th, Dr. H. B. Revels presiding. Rev. A. G. Hnston of Oxford Street, preached Sunday at 11 o'clock to a crowded house. Rev. D. P. Shaw and family made everybody welcome. Prof. Byrd lectured on Sunday night in the interest of Rnst University. I saw yesterday at the depot at this place, three white women, one colored woman and three colored men on their way to the convict farm; the white women were not, but the colored woman was handcuffed to one of the colored men, of course that was to lower the race.

Jessie Johnson, Fredonia, Ala.

Our fourth quarterly conference was held last Saturday and Sunday. It was a grand success spiritually and financially. Our beloved Presiding Elder, Rev. W. F. Smith, preached two sermons with great power. He is a power in the Dadeville district. Paid the Presiding Elder $24.65; pastor, $71.08; for missions, $5.15. Two subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN. I take the SOUTHWESTERN myself and can't do without it.

A. R. Jones, Ebenezer M. E. Church, Jacksonville, Fla.

Ebenezer Church has much to be proud of this conference year under the pastorate of our well beloved brother and pastor, John B. L. Williams, who was transferred from the Savannah Conference to this church. He preached his initiatory sermon on the first Sunday in March, 1891, to an overflowing congregation. The church has steadily grown under his administration, and seasons of rejoicing under the blessed influence of the Holy Spirit. The church has steadily grown strong both temporal and spiritual. We are much impressed with the fact that the Savannah Conference has lost in Bro. Williams, one of her most noble sons, while Florida has been made to rejoice that such sons are being born into the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the loss to the Savannah Conference is a precious gain to the Florida Conference.

The alumni of Gammon should be proud that she can send forth such noble representatives; more are needed. May God continue to pour his blessing upon Gammon, and enable her to equip and send forth more such men as have come to Ebenezer.

Miss Sadie A. Holford closed her school here Nov. 27, after a very successful year's work. She has been in our midst as teacher for three years, and has proved a blessing to our children and an ornament to the community. A zealous Christian and an earnest Sunday school worker. She will be welcomed back next year.

N. Q. Tolbert, of Lodi circuit, Texas, local preacher, writes a letter highly extolling his pastor, Rev. G. W. Gill, who is now closing his second year. Last year he received 116 members and this year 96, and has built a $1,500 church. Givo God the glory.

W. C. Williamson, Cedar Bluff, Ala.

Rev. I. Townsend, our Presiding Elder, held our third quarterly conference Nov. 7 and 8. The conference was pleasant. Paid pastor, Rev. E. L. Watson, $15; Presiding Elder, 12; and raised for building and other purposes, $35. Bro. Watson, who originally hailed from New Orleans, La., was assigned to this circuit in July to fill out the unexpired term of Rev. W. M. Sullivan, who resigned. Brother Watson has the right place, having a great ambition for building. At one of his appointments we had no house in which to worship and was compelled to worship in the Zion Church.

We purchased land and lumber for building two years ago, the membership being small at that point, the preacher failed to build

Success always lies up stream, and it requires will and muscle to get there. Many almost succeed, reach for the prize they would hang on to, and find they have no strength left to hang on with. They have enough grit, but not enough grip. To such men and women Drs. Starkey & Palen's COMPOUND OXYGEN supplies the needed power. Like sand under the locomotive wheel, it makes effort effectual. Success is too dear at the price of starved lungs, worn out nerves, impaired digestion. It's good to gain a prize. It's better still to be able to enjoy it.

COMPOUND OXYGEN has back of it the accumulated success of twenty-two years. The theory is that the air on which we live, when enriched and magnetized, will make the system stronger. It's as capable of proof as is the multiplication table. Send for our book of particulars. Do so to-day. It costs only the asking.

the church that was much needed, but when the energetic Rev. Watson came the work was accomplished, and now we have a new church worth $400.

John Harrison of Long Branch, Texas, seems to have a level head, for he admires the SOUTHWESTERN, likes his pastor, and is pleased with the way the church work is prospering.

H. B. Pemberton, Marshall, Tex.

The camp meeting conducted by the pastor, Rev. Thos. Cole, resulted in the conversion of 90 souls, and 16 reclaimed; total received in the church 120. The church has witnessed a year of spiritual uplifting and reviving. The Sunday school under the efficient superintendency of Prof. S. S. Reid and his able corps of teachers is on the increase; it has 21 officers and teachers, over 275 pupils, and collections proportionally good.

The Albert Epworth League is proving itself quite a factor in the church. Its members are working enthusiastically to raise money to purchase a new church lot. God bless and speed the young people of the Albert Epworth League. There are about 12 other leagues on the district in prosperous operation, organized by the writer, and others to follow.

The work of our beloved Presiding Elder, the Rev. Wade Hamilton, is worthy of commendation. The successful organization of a District Sunday School Institute and Woman's Home Missionary Society, and the special encouragement he gives to the Epworth League and members are very laudable indeed. Wiley University is still on the increase; enrollment 275. The president hopes to register 300 before or by Christmas. Bishop College, of this city, will celebrate Thanksgiving with Wiley. The editor of the SOUTHWESTERN is a very popular man in this part of the country. Success to you personally and the SOUTHWESTERN in general.

P. J. Banco, Cotton Plant, Fla., reports a glorious time at the quarterly meeting held there recently by Rev. S. A. Hughes, Presiding Elder. The church is in good trim. The pastor, Rev. J. J. Higgs and wife however were reported in poor health.

A. Foster, Groesbeck, Tex.

I have finished my work here. Church enterprise has been pushed by Rev. Wormley and his faithful brethren beyond any previous year. Groesbeck is the county seat of Limestone county, about 1,200 inhabitants. Springfield and Cedar are heavy settlements of our people, where there are eighty-two owners of real estate worth one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars. This settlement has several colored men worth from five thousand to fifteen thousand dollars, with good teams and farming implements.

Mr. Ralph Long owns a farm with one of the best springs in this country. Constructed a dam and utilized the forces of the water from the spring and is now running a cotton gin and grist mill. Several whitemen owned this spring before Mr. Long, and tried their skill and used their means but failed, and for a colored man to succeed where a white man of skill and means failed, is what Mr. Long calls solving the Negro problem.

Mr. Henry Majors is a wealthy farmer with several renters, and has the reputation of being a good farmer.

Mr. Sam Hawkins, our worthy district steward, has a good farm and several renters, and has lately taken to himself one of the ribs that Adam lost in the Garden, and with it came another farm.

I might go on and mention Harry Anderson, Taylor Kelly, Jack Murphy, the Baker boys, etc., who have gained for themselves and race a reputation through industry and frugality. I look forward to the day when this will be a great community with all the modern agricultural improvements; high schools, commodious churches, banking and commercial business, with great and good men and women to fill them.

Mrs. M. A. Johnson, Marshall, Tex.

Our church is in a good condition spiritually and financially. We have a good preacher. Our camp meeting began on Sept. 2, and lasted three weeks, resulting in 48 conversions and 42 accessions. The meeting was conducted by Rev. W. Hamilton, our beloved Presiding Elder, Rev. Thos. Cole, and others of this district. Our Sunday school is in a prosperous condition.

Official paper for the following Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church: Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, West Texas, Tennessee, East Tennessee, Little Rock, Central Alabama, Savannah, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Largest Circulation of any Religious Newspaper in New Orleans.

THURSDAY, DEC. 10, 1891.

NEXT year is General Conference year, and we must prepare to make a good report to that body. Let every one owing accounts to the SOUTHWESTERN take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

THE colored people of Atlanta, Ga., are making extensive preparations for a grand parade, demonstration and speech making on Jan. 1, National Emancipation Day. Let every city, town and hamlet throughout the country do likewise.

THE Nashville, Tenn., Republican is the latest journalistic venture by our people in that city. We extend it a warm welcome and the hope that it may enjoy long life and usefulness. Theo. A. Thompson, Esq., is editor.

THE people of Carrollton and the upper portion of this city are stirred up in favor of rapid transit from the business to their residence portion of this city, and the prospects are that they will soon secure the electric car system up that way. So mote it be.

THE report that the Rev. O. N. Grandison, D.D., of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., had stamped the State of New York for the Democracy last October is groundless. The Doctor did no such a thing, and would not do so for "love nor money." He is a Republican Prohibitionist.

THE address of welcome by Rev. James M. King, D.D., to the eastern delegates to the Ecumenical conference, at the reception given in Music Hall, New York, Oct. 5, was a masterly effort. Dr. King will accept thanks for a copy which we read with pleasure and profit.

RECOGNIZING in the American saloon the greatest foe to the spread of Christianity and the general welfare, Christianity in Earnest, organ of the Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, never fails to exhort and denounce the infamy in every issue of that excellent magazine.

EMANCIPATION Day, Jan. 1, 1892, promises to be celebrated by our people all over the South as never before. Grand preparations are being made every where. Get ready for a grand and glorious time. Give thanks to Almighty God for the past and present and take courage for the future.

BRETHREN, pay up your pastor's salary. He cannot settle up his store and other accounts before leaving for conference unless you pay him. Settle in full with him whatever you owe the SOUTHWESTERN, as we will insist upon a full settlement at conference. Come now, let us be honest with each other.

SCORES of our loyal and patriotic citizens, white and colored, in this city, have united in sending words of appreciation to Judge A. W. Tongue for his humane and patriotic efforts to unite the friends of equal rights and justice, in defense of the civil rights, secured by the nullified constitutional amendments to the colored people. Among the signers we noticed the names of Capt. A. T. Wimberly, Gen. A. S. Badger, Col. O. W. Keeting, Hon. S. M. Eaton, Gov. H. C. Warmoth, Gen. W. L. McMillen, Pres. Atwood of Straight University, Hon. E. B. Earhart, Hon. P. F. Herwig, Col. James Lewis, Lieut. Gov. Antoine, R. A. Pannelle, C. O. Morse, of the SOUTHWESTERN, and many others.

Emancipation Day.

Fifteen more days, and January 1, 1892, the twenty ninth anniversary of the ever memorable proclamation of freedom to the slaves in this country by the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, will be here. What preparations are you making for it? Ever since our editorial management of the SOUTHWESTERN began, a little over four years ago, we have been pressing the duty upon our people of properly observing this great National event annually. Every year we have witnessed greater interest in its celebration. As the time draws near, we again remind our people of the same duty. We hope, as indications now seem to promise, that every city, town and hamlet in the South, and as time moves on in this whole country, will celebrate the anniversary of this glorious day which was fraught with so many blessings to our fathers, to us and to unborn millions. Let the day be observed in thanksgiving to Almighty God for our wonderful deliverance from the most cruel bondage upon which the sun ever shone, and for the many blessings that have flowed to us from our deliverance. Let services be held in all the churches; let patriotic songs be sung, and let orations, imposing trust in God and loyalty to his service, to the truth, integrity of character, frugality, education, and to the old flag, be pronounced, and let a shout of triumph go up to Almighty God over what our eyes see and our hearts feel and believe. Let collections be taken in every assembly for the cause of education, the relief of the victims of slavery, to further our civil and political rights, or some other patriotic cause on that occasion. Another good idea would be to send for the "House of Bondage", and read therefrom chapters from living characters, which will properly show our children and children's children the great depths out of which the Lord has brought us out. Bishop Mallalien, who encouraged the idea from the first, writes us from Elizabeth, N. J.: "I hope, as heretofore, you will take the lead and call on all the people to observe the day. I hope our people in New Orleans and Louisiana will keep at the head." We rejoice to learn of the purpose to celebrate this day in many places. Let it be observed everywhere.

THE Pacific Methodist Advocate of the M. E. Church South, demands, as the price of organic union, that the Methodist Episcopal Church "shall give up the colored brother and set him up for himself or give him over to the United African Church. Such a proposition would do very well if the Negro was a slave or a chattel; but he is neither. The colored membership of our church hurl back the insulting proposition into the face of the man that would dare insult them. Dr. Edwards of the Northwestern, anticipated just such a proposition from that source and very tersely and emphatically expresses the sentiment of our church in the premises, in the following editorial excerpt:

"We favor organic union unless it is brought to pass at too great cost. And practical repudiation of the colored man of the south who came to us as his best friends, is too great a price for even the almost priceless union with any white Methodist church that has repudiated the colored man as to organic union. We hold, in all tenderness, that when union issues are raised, the colored man shall have the final word. The question of slavery accounts for certain Methodist disunion in this country, and ordinary justice forbids reunion at the price of any item that affects the interests or strong preferences of the African Methodist in our church. This is the only consistent or tenable ground on which our church can and should stand, and we are persuaded that that ground will continue to be occupied. We say this to emphasize the simple just interests of the colored man, and not to hint or imply an iota of disregard or love for any white Methodist church that may not relish our deliverance. The two largest Methodist churches in the United States unhappily are apart, but their reunion at the cost of a principle held by either body is not to be preferred to continued non-union."

Political Review.

Congress met last Monday. Up to the hour of going to press no speaker of the House had been chosen. Crisp of Georgia had a slight lead in Democratic caucuses with Mills of Texas close behind. "Czar Reed" received the unanimous vote for speaker in the Republican caucus, an honor worthily bestowed, though of no effect in the coming organization.

In this State the lottery and the anti are both claiming delegates enough to organize the Democratic convention to be held on the 16th. The probable result will be two conventions, and two Democratic candidates for Governor, for we cannot conceive how an honest anti-lottery man can vote for a man put in nomination by the Lottery Company or its agents, though it is hard telling what a Louisiana Democrat will do under the peculiar circumstances of this case.

A call for a meeting of the Republican State Committee has been issued. It is hoped that a convention will be called and a good candidate nominated.

Harper's Weekly very wisely suggests that the failure to return John Sherman to the United States Senate would be a notorious calamity. The indications, however, are that he will be returned and the calamity averted.

Personal.

—Rev. J. C. Hartzell, D.D., corresponding secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society stopped over here a few hours on his way from Cincinnati, to Houston, the seat of the Texas Conference last week. His many friends were delighted to meet him. He reports the schools and colleges under his supervision in splendid condition. He has since returned North.

Our people will rejoice to learn that after several month's absence Bishop Mallalien is expected to reach this city sometime this week.

—Mrs. Mary Karnik is having continued success at Baton Rouge. On Monday night of last week was witnessed one of the most powerful meetings ever held. Sinners were falling all over the house and crying for mercy. Fourteen found pardon that night, and fifty or more since the meeting began. She will go to another church in that city and labor for a while.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Rev. M. Joiner, of Scottsboro, Ala., in the irreparable loss which he has sustained in the loss of his precious wife and missionary companion. She went to her reward Nov. 27. Obituary notice in another column.

Dr. Albert, the editor, returned from the Texas Conference, Houston, Tex., last Tuesday morning. Full account of the session next week.

Too many of our boys and girls are growing up with the notion that if educated, they must of necessity teach school if they can't get in the Federal service or be idle till something turns up. They think labor is a disgrace, so they try to live by their wits and sharp practice. Give your boys and girls a good trade and teach them that it is far better, in the sight of both God and man, that they have horny hands and a spotless character, than that they should have velvet hands, fine dress and an infamous and disreputable character.

THE solution of the race problem rests with every individual Negro. It rests in his industry, intelligence and integrity.

Schools and Colleges.

President Hickman, of Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., sends us Thanksgiving greetings; in which he says:

"We feel, as a body of teachers, that we have many reasons for gratitude.

1. We have never had better health; not one dangerous illness among us so far; and but very few sick.

2. Our enrollment is large. At this date last year we had 291; two years ago not over 275; to-day we have 302.

3. We have never had such good order, application to study and kindly disposition toward teachers and students as we are now having.

4. We have not had one student under serious discipline. The committee on discipline has been called but once this year. We think our classes were never better organized. We have the largest sixth year class we have had. We have a large junior class; the middle class and senior class are represented; hence, a good prospect for college classes. We have two good classical freshmen; and we will have six to graduate from the Normal school.

5. We have 75 students in the Trade Schools; and that department never went so smoothly, and with more promise.

We have had a visit from Dr. Curry, of the Slater Board, and Senator Colquitt and Ex-President Hayes; and they were well pleased with our Trade Schools and the Girl's Industrial Schools.

6. In the Model Home, for girls, we have 15 students; and in Warren Hall under our preceptress, we have 35 students. We have about 150 girls who are having more or less training for home-keeping; and all are under good religious influence. We trust, that every this school year closes many of our young boys and girls will be converted to God. We are not unduly sectarian; and yet, we are loyal to Methodism.

7. If the ministers of our Methodism through this country, and our friends generally, would come and see us in the midst of our work, with these promising boys and girls, it would make their hearts glad; and they would go home to help us gather ways and means of building a house we greatly need; namely, a building for the English grades; and especially to provide better things for the primary department under Miss Hardwick.

We have never had a larger hope, or more enthusiasm for our work than we have this day. We ask your sympathy, your helpful words and deeds, and your prayers, that we may make this school one of the great factors in preparing a people for true citizenship and a nation to obey government and love God."

The letter is signed by the following faculty:

W. H. Hickman, W. H. Orogman, D. Moury, W. N. Olifford, L. M. Linebarger, Lonisa Smith, A. D. Houghton, W. I. Graham, Lulu Y. Stretch, E. W. Beighle, Mrs. W. N. Olifford, Flora Mitchell, Sadie Ranb, Louise Hardwick.

We rejoice to note this season of prosperity at Clark, and congratulate Dr. Hickman and his excellent corps of teachers in their marked success.

That Wesleyan Monument.

John Wesley is entitled to as great a monument as was ever reared to the memory of any man. We honor ourselves in proportion as we honor him. How can it be done? What shall we leave to posterity to show our estimate of the gospel according to "Wesley"? Some say erect a large shaft of polished marble that may hold its head aloft above all, and proclaim our affection for him, whom so many Methodists delight to honor.

If any desire to thus invest means at their disposal, we hold their right to such privilege as a sacred matter, but we ask a hearing before final action is taken.

We propose a new monument to John Wesley in the great Southwest.

It shall be of better material than the one proposed at Washington, D. C.

It will stand much higher in the sight of future generations of men.

It will do the world a thousand times more good.

It will endure to reflect this light of "his" countenances and trust long after the one that is to overlook the Potomac has crumbled to dust.

The place we want erected has already been designated by our church as worthy of large things; not for its "own sake," but for the sake of humanity. The "site" is one of the most beautiful that could be found anywhere. It is the campus of the Wiley University at Marshall, Texas. This is one of the most promising schools under the management of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society in the whole South-west.

Within a radius of fifty miles there are said to be fifty thousand colored people.

There is a general awakening among them in all parts of Texas. The brightest and best of the young men and women are flocking to the schools. The Wiley University has now, Nov. 25, 275 students, and the time for the usual increase is not at hand for one month yet. They cannot all get into the chapel. They sit three in a seat in the recitation rooms, and many still standing about the walls. Only a few more can be accommodated in the dormitories, and still they are seeking admission from every quarter.

We must make room for them. God has heard the prayer of the church to awaken the young men and women of the Southwest, and here they come. We must have more room or soon shut the doors against them. Our students represent four states, six conferences and nearly every church in the kingdom. Who will help us to build a monument that will throb with the inspiration of God for this uplift of this whole nation. The great future of the Southwest is already assured by the substantial advance of this immediate post. Money invested for God and his kingdom here, will very soon bring a hundred fold in return.

This is a Macedonian cry. We want this monument; not for glory, not merely as an object lesson, but to help to provide the means to satisfy the thirst for Christian light and knowledge; a desire for an education awakened by the spirit of truth. What man or woman that loves God will come forward now before they pass to his presence on high, and help to build the new monument in the Southwest.

Write to the president, P. A. COOL.

DR. MENDENHALL will speak on the "Life Tenure of the Episcopacy" in the next number of the Methodist Review. His article will receive a wide reading.

Panoramic Entertainments.

To the Editor:

I wish to say to the brethren of the North Missouri district, Central Missouri Conference, that there are certain men traveling through the country with a panorama under the garb of ministers of the gospel. Their only care is to obtain money, for which they cannot give an equivalent. Such business is an outrage upon Christianity and our people. I hope no pastor in the district will allow our churches to be perverted by such men. R. E. GILLUM.

The editor joins the Presiding Elder of the North Missouri district in warning the people against these traveling showmen. They are using Sunday schools and churches for simple money making, pocketing the proceeds of the labor of the churches that sell the tickets and furnish them a place for their unprofitable exhibition.—Central.

A New York paper makes a wise suggestion as to the best way to check the undesirable immigration. It says truly that if the sale of intoxicating liquors was forbidden in the United States, it would stop the coming in of the dangerous classes. There is no question of it. And if the law was well enforced many thousands whom the United States would gladly get rid of would go back to Europe, nor would they stand upon the order of their going.

THE Report of the Commissioner of Pensions, for the year ending June 30, 1891, just at hand, makes an excellent exhibition of the workings of that department during the past year.

Prevention is Better

Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acid which causes the disease. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is used by thousands with great success. It is the best blood purifier.

Constipation is caused by the loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore this action and invigorate the liver.

DAILY BREAD.

If you want to dry a cow up just milk her once a day instead of twice, and be so afraid, when you do milk her, that if you take too much away there will be no more left for the next time, that you only half do the work, and you will have a dry cow as the result of sparing her. If you want to dry up the liberal impulses of a church, just be afraid of asking that church for money.—Christian Standard.

A minister's little daughter, who had been to church for the first time and heard her father preach, was questioned by him on reaching home as to how she liked his sermon. There was an embarrassed silence; then the little maid, tired out with the long strain of "being good," and yet anxious not to offend, made answer, with a long-drawn breath of patient resignation, "You preached awful long, papa; but I beared it."—New York Advocate.

"We doubt any man's religion when it can't be seen. What are lamps good for that never shine? A light-house beats no drums, blows no trumpets, but its glory is seen in throwing out light across the dark sea to guide safely the storm-tossed sailors. Streams of radiant light from sermons of faith, love, obedience in every day life are the things that guide the wayward steps of a straying world back to God and heaven."

"Because of a father's love, Joseph was hated by his brothers; and this hatred became so intense that they sold him into Egypt, thinking they would get rid of him, and of him they would hear nothing more. But through this means Joseph was raised to national honors, and lived to bless, not only in Egypt, but his wicked brothers also. Man cannot flee the judgments of God. And it is useless, as well as wicked, for a man to oppose the right way of the Lord, for all such, sooner or later, are sure to be overthrown. God often makes the wrath of man praise him."

Jesus appears to have devoted himself specially to prayer at times when his life was unusually full of work and excitement. His was a very busy life; there were nearly always "many coming and going" about him. Sometimes, however, there was such a congestion of thronging objects that he had scarcely time to eat. But even then he found time to pray. Indeed, these appear to have been with him seasons of more prolonged prayer than usual. Thus we read: "So much the more went there a fame abroad of him; and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities. And he withdrew himself into the wilderness and prayed."

Many in our day know what this congestion of occupation is. They are swept off their feet with their engagements, and can scarcely find time to eat. We make this a reason for not praying; Jesus made it a reason for praying. Is there any doubt which is the better course? Many of the wisest have in this respect done as Jesus did. When Luther had a specially busy and exciting day, he allowed himself longer time than usual for prayer beforehand. A wise man said once that he was too busy to be in a hurry. He meant that if he allowed himself to become hurried he could not do all that he had to do.

Homiletics.

Thanksgiving Address.

[By invitation of the Rector, Rev. H. H. Waters, before the congregation of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, in Ames Chapel M. E. Church, by Rev. W. P. McLaughlin, D.D., Presiding Elder, Methodist Episcopal Church, Nov. 26, 1891.]

The great question of antiquity was—whether the relation of the soul to the body was that of music to the harp or that of the rower to the boat? The harp destroyed, the music ceased forever. Was it so with man, or was the relation rather that of the rower to the boat?

The boat tossed upon the crested wave, charred by the lightning and splintered on the rocks, the rower might survive the lurid lightning and angry sea, and live on in all his dauntless might when his frail bark was wrecked.

This is no longer a question with those who have learned with St. Paul to sing the glad doxology: "Now thanks be unto God that giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." Our lives are fragile, indeed, but they are not as bottles floating on some great, eternal, shoreless sea—the glass contents to flow back and mingle and be lost in the everlasting surge. But, endowed with reason, dominion, immortality,—redeemed by the blood of God's own and only Son, we shall live, and think, and know, and love as long as our great original himself.

Where we have reasons so innumerable for thanksgiving, it is difficult to know how to begin or where to end. We are here to day as Americans and as Christians. Let us briefly consider some of the reasons for gratitude implied in these two facts. The nation, and the world at large, will soon celebrate the immortal discovery of Christopher Columbus. We, as Americans and Christians, must not forget the most important side of this great event. Columbus was a deeply religious man—no man of his generation was better posted in Holy scripture.

A recent writer has called his undertaking "the last great drama of the Crusades." The Crusades had failed, and now Columbus dreamed of a land whose wealth would enable Christendom to start on its holy quest once more and whose regions would open up new areas for the triumph of the Cross. And to be forever associated with this great dream there are two other dreams—which became glorious realities—the invention of printing, and the Protestant Reformation.

It was not accidental, but providential, that these three, among the greatest events in human history, followed each other in such quick succession that it may be said that they came together.

God hid the great American continent behind the waters of a pathless ocean until Gutenberg should cast the types and Martin Luther unchain the Bible for the nations. Renaissance and reformation both were necessary to train the men who should be worthy to lay the foundation of this new world. And now, at the command of God, the great procession begins its march. First came the Pilgrim fathers to the snows of the wild New England shore. Men like the iron sides who were with Oliver Cromwell at Naseby and on Marston Moor, who fought for civil and religious liberty for the English speaking world.

To New York came the men of the Netherlands—men who had fought under William of Orange and John of Barneveld for the constitutional liberty of Holland and of Europe.

To Pennsylvania came the simple, God-fearing quakers.

To Delaware, the Swedes who fought under Gustavus Adolphus, the great Protestant champion and king.

To Georgia came the pious Moravians. From their distant home in Germany they start with Bibles, hymn books and catechisms. They enter Frankfort-on-the-Main and start down the Rhine singing spiritual songs.

The ocean quickens their adoration, and as they lose sight of land they burst into a hymn to God's glory. Their village in Georgia they call Ebenezer—"Hitherto the Lord hath helped us."

To the Carolinas and to Florida came the Huguenots. They are the most industrious people in France. In Languedoc, and B'Arne their lands are covered with grains and vines, and the hillsides are covered with sheep. In Lyons and Tours they manufacture the best silks, velvets and cloths in Europe. In one province of Hungary they have 600 paper mills. These people, because of their religious faith, are put to death, sent to the galleys chained with thieves and murderers. Those who can escape wander in exile and come in the providence of God to help found the greatest Republic of all time. And so as America we have devout reasons for thanksgiving, for the God fearing men who were the fathers and founders of the nation. The great problem that now confronts us is the vast tide of foreign immigration that still pours upon our shores. There is but one solution to this problem—it is in two words—Christianize! Americanize!

A few weeks ago I preached to a Cincinnati congregation, and had seated just under the pulpit the venerable William Nast. Sixty years ago he came from Germany, a youth of 21. He had been the classmate in the university and intimate friend of David Frederik Stranas, and like him, was a thorough rationalist. He came under the godly influence of that apostolic man, Bishop Mollvaine, of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He became a tutor also in the family of a wealthy widow lady of the Methodist faith. His heart was touched by God's spirit. He began to labor as a missionary among the German people. The result to-day is that we have in our branch of the Methodist Church 500 German preachers, 71,000 members, 70,500 Sunday school scholars, $3,000,000 of church property and a religious literature that for ability and wide circulation is unsurpassed.

And this work has reacted on the Fatherland until to-day there are strong conferences with thousands of members in Germany and Switzerland, and all this under God starting with one man, and that man still alive, hale, hearty and happy, at the age of 82. What William Nast has done among the German people in this country the Church of Christ can do among all nationalities. We never were confronted with a greater, but at the same time more glorious work than we are to-day. For this also should we be devoutly thankful.

But I can merely allude in closing to the reason we have for thanksgiving as Christians for our present faith.

Edwin Arnold, who gave the world a few years ago his beautiful poem, "The Light of Asia, or the Great Renunciation," has now given us another, "The Light of the World, or the Great Consummation."

The life of Gautama Buddha stripped of its legend, may have been a great renunciation, but it has proved to be the darkness and not the light of Asia.

The incarnate Christ is indeed the "light of the world and the great consummation," but we knew this from the fishermen of Galilee and the Apostle to the Gentiles long before Edwin Arnold told it in his beautiful verse.

We know it to-day from living faith in the ever living Christ. We have learned from St. Paul to "rejoice evermore, pray without ceasing, and in everything give thanks." Thanks in the sorrow as well as in the joy, looking ever forward to that day when we shall say with Paul—"O death where is thy sting! O grave, where is thy victory! For the sting of death is sin; but thanks be unto God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

With chastened heart we think to-day of the holy dead who sleep where we may rest when thus God's people meet again. But our faith on this Thanksgiving day is that of the Nation's white haired quaker poet, as he sings—

"And yet, dear heart, remembering thee,
Am I not richer than of old,
Safe in thy immortality?
What chance can reach the wealth I held?"

L. M. HAGOOD, P. E.

It's sometimes said, patent medicines are for the ignorant. The doctors foster this idea.

"The people," we're told, "are mostly ignorant when it comes to medical science."

Suppose they are! What a sick man needs is not knowledge, but a cure, and the medicine that cures is the medicine for the sick.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the "do believes" and the "don't believes." There's no hesitance about it, no "if" nor "possibly."

It says—"I can cure you, only do as I direct."

Perhaps it fails occasionally. The makers hear of it when it does, because they never keep the money when the medicine fails to do good.

Suppose the doctors went on that principle. (We beg the doctors' pardon. It wouldn't do!)

Choking, sneezing, and every other form of catarrh in the head, is radically cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Fifty cents. By druggists.

City Church Notes.

There will be a series of sermons, against unjust class legislation and popular evils of the day, Monday, Thursday and Sunday, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., commencing the first Sunday night and closing the third Sunday night in December, 1891, at the St. Matthews Baptist Church, on Second street, between Magnolia and Clara.

A grand union meeting will take place the third Sunday in December, to raise money to help test the constitutionality of the Jim Crow car law. Every lover of American manhood and liberty is cordially invited.

Yours in Christ,
F. J. DAVIDSON, Pastor.
M. LEE, Secretary.

Thanksgiving at Pleasant Plains was duly observed. Appropriate remarks by the pastor and Rev. J. E. Smith, of the Central Congregational church, this city. Select readings and songs by Alexander Ready, A. W. Wilson, Mrs. Lanna Price, Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. M. Jackson, Mrs. M. J. Nickerson, and N. Johnson. D. J. Price, P. O.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J.

ON TAKING THE COLLECTION.

I was taking my collection for the foreign mission work; And believing it the practice of the part of some to shirk From the clearest Christian duty—leaving others to sustain The noblest work of ages—in my preaching I was plain, Rather personal in places, and, as people sometimes say, Struck out squarely from the shoulder, in the good old-fashioned way. There were restlessness and motion, quite unusual, in the pews; Women re-arranged their bennets, men had trouble with their shoes. In the gallery all around me there was one continual stir, And a large amount of coughing for that season of the year. This but acted as a challenge on a nature such as mine, So I rose to the occasion, hewing closer to the line. Uncle Ben, as was his custom, gave the sermon earnest heed, But his face wore some expressions that were difficult to read. I discoursed upon the subject, argued, scolded, for an hour, And pronounced a peroration of considerable power. The collection was my first one, and I naturally believed It would reach a handsome figure.—I was thoroughly deceived. When the ushers gave the total, they both said, with solemn face, It was far the smallest offering ever taken in that place. Full of weariness, reflecting on the selfishness of men, I went early Monday morning to talk with Uncle Ben. He was milking, and I asked him what the bottom reason was That the people gave so little to the foreign mission cause. "Try your hand at milking, parson," Uncle Ben said, with a smile; "Take this Jersey," and I sat down, pleased enough to make a trial; Going at the business roughly, like a novice, pull, tug, pound, And that heifer in a moment laid me flat out on the ground. "Whoa, there, Bessie! Jump up, parson; ain't hart much! I'll brush your coat. Here's your hat," he said. I swallowed something rising in my throat. Then he sat beside that Jersey, humming some old-fashioned air, Milking, humming, and the creature stood and never stirred a hair. "Well," I said, regaining slowly calmness and a sweeter mood, "Who would dream, to see that heifer, she would ever act so rude!" Uncle Ben looked up and whispered: "It's a curious kind of trick, How to get the milk out from her, and not have the creature kick. Learn the lesson, parson, clearly; learn it here and learn it now— You must touch a congregation gently, as I touch this Jersey cow. Lay your hand upon the people with a stroke as soft as silk, And you'll fill the plates with money as I fill this pail with milk."

Books and Current Literature.

The School of Hard Knocks was where Andrew Carnegie gained his start; forty years ago a poor Scotch boy—to-day, prince of manufacturers, author and philanthropist. It is from his own experience that he is to write for the Youth's Companion on Habits of Thrift.

We have received and advanced copy of the Thanksgiving Holiday Number of the Youth's Companion. It is three times its normal size, and contains several times the usual number of illustrations. The artistic cover is illuminated with a harvest scene. A large variety of Thanksgiving Day stories and articles and family amusements fill its twenty-four pages. A new poem by Ezekiah Butterworth, the Flag that the Emigrants Cheered, is stirring.

Dr. J. R. Miller is among the best devotional writers of our day. His carefully trained intellect is such as permits utterance only when speech is necessary. The Fleming H. Revell Company, New York and Chicago, has issued from his pen the Dew of Thy Youth, which applies the knowledge of nature, as found in the Bible, to the attainments most worthy of our pursuit. Written for the young, it can only inspire their zeal, and will lead many readers to purity of life as found in the brilliant crystal—the morning dew. Price, 20 cents.

The temptations of young men were never greater than to-day. With evils lurking in every hiding place, it is well that an occasional light-house flashes forth its rays and points out to the helmsman the rocks that lead to ruin. The Fleming H. Revell Company, New York and Chicago, in their popular Vellum Series, have issued a neat brochure on Temptation from the tried pen of Dr. Stalker, of Edinburg. Price, 20 cents.

The Preacher's Magazine for the current month reaches us and maintains its unique, aidful and attractive excellencies. It is a magazine for preachers, teachers and Bible students, and they can ill afford to be without it. $1.50 per year. Single copy, 15 cents. Wilbur B. Ketchum, publisher, 2 Cooper Union, New York.

The Announcements of The Youth's Companion, which we have received, seem to touch about all healthy tastes. Its general articles cover a wide range. Self-Education, Business Success, College Success. The Companion readers thus come into personal touch with the people whose greatness make our age famous. Its 500,000 subscribers show how it is appreciated. Whoever subscribes now for 1892 gets it free from the time the subscription is received till Jan. 1, 1892. $1.75 a year. Address, The Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass.

Logic, women and love are three forces hard to connect. But, connecting the three as closely as they seem capable of being joined, it is logical to judge that women are best fitted to write fiction which is purely romantic. At any rate, Mrs. Amelia E. Barr leads one to this belief. She has written an exquisitely romantic and idyllic love story, which she has named Love for an Hour is Love Forever, which is soon to appear in serial form in the columns of a metropolitan weekly. In what weekly it will appear has not yet been announced.

The Living Age has had a remarkably successful career of nearly fifty years. There could be no stronger proof that it meets a decided and continued want of the reading public. It grows in value as the years increase, and as periodicals of all sorts multiply. It is unrivalled in its field, and easily enables its readers to keep abreast with the best thought and literature of the day. Its prospectus for 1892 is well worth attention in selecting one's reading matter for the new year. Reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are given, and to new subscribers remitting now for the year 1892 the intervening numbers are sent gratis. Little & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The useful applications of science are especially prominent in The Popular Science Monthly for December. Prof. G. L. Goodale's address on the Possibilities of Economic Botany is concluded, the topics considered being fruits, timbers, fibres, fodder-plants, etc. Dr. Wesley Mills has a practical article on The Training of Dogs, which is illustrated with pictures of a number of champion hunting-dogs. Rev. J. W. Quinby gives a striking exhortation to Breathe Pure Air. The last of Prof. Frederick Starr's illustrated dress articles, dealing with Religious Dress, is published this month. The editorials deal with the decline of popular heroes, political justice, and modern charities. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 50c. a number; $5 a year.

The Quintanqua for December has several illustrated articles and the portraits of a number of prominent men and women. The following are in the table of contents: Domestic and Social Life of the Colonists, III, by Edward Everett Hale; Sunday Readings, Selected by Bishop Vincent; Charles Stewart Parnell, by Ralph D. St. John; Qualifications Requisite for the Trained Nurse, by Lisbeth D. Price; The Art of Visiting, by Kate Gannett Wells; Women in the Land Office, by Ella Lorraine Dorsey; The Methodist Ecumenical Council in Washington, and Literature as a Profession. There are the usual departments devoted to the Quintanqua Literary and Scientific Circle.

Our Symposium.

Orators as Editors. Orators as editors are failures. Charles James Fox defined oratory as high commonplace. Fastidious in musical voice and graceful action tickles the crowd. In cold type it is tasteless as the beer of yesterday's broaching and tinnelless as a last year's bird's nest. The orator is the gold beater. The writer is the coiner. Conducting a journal with a Demosthenes as its chief scribe is like following land with a balloon in the traces. The mold-board splits furrows in the air, and the plow-handles drag along the ground. The eloquence of the tongue is of necessity exaggeration. A battle fought with a kaleidoscope for a field-glass will end in a rout. Excessive rhetoric dilates, like belladonna, the iris of the mind. Presently it produces a delirium tremens of hyperbole. If the victim but taste an adjective, he will swallow a dictionary. An editor always superlative would upset with surplage of sail the safest ship on the sea. Aaron was the orator, and his climax a calf clad in a glitter of gold.—Richmond Advocate.

"I Can Tell Them." It is my deliberate judgment that more preachers injure their usefulness by tediousness than any thing else, save the fundamentals. They wear the people out by their long and tiresome attention to details. Now I can pick such preachers out by the way they make their reports. There is no occasion for the laymen to come and see me about them. I can tell them at once.—Bishop Hargrove, in Southern Christian Advocate.

"No drunkard shall inherit eternal life;" and yet the American people, said to be a Christian people, legally authorized 300,000 men to engage in a traffic that lures our boys and young men into drunkards' graves and into drunkards' hell at the rate of 60,000 to 100,000 annually. There is an awful responsibility resting somewhere. Every one shall give account for himself to God.—Religious Telescope.

"There is not now, and there will not be in the future, a reform of any kind worthy the name that does not find the political power of the saloon a bar to its success. This does not merely happen so, it is a necessary result of the business. To it gravitate the corrupt forces of politics as naturally as slugs and centipedes gather in the heart of a rotten log. The saloons, as an organized political power, are to-day bossing the bosses. It is this fact that makes this issue an urgent one.—N. Y. Voice.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases. "There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—F. L. Nickerson, Druggist, 75 Chelsea St., Charlestown, Mass. "Two years ago I was troubled with salt-rheum. It was all over my body, and nothing the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I can sincerely recommend it as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burr, Upper Kewick, New Brunswick. "My sister was afflicted with a severe case of

SCROFULA

Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her this medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. O. Jenkins, Dewese, Neb. "When a boy I was troubled with a blood disease which manifested itself in sores on the legs. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I took a number of bottles, and was cured. I have never since that time had a recurrence of the complaint."—J. C. Thompson, Lowell, Mass. "I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is the second time that I have written to you. But my first went to the waste basket. I am 15 years old, and go to Sunday school. Our day school is going to start soon.

Your Niece,
ANNIE BROACH

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 12 years old. This is my first letter to you. I go to school every day. I am ready for the fourth grade. Our school will close Friday and our teacher will leave Saturday. She is loved by everybody. Hoping to see this letter in print, I remain

Your Niece,
KATIE JOHNSON.
Nolensville, Tenn.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little girl 17 years of age, and go to Sunday school every Sunday. I am the Bible-class teacher. I have been the superintendent, but my papa sent me to school at Austin and I had to resign. My papa takes the grand old SOUTHWESTERN, and I delight in reading it. It makes me feel great to read of the grand work of Methodism in the South. We have a nice church here, and a nice pastor. He is loved by both Christians and sinners. With his assistance we have bought land and built a very nice church. We have named it Foster's Chapel, for our Presiding Elder. Our pastor's name is Rev. G. Norman. We all love him.

Your Niece,
WELTHY A. HIBLER.
Mooreville, Tex.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my first letter. I am a little girl 12 years old, and go to school. I am in the fourth grade. Our school closes Friday. I am very sorry to leave our sweet teacher because we all love her. We wish she could stay with us always. I am a member of the M. E. Church. My mother and sister belong to the Church. My teacher takes the SOUTHWESTERN, and I love to read it. Rev. G. C. Harding is our pastor.

Your Niece,
ELIZA MILTON.
Nolensville, Tenn.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am 15 years of age, and a member of the M. E. Church. Our pastor, Rev. J. Jordan, is loved by all; he has served us nearly two years. We have a nice Sunday school. Miss T. G. Muckelroy is my teacher. Our pastor takes your paper and I love to read it.

Your Nephew,

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my first letter. We have a grand society; organized by Mr. H. B. Penelton. We have named it J. Jordan Chapel Epworth League. Mr. J. C. Muckelroy is our president, and Mr. A. L. Jones, vice-president. We meet every Thursday night. I belong to the M. E. Church.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

Christ and the Inheritance of the Saints, illustrated in a series of discourses from the Colossians, by Thomas Guthrie, D.D., and Out of the Harness, by the same author, are two of the eight great books, by this famous author and preacher, which we have recently received from E. B. Treat, Publisher, 5 Cooper Union, New York. All of Dr. Guthrie's works are worth their weight in gold. The two before now are especially valuable, and deserve to be considered as among the choicest of Christmas presents. Young and old will enjoy them. Price, each, $1.

Publishers' Department.

Quick or You Lose It.

Perhaps some who intend to avail themselves of our splendid sewing machine offer are thinking that the chance will be kept open indefinitely. This is a mistake. It is liable to be withdrawn at any time after Jan. 1st. The announcement occupies a good deal of valuable space, and we have faithfully carried out its provisions for a year and a half to the joy of over 200 homes. A good many orders are still coming in, yet we fear many are holding off, thinking that the offer will always be open. Better not trust to that. All new subscribers for next year get the balance of this year free, which makes the offer still more valuable.

Old as well as new subscribers can have the benefit of the offer, but don't delay too long.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

Mr. Editor: I left my people in Montgomery, Alabama, in 1874. They used to go by the name of Gilmore before the war. Since the war they go by the name of Stell. My father's name is Milton; mother's name is Millie. Sister Maria married a man by the name of Gus Bulah. They belonged to the Methodist Episcopal Church. We all need to belong to Dr. Gilmore, who lived in the country. Any information will be gladly received. Please address John Stell, care of G. W. Baker, P. O. Box 30, Hernando, Miss.

A LIFE SAVED!

READ THE TESTIMONIES

An Extraordinary Case!

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 22, 1890.

Last April I was attacked with Chagras Fever in Spanish Honduras and was given up to die by two physicians. During that spell and since I have used a pound of quinine and quantities of other medicines without any benefit. From three to four days every week I have been down and have suffered untold agonies. Between these spells I could scarcely walk more than two blocks at a time. I did not expect to live through the coming winter. Ten days ago I commenced using Dr. King's Nerve Tonic. I have had no fever since. All the symptoms have entirely disappeared. I have no pain or trouble of any kind. Am gaining strength very fast. Can walk miles at a time. My sudden and rapid improvement is simply wonderful. Gormetier has been a God-send to me. I can not say too much in its praise. Any who wish to do so may call on me.

DANIEL PAPFON
44 Jersey Street.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1, 1891.

My improvement continued, and soon after writing the above I was able to go to work and have been working ever since. My health is now perfect. I never felt better in my life. I give this testimony gladly, because I know that Gormetier saved my life.

DANIEL PAPFON

Chagras Fever is known in but not only a most dangerous form of sickness, but also very difficult to cure. Gormetier has been tried on a number of cases. In every known instance it has cured quickly and completely. It has a similar record as a remedy for Swamp Fever and Malarial troubles of all kinds. Properly used, it is the quickest and most unfailing remedy for Fevers of all kinds, Dyspepsia, Debility, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Diarrhea, Dysentery and all diseases of the Blood and Skin.

These claims are sustained by evidences from thousands of the best people in the country, and the evidences multiply in our midst every day.

For sale by druggists and country merchants, and at the Gormetier office, 202 Canal street, New Orleans. For full information, circulars, etc., call on or address Kit Williams, agent, 202 Canal street. $1 bottle; six bottles for $5.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

St. Vitus Dance Cured. VIII

SAN ANDREAS, Cal. Co., Cal., Feb., 1893.

My boy, 13 years old, was so affected by it that he could not go to school for 2 years. Two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic restored his natural health, and he is now attending school again.

MICHAEL O'CONNELL

Rev. W. C. Kampmeyer, Lowell, Ohio, writes: After the second dose of the Nerve Tonic which I ordered for my little son upon the advice of Rev. E. Koenig, the spasms disappeared and no symptoms have since shown, although the attacks came from 15 to 20 times each day before. The child was so delicate that it could hardly stand or walk, now it is playing in the yard and has gained 3 1/2 lbs. in weight. Although the Rev. Koenig had expressed but little hope that the Nerve Tonic would help, I thank God that I followed his advice and shall recommend the remedy to all sufferers.

A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge. This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876 and now prepared under his direction by the FOURTH QUARTER.—Studies in the Gospel of St. John. Lesson XI. Christ Risen. A. D. 30. John 20. 1-18. Commits to memory verses 14-16. Dec. 13 1891.

HOME READINGS.

M. John 20. 1-10. Th. John 20. 11-18. W. Luke 24. 1-12. Th. Matt. 28. 1-15. F. Acts 2. 22-32. S. 1 Cor. 15. 1-8. S. 1 Cor. 15. 12-22.

GOLDEN TEXT.

It is Christ that died, yea, rather, that is risen again. (Rom. 8. 34.)

LESSON HYMN.

Christ, the Lord, is risen to-day,
Sons of men and angels say;
Raise your joys and triumphs high;
Sing, ye heavens,—and earth, reply.

Love's redeeming work is done;
Fought the fight, the battle won;
Lo! the sun's eclipse is o'er;
Lo! he sets in blood no more.

Vain the stone, the watch, the seal,
Christ has burst the gates of hell;
Death in vain forbids his rise;
Christ has opened Paradise.

Time.—Dawn of the day after the Jewish Sabbath.

Place.—Near Jerusalem, in Joseph's garden.

Rulers.—Herod in Galilee, Pilate in Jerusalem.

Connecting Links.—"The day," in Jewish phraseology, meant the hours between sunrise and sunset—not, as with us, between midnight and midnight. So, when Jesus died on what we would now call Friday afternoon, it was already within an hour or two of the beginning of the Jewish Sabbath.

To prevent the scandal of the exposure of the body of Jesus during the holy day Joseph and Nicodemus, two influential believers, hastily obtained Pilate's permission and buried it. Soldiers were sent from Jerusalem to guard the sepulcher where the Master lay during the long hours of a Sabbath which must have been inexpressibly sad to the disciples.

Very early in the morning of the following day the Lord rose from the dead.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY

1. An empty sepulcher, v. 1-10.

Who first came to the sepulcher? What discovery did Mary there make?

To whom did she tell her story? What did the disciples do?

Which one first reached the sepulcher?

Which one entered the place? What did the disciples see?

What effect had the sight on John? Of what were the disciples yet ignorant?

Where did they then go?

2. A weeping woman, v. 11-13.

Where did Mary remain? What did she see in the sepulcher?

What question was asked her? What was her answer?

3. A risen Christ, v. 14-18.

Whom did Mary see as she turned away?

What question did Jesus ask? For whom did she mistake him?

What did she answer? How did Jesus make himself known?

What message did he give her? What report did Mary bear to the disciples?

How was her message received? (Mark 16. 11.)

TEACHINGS OF THE LESSON.

Where in this lesson are we taught:

1. A lesson of hope?

2. A lesson of faith?

3. A lesson of service?

HOME WORK FOR YOUNG BE-REANS.

THE LESSON CATECHISM.

[For the entire school.]

1. How long was the body of Jesus in the tomb? From Friday afternoon till Sunday morning.

2. What then took place? Jesus rose from the dead.

4. What did Jesus tell her? "I ascend unto my Father."

5. How many times did Jesus

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

"If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 20 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge."

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

appear on the day of his resurrection! Five times.
6. What is the Golden Text?
"It is Christ," etc.

EXPLANATIONS.

First day of the week.—What we call Sunday, or the Lord's day.

Sepulcher.—Not a grave like ours, but a cavern. The stone taken away.—This tomb was closed by a great stone rolled in front of the entrance, which would not be taken away except to remove the body. Linnen clothes.—The wrappings with which it was usual to dress the body for the grave. The gardener.—Jesus was buried in the private grounds of Joseph of Arimathea. The "gardener" may have been the third keeper of the grounds. Touch me not.—She was probably casting herself at his feet to embrace and worship him.

Doctrinal Suggestion.—The resurrection of Christ.

THE CHURCH CATECHISM.

111. What will he say to the righteous? "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." (Matt. 25. 32.)

The Cause of Rheumatism.

An acid which exists in sour milk and cider, called lactic acid, is believed by physicians to be the cause of rheumatism. Accumulating in the blood, it attacks the fibrous tissues in the joints, and causes agonizing pains. What is needed is a remedy to neutralize the acid, and to invigorate the kidneys and liver that all waste will be carried off. Hood's Sarsaparilla is heartily recommended by many whom it has cured of rheumatism. It possesses just the desired qualities, and so thoroughly purifies the blood as to prevent recurrence of rheumatic attacks. We suggest a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla by all who suffer from rheumatism.

Judge Tongree says: "Christian civilization is not at all equanimous. Every year for a quarter of a century it has killed more people in the United States because of the color of their skins than suffered by the flames of persecution during all of Mary's reign." All of which proves that the devil is the father of much of the so-called religion that is so popular. To call such civilization "Christian" is a libel upon the Son of God. Call it by its right name, "Devilization." Appeal.

THE mission work among the Hebrew-Christians at 17 St. Mark's Place, New York City, is a marvel of success. This mission to the Jews was commenced about ten years ago, and has been wonderfully blessed of God. The mission does not personally solicit subscriptions, but waits on the Lord in prayer to incline the hearts of his people to send their voluntary offerings. The pastor, Mr. Freshman, takes no salary, but depends entirely upon free-will offerings.

Cod-liver oil suggests consumption; which is almost unfortunate. Its best use is before you fear consumption—when you begin to get thin. Consumption is only one of the dangers of thinness.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver-oil makes the thin plump, and the plump are almost safe.

An Elegant Copy of that Wonderful Book,

The Pilgrim's Progress,

FREE to every one subscribing for this journal one year, at the regular price.

The book contains 296 Pages, with handsome illustrations.

This new and large edition of this popular book, written by John Bunyan, contains both parts of the allegory, complete and unabridged, printed with large, new type. It is in colored enamel paper cover, with lettering in gold, giving a rich and elegant appearance.

Bunyan is acknowledged as the most popular religious writer in the English language. It is said that more copies of "Pilgrim's Progress" have been sold than any other book except the Bible.

Of Bunyan, Lord Macaulay has written: "This is the highest miracle of genius, that the imaginations of one mind should become the personal recollections of another; and this miracle the thinker has wrought. There is no secret, no declivity, no resting place, no turn-back, with which we are not perfectly acquainted." This is well said; and it is true. The "Pilgrim's Progress" is one of the best known books of human origin. It is a household book. Men love to reread the steps of this journey, to revisit the familiar scenes of the wondrous pilgrimage and to live over again the experiences of the pilgrim. The dreamer rests himself in his dreary prison house, and as he sleeps, he sees the outline of a Vision. And whether it be in his sleeping or his waking moments, the true that Heaven hath somehow drawn aside the veil and reached so near to the heart of man as to permit this far-sighted man to look "through golden vistas into Heaven." The opening of the Vision presents in bold relief the future hero of the allegory—a burdened man, clothed with rags, weeping because of threatened doom pronounced by the Book that is in his hand. He dwells in the City of Destruction. He is afflicted with sorrows and anxieties to his wife and family, but finds no sympathy there; and, failing to obtain companionship on the heavenlyward road, he starts alone upon this spiritual journey. This new edition is now offered for the first time and is sure to please.

Any Person accepting our offer will receive this paper one year, and also that popular farm and family journal, the Farm and Fireside, together with a copy of The Pilgrim's Progress, all mailed, postpaid, for less than the regular price of the two papers alone.

OUR OFFER Send us $2.00 and you will receive The Southwestern Christian Advocate one year, and also the Farm and Fireside one year (24 numbers). And every one accepting this offer will also receive a copy of the "Pilgrim's Progress," postpaid.

This offer is extended to all our subscribers, renewals as well as new names. Subscribers whose subscriptions have not expired, or those recently renewed, are privileged to accept this Great Offer, in which case their term of subscription will each be extended one year.

Is a Christian school of high grade, open to students of all classes, without regard to sex or color. It is located at Atlanta, Ga., on a high ridge of timber land, just outside of the city limits. It has 400 acres of the most beautiful lands for farm and campus of any school in the South.

There are four large buildings for college purposes, made of brick and stone worth $75,000. This University offers superior advantages in the following departments:

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.

This department offers to the student two courses, the regular Classical and the Philosophical. A third course has been recently introduced for the benefit of the "trade student," which takes the Academic Studies and completes a trade in the same time.

TRADE SCHOOL.

Clark University has one of the best trade schools in the South. Blacksmithing, carpentry, carriage-making, wagon-making, painting, harness-making, shoe-making, printing and draughting are all taught.

There was about $15,000 worth of work sold out of the shops this past year. Much of this work ranks with the best in the markets.

THE conferences in our territory are now being held; and the secretaries and others in charge of the matter should lose no time in making necessary and timely arrangements for reduced rates on the several railroads.

THE time for registration is rapidly passing away. If you would be prepared to vote in the primaries and next general election day, you should not neglect longer but register at once. An entirely new registration has been ordered for this year. The office is open from 9 to 4, opposite Lafayette square, on Camp street.

THE Washington (D. C.) preacher's meeting discussed the qualifications for the ministry at its recent session, and resolved to see to it that no man who fails to properly prepare himself for the work shall be admitted into the traveling connection in that conference. This is a move in the right direction which should be rigidly adopted and enforced in all of our conferences. "A call to preach is a call to prepare to preach," and no man is fit for the work that will not thus attend to the necessary prerequisite.

Mrs. E. M. Jewell, a white friend of our people, of Vicksburg, Miss., writes us a letter in which she says: "After I read your paper, I send it to friends of your people and mine. Sometimes to the old Bay State and sometimes to Iowa, where I have friends and kindred, but remember I always send the papers to Republicans. I am a woman, 'tis true, but a greater and truer Republican you never saw and a better friend the colored people never had. We are all blood kin. My prayers are always for your success. Let us have a colored bishop by all means. 'Tis my heartfelt prayer."

The Texas Conference.

The Texas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church met Wednesday, Dec. 2, Bishop J. F. Hurst, D.D., in the chair.

C. O. Minegan was elected secretary; E. Lee, statistical secretary, and Thomas Cole, treasurer. The sacrament was administered by the Bishop and Presiding Elders.

W. H. Logan reported the work on the Navasota district.

Dr. I. B. Scott reported the Houston district. Several new churches had been built and the membership increased.

Rev. F. Parker reported the work of the Huntsville district. Five new parsonages and a number of churches had been built.

W. Wesley reported the Palestine district. His work has done well.

Prof. P. A. Cool, A.M., president of Wiley University, Prof. H. B. Pemberton, one of the professors, and Dr. J. C. Hartzell, secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, spoke on the educational work.

SECOND DAY.

Rev. P. A. Cool, president of Wiley University, Marshall, Texas, was introduced and addressed the conference.

A resolution was offered welcoming the transfer of Rev. Dr. Cool from the Illinois to the Texas Conference.

The following were also introduced: Revs. Yates and Bradley of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and Rev. Brown of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and Mr. J. M. Cool.

Reports from the districts were then taken up. W. H. Hamilton, Presiding Elder of Marshall district, reported the work on his district and his character passed.

Hartzell, D.D., corresponding secretary of the society, addressed the conference on the educational interest of the church. He set forth very prominently the growth of educational institutions in the South, encouraged the spirit of self-help among the people and also dwelt at length upon the unity of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

After his address the report was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The sum of $3,000 was pledged to be raised for the erection of a main building at Wiley University, this amount to be apportioned among the various charges by the Presiding Elders.

The following were received on credentials: Gabriel M. Stewart, from the Presbyterian Church; J. D. Gibson.

The following were admitted on trial: John H. Reed, Edward D. Hubbard, Wright S. Curtis, John Solomon, Edward Holiday, Charles Adair.

The following local preachers were elected to deacons' orders: Ellis Michaux, J. Hamilton Reed and C. G. Curtis.

The following local deacons were elected to elders' orders: S. H. Grant, Jordan Jordan, Calvin G. Curtis, J. D. Meade, Lewis Burton, Thornton Scott, Lymus Felder, Mason Wilson, Thomas Schinalt and Cary Davenport.

Rev. A. E. P. Albert, D.D., editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, New Orleans, was introduced to the conference and the Bishop stated that Dr. Albert would address the conference at the evening session.

The committee in the cases of W. H. Jackson, L. D. Thompson and Silas M. Boldeu reported, and the Bishop announced to the conference the fact that they had been expelled.

Marshall was chosen as the seat of the next conference.

The conference again convened at 3:30 o'clock p. m., Rev. Dr. P. A. Cool in the chair.

The following reports were received: on the condition of the church; on auditing Presiding Elders' accounts, and on Woman's Home Missionary Society; the report on Woman's Home Missionary Society was referred to the committee on education and Freedmen's Aid Society.

After addresses were delivered by C. O. Minegan, Edward Lee, V. M. Cole and Prof. J. H. Reed touching the importance of the Houston Academy, now under the management of Prof. J. H. Reed, the report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

Rev. A. E. P. Albert, D.D., addressed the conference. He congratulated the Texas Conference on the fact of having such a noted educator as Rev. Dr. Cool as president of Wiley University, and Prof. J. H. Reed as principal of Houston Academy. Dwelling upon the great church work he made some important remarks upon the fact of the Methodist Episcopal Church as the church of the great agency in all reform movements in the world. He also made important remarks on the colored Bishop question now being discussed throughout the church.

Among others, the following announcements were made for Sunday: Trinity Church: 11 a. m., Bishop J. F. Hurst, D.D., ordination of deacons; 3 p. m., Dr. A. E. P. Albert, editor SOUTHWESTERN; 7:30 p. m., Rev. W. L. Duncan.

Mt. Vernon: 11 a. m., William Bartley; 3 p. m., Rev. H. Webb, ordination of elders.

The character of the pastors were examined and passed.

The conference adjourned Monday morning, after the conclusion of its work. Very flattering resolutions were adopted in reference to the SOUTHWESTERN and Dr. Albert, its editor. The presidency of Bishop Hurst was a source of great joy to the conference, and its session one of the best ever had.

Friends of Equal Rights, Attention.

Judge Albion W. Tourgee, author of that remarkable book, "The Fool's Errand," a standard friend of equal rights, has inaugurated a movement to unite all of the friends of the like principle into a national Equal Rights Association. His purpose is to awaken public opinion against the outrageous nullification of the war amendments throughout the South, and to secure to every citizen, white or colored, the equal protection of the law, without discrimination on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

In reply to the question as to the ultimate work of the association, Judge Tourgee says that in his opinion, "more can be done for the repeal of oppressive measures and the removal of harmful prejudices at the South by showing the oppressed the number of their friends, and the oppressors the number who disapprove, than in any other way."

"After that the association may find special ways to collect and disseminate information; to encourage and promote appeals to the law for remedy of particular ills; to affect political action and direct the force of an organized, intelligent public opinion."

The postoffices and the printing press have made the process of organization wondrously cheap and simple, if only willing hands are at the outer extremities of the lines of impulse. If there be but one man in every township to circulate a list many thousands may be welded into a compact body in one half the time and at a hundredth part of the expense it would have required to unite a few scores in the days of Garrison.

"Public opinion when once concentrated is a sledge hammer whose blows no public wrong can long resist. Courts, Legislatures, parties, peoples feel its intangible force. It required John Brown and the rebellion to awaken the public conscience to the evils and dangers of slavery. Whether it be possible to avoid equally terrible manifestations in the future, God only knows; but that is our duty to seek to accomplish by lawful means and peaceful effort the remedy of wrongs equally dangerous with that which was washed out with blood, no man can deny. One thing we know, that light is the mortal foe of evil. If we aid the weak, encourage the oppressed, and turn on the light, perchance we may forefend evil."

Let every patriot, white or black, send his name, address and a 2 cent stamp to Judge Tourgee, Mayaville, N. Y., and enroll as a member of the association.

NOTHING tends to shake confidence in a people so much as for them to be dishonest in business matters. Pay your honest debts; and especially pay every cent of money due wherein you have handled other people's goods, whether it be medicine, papers or what not. To do the contrary is to be guilty of embezzlement, and that is a crime against which stands an open penitentiary door. Pay your debts. This may be sharp, but it is gospel truth nevertheless.

REV. F. M. Spicer, Hague, Fla., is abundant in his praise of the SOUTHWESTERN. He thinks it ought to be in every home in our territory, and so do we.

Church Polity.

Question. Is it anywhere found in the Bible that a self-murderer shall not enter the kingdom of heaven; if so, where?

A. A self-murderer is a murderer; the essence of murder is unlawful killing, premeditated and intentional unlawful taking of human life. The suicide is a murderer. All passages that forbid murderers to enter the kingdom of God exclude him for that one act. The responsible suicide disobeys all the commands of God to be faithful unto death. Many crimes plainly sufficient to exclude men from the kingdom of God are not mentioned by name in the Bible—piracy, forgery, counterfeiting, arson.

Q. Are entertainments and exhibitions proper amusements for Christians?

A. If properly conducted, and used in moderation, they are.

Q. Does Methodist theology regard biblical miracles as violations, infractions, or suspensions of the laws of nature, or of interventions of any kind with them? If so, or if not, why?

A. It does; otherwise they would not be miracles.

Q. A young lady sends this: A gentleman has called at my home several times to inquire for one of the family, I invited him in and asked him to be seated. Having had no further conversation with him, and no introduction to him, is it my duty to speak when meeting him?

A. No gentleman has a right, except when the acquaintance has been so long continued as to supersede conventionalism, to accost a lady in public unless she first speaks to him. It is her prerogative to recognize, his privilege to respond. In this case there is no occasion for the person who merely admits a stranger to recognize him afterward. Of course, a pastor, by virtue of his office, is entitled to introduce himself to any member of his congregation whom he may meet. The superintendent of the Sabbath school might do the same.

Q. A member becomes offended, stays away from church for a year, wandering around among other denominations. At the end of that time he comes back and asks for a letter from the church. Is he entitled to receive the same?

A. When he appears he should be labored with for neglect of duty; unless he can satisfy the pastor of his good intentions and repentance, he is not entitled to a letter, but should be further put upon discipline. However, if after due conversation with him, the pastor concludes that he is upon the whole well meaning, and he declares a purpose to join some other church as a ground for asking for the letter. If he shows a proper spirit, his offense not having been of a kind that requires trial after labor as is the case with immorality or crime, he can give him a letter.

Q. In the Discipline can the offense which says, "And must attend the public worship of God," be interpreted so as to mean the public worship of God at any denomination?

A. It could, if the person were unable to attend the services of the Methodist Episcopal Church. But if he neglects the services of the Methodist Episcopal Church, he cannot plead the fact that he goes elsewhere as a reason why he should not be disciplined for neglect of duty. The plea has been attempted several times, but never admitted to our knowledge as a defense.—Christian Advocate.

Miss Eliza Jones, of Scooba, Miss., delivered there some time ago a very strong and pointed address, in which she showed the terrible onrse of intemperance. Would that all our people heeded her advice in the premises. Touch not, taste not the accursed stuff.

Letters from the Districts.

Baton Rouge District Notes.

J. F. MARSHALL, P. E.

Taking up the work where I left off in these notes, Wesley Chapel, Bro. S. W. Clark, pastor, comes in for a word. Few churches love and esteem their pastor more than this, and justly so. He has served them faithfully and well for three years. A new church has been built and more than twenty have been converted this year.

Mt. Zion is a small place, and few members, but Bro. E. H. Clark is making an earnest pull to close up the year well.

We have a good class of people at Vincent Chapel, and Bro. O. E. Bradford, the pastor, gives them much praise for their faithfulness. Bro. S. McGunder has had a splendid year at Rylander Chapel. A parsonage has been secured, and he is now planning to build another church.

St. Peter is the new name for the church at Comite. A new church was built here last year, during Bro. J. W. Hudson's Presiding Eldership.

Bro. O. C. Wright is rejoicing over a very successful year's work. A new parsonage has been built, a large number of souls have been converted, and the church was being called at the time of the fourth quarterly conference.

Macedonia has an excellent people, and Bro. D. M. Seals, the pastor, is much beloved. They are anxious for his return.

Bro. J. T. Lewis has done fairly well at Line and Beach Grove.

Mt. Carmel seems to have a good people, and a plenty of them. They have called the church. Bro. A. Hilton hopes to close up the year in good shape.

Clinton is the second best charge on the district, and Bro. H. James is its efficient and popular pastor. They have had a grand year. The Sunday school is one of the best in the conference. Conversions have been numerous. It was an enjoyable occasion, when at the fourth quarterly meeting the pastor called upon me to assist him in receiving into full membership 21 of these, mostly young people. They want him back again.

Argentine is a small place. Bro. N. Randolph is the pastor, but has been able to do but little.

Bro. J. A. Tinsit is the young and vigorous pastor at Jackson, a very prominent place. It is the seat of the insane asylum and two colleges for whites. He has succeeded well. The whole appointment has been raised for benevolence from $100 to $150.

Slaughter has done very well under the pastorate of Bro. A. A. Tinsit. He has a good people, and knows how to use it.

Bro. E. Clark is well at Sandy Point. He has learned to endure hardship as a good soldier. He promises to bring a good report to conference.

We have no property at Zachary, but Bro. D. Harrison, the energetic young pastor, combines teaching and preaching, and in the same little log house which he built with the assistance of a few others where he teaches the children, he preaches the gospel. The missionary spirit of his wife makes her a helpmeet indeed. My Thanksgiving dinner was greatly enjoyed with this young couple in their humble circumstances.

Bro. O. Barnes has worked hard at Plank Roads, but has not been able to accomplish much. But he keeps faith and courage and is looking for a brighter day.

Albert Chapel, Bro. T. A. Brown, pastor, is an excellent church. He is closing up his second year here and will have a good report for conference.

Bro. L. R. Scott has had a good year at Priestley Chapel. The people and pastor have been mutually pleased.

Jonas Creek is recovering from its backset, caused by the leaving of the people, caused by the effects of bulldozing last year. Bro. Geo.

Washington, the pastor, feels hopeful for the future.

Conrad is holding its own. Bro. O. M. Angum is a faithful and true minister of Christ who keeps cheerful under all circumstances.

St. Mark's is our new work in the city of Baton Rouge. It bids fair to do well. Bro. A. Varice has worked hard and given general satisfaction.

Bro. Z. T. Gayden, pastor at West Baton Rouge, has had considerable success. A cemetery for the church has been purchased and paid for. He proposes to bring up his appointment for benevolence.

Wesley Chapel, Baton Rouge, is the finest and leading church of the district. It has been blessed with two revivals, resulting in a large number of conversions. Bro. W. R. Butler, the pastor, has great cause to rejoice.

Sister Mary Karmik, whose labors the Lord so signally blessed in the conversion of seventy of more souls at Alexandria last spring, is now holding meetings at Baton Rouge, and the Lord is blessing her labors there. Among many others, some very prominent people have been converted.

Wednesday night, Rev. J. E. K. Moreland, of Brainerd Chapel, Nashville, preached. At the close of the sermon several sinners came forward for prayers, and two were happily converted.

During the second day nearly all the local preachers, exhorters and Sunday school superintendents reported, which made everything go off very lively. This was certainly a good conference for the local preachers and exhorters.

Thursday morning the conference met for a half hour's prayer meeting. At 11 o'clock a very large and appreciative congregation met for thanksgiving, when the writer preached a Thanksgiving sermon.

At 3 p. m. a Sunday School Institute was held.

Is a large membership in the local churches an advantage or otherwise was discussed by D. Lyman Washington.

Rev. B. Brown, Presiding Elder of the Baltimore district and Rev. T. H. Brooks of Sandy Springs, were then introduced.

Rev. J. W. E. Bowen, Ph.D., whose subject was Flashes from the Ecumenical Conference, held the vast audience spell-bound for one hour.

The best method to suppress the liquor traffic was ably discussed by T. O. Carroll.

The Epworth League, its necessity and aims, by Rev. W. H. Fox.

Lay agencies, and how to increase the usefulness of local preachers and exhorters, by J. H. Jackson and others.

Women's work, by J. T. Moten.

DONALD KENNEDY

Of Roxbury, Mass., Says:

Strange cures by my Medical Discovery come to me every day. Here is one of them:—Blindness and the Grip. Now how does my Medical Discovery cure all these? I don't know, unless it takes hold of the hidden power that makes all things.

VIRGINIA CITY, NEVADA, Sept. 21st 1891.

Donald Kennedy—Dear Sir: I will state my case to you. About nine years ago I was paralyzed in my left side, and the best doctors gave me no relief for two years, and I was advised to try your Discovery, which did my duty, and in a few months I was relieved to health. About four years ago I became blind in my left eye by a spotted catarrh. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Discovery was the thing for me: so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye—perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Discovery they all left my right eye but one; and, thank God, the bright light of heaven is once more making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully astonished at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery.

Yours truly, DONALD KENNEDY.

General Church News.

The membership of the United Presbyterian Church is given in its last report as 100,385, a small advance over last year. There are 779 ministers, an increase of five. The Cumberland Presbyterians report 163,216 members. An article in the Herald and Presbyter gives the total membership of all the Presbyterian bodies of the United States as 1,562,890.

The total membership of all Methodist bodies in the United States is over 5,000,000.

The census announcement that there are a hundred and forty religious bodies in the United States, exclusive of many independent congregations, will be received with some surprise to most people, whose knowledge of different sects does not embrace more than a dozen or twenty at most. In the list disclosed to the preliminary bulletin issued by the Census Bureau from Washington are the General Six Principle Baptists, the Schwerkfeldians, the Theosophical Society, the Life and Advent Union, and others, which to a majority of people will be entirely new.

A. A. Hodges, Crawford, Miss. The young ladies made the church a present of a nice pulpit Bible and the young men a nice chandelier, costing $20.85. The sisters and friends made the pastor a present of a nice suit of clothes, and took up for him last week at the district conference $108.80. We had a grand time. Bro. D. L. Tubbs is our pastor.

A. B. Coleman, Desota, Miss. Our pastor, A. Quinn, is doing nicely in Desota. Our fourth quarterly conference opened Nov. 13, in Bethel M. E. Church, Elder J. M. Shumperth presiding. Most of the brethren were present with good reports. Paid Presiding Elder $8; pastor $70. The elder preached at night to a crowded house, after which the Lord's Supper was administered.

A. W. Figgie, Thorny Grove, Ark. We hope to hold our fourth quarter in the new church that is being erected to be known as Sherill's Chapel.

R. L. Hickson, Aiken, S. C. Our church here is six years old. This is the only church we have in the county. We are in the midst of a glorious revival. We report 40 conversions, 30 accessions, and 32 received into full connection. The whole city of Aiken seems to have enjoyed a wonderful outpouring of the Holy spirit. The revival closes to night.

You will have clear glass instead of misty; fine instead of rough; right shape instead of wrong; and uniform, one the same as another.

with a general love feast. We have organized and in working order both a senior and a junior Epworth League. They prove sources of great help to the church.

A very pleasant and profitable meeting of the Epworth League was held at Key's Chapel, Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting was one long to be remembered; for it had the honor of holding the first Thanksgiving service on the Nashville district. A fine program consisting of select reading, orations, essays and music appropriate to the day was happily rendered.

EVERY boy and every girl of our people should get an education. Find a way to do so, or make one.

In a recent personal, President W. H. Hickman, of Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., says: "I never had a lighter heart or more enthusiasm. I thank God for what I see to day; and I pray that our Methodism may be equal to the task God has laid upon her of helping to take this land for Christ and his cause; and to establish the lines of equality and brotherhood under the flag. Some great questions are facing us; may the Lord help us to be ready when the moment comes for solution that we may be equal every way to do the will of God. Now is the time to get ready; I think we are getting ready. I read your paper with increasing interest.

In her annual address to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Miss Frances Willard clearly indicated the program of that association in the following forceful and emphatic language:

"God has helped us," she said, "to build better than we knew. If these women had their way, and they intend to have it, the taint of alcohol and nicotine would not be on any lip or in any atmosphere on this globe; no gambler could with impunity pursue his vile vocation. The haunts of shame that are the zero mark of degradation would be crushed out of existence before sundown, and the industrial status of women would be so independent that these recruiting officers of perdition would seek in vain for victims; the saloon keeper would become in every State and nation as, thank God, he is already in so many, an outcast, an Ishmael, a social pariah on the face of the earth.

A FEW days ago a white man was whipped and driven out of Shreveport, La., for the crime (?) of marrying a colored woman; a few days later the report reached us to the following effect:

"Passengers in the smoking car of the South Carolina railway coming to Augusta from Charleston, witnessed an exciting scene. At Branchville, a Negro, a mulatto girl and Mr. Rivers Carr of Blackville, boarded the train. The passengers took seats in the second-class car. The white man sat behind the Negro and the mulatto sat on the opposite side. The Negro noticed the white man winking at the girl and objected to the flirtation and spoke to Carr about it. Carr became infuriated at the Negro trying to correct his conduct and a quarrel ensued. He pulled a pistol and pushed it against the breast of the Negro and pulled the trigger twice, but it snapped and refused to fire each time. He then pulled up his pistol to see what was the matter with it, as it did not discharge the bullet, and he pulled the trigger the third time. It fired, but fortunately the ball went through the window. The shot came very near hitting a passenger. While the two men were clinched the Negro managed to draw his pistol, but was prevented from using it by the interference of the conductor, V. H. Verdery.

The train was stopped and the Negro was put off in the woods while the white man was allowed to ride along with the girl."

How is this for white supremacy?

Dr. Albert Narrowly Escapes a Texas Jail.

On his return from the Texas Conference at Houston, on Monday night, December 7, Dr. Albert, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, narrowly escaped landing in the Beaumont, Texas, jail, with the possible interception by a Texas regulating mob. His crime consisted in his riding in a pullman sleeping car, on a first class ticket and a regular birth ticket on the same. Of course there exists no crime in this fact, but Dr. Albert, although neatly attired and gentlemanly in his deportment, is contaminated (?) with Negro blood, and the laws of the State of Texas, as those of nearly all the other Southern States, including Arkansas and Tennessee, make it a crime for white and colored passengers to ride in the same coach, hence his crime (?) and his narrow escape from arrest and imprisonment.

The circumstances were substantially as follows: Notwithstanding the separate car laws in the several Southern States, no trouble is generally experienced by colored passengers in procuring sleeping car berths out of this city, although they scarcely can be in many other places in the South, and sleeping car conductors will often deny that they have vacant berths. It being generally understood, however, that under one excuse or another ticket agents refuse to sell sleeping car berths to colored passengers, in Texas, Dr. Albert thought to disarm the ticket agent at Houston of all excuses, by applying early in the day for a ticket. At about 12 o'clock m. on Monday, in company with Prof. J. H. Reed, formerly of New Orleans University, he procured a first-class ticket to New Orleans, and called for a berth on the sleeper that was to leave for that city at 5:50 p. m. The ticket agent "hummed and hawed" for some time, and finally declared that he had none at his disposal, all had been sold. Upon the arrival of the train from Galveston to New Orleans, the Doctor boarded the sleeper, "Ineson," and the sleeping car conductor, Mr. Hodgson, assigned him to lower berth No. 2. Everything was then thought to be all right, but the trouble had just begun. It began with a protest on the part of the train conductor to the sleeping car conductor, against his violation of the laws of the State, in permitting "a nigger" on his car. Then a mob meeting of the passengers was held to protest against the presence of "the nigger," and to decide upon the course to be adopted in the premises. After considerable caucassing, it was finally decided to telegraph the sheriff at Beaumont, Texas, to meet the train with a posse, to arrest the offender against the Jim Crow car law of the sovereign, free and independent State of Texas. In the mean time, a beer-bloated 250-pounder was deputized to inquire whether or not the Doctor did not know that "Niggers were not allowed in the white man's car in Texas." To this the Doctor answered that he was not responsible, as he accepted the place assigned him by the sleeping car conductor. He was just as much entitled to the comforts of a sleeping car as anybody else, able and willing to pay for it, and he did not see that it was his fault that proper partition, in keeping with the law, had not been provided. "No difference to us," says the bloated individual. "This is a white man's car, and you have violated the law; and the sheriff will meet the train at Beaumont and arrest and put you in jail." And this would have certainly been done, but for one thing, under God, and that was the earnest pleadings of the sleeping car conductor, who almost prayed to the inhuman wretches, "not to deal so cruelly with such a dignified and cultured Christian gentleman." His pleadings finally prevailed, and the previous actions of the mob were countermanded, and the Doctor was permitted to reach home without further interruption. Mr. G. H. Hodgson, the sleeping car conductor, is a Northern man, and by his manly, humane, and friendly disposition, displayed on that unfortunate occasion, did credit to his Northern blood, and deserves the lasting gratitude of all good people. If anything was necessary to move our people to action, this recent experience of the editor of this paper should certainly move them to arise in a body, as one man, and in a week pour into the hands of the committee on funds to test the Jim Crow car law, not hundreds, but thousands of dollars. Every patriot's cheek, whether white or black, should blush with shame, as he reads these lines, and remember he is an American, and should immediately go to the postoffice, buy a postal note or money order for whatever sum he may feel able to contribute, and send it to this office to test the constitutionality of this inhuman and infamous separate car law. We will see that the money is put in the hands of the committee and a test case instituted. We ought to get $5000 to test this law in answer to this outrage upon our official representative, before the end of another week.

Such encroachments and invasions of our rights must be promptly and manfully met, with all that is dear on earth, or we do not deserve to be numbered among men. Let every man, woman and child, in fact every friend of equal rights and justice, reading these lines, contribute to the cause. Address in care of this office.

THE following from Dr. Edward's friendly editorial on the election of a colored bishop shows that while certain unfriendly critics, who never carefully read our deliverances in the premises, are disposed to misrepresent us and the people we represent, he is sufficiently broadminded and fairminded to take the proper view of our position. He says:

The SOUTHWESTERN speaks most temperately and wisely concerning the election of a colored man to our episcopacy. Dr. Albert, the editor, does not insist upon the immediate selection of a colored man simply to refute the claim, made by Southern men and by Northern conservatives, that while our theory of human equality is broad enough, a Negro will, however, never reach the episcopacy in our church. We have said more than once that our suffrage is ready for the right colored man when the time arrives for his election. The color of the candidate should not hasten or retard his election.

If, however, there is even one that is thoroughly qualified, and is the choice of a sufficient constituency, let him be elected. Our only proviso is that he shall not be elected simply because he is colored, and in order to quiet the unfriendly criticisms of those who really prefer that no colored man be elected lest that clear testimony respecting our sincerity bring to us its proper reward.

We heartily applaud Dr. Albert's depreciation of a separate church for all white Methodists in this country. We believe that the colored man needs the white man, and it should startle no one to say that the white man needs the colored man. Even if we do not need the latter, we are under obligations to retain him if he prefers to stay inside our lines. While the North did not enslave the Negro, it did consent to that enslavement, and we are under substantial obligations to make all the recompense and amends that may come of our genuine confraternity and co-membership.

WE always welcome the SOUTHWESTERN, of New Orleans, La. It is one of the ablest church papers in the South, and its editor, Dr. Albert, is writing some vigorous articles in favor of the elevation of a colored man to the Methodist Episcopal Bishopric. — Weekly Leader, (Va.)

Political Review.

Crisp of Georgia has been elected speaker of the House. This is thought to be a black eye for Grover Cleveland, as it is understood that Crisp & Co., favor Dave Hill for the Presidency, while the Mills' crowd favored Grover. House committees not having been appointed, little or no legislative business has been done.

Call of Florida has been seated as Senator from that State.

Secretary of War, ex-Governor Proctor, of Vermont, has taken the seat of Senator Edmunds, having been appointed by Gov. Page. It is thought that he will worthily fill the position vacated by his able predecessor, and that the little green gem in the galaxy of States—Vermont—will retain her proud position of leadership and influence in the U. S. Senate.

It is expected that very soon a lot of important nominations will be sent to the Senate. Thus far only such nominations have been sent in as had received ad interim appointments.

The appointments in which our people are mostly interested are the Inter-State Commerce Commissioners and the Liberian Mission.

The Supreme Court of the United States has heard arguments in the lottery mail law cases, but have not rendered a decision.

The eyes of the whole country are now turned to Louisiana. The Democratic State Convention is now in session. At this writing, (Monday,) both factions are claiming a majority of delegates, and it is generally believed that two conventions will be held. Estimating the claims of both factions and "splitting the difference," leaves the lottery faction a little ahead, but with a lead so small as not to be able to control the minority or anti faction. It is hoped that the Republicans will grasp the situation, and act so as to help kill the lottery and achieve for itself good and lasting results.

City Church Notes.

(Brief items of news from the city churches will be welcome either handed us by pastors or lay men.)

The musical entertainment and concert given at Mallalieu Chapel, Dec. 5, was a grand success. There were rendered solos, duets, dialogues and speeches. Mrs. A. W. Lyon and Mr. Victor Joachim sang some of their best selections.

Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor of Thompson Chapel, was agreeably surprised Nov. 24, by the kind sisters. Among those who participated were Sisters A. Williams, E. Carter, Oentus, Singleton, Smith, Shelton and others. May the Lord bless and bestow many blessings upon them. Thompson Chapel is enjoying a good time generally. A few Sundays ago 19 expressed a desire to become Christians, and 1 joined on probation. Sunday, Dec. 20, is grand class rally day; a number of ministers will be present with their congregations.

Commenting on Bro. Priestley's article on "Wandering Flocks," Bro. Madison Gant, says: "It came just in the right time and place, and the ministers should give their attention to the same."

The reopening services of Wesley Chapel on Liberty street, Rev. F. T. Ohlun, pastor, will take place on Sunday, Dec. 27. Bishops Mallalieu and Newman, Drs. Albert and Hartzell, Rev. E. Lyon, and all the presiding elders are invited to take part. All day services will be held.

Publishers' Department.

(Pastors are requested to read this department each week.)

We wish to call special attention to the advertisement of A. B. Griswold & Co., on the eighth page. They have an elegant stock of goods. Their Communion Sets are marvels of beauty and fine in quality, and at prices within the reach of any church. Every church should have a Communion Set, and here is the place to get one. Write them for particulars.

We hope our people when writing to any of our advertising patrons will mention this paper. It answers a two-fold purpose:—The advertisers want to know which papers pay them best, and we are more sure of getting a renewal order. We are careful to advertise nothing but what has merit.

We have received several letters without signatures lately, therefore cannot comply with the requests made in them.

Obituary.

Huntsville, Ala., Nov. 30.—On last Friday evening at 6 o'clock I received a dispatch from Rev. T. M. Joiner, our pastor at Scottsboro, to come up and preach the funeral of his wife, who died at 4 o'clock the morning of the same day. At 8 o'clock I was in Scottsboro. Met by Bro. Henry Williams at the station, I soon found my way to the parsonage, where I found our dear Brother Joiner and several of the members of the church around the remains of his deceased wife. At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the corpse was carried out of the parsonage to the church, by the friendly hands of sympathizing brethren. After the sermon we went to the graveyard and laid her away to sleep until the morning of the resurrection.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the church and people of Scottsboro:

Resolved, In the order of divine providence, Sister S. A. Joiner, the wife of Rev. T. M. Joiner, has been removed from our midst by the hand of death, and our hearts have been deeply moved thereby; therefore,

Resolved, That in her death we have lost one of nature's noble women, a generous friend, a genial companion, an earnest Christian worker, a missionary indeed, and an ardent lover of Methodism.

Resolved, That we treasure the memory of her blameless Christian life, her wise counsels, her faithful warnings, and her zeal for the cause of Christ.

Resolved, That from the manner of her life among us, and from the positive character of her Christian experience and testimony during her illness, we are fully persuaded that our loss is her eternal gain; and that while we are mourning on earth she is rejoicing with the redeemed and blood-washed in heaven.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with Bro. Joiner, her husband, who has been called to part with his chief earthly counselor, helper and friend, and that we earnestly beseech the father in heaven to grant him the consolation he so much needs, and which He alone can give.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be tendered to Bro. Joiner, husband of the deceased; that they be published in the Southwestern and Western Christian Advocates.

Sister Joiner was 60 years of age. She was married to Rev. T. M. Joiner 20 years. Since they have been in the ministry they have spent most of their time in North Carolina. During the late war Sister Joiner was a nurse in a hospital. Just after the war she was appointed to take charge of the orphanage work among the colored people. Over a year ago Brother and Sister Joiner were pounced upon by a mob in North Carolina, and the assault was of such a character that they had to flee from the State, since which time, by the appointment of Bishop Joyce, they have had charge of our church at Scottsboro, Ala. Although they had to contend with similar attacks at Scottsboro, by the white people, she heroically died at her post, repeating in her last words the verse, "Jesus can make a dying bed feel soft as downy pillows are."

J. S. Todd.

A committee, composed of R. H. Pattie, Ida M. Hall, F. B. Smith, Rebecca Feify and T. Vigne, of Union Chapel, New Orleans, sent us resolutions of condolence over the death of Viney Edwards, of that church and Sunday school. She died in the full triumph of faith, about two weeks ago.

Waynesboro, Miss.—Bro. Joe Simpson, a faithful member of the church for 20 years, departed this life, aged 81. His death was sudden. He leaves children, friends and a wife to mourn.

A. Butler.

Clinton, La.—Sister Laura Berghill died August 19, aged 26 years, in triumph. She became a member of the M. E. Church at the age of 11.

Rev. H. James.

Bro. Octave Alexander, of Edgard, La., a faithful member, died Nov. 19, in full triumph, aged 49 years, 6 months. He said he was ready and willing to go.

Eugene Baptiste, P. C.

Sister Polly Taylor, secretary of our Sunday school at Mason, Tenn., died Oct. 19, aged 24 years.

J. S. Foster, P. C.

Little Johnny Walton, son of Rev. H. W. Walton, departed this life Nov. 27, aged 12 years. He leaves relatives to mourn his loss. The funeral service was attended by Rev. A. D. Miller, of the A. M. E. Church.

T. E. Carter, Marianna, Ark.

Little Posie English, only daughter of Rev. T. J. and Anna English, went to the home of the saints Nov. 29, aged 4 years and 7 months.

Sister Spheres, a member of Zion Chapel, departed this life in faith Nov. 21.

Bro. Isaiah Wyatt, an exhorter of Zion Chapel, died in full triumph of faith Nov. 26. Peace to his ashes.

F. L. Teague, Marion, Ala.

Sister Charlotte Field, a member of the M. E. Church at New Hope, died in triumph.

Bro. A. Lamplly, a faithful member of DeKalb M. E. Church, fell asleep in Jesus Dec. 5.

H. T. Hampton, P. C.

Sister Catherine Adams died at her home very suddenly, with hemorrhage of the brain, Nov. 27, aged 35 years. She was converted and joined the M. E. Church in 1871. In 1882 she married Dr. J. O. Adams at Franklin, La. Sister Adams put her letter in St. James Church, and was not there long before she was made stewardess, in which capacity she served with credit to herself and church. St. James has lost one of its truest and best members in the death of Sister Adams. Her funeral, which was largely attended, was preached by her pastor, assisted by Rev. C. H. Claiborne of the Congregational Church. She was a dear lover of her church; just before she died she put away $1.50 to bring to church the next Sunday for benevolences. She was a loving wife and a devoted mother, and leaves a husband, two sweet children and a host of friends to mourn her demise.

Dearest sister, thou hast left us; Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, Then in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tear is shed.

Schools and Colleges.

President Dunton, of Orangeburg, S. C., writes us a letter in which he says: "I regret that your conference meets at the same time ours does, as I have been very anxious to have you visit Oflatin. If you can possibly arrange to reach us I trust you will do so."

We are to have a biblical institute immediately preceding our conference, and expect to have a reunion and festive occasion on Jan. 12, for visitors, ministers and lay delegates.

President Hayes and Dr. Curry visited us on the 6th inst. President Hayes writes: "Your institution was, as we expected it to be in all respects, most gratifying."

DAILY BREAD.

The rich are only envious in one attribute—their power to help the poor.

It is only in looking on death that we comprehend immortality, and only utter weariness gives promise of perfect rest.

The friend who becomes a lover continues still to be a friend; but the lover who becomes a friend ceases forever to be a lover.

When it is said of a man that he treats men and women just alike, you may be sure he treats them all as if they were men.

Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof; but sufficient unto a lifetime is often the evil of a single day.

Children are taught more than they ever learn, and learn more than they are ever taught.

Our bodies live in houses, because our souls live in bodies.

Wisdom, like many other attributes, is only for the time. We are wise to-day, that to-morrow we may look back and say, "How foolish we were!"

The desire to teach is stronger than the desire to learn. We only study that we may be enabled to impart again. December Ladies' Home Journal.

If you want to find out the real salt of earth, look around for the people whom the devil is trying to pull down and put his foot upon. He never throws stones at his own children.

Justifying faith implies, not only a divine evidence, or conviction, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself; but sure trust and confidence that Christ died for my sins; that he loved me and gave himself for me. And the moment a penitent sinner believes this, God pardons and absolves him.—Wesley.

Alcohol is the one evil genius, whether in wine, ale, or whiskey, that is killing the race of men.—Dr. W. Parker.

This national crime is a thing that God will reckon with, and I wish it may not lie on the nation a day longer than you have an opportunity to find a remedy.—Oliver Cromwell.

Intemperance can not be cured by legislations or by sermons. The rum seller is the root of the evil, and until it is made a crime to sell intoxicating beverages, intemperance will continue to exist.—Wendell Phillips.

When I was governor of Georgia, I determined never again to hold public office until my State should make prohibition a public issue, and should need me to carry the banner to the front. That time came, and I am here.—A. H. Colquitt.

Early piety presents a heart to God unsuited by the world; like the morning fire, it burns clear, being free from ashes.—T. Sutcliffe.

I look upon death to be as necessary to our constitution as sleep. We shall rise refreshed in the morning.—Franklin.

When you bury animosity, don't set up a headstone over its grave.—Emerson.

Humility is the first lesson we learn from reflection, and self-distrust the first proof we give of having obtained a knowledge of ourselves.—Zimmerman.

A sound discretion is not so much indicated by never making a mistake as by never repeating it.—Bovee.

Govern your thoughts when alone, and your tongue when in company.—Thomas Kempis.

Dr. Waller put the philosophy of Methodism happily when he said: "John Wesley was the mightiest spiritual force precipitated on the world since the days of the Reformation."

Billy was a peddler's horse. Every day he drew a large wagon along the country roads. This large wagon was loaded with tins and brooms. It was a heavy load to draw. He stopped at all the houses, so that his master could sell the brooms and tins. One day, after he had traveled a long time, Billy stopped. There was no house in sight. He was tired and hungry.

"Go along," said his master.

"No," said Billy.

This is the way Billy said "No": He set his four feet out. He laid back his ears and shook his head.

His master got out of the wagon and patted him.

Billy didn't stir.

He moved the harness here and there, and patted him more.

Billy didn't stir.

He talked to him in a very pleasant tone.

But Billy didn't stir.

What was to be done?

The peddler wanted to sell his brooms and tins and go home; but he could not do it if Billy refused. He went to the back of the wagon. A gentleman who passed thought he was going to whip the horse; the peddler knew better. He took a pail from the wagon; there was some meal in the pail. He showed it to Billy, then he walked on and set the pail down.

Billy could see the pail. Pretty soon Billy lifted his ears and looked very good-natured. He went forward to the pail.

Then his master let him eat the meal; then he put the pail back in the wagon and Billy trotted off briskly with his load.

The meal was better for both Billy and his master than the whip.—Little Folks' Reader.

We may dull the sword of the Spirit by profane and vain babblings and opposition of science, falsely so-called. We may lose Pentecostal power of the Holy Ghost by untruthfulness in word, look or act—by anything else than the most transparent candor. We may grieve away the Holy Spirit of God by bitterness, wrath, sinful anger, by anything contrary to kindness and tender-heartedness, by not forgiving others as God, for Christ's sake, hath forgiven us. We may cause the immediate withdrawal of the adorable Trinity by giving place, in the slightest degree, or in doubtful matters to the devil. The apostle Paul specifies fraud, laziness, refusal to work that which is good, that we may have to give to the needy, corrupt communication out of our mouth, clamor, evil-speaking, saying anything that is not good to the use of edifying, engaging in any conversation that does not minister grace to the hearers, as calculated to quench the Spirit. Hear ye now, O house of David! is it a small thing for you to weary men but ye weary my God also? Will you rebel and vex his Holy Spirit till he turn to be your enemy and fight against you? Because thou hast fretted me in all these things, behold, therefore, I will recompense thy way upon thine own head, saith the Lord God. Let none of these things rob thee of thy precious treasure! Let no human or satanic pretenses induce thee to surrender it.—Christian Standard.

Remember the words of the Lord Jesus Christ how he said. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

There were five reasons given why it is more blessed to give than receive. First, such a temper puts us along in line with Christ himself and in harmony with his teaching. Second, it swings us around into line, also, with the best benefactors that the world knows.

CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst case. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office. H. G. ROOT, M. D., 183 Pearl St., N. Y.

CATARRH.

Dr. Blosser's Catarrhal Fumigant is undoubtedly the best remedy yet discovered for the prompt relief and cure of Catarrh, Cold in the Head, etc. A sample will convince. Dr. J. W. Blosser & Co., 128 Broadway, New York City, AND DALTON, GA.

Third, it puts us around in line with God's plan to bless and save the whole world. Fourth, only by this temper and quality of life do we pay the debt that is laid upon us; for we have all been receiving all our lifetime and there is nothing which has come to us that did not come through the toil, devotion and labor of somebody else—many it may be—to whom we are indebted. Fifth, this temper and character is the only sure way of reaching at last the sweet heaven of that rest which remaineth for the people of God.

But what can I give? Give the best you have; give yourself up wholly to the work of helping and blessing your fellowmen. Give the best, give your whole life, give yourself. — Rev. O. W. Francis, A. M.

Personal.

—Kenny Forbes and L. O. Reed of Hammond, La., Union veterans, made us a call last week.

—Rev. W. I. Graham, late pastor of St. Paul M. E. Church, Fort Worth, Texas, has accepted a position in the faculty at Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., and has entered upon his duties.

—We regret to learn that Mrs. Wells, wife of Prof. Geo. W. Wells, A.M., of Wiley University, Marshall, Texas, continues in feeble health.

—Gen. Armstrong, of Hampton Institute, Virginia, was stricken with paralysis on Thanksgiving day, and but faint hope is entertained of his recovery. This is indeed very painful news. Gen. Armstrong's name will ever live in the grateful appreciation of the American Negro and Indian, for whom he spent his life at Hampton Institute.

—Bro. Kenny Forbes an ex-Union soldier and member of our church at Hammond, La., made a pleasant call last week in company with the Rev. Dr. McLaughlin of the mission district.

—Rev. H. M. Smith, D.D., the venerable and versatile editor of the Southwestern Presbyterian, we regret to note, has had to retire in consequence of impaired health. The paper is fortunate however in securing the services of the Rev. R. Q. Mallard, D.D., as his successor. Dr. Mallard brings with him in his new field of operation ripe scholarship and a rich and varied experience, which insures its continued position of power and influence in the front rank of the religious press.

—Rev. B. F. Lewis, of Mississippi, has been appointed assistant editor of the New Orleans Christian Advocate. We extend him a cordial welcome, and bespeak for him much success in his new field of labor.

—During the session of the Texas Conference at Houston, our editor was royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Baker, one of the most substantial and cultured families among our people in the South.

—Our venerable friend, the Rev. B. F. Orary, D.D., of the Ocala Florida Christian Advocate, celebrated his seventieth birthday Dec. 12. We congratulate the Doctor upon the attainment of his three score and ten years in such vigor and health. We hope that his precious life and services may be spared to the church for many more years to come.

The Pure in Heart.

Bishop J. P. Newman, speaking of vital Christianity, says:

"When I was on the banks of the Jordan I filled two vials with Jordan water. The water in one I filtered in charcoal, and there it is, as transparent as crystal. Shake the vial and yet the water remains transparent and beautiful. Look at the water in the other vial. It is just as beautiful, just as transparent; but at the bottom of the vial there is an eighth of an inch sediment, and by shaking, it becomes roily. So it would not do to shake some ministers. And in this settled state there are too many who fancy they are cleansed and clarified, but who do not wish to be shaken up. There are, however, men and women on this earth whom the devil may shake, but the waters will not be roiled, for they have been clarified.

18 Pounds of Blood

Is about the quantity nature allows to an adult person. It is of the utmost importance that the blood should be kept as pure as possible. By its remarkable onces of scrofula, salt rheum, etc., Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven its claim to be the best blood purifier.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills. They should be in every home medicine chest.

Intelligent Patriotism

is what the Youth's Companion is aiming at in its plan for a gigantic chain of debating clubs called the Lyceum League of America. This gives practical direction to the ardor of the school flag movement, started by the same paper.

ALLOW ME to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in Grand Opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, Leading Bass of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

Conference Notices.

Notice to Members and Delegates of the Savannah Annual Conference.

Dear Brethren:—The Savannah Conference will convene at Newnan, Ga., January 27, 1892. Arrangements have been made with all the principal railroads in the State for reduced rates for the conference delegation.

Persons coming from points at which through tickets to Newnan cannot be procured, should purchase tickets to Atlanta, East Point, Griffin, Macon, or any other convenient point, and then repurchase to Newnan, taking certificates of full fare from each agent from whom tickets are secured. The certificate obtained from the agent at Atlanta, East Point, Griffin, Macon, or other points (as the case may be) will be honored at Newnan at one-third rate returning to the point at which it was secured, and the other will be honored thence to the starting point, if presented on or before February 5, 1892. Reduced rates will not be allowed in case of negligence to obtain certificates. The above conditions apply only within the State.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to take any other instead, it is a Sarsaparilla. It is a Sarsaparilla. It is a Sarsaparilla.

To Itself Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Royal Baking Powder Has no Equal.

The Royal Baking Powder will make sweeter, lighter, finer-flavored and more wholesome bread, biscuit and cake than any other leavening agent. It is of higher strength, and therefore goes further in work and is more economical. All government and scientific tests go to show this. Royal Baking Powder as a leavening agent is absolutely without an equal.

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE, CHICAGO.

"As the result of my tests I find the Royal Baking Powder superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not only the purest but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted."

"WALTER S. HAINES, M. D., Prof. of Chemistry."

CHICAGO COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.

"The Royal Baking Powder, which tests the highest in strength, is free from lime, alum, lime phosphates or other adulterations. Its superlative purity, the entire wholesomeness of its ingredients, the scientific manner in which they are combined, together with its much greater strength, make the Royal unquestionably superior to any other baking powder."

Lafayette Ala., Dec. 9, 1891.

To the Members of the Central Alabama Conference.

Dear Brethren:—We were more than ever, at our last conference, urged to start in time and make out good statistical reports. This we were asked to do before leaving home and not wait till we reach the seat of the conference to make out reports. I was charged with getting a full set of statistical blanks which I have done, and to be sure of your getting them, I have placed them in the hands of your Presiding Elder. Please see to it, brethren, that you are correct in reports, and that they are accurately made out before leaving home.

Nobody but a woman can write scientifically of woman's apparel. The man who attempts it is lost. It is different with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Either sex is fully acquainted with the merits of this noted remedy.

WITHOUT faith it is impossible to please God; and impossible to live happily in this world.

Fashion's favorite fad, centers in that famous, fascinating game—lawn tennis.

But there are women who cannot engage in any pastime. They are delicate, feeble and easily exhausted. They are sufferers from weaknesses and disorders peculiar to females, which are accompanied by sallow complexions, expressionless eyes and haggard looks.

For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. It's the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the makers, of satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. This guarantee has been faithfully carried out for years.

THE CHRISTMAS SILENCE.

Hushed are the pigeons cooing low,
On dusty rafters of the loft;
And mild-eyed oxen, breathing soft,
Sleep on the fragrant hay below.

Dim shadows in the corners hide;
The glimmering lantern's rays are shed,
Where one young lamb just lifts his head,
Then huddles against his mother's side.

Strange silence tingles in the air;
Through the half-open door a bar
Of light from one low hanging star
Touches a baby's radiant hair—

No sound—the mother, kneeling, lays
Her cheek against the little face.
On, human love! Oh, heavenly grace!
Tis yet in silence that she prays!

Ages of silence end to-night;
Then to the long expectant earth
Glad angels come to greet His birth
In burst of music, love and light!

—Margaret Deland, in Christmas Ladies Home Journal.

The Household.

Womanhood.

To be a woman is to be the priest and most noble of God's creatures;
hence womanhood should be the study of every young girl old enough to realize the importance of the term true woman.

A girl should so live that every action and word will go to prove her womanhood, for this only will make her a pure and noble woman
—a woman fitted for the drawing room or the kitchen.

Beauty and style do not make a true woman. No; for some of the most noble women are the plainest.
Beauty is only skin deep, and is a very dangerous thing, for no gift bestowed upon woman is so widely abused.

A woman's real worth is estimated by the goodness of her heart, the greatness of her soul and the purity of her character.
Women who have these attributes make the best of wives and the truest of mothers. Woman is the center of society; hence how great and how elevated she should be in order to have the name of true womanhood. We, as young ladies of Zion, should hold a steady moral away over our male associates.
Men love to trust their love, if you will allow me the term, in the hands of a true woman; therefore, let us begin and make it our everyday study that will be respected by all good daughters of Zion.—
Young Woman's Journal.

BROILED HAM.—Slice thin and boil in scalding hot water for half an hour. Wipe dry and broil over good coals. Nothing is nicer for breakfast with hot waffles.

SALAD DRESSING.—The yolk of one egg, well-beaten in a teacup.
Take a tablespoon and in it mix a small quantity of salt, pepper and mustard (one must judge as to the amount, as it is "season to taste") add a teaspoonful of best Lucca salad oil, drop by drop, stirring all the time. Add the same quantity of vinegar in the same manner. Pour into the cup containing the egg and beat all (briskly) together. It is then ready to put over the lettuce or other greens.

SALAD SANDWICHES.—One cup cold chicken, one cup cold boiled tongue, one-half teaspoon celery salt, one saltspoon cayenne, mayonnaise to moisten. Chop the meat very fine, then rub with a pestle till fine like meal. Add the seasoning and enough cream of mayonnaise dressing to make it moist enough to spread easily. Put it between thin rounds of bread.
Roll soda biscuit dough thin as pastry, spread with butter, roll another layer and put on. Cut out and bake quickly. Pull apart and spread with the mixture.

WHITE CAKE.—One cupful of granulated sugar, three tablespoonful of lard, one cup of milk, nutmeg or any other flavoring, you fancy, one teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonful of cream of tartar, and two and one-half cups of flour. This, baked in a rather slow oven, gives a result which is a good imitation of the old-fashioned election cake. Raisins or currants may be added if liked.

Books and Current Literature.

The numbers of The Living Age for November 7 and 14 contain the most complete cullings from the best reviews of both continents.
For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4.00 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both post paid. Little & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The Favorite Fashion Journals continue to improve each month in appearance and usefulness. The object of the publishers seem to be to give American ladies real, neat, plain French styles, just as are shown in the corresponding original French Editions. La Mode de Paris and Album des Modes are each 35 cents per copy, or $3.50 a year. La Mode, the Family Fashion Journal, is 15 cts. per copy, or $1.50 per year. A.
McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th st.,
New York.

Robert J. Burdett, the humorist, is to go into the editorial harness. With January 1, he will become a salaried editor on the staff of the Ladies Home Journal, and will conduct a regular department in each issue of that periodical.

Mark Twain will contribute to the December number of Harper's Magazine a curiously interesting article on Mental Telegraphy, which will doubtless awaken inquiry and provoke no little discussion, especially among people who are at all interested in psychological problems.

We have received the second series of penological papers, distributed from the Empire, New York. State Reformatory. The purpose of it is to promote rational practical reform in the treatment of criminals, a result that is only possible when the intelligent public rightly appreciate and heartily approve. Since the Reformatory is confessedly in advance in the adoption of what might be termed the new penology, it seems fitting that, from time to time, accounts should be published about it, and the cognate topic of prison science more generally. The facts and arguments presented will no doubt do good. Copies of the pamphlet may be obtained, without cost, upon application to the general superintendent. New York State Reformatory, Elmira, New York.

The Christmas number of St.
Nicholas has before it every year
the task of breaking the record.
Not only must the current numbers be improved upon, but the past Christmas numbers must be cast, if ever so slightly, in the shade. Upon considering the difficulty of the task, the wonder can not but grow each year as it is successfully accomplished. This year we have a true Christmas story for the beginning. It is written by Ella F. Mosby and illustrated by R. B. Birch and has many other excellent features. The departments fill, as usual, not the least interesting pages of the number;
and altogether the Saint acquires himself creditably, considering what an enormous lot of present-giving he must have had on his mind.

The Christian Statesman under its new management is about to be moved to Pittsburgh, with a view of securing a stronger local support.
John Alexander, of Philadelphia, who has been for many years its chief stockholder and generous patron, continues in the company.
Rev. T. P. Stevenson, D.D., its able editor for twenty years, will remain as a contributor, writing, as before, on the great moral reforms. Rev. D. McAllister, D.D., LL.D., is invited to continue the relation he has always held, that of an occasional editorial contributor. Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, who has been the paper's most frequent contributor for a long time, and through whom the needed reorganization has been accomplished, is to be managing editor.

The Pansy for December is now ready; it is not necessary for us to read all the stories to know whether it is wholesome for children. It is the same with this as with all the magazines published by this firm. It is full of beautiful illustrations. It is only $1 a year, 10 cents a number. D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Harper's Magazine for December is a brilliant Christmas number, unrivalled in the beauty, appropriateness, and interest of its contents.
Harper's Weekly for November contains a variety of interesting matter especially appropriate to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Our Symposium.

Brethren in the ministry, pay your debts with promptness and businesslike readiness. Do not let the grocer, or clothier or butcher say of you to a group of scoffers,
"There goes a man that has owed me for a year." Win respect for honesty in every community, you go.—Michigan Christian Advocate.

There are two kinds of backsliding. The one is sudden, the other gradual; in the one the Christian in a moment plunges into the depths of unfaithfulness; in the other he goes down by steps so short and easy that they are not noticed at the time. The latter is the more common and dangerous.
In the one case the backslider is startled by the suddenness of his fall; in the other, he is gradually hardened by his surroundings.—

When the plate is passed, there are too many people thinking that salvation is free. — Washington Post.

The pastor who can find something for each member to do will most easily and certainly succeed.

te.

The churches begin to recognize that their great need is not in Christ, nor for bishops in silk aprons or knee breeches. This is a most critical time in Christ's onward and its progress around the world—a time to be firm and earnest. Good people sitting in easy pews to hear good sermons will not help carry out the work.
The cause must have the ears, and blood, and great self-sacrifice; besides these, our contributions.—
Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs.

Members of the itinerancy are equal. There are no $600, $800 or $1,200 preachers. The bishops tell them to go, and they go to the work assigned them, asking no questions. The committee appointed by the quarterly conference estimates the salary of the preacher, considering the number of his family, etc., and the quarterly conference approves of the amount. Everybody agrees to that upon joining the Methodist church, preacher and all. Hence, when you hear of a $600, $800 or $1,200 preacher, it is not Methodistic. A Methodist preacher is preaching for souls, and not for money, although the comforts and delicacies of this life are as tooth-some to him as any one else.—W.
F. Wolfe, in the Central.

Your Cough

Has not yielded to the various remedies you have been taking. It troubles you day and night, breaks your rest and reduces your strength.
Now try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, before the bronchial tubes become enlarged or the delicate tissues of the lungs sustain fatal injury. As an anodyne and expectorant, this preparation has no equal. It soothes the irritated membrane, promotes expectoration, and induces repose.
The worst cough

Can Be Cured

by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Dr.
J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass., writes:
"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice and pronounce it to be unequalled as a remedy for colds and coughs."
"After the grippe," cough, with my experience—a hacking, dry cough, with an incessant tickling in the throat, keeping me awake nights, and disturbing the household.
I tried a great number of cough-cures, but they gave me only temporary relief. At last I concluded to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had used half a bottle, I had my first all-night sleep. I continued to improve, and now consider myself cured."
—A. A. Sherman, Coeymans, N. Y.

By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, many have been saved from fatal illness.
E. D. Estabrook, Canterbury, N. B., says:
"In the winter of 1889 I was a sufferer from croup in my youngest child. Being considerably exposed, I took a bad cold, accompanied with a terrible cough. I tried many remedies, but they failed to cure me, and it was thought I was going into a decline. On the advice of a friend, I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and less than half a bottle completely cured me."—Advertisement

Editorial Notes.

"This day shall Christian tongues be mute
And Christian hearts be cold?
O catch the anthem that from heaven
O'er Judah's mountains rolled!
When nightly burst from seraph-harps
The high and solemn lay—
'Glory to God; on earth be peace;
Salvation comes to-day.'"

BRO. J. H. HUBBARD read an essay at the Salisbury (Md.) District League, on the Epworth League and the Church, which we would gladly publish if we could spare the space. It was highly creditable to his head and heart, and commanded the approval and admiration of all who heard it.

THE organic union of the Methodist Protestant Church with the M. E. Church South is impossible. The one is non-episcopal the other radically episcopal. For a similar insuperable reason the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal Church South cannot unite. The one welcomes "every creature" including the Negro; the other welcomes "every creature" excluding the Negro. Hence their inability to unite.

In London 1,400,000 people do not attend any kind of worship. In France, the majority of the people try not to believe in God; in Germany there is an indifference concerning God scarcely excelled by heathen lands; Spain has its bull rings and cruel barbaric sports; Italy has a population sunk deep in superstition and ignorance; and Russia banishes the earnest worker for God. This tells us that there yet remains much to do for the full salvation of the world.

THE Pacific Methodist Advocate, so persistent in its opposition to a colored bishop in the Methodist Episcopal Church shows the animus of its opposition in the fact that it thinks the Methodist Episcopal Church should become sectional and "get out of the South." It proposes to give up this section to the Methodist Episcopal Church South. It fails to tell us what to do with those of our white members in the South whose unwilling to join that Southern Confederacy, rebel, Negro-hating church. Whatever the Pacific Advocate, Bishop Foster or anybody else says; the Methodist Episcopal Church has a mission to both races in the South that no other church can or is able and willing to do.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

A $10,000 Gift for Our Cause.

Every reader of the SOUTHWESTERN will rejoice in the good news that an old friend of our educational work in the South has given $10,000.

I spent Sunday, Dec. 6, with him on my way from the Texas Conference. He lives on a farm in Illinois. His name is Mr. S. G. Swearingen, a saint of God now in his eighty-fifth year. He has read the Bible through each year for twenty five years. His wife is a noble Christian woman and joins him heartily in the gift.

I met him first nearly ten years ago after an address on our Southern educational work, at the Southern Illinois Conference. He came up and said, "I gave my son for my country who lies near Vicksburg, Miss. You are completing the work in educating the Negro, that my son began in dying to free him. I will give you $500." He afterwards gave me $1,700 for the New Orleans building. For this, that beautiful marble memorial tablet was put up in the hall of that building in memory of his son—Lincoln Swearingen.

Sunday, Dec. 6, was very rainy and the mind was very deep. But Bro. Swearingen and his wife and a boy and girl who live with them, and I, went to a little frame chapel built on his farm. It was all the two horses could do to pull the heavy farm wagon and us five. Mrs. Swearingen and I fixed the fire. There were present, six men, four women, four boys, one girl and a little child. The child went to sleep, but we had a blessed service.

My text was "Remember them that are in bonds as bound with them, and them that suffer affliction as being ye yourself also in the body." I plead for our people in the South, and God was with us. Monday noon I left for Cincinnati, but during the morning all the details were fixed. Mr. Swearingen sends his draft for $10,000. I laid before him especially, Rust Hall, at Holly Springs, and Samnel Houston College, Austin, Texas. He wants the money to go there. These buildings have stood unfinished so long as to greatly embarrass the work. Our executive committee on Saturday authorized and directed me to go on with these buildings and enclose them, and use this money together with what has already been subscribed, and what the Upper Mississippi and West Texas Conferences raised. I telegraphed the good news to President Libby and Rev. Maok Henson, and the work will go forward.

This note is written from Lafayette, Indiana, Monday, Dec. 14, having left Cincinnati to-day at 1 o'clock. Am here to negotiate the sale of a farm which another lever of his country and of humanity left in his will for our cause.

I go out in the country from here twenty-seven miles to-morrow. Will report how much we get for the farm.

The strongest plea I can make for our colored people in the South is that they appreciate what is being done to help them, and that they are more and more helping themselves.

May God multiply our friends, and add more and more intellectual, moral and social power to all our people throughout the South!

J. O. HARTZELL.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Suggestions on Timely Topics.

REV. D. W. HAYS, D.D.,

It is not too early, perhaps, to direct attention to the fact that while the question of the election of a colored bishop is pending there ought to be concert of movement on the part of our colored delegates. Without it, the result at Omaha can hardly fail to prove disappointing. I do not mean that intrigue is to be employed. Political scheming, in theory or practice, has no place in our contemplation.

There is a more excellent way and, whether success comes sooner or later, we will follow it undauntedly to the goal. But we are not to proceed blindly and leave events to chance. All the forces at our command must be marshalled in the most judicious manner possible, with a view to effectiveness. This will require just such concert and aim as are now recommended. Let the delegates have a common understanding concerning all points relating to the great question at issue, and then be prepared, when the opportune moment arrives, to concentrate their full strength.

If we desire the support of any portion of the majority, it is important that we be able to indicate, without conflicting voices, where the support is to be placed in order to be of real advantage.

My opinion is that instead of dividing the choice between a number of eminent brethren who may be available, it would be far better to centre upon one man, standing pre-eminent among the rest, and give to him our united aid. A scramble for the high office, besides showing incompetency, might inflict lasting disgrace and cause hope to be deferred many days yet. May we be spared ever witnessing so revolting a scene. In the spirit of true loyalty to Christ and unwavering devotion to Methodism, let the delegates, stepping into rank by the suffrage of their respective conferences, deliberate, plan and work unitedly. So shall confusion be avoided and the best interests of the church subserved, as the hour imperatively demands.

Texas Conference Notes.

The conference memorialized the General Conference to establish a book depository and publishing department in connection with the SOUTHWESTERN, at New Orleans.

They pray for a change of boundary so that all the territory east of the Texas Central Railroad shall be put in the Texas Conference.

The Conference voted unanimously against the Philadelphia Conference proposition equalizing the lay and ministerial delegates in the General Conference, and that said delegates may be male or female.

Begin early for conversions. Be spotless, and preach a soul-saving Gospel. There never was, and there never will be as great a work as preaching.—Bishop Hurst, to the Texas Conference.

The Texas Conference unanimously resolved to take a collection in every charge for the American University, Washington, D. C. The adoption of this resolution moved Bishop Hurst most joyfully. Whereupon he announced to the conference that the honor belonged to the colored people of the South, of having been the first contributors to that university, south and west of the Potomac river. The contribution came from Clark University, Atlanta, Ga. Our people are catching time by the forelock. If anybody must catch on by the tail, they are determined it shall be somebody else. The Bishop said, "I was more than thankful for that contribution and for this resolution than for a contribution from the Prince of Wales, because it comes from God's poor. This school is for male and female, white and black prepared to enter upon its several courses." The bishop has recently received a contribution for the university from a nephew of the Pope. Several other Catholics have also contributed. An aged Canadian lady had given her watch to be sold for the benefit of the university. The university now owns 92 acres of land, an excellent site overlooking Washington, D. C., and paid for, $120,000. It has $400,000 in wills now. It needs and must get a million in cash. This the bishop hopes will come in a short while. Let everybody help.

He Takes no Stock in Dr. Grandison's "Baker's Dozen."

The Rev. J. B. Middleton, of the South Carolina Conference, writing from Sumter, S. C., says: "Dr. Grandison seems to be of the opinion that the election of a colored man to the episcopacy will be a panacea for all the ills we suffer in the church. I do not agree with him in that particular; nor yet in the 'Baker's dozen' movement, which certainly will not effect our church in South Carolina. Our conference has been fully tested and is loyal to the cause, unquestionably so. I will say more, anon."

Yours truly,
J. B. MIDDLETON.

Clark University Not Dead.

The greetings of Thanksgiving received from Clark University a few days ago, are enough to confound the enemy and make the hearts of the many true, faithful and tried sons and daughters of our Methodism rejoice. God bless Dr. Hickman and his faithful workers. May they long live to work in our midst. May the blessing of almighty God rest both upon the faculty and students. May peace and harmony prevail, and all enjoy good health. And before the closing of the year, may the Holy Ghost be greatly poured out upon them.

Rust University to the Front.

Brethren of the Mississippi and Upper Mississippi Conferences: Rev. Dr. J. O. Hartzell has directed me to go forward and enclose our magnificent new building. This will cost about ten thousand dollars more, and a friend of our cause in Illinois, through Dr. Hartzell's personal appeal, has given $5,000 to help us forward with the work. We have something yet in the treasury in Cincinnati. Up to this time we have spent about $12,000 for all work including the removing of the debris of the old building. We are now at work on the second story and have already laid more than one-half a million of bricks.

The building looms up gloriously on the highest point of land and most healthful location in Mississippi.

With this new five thousand dollar gift and the subscriptions already made, we can go forward and enclose the building and so arrange as to have our commencement exercises next May in it.

Now, brethren, will those of you who have not attended to these duties before this, please pay your personal subscriptions and raise all deficiencies in amounts asked of your charges by the apportionments authorized by your Presiding Elders and published in Rust Enterprise!

We plead with you in the name of our common Master, and great educational cause, to at once attend to this and forward to me.

Yours truly,
C. E. LIBBY, President.

Founder's Day will be observed Dec. 23, at 3 o'clock p. m., at Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Ga. The memorial address of the Rev. E. H. Gammon will be delivered by President Wilbur P. Thirkield, D.D.

Mrs. Leland Stanford has donated property valued at $1,000,000 to the society for the relief of orphan and destitute children at Albany, N. Y.

Comparing the children of school age in the United States, as ascertained by the last census, with the statistics of Sunday schools, it is computed that there are 9,000,000 children in this country who attend no Sunday school.

In the year 1855 there were in British India 430 schools, both government and missionary having 30,000 pupils, chiefly boys. By the recent census it appears there are 130,000 schools of all grades, and over 4,000,000 pupils, a goodly percentage of these pupils being girls.

Superintendent Wise reports that 17,815 pupils in the schools of Baltimore are receiving temperance instructions.

There are 40,000 women studying in the various colleges in America. And yet it is only twenty-five years since the first college in the land was opened to women.

In the 351 cities and towns of Massachusetts, 248 now have free public libraries, and the State has lately provided aid for the 103 small towns and villages which have no libraries.

The University of Berlin, with its 6,000 students and scores of famous professors, has a capital of but $750,000. Its largest endowment, that of Countess Rose, is only $150,000. Nevertheless, it is the seat of the highest German learning, and claims to have the ablest corps of instructors of all the world's schools.

The propriety and necessity of establishing two great religious newspapers, one in London, and one somewhere in the United States, was discussed at the late Ecumenical Conference. No doubt such papers would accomplish great good for the cause of God, and could easily be supported. London and Washington City would be favorable centers for such publications.

What They Think of the Outrage Perpetrated on Dr. Albert in Texas.

This incident, where it is seen that even a man of Dr. Albert's prominence in the church and state cannot ride unmolested in a public conveyance, after paying full fare, ought to show very forcibly the necessity of rendering inoperative the separate car law. Yet how many ministers of Dr. Albert's church, or any other church, have contributed anything towards riding ns of the Jim Crow car.—Crusader.

Mrs. Emma Jewell, a white lady friend of Vicksburg, Miss., commenting upon the editor's treatment on the cars at Houston, Tex., in a personal letter, says: "You were shamefully treated in Texas. I am your friend; rest assured of that. The way you were treated in Texas should be known far and near. God did not give me my right hand for nothing. How do men and women ever expect to enter heaven if they treat the colored brother and sister as they treated you?"

"I read with painful interest your experience in Texas."—Thos. Mason, president Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark.

President Dunton, of Clark University, Orangeburg, S. C., declares in Favor of the Election of a Colored Bishop.

It affords us much pleasure to place before our readers the following very friendly and unbiased argument furnished us by Rev. L. M. Dunton, D.D., President of Olin University, Orangeburg, S. C., in favor of the election of a colored bishop. It is short, but it clearly and emphatically places before the church the necessity of such an election. Like President Thirkield, and other unprejudiced and experienced white brethren who have labored long among, and who know the forces who are at work among our people, he entertains no hesitation in giving the facts in the case as they really are. He has studied the question on the ground among our 30,000 colored members in the South Carolina Conference, and he knows whereof he speaks. No other question before the church so seriously concerns the future expansion of our work among the colored people. Read what the Doctor has to say of the matter:

"There seems to be a reasonable request on the part of the colored membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church for colored Episcopal supervision, which the General Conference, at its next session, should carefully consider.

The mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South has increased in importance daily. It is not too much to claim that her ministers and members are among the most intelligent and progressive, and that the church stands as one of the most efficient in advancing the cause of morality, education and religion.

It is, however, a humiliating fact that with the ever increasing obligations crowding in upon us there has not been corresponding notice, care, and painstaking supervision and personal oversight that the peculiar conditions of the work require.

In addition to the usual qualifications for the office and work of a bishop, there is a special demand for men who can place themselves in the most sympathetic touch with ministers and people and lead the church to victory in His name.

There are men mentally, morally, and nationally qualified to take charge of the colored wing of the great Methodist army and kindle a zeal for the church akin to that of early Methodism and save it from threatened disintegration.

What plausible reason can there be for further delay in a matter that affects so many loyal Methodists?

S. R. Hason, Bedford, La.

Our fourth quarterly conference convened Nov. 7, 8, Rev. S. Dunn can presiding. Paid pastor this quarter, $116; Presiding Elder, $17; raised for benevolences, $13 Sunday was fixed for the big time, as it was the last round for the Elder this year. At 9 o'clock it commenced raining and it continued to rain all day, but in the midst of the storm a few turned out and the Elder preached a grand sermon. Let each one raise at least 6 new cash subscribers by next May. I expect to do my best. Our church and Sunday school are alive and on the increase. We received this year 40 in full membership.

P. Blue, Hickory, Miss.

I am closing up my third year, and feel that our labor has not been in vain. One new house of worship has been built, and two others oiled and seats placed in them. The benevolences this year will be one-third larger than ever before.

Joe. Johnson, Bunkie, La.

December 2, the editor of the Bunkie Blade had his leg broken by a shot from the pistol, and on the same night Mary Wilson killed a girl by cutting her with a knife.

H. J. Wright, Donaldsonville, La.

The people of this place are deeply affected over the death of Rev. Wm. Smith, and thank you for the heartfelt tribute which the SOUTHWESTERN paid to his precious memory. It exactly expressed their sentiments.

A. A. Lacey, Slaughter, La.

Received in full membership, 22; raised for all purposes, $188; conversions, 6.

Bro. J. H. Pierre says he is closing up a good year's work at Marshville, and that he is coming to conference with all his benevolent collections.

Rev. S. R. Hason, of Bedford circuit, La., had a class rally Dec. 6, and realized $36.70. Rev. M. T. Fairfax was with him that day.

That distressing disease, the piles, is speedily relieved and cured by Ayer's Pills.

Letters from the Laity.

I. I. Mayfield, Harmony Grove, Ga.

Our fourth quarterly conference was held at Harmony Grove, Warren's Chapel, Nov. 14, our beloved Presiding Elder, M. M. Alston, in the chair. Reports showed the work had advanced on all lines as never before. Our pastor, E. Kirby, is a good worker. The SOUTHWESTERN is read here with great fidelity. The elder gave a strong and instructive speech to the conference on Saturday. Sunday at 11 o'clock the Lord's Supper was administered to 70. At night the pastor preached a soul-reviving sermon. Our Sunday school is progressing. We have a fine and large school, divided into 5 classes.

We have a class of Willing Workers, composed of small girls. The writer has not missed Sunday school in 5 years. If you want to die happy, work hard, pay your pastor, and read the SOUTHWESTERN.

J. F. Bell, Galveston, Tex.

Our Presiding Elder, Rev. I. B. Scott, was with us recently and organized an Epworth League in West, Tabernacle M. E. Church. Rev. W. M. Brown, our pastor, was present and assisted. It is named John Wesley League, and numbers 36 members.

Georgia Patillo, Pine Bluff, Ark.

Our pastor, Rev. John Qualls, who was appointed here by Bishop J. P. Newman, D.D., has more than filled every expectation. The entire membership proclaims, we have the right man in the right place. With the co-operation of Presiding Elder G. W. Lacey and Rev. John Qualls in this year's work, we are assured of a final victory. After arriving here with only a few members to meet him, he seemed to be perfectly satisfied and at home. We have paid off some of the old indebtedness of the church which seemed to be the dark cloud which overshadowed us so long. He has, with the assistance of the Bluff City Club, given us a beautiful altar, and had the church carpeted. Our Presiding Elder's salary has been increased from $10 to $12.50 and paid up to date. We have on hand $60 of benevolent money, and expect to have the remaining portion by the Annual Conference. We observed Thanksgiving Day, and had a grand time. Many able speakers were present and the program rendered nicely. We intend to send our pastor to conference with banner of success hoisted and colors flying.

DONALD KENNEDY Of Roxbury, Mass., Says:

Strange cases cured by my Medical Discovery every come to me every day. Here is one of Paralysis—Blindness—and the Grip. Now how does my Medical Discovery cure all these?
I don't know, unless it takes hold of the Hidden Poison that makes all these.

VIRGINIA CITY, NEVADA, Sept. 24, 1891.
Donald Kennedy—Dear Sir: I will state my case to you: About nine years ago I was paralyzed in my left side, and the best doctors gave me no relief for two years, and I was advised to try your Discovery, which did it, and in a few months I was restored to health. About four years ago I became blind in my left eye by a spotted cataract. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Discovery was the thing for me;
so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye —perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Discovery they all left my right eye but one; and, thank God, the bright light of heaven is now making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully astonished at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery.
Yours truly,
DONALD KENNEDY.

Annual Meeting of the Board of Education.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church held its annual meeting in New York, Dec. 3. Bishop Andrews, president of the board, presided. The report of the treasurer, Joseph S.
Stout, showed that the receipts for the year were: from collections, $57,496; from returned loans, $5,213, both being the largest in the history of the board. The collections showed an increase in three years of seventy-eight percent, and returned loans an increase for the same time of one hundred and twenty-eight percent. The total receipts for the year were $75,440.

The report of the corresponding secretary, Dr. C. H. Payne, gave a full statement of the work of the board from the beginning of its history and its present status, and touched upon many important points relating to the entire educational work of the church. Its various recommendations were adopted by the board, and it was ordered to be printed. The following points are of special interest to the church: Children's Day was evidently more largely observed than ever before; the board's program of exercises is more extensively used every year;
it is believed its issues will soon reach a million copies; it is translated into all languages; several Sunday schools and individuals are making special contributions of $100 or $50 to aid some designated student for a year; the board encourages this work and acts as agent in carrying it out. It is annually disbursing the full amount of collections, all its expenses and circulation of thousands of copies of educational literature being paid by the income of its invested funds.

The board aided the last year one thousand and sixty-nine students in a hundred different schools throughout the world. These beneficiaries were of twenty different nationalities; eight hundred and eighty-one of them were preparing for the ministry or for missionary work; one hundred and sixty were women. The total number aided from the beginning is three thousand eight hundred and eighteen.
The secretary reported that the effort to unify the conference educational societies with the work of the board in aiding students has met with very gratifying success.
By far the larger number of conferences before which it had been brought had taken favorable action, recommending that the board's proposals be accepted.

Among these conferences were the six New England, the New York, and the New York East, though in these conferences there are two local educational societies much older than the board; also the Erie Conference, Rock River, the Illinois Central, the Southeast Indiana, the Cincinnati and many others.

The unification will simplify the collections, bring all the work of aiding students by loans under a direct supervision, increase the confidence of the church in this work and give greater efficiency to it. The secretary also reported that the sentiment in favor of the federation of the institutions of learning of the church was rapidly growing. The plan which he had presented to the church has been approved in its essential features by the action of a large number of the Fall Conferences, preachers' meetings, and by educators generally throughout the whole church.
It is believed that some plan embracing substantially the features proposed will be adopted by the General Conference, and that the educational work of the church will be greatly promoted thereby.

The report also stated that interviews and correspondence with various parties indicated that important bequests to the board had been made in wills during the year. The subject of returned loans received very full treatment in the report.

The board has an invested fund of $226,000, and outstanding loans amounting to $302,000. It was voted to appropriate $55,000 to be loaned during the current school year. The board voted to memorialize the General Conference to take such action as it deemed wise to protect Children's Day; and to guard the collections so that one undivided collection might be secured to the Children's Fund from every Sunday school annually; to define more clearly its relations to auxiliary societies, and to secure unity of action and connectional supervision in all our educational work. The board is endeavoring to obtain much fuller statistical reports from all our institutions of learning, which will prove very valuable to the church. Dr. Payne reported that in the prosecution of his work he had visited during the year forty-four Annual Conferences and traveled 28,000 miles.
The meeting was very harmonious and the reports of the work exceedingly encouraging.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reliable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be

General Church News.

The Bureau of Catholic Indian Missions is a powerful organization for promoting Roman Catholicism among Indians, and to this end it seeks to secure the largest possible number of Catholics in the government Indian service. As a result of these efforts many Indian agents, their clerks and other employees are Catholics. It has made a special point of securing the control of as many government schools as practicable, several of which are entirely officered by Catholics, and are absolutely parochial schools for the distinct propagation of Catholicism, as if they were supported by church mission funds instead of public funds. The growth of these appropriations is seen in the following exhibit: The amounts secured have been as follows:—1886, $118,343; 1887, $194, 635; 1888, $221,169; 1889, $347,
672; 1890, $356,957; 1891, $363,
349.

The Bureau is in close contact with the Cardinal and all the hierarchy, and can summon to Washington at short notice very powerful support—archbishops, bishops, priests and influential laymen to wait upon the President, or to lobby with senators and members of Congress in order to carry through any scheme it has on hand, such as securing new legislation, influencing appointments, or defeating measures which they regard as in any way detrimental to the interests of Catholicism.

During the last administration, the Superintendent of Indian Schools, Mr. Riley, was a Catholic, as was the chief of the Education Division in the Indian Bureau, his first assistant and principal clerk.
The Commissioner of Indian Affairs was subservient to Catholic interests, and in fact the Indian Bureau was completely dominated by the Catholic Bureau, in consequence of which the government Indian schools were neglected, and the Catholic schools fostered in every possible way.

When the present commissioner announced his intention of developing a system of non-partisan, non-sectarian government Indian schools, modeled after the public schools, the Catholic Bureau immediately became alarmed, and entered upon a most vigorous campaign to obstruct his work. The Catholic Congress assembled in Baltimore appointed a strong delegation, with Bishop Ireland at its head, to wait upon the President, and demand that he should recall the nomination of General Morgan, which he declined to do.

During the past year articles emanating from Washington, and presumably inspired by the Catholic Bureau, assailing the commissioner's policy and personal character, have been widely published, and apparently no pains have been spared to weaken his hands and destroy his work. Indians have been instructed not to patronize the government schools, and have been told that if their children went to these institutions they would die and go to hell. A petition drawn up in Washington was sent to a certain tribe and circulated for signatures, protesting against the establishing of a government school among them, but when questioned about it, the Indians did not seem to know what it was which they had signed.

This brief recital of the principal events in this effort of the Roman hierarchy to strike down a public official for refusing to promote their scheme for diverting millions of dollars of public money into the coffers of the Catholic church for the propagation of Catholicism, has awakened wide public interest.

BISHOP Mallalieu is out in a strong card in Zion's Herald appealing to the young Epworth Leaguers to come to his help in behalf of the New Orleans University Medical School.

THE conferences in our territory are now being held; and the secretaries and others in charge of the matter should lose no time in making necessary and timely arrangements for reduced rates on the several railroads.

REV. B. H. S. Ferguson, Holly Springs, Miss., writes in sharp terms against the method used by some men in their electioneering for General Conference election. He thinks such things should be decided upon the score of merit, capacity, and the interest of the church, and the promotion of the cause of Christ.

WE regret exceedingly to part with the Methodist Advocate of Chattanooga, Tenn. It made its appearance for the last time and bade farewell to its patrons, Dec. 9. Dr. T. C. Carter, the editor, made a manly and heroic, persistent struggle to establish the paper upon a solid basis, but finally had to succumb to the inevitable. This we certainly regret. Throughout all the years of its existence, and through his career as editor, the paper and Dr. Carter were ever the firm and steady friends and advocates of the rights and interests of all our people in the South, and we painfully record their removal from their sphere of great usefulness. Dr. Carter in the interval between now and the next General Conference, will act as Field Agent for the Western in the Central South, in which we predict for him great success. Now the whole South is open to us we hope a boom will be given the SOUTHWESTERN in all of our Southern Conferences.

THE Star of Zion is full of wicked laughter because it seems to see in Dr. Grandison's recent letter to our columns a purpose on his part to "assail his own church." There are some people who are ever ready to rejoice over family jars and confusion in other people's families, and this evidently is the spirit in which the Star of Zion regards Dr. Grandison's contribution. We are glad to inform our conferees, however, that it will gain no benefits from that discussion and it needs not specially rejoice. Dr. Grandison makes plain certain things that the church should know about our colored work, but he does not "assail" the church as the Star would make it appear. Dr. Grandison does not mince his words in expressing his conviction on any subject, and is one of the ablest sons of our Methodism, but he is none the less one of her most faithful and loyal sons and defenders. Any who assert the contrary do not know him.

Merry Christmas!

To-morrow is Christmas. We greet all our readers with a merry, merry Christmas. This is indeed the season to be merry. It marks the fulfillment of the prophecies, when the Star should arise in Jacob, and the Child of Hope and Promise, the World's Redeemer, should appear among His people. It marks the crowning glory of the Messianic prophecies. Heaven and earth both rejoiced over the glorious event. A choir of the heavenly host made the heavens ring with their anthems of joy, they sang of "peace on earth and good will toward men." The shepherds and the wise men were directed to the Babe in the manger, while heaven and earth rejoiced over the joyful news: "Unto you is born in David's town, this day, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord." There was no room in the inn for him then, but since then palaces and thrones of power have welcomed His glorious advent, and His reign; and thus His kingdom shall continue to extend until all the kingdoms of this world shall become the Kingdom of our Lord and His Christ.

"Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run;
His kingdom spread from shore to shore,
Till moon shall wax and wane no more."

From north to south the prince meet,
To pay their homage at his feet;
While western empires own their Lord,
And savage tribes attend his word."

Such an event should be celebrated with songs of joy and gladness; in generous remembrance of the poor and needy; in giving gifts to the children; in family reunions, and in grateful acknowledgment to our Heavenly Father for the gift of His Son, and the preservation of our lives. How inconsistent and wicked then, it is to spend such an event in drinking, egg-nog, other intoxicants, and in general debaucheries.

Again, hoping that all our readers will observe the day in the true spirit of Christian devotion and gladness, we bid them one and all a merry, merry Christmas, and many happy returns.

The Organic Union of Negro Methodism.

Bishop Wayman announced to the Ecumenical Conference that the bishops and delegates of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church and the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, had held a meeting and decided unanimously in favor of organic union; and now he said in conclusion, "we say to all of our brethren in black, come, go with us and we will do you good, for the Lord hath spoken good concerning the brethren in black."

The Weekly Bulletin, of the Delaware Conference, commenting on the same, says: "This has set the colored element in the Methodist Episcopal Church to thinking."

Bosh, the editor of the Bulletin may be influenced by such a movement, but the great mass of "the colored element in the Methodist Episcopal" are not giving themselves any concern in the premises. They do not believe any more in a "great, big Negro" or any other race church, than in a half-dozen or more fragmentary race churches. There seems to be no sensible reason why those colored bodies should be continued divided as they are; but their organic union can have no possible influence upon the colored element in the Methodist Episcopal Church; because the principle upon which they are founded is foreign and abhorrent to that element. We oppose such race segregation in church, for the same reason and upon the same principle that we oppose separate cars and all discrimination laws adopted by the South. We favor the organic union of all branches of American Methodism upon terms of perfect equality, but we certainly have no greater attraction toward a "great, big" Negro church than to the present three or four branches. We are in the old church because we believe in a church made up of all kinds, tongues and people.

Equal Rights.

Judge Tongue, of Maysville, N. Y., who has taken such deep interest in the cause of human rights, and who in his letters in the Inter-Ocean proposed the organization of all the friends of the cause into a National Equal Rights League, draws the following inferences from the thousands of encouraging letters he has thus far received: These letters indicate:

1. A popular sentiment which cuts across the line of all parties.
2. That it is the people who are thinking on this subject rather than the politicians.
3. That farmers, mechanics, and business men are in advance of the professions.
4. That old soldiers are growing more and more keenly alive to the fact that their labors and perils were in vain if the power of the government is to be set at defiance and the citizen debarred from the rights conferred upon him by the Nation.

5. That young and old alike are moved by the impulse of justice and the conviction that peril can be averted by the outspoken assertion of popular thought.
6. That of the professions—that is, the law, the ministry, and medicine—a far greater number of physicians than of either of the others are alive to this danger, or, at least, willing to pledge themselves to aid in remedying it. This will, no doubt, seem strange to some, but when we consider that the lawyer is generally more or less of a politician, and the minister to a degree hesitant about indorsing anything not directly affecting the personal relations of his flock, it is hardly surprising. The politician has not yet learned to distinguish between this sentiment and what he has so long talked about as "the unfortunate animosities arising from the war," and the ministry have not yet fully learned that the Master's rule, "Do unto others as ye would that they should do to you," yield better results when applied to the assertion and maintenance of the rights of others than in any other form.

Two facts, peculiarly gratifying to the By-stander, are that of the thousands of letters received from the Northern States only one has yet been in disapproval of the movement, and not one has been anonymous."

Political Review.

The President has sent to the Senate the following nominations: To be United States Circuit Judges, Court of Appeals: Wm. L. Putnam, Maine; Nathaniel Shipman, of Connecticut; Geo. M. Dallas, of Pennsylvania; Nathan Goff, of West Virginia; Wm. H. Taft, of Ohio; Wm. A. Wood, of Indiana.

Warren T. Tritt, of Oregon, United States District Judge for the District of Alaska. Stephen B. Elkin, of West Virginia, Secretary of War.

As usual the claim of the Negro race to a representative on the bench was ignored.

The Senate confirmed a number of appointments made during the vacation.

The Senate is discussing the claims of Gov. Hill of New York, White of Louisiana, and Brice of Ohio, to seats in the Senate from those States.

In the House, the Democratic majority is so unwieldy that elements of discord are already manifesting themselves there. The Crisp and Mills element, representing the Hill and Cleveland presidential aspirations, respectively are putting themselves in beligerent attitudes toward each other.

The greatest political agitation in this country during the past week, was witnessed in this State. Both parties have been affected with regular Kilkenny fights within their own ranks. The Democratic Convention met in Baton Rouge Dec. 16, and split in two; forming the anti-lottery and the lottery conventions. The following ticket was put up by the anti-lottery convention, viz:

For Governor, Murphy J. Foster, of St. Mary; Lieutenant Governor, Charles Parlange, of Point Coupee; Treasurer, John Pickett, of Bossier; Superintendent of Public Education, A. D. Lafarge, of Avoyelles; Auditor, W. W. Heard, of Union; Attorney General, M. J. Canningham, of Natchitoches; Secretary of State, Capt. Thomas Scott Adams, of East Feliciana.

The platform denounces the lottery, endorses Gov. Nicholls administration, expresses gratitude for the defeat of the Federal election bill, and confidence in their ability to elect their ticket and demolish the lottery incubus.

The lottery convention nominated, for Governor, S. D. McEmery, of Ouchita; Lieutenant Governor, R. C. Wickliffe, of West Feliciana; Secretary of State, L. F. Mason, of Concordia; Auditor, O. B. Steele, of Union; Superintendent of Public Education, Joseph V. Calhoun, of Orleans; Treasurer, Gabriel Montegut, of Terrebonne; Attorney General, E. W. Sutherland, of DeSoto.

Their platform denounces all who do not agree with them, is silent on the Nicholls' administration, and expresses great fear for the ghost of "Negro supremacy and radical rule." With this threadbare and silly scarecrow held before the white people of this State they hope to frighten them into support of their ticket, and to hand over the destiny of this State to the lottery for the next twenty-five years.

They hope further to scare their people into line by an absurd rumor which they started in Washington to the effect that the anti-lottery folks had entered into a negotiation with the Republicans to turn over the electoral vote of this State to that party, in exchange for their votes next April.

The absurdity of the rumor is so palpable that it does not deserve consideration. Republicans know Southern Democrats, whether lottery or anti-lottery, too well to entertain such propositions from them, even if such had been made.

They have not forgotten the result of their alliance with the Young Men's Democracy in this city four years ago, from which they got absolutely nothing in exchange for their votes.

The Republican State Central Committee of this State met in this city last Saturday. A test vote showed the committee to be 47 against to only 26 in favor of the Warmoth faction. Upon another test vote, wherein Gov. Kellogg was pitted against Warmoth himself for membership upon the committee, Kellogg was elected by a vote of 45 to 10 for Warmoth; whereupon one of Warmoth's Federal employees, Henry Robertson, of Catahoula, (he hasn't been in that parish for ten years) carried out the piece that he was to play, created a row, and in the panic which followed, the Warmoth faction, 16 all told, all Federal employees, marched out with him and set up a bogus State Committee in the Customhouse. Thus was Warmoth and his pompous pretensions utterly repudiated by the people, whom he had spurned as political slaves, whom he thought he could buy, as sheep in the shambles, when he needed them. After order was restored the committee elected Mr. B. L. Desdunes, one of the ablest and most representative colored Republicans of this State as secretary, vice Mr. Lamanier, deceased.

Enthusiastic and patriotic addresses were delivered by Govs. Kellogg, Pinchback, Senator Oage, Mr. Desdunes, Capt. Wimberly and others. The committee unanimously indorsed President Harrison's administration; Chairman Herwig, Capt. Wimberly, Internal Revenue Collector; Dr. Smythe, Superintendent of U. S. Mint; and Andrew Hero, Jr., Assistant U. S. Treasurer.

A resolution was adopted fixing the date of the meeting of the Republican State Convention on Jan. 18, 1892, in New Orleans, at Soreman's Hall, for the purpose of nominating a State ticket and appointing four representatives to represent the Republicans in the National Republican Convention at Minneapolis, Minn., on June 7, 1892, and take other necessary action.

Saturday, Jan. 16, was set as the day for the holding of the primary elections of delegates to attend the State Republican Convention in the parish of Orleans, and Saturday, Jan. 9, for the elections in the country parishes.

The Warmoth side-show, of 16 members, chose Gen. Badger as chairman, and A. B. Kennedy as secretary; and fixed the third Wednesday in February, '92, as the date for holding a State Convention.

The chances of electing a Republican State, legislative and parochial ticket in this State, from stem to stern, was never so favorable since 1868. The Democratic party is hopelessly divided, and nothing can possibly prevent such a consummation, but the effort of Gov. Warmoth and his Federal employees, his political emissaries, to defy the irresistible opposition which the rank and file of the Republicans of Louisiana entertain toward him. It is hoped however, that prompted by influences which should come from the National administration at Washington, he will submit to the popular demand against his obnoxious leadership, and like Adams, the Farmers' Alliance candidate for governor, "offer himself to be immolated upon the altar for the party's good." Warmoth is not made up of that kind of stuff, however, and the probabilities are that he will have to be thoroughly immolated by the people themselves in the primaries, in order that he may not hinder Republican success in the next general State election. All the Republicans will then need do, will be to nominate a good, strong ticket of reputable and representative men of both races; fight the lottery to the finish, and, as is said in common parlance, sweep the deck.

A RENEGADE of a preacher who left us and violated his ordination, rather than go to the appointment given him by the bishop is now in the A. M. E. Church, prophesying that "in five years all of the preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church would be in the A. M. E. Church."

They doubtless would be, if they were in the church, as he was, only for the loaves and fishes, so abundant in large and prominent city churches, and if they entertained their ordination vows as lightly as he did. As they are not of his stripes however, no one need fear of any such calamity, not to the church, but to those preachers. This reminds us that a noted infidel once made just such a prophecy of the Christian church; that is, that in a very few years the church would be a thing of the past and of ancient history, and the name of Christ would be forgotten; but the thing has not happened to the church nor to our Christ but to the man that thus prophesied. Indeed the church, and the name of Jesus were never so powerful and all-pervading as to-day, and they never will be less, but more so every hour to come. The wish is father to the thought, but both the father and the thought will perish ere they see the fulfillment of their hateful prophecy.

OUR good friend, Dr. Orary, may experience some little difficulty in hearing, but there is certainly nothing wrong about his sight. He hits the nail squarely on the head every time. Read the following from his paper, the California Christian Advocate, of a recent date, and you will readily see what we mean; viz:

"The idea of sending our six millions of native-born American Negroes to Africa is the silliest sort of nonsense. It is not statesmanship, nor philanthropy, nor business; it is sheer lunacy. We might as well talk of sending all the Yankees back to Holland and England. Send them back! They never came from Africa. They are native Americans. If anybody wants to go to Africa, that is another question; let him go in peace."

LET grand programs be prepared for the general observance of National Emancipation Day, Jan. 1, everywhere. Bring out the old American flag and give her another wave in the name of liberty and take a collection to annihilate the "Jim Crow" car law. We will publish the Emancipation Proclamation next week.

WE warn our readers against the insinuating literature of the Seventh Day Adventists, which they are circulating among our people under disguising and deceptive means; by which they hope to gull them into their species of heresy. One of their imprints is "The International Tract and Missionary Society." In the name of religious liberty they are seeking to influence them to array themselves against all Sunday laws. As they cannot force the adoption of Saturday for the Christian Sabbath, their sole purpose is to seek the overthrow of all Sunday laws. One of their agents, a colored man, by the name of O. M. Kinney, able, persuasive and subtle is out at work representing and giving this literature free to our people. We warn them against him and his Seventh Day Adventists literature which he is scattering in sugar-coated, deceptive pills.

THE Methodist Advocate, Chattanooga, Tenn., reminds us of the old English adage: "The king is dead; long live the king." Last week the old Advocate ceased to live. It was sold to the Western Methodist Book Concern. This week we were surprised to receive the Methodist Advocate again. We thought the dead had been restored to life, but it was simply another paper, same size, same form, same name, and evidently published upon the same press and with the same types, calling itself the Methodist Advocate, new series. Our idea is that the Methodist Advocate is either dead or alive. If dead, then it seems that it should not deceive the very elect by making its appearance among the living, as a new series. Why not let every man sail under his own name, without respects to old or new series? E. W. Mattson is publisher. He says: "The removal of that paper left this whole Methodist field in the South without a local newspaper."

What about the SOUTHWESTERN? Are we not in the South? The SOUTHWESTERN is here, and is the only official church paper in the South, and all our people white and colored should now unitedly rally to its support. We offer as good and able a religious paper as is published south of the Ohio, and all loyal Methodists of both races should take it.

DAILY BREAD.

Shrinking From Duty.

There are some who shrink from undertaking the work which the Master gives them to do. They are not worthy; they have no skill nor power for the delicate duty, but to all their timid shrinking and withdrawing the Master's gentle, yet urgent, word is: "Do your best." They have only to kneel in lowly reverence, and pray, for the beloved Master's sake, for skill and strength for the task assigned, and they will be inspired and helped to do it well. The power of Christ will rest upon them, and the love of Christ will be in their heart; and all work done under this blessed inspiration will be acceptable to God. We have but truly to lay the living sacrifice upon the altar; then God will send the fire.

We need to get this matter of consecration down out of cloud-land into the region of actual, common, daily living. We sing about it, and pray for it, and talk of it in our religious meetings oftentimes in glowing mood, as if it were some exalted state, with which earth's life of toil, struggle and care had nothing whatever to do. But the consecration suggested by the living sacrifice is one that walks on earth, that meets life's actual duties, struggles, temptations and sorrows, and that falters not in obedience, fidelity or submission, but follows Christ with love and joy wherever he leads. No other consecration pleases God.—J. R. Miller.

End of Preaching.

A church is planted in a community to convert and redeem that community; not merely to edify those who are already converted. It may be doubted whether much of the preaching commonly described as simply "edifying" goes for a great deal. Its qualities are apt to be those of the essay rather than of the genuine sermon. Preaching is not in the best sense "edifying" unless it arouses the hearers to new exertions in advancing the kingdom of God. It is difficult to imagine real sermons preached by living men doing nothing more than to impart a comfortable sense of satisfaction with the present and the future. Real preaching by men whose souls are illumined by the truth is as certain to win men to the allegiance of Christ as seed corn properly planted to yield a harvest.—Selected.

Sunday Papers.

Every minister knows, and is sorry to know, when he rises in his pulpit on Sunday morning, that probably three-fifths of even the communicants before him have had their minds soaked and saturated in the news which had come with the Sunday morning papers before they came to church; that it had not been a preparation of reading the Scriptures and of prayer by which they had come ready for the church service; that he is to speak to minds which are in precisely the same attitude toward the truth in which they would have been if they had come on Wednesday or on Saturday morning, and not on the Lord's day, to church.—Rev. Richard Storrs.

Secret of Power.

What was the secret of such a one's power? What had she done? Absolutely nothing; but radiant smiles, beaming good humor; the fact of divining what every one wanted, told that she had got out of self and learned to think of others; so that at one time it showed itself in deprecating the quarrel which lowering brows and raised tones already showed to be impending, by sweet words; at another, by soothing a sobbing child; at another, by hushing and softening a father who had returned weary and ill-tempered from the irritating cares of business. None but she saw these things. None but a loving heart could see them. That was the secret of her heavenly power. The one who will be found in trial capable of great acts of love, is ever the one who is always doing considerate small things.—F. W. Robertson.

Confidential to Ministers.

Make no apologies. If you have the Lord's message, deliver it; if not, hold your peace. Have short prefaces and introductions. Say your best things first, and stop before you get prosy. Do not spoil the appetite for dinner with too much thin soup. Leave self out of the pulpit, and take Jesus in. Defend the gospel, and let the Lord defend you. Do not get excited too soon. Do not bawl and scream. Too much water stops mill-wheels, and too much noise drowns sense. Empty vessels ring the loudest. Powder is not shot. Thunder is harmless; lightning kills. Do not scold the people. Do not abuse those who come to church because the lazy ones do not attend. Have a good time with those who do attend, and the others will hear of it and turn out to see what is going on.—Dr. King.

The driver of the tramcar through the streets of our city starts with his car upon a line which runs continuously to his journey's end. If he goes on straight ahead he will surely come to the destined place. Should he be able to see all the route at once he would observe many coal wagons, furniture vans, timber carriages, brewer's drays and the like, blocking up his road along the rails, and he might mournfully ask, "How can I move all these?" But he takes no such lengthened view and asks no such useless question. As he moves along, all sorts of obstructive traffic gives way before him—even the van demous yield him the road. When one of them is a little slow in getting out of the way, our driver blows his whistle, and, after two or three shrill appeals, the obstinate vehicle retires. As the rails run all the way, so does the car. Just so we are on the rails of eternal life. Between us and heaven there are a thousand obstructions, and if we think of them all, we may well be fearful; but they will one and all disappear as we come to them. If they should seem likely to bar our progress, we must sound the whistle of prayer, and in due season they will turn aside, and leave us a clear road along the lines of covenant grace. Therefore, go ahead, and fear no impediment; for the line is laid, and we have a legal right to travel along it, and none may lawfully hinder us. This is what I learned from the driver of the tramcar.—C. H. Spurgeon.

Personal.

—A note from Bro. H. P. Strong, Forrest City, Ark., informs us that Rev. D. H. E. Harris, pastor of our church at Bledsoe, Ark., met with a sad accident while at church Sunday Nov. 29. The house occupied by his family caught fire and burned down, destroying everything they possessed; one child was burned badly, another burned to death. We sympathize with them in their bereavement. Friends are doing what they can to make up their losses.

—Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Bunkie, La., are rejoicing over the advent of a fine girl in their family circle, on the 11th day of December.

—The whole church will rejoice to learn that Bishop Merrill is steadily improving. He will soon be out, fully restored to his normal health.

—Rev. B. H. Badley, of our mission at Lucknow, India, is dead. So says a cablegram to our Mission Rooms, New York.

—Dr. Thad A. Walker, of Baton Rouge, La., spent the past week in this city, delivering a portion of his course of lectures on Gynecology to the medical classes at New Orleans University. He is thoroughly up on all the lines connected with this branch of practice and is giving the young disciples of Esculapins the full benefit of his culture and experience. He will conclude the course of lectures in January.

—A cablegram from Lucknow, Dec. 2, announced that a daughter was born to Bishop Thoburn.

—The Rev. Dr. Joel Eaton, of Troy Conference, has gone to Florida for a period of rest. Mrs. Eaton accompanies him.

—Bishop Bowman has the sympathy of the entire church in the loss of his son, Clarence E. Bowman, lately deceased at the Bishop's home in St. Louis. He was but a young man, but had been ill with consumption for some time. He was buried beside his mother at Greencastle, Ind.

—Rev. P. W. Clark, of Wilson, La., within the past ten months has suffered the most overwhelming affliction and bereavement in the loss of his precious wife and four children. The last two died only a few days ago. We greatly sympathize with him. Let the church pray for sustaining grace for him, from our Heavenly Father who alone can cheer and comfort him.

—We regret to learn that the wife of Dean Govin, of the School of Theology, DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., died on Wednesday of last week, after a very short illness. The Dean has been sick for over a week.

—Rev. E. B. Topp, late missionary to Africa, and pastor of a Baptist church and editor of the People's Defender, Jackson, Miss., was in attendance upon the Baptist celebration in this city last week, and paid us an appreciated call. He does not entertain the most sanguine hope for Africa from internal development. He thinks that the helpful influences must come from without, from cultured and thoroughly Christianized American Negro immigrants.

—After several months absence, ex-Gov. Kellogg has returned to this city to spend the holidays. His hold upon the affections of the colored people of this country and State is but the result of his faithfulness to them. They manifest it by the way they besiege him at the St. Charles Hotel, where he is stopping.

Ex-Gov. Pinchback returned from Washington last Friday, looking the very picture of health.

—Mrs. Pierre, wife of Rev. J. H. Pierre, of Marthaville, La., is on a visit to friends in this city.

—Rev. J. F. Marshall, of the Baton Rouge District, was in the city last week on a brief visit from his country work, which he reports in excellent condition.

—Rev. Eugene Baptiste, of St. John, is closing a very successful work there. He so reported when in the city a few days ago.

—Rev. Pierre Landry, of the South New Orleans district, has completed his work in the city. He spent last Sunday at New River. He made a present call on his way returning to his home in Donaldsonville.

—After spending several weeks here delivering a course of instructive lectures on surgery at the New Orleans University Medical College, Dr. W. J. Sneed of Nashville, Tenn., has returned home. His method of instruction and his genial and friendly disposition, greatly endeared him to the school, and the students look forward with great pleasure to his early return to deliver other lectures in January.

—Dr. G. L. Curtis, of DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., is here delivering his annual course of lectures on nervous diseases, at the New Orleans University Medical College, and is impressing himself most favorably upon the students. His lectures are instructive and interesting. His lecture on the "Influence of Alcohol and Tobacco on the System," at the University, is the theme of conversation among both professors and students. Bishop Mallalien is to be congratulated upon his success in securing his services, as one of the lecturers for the Medical College.

—Hon. Preston B. Plumb, U. S. Senator from Kansas during the past fifteen years, died suddenly, from apoplexy, at Washington, last Sunday morning. He was in the prime of life, and gave promise of many years of service. His death, brought on by overwork, is a great national loss.

Bishop Vincent and Dr. J. L. Harbut have returned from Europe. The Bishop is much improved, and appears to be entirely restored.

Bishop Goodsell has returned to Texas after his long absence.

Dr. Sanford Hunt has gone from New York to Mexico to look after the Missionary Society and Publication Department interests there. He will be absent about five weeks.

Dr. C. B. Anderson, of Gilbert Academy, Winsted, La., was in the city last week. He reports the academy in a flourishing condition.

Rev. F. L. Juillerat, formerly of Pennsylvania, now engaged in our French mission work in this city, makes us an occasional visit, and reports much encouragement in his work.

Books and Current Literature.

The New England Magazine for December is particularly well illustrated, and all the articles are interesting, without being Christ-massy. The stories are better than those in some of the bigger magazines, which run to names and names only; and one by Herbert D. Ward, called only an incident, is as true and pathetic as anything by Gogol or Tolstol. A number of new artists are finding a channel for their talent in this progressive magazine, and they are making it the equal of any magazine on the newstands in this respect. Boston, Mass.

The Ladies' Home Journal has a strong and attractive prospectus for 1892. Mrs. Gladstone is to write a series of practical articles for mothers on hints from a Mother's Life; Mamie Dickens, the eldest daughter of Charles Dickens, is to write eight reminiscence papers on My Father as I Recall Him; Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher will continue to tell of Mr. Beecher as I Knew Him; Mrs. McKee, President Harrison's daughter, is to write on the training of children; Palmer Cox's Brownies will appear all the year; while Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. Wanamaker, Mrs. ex-Secretary Whitney and a score of other diners-out, will tell whether or not the use of wine is decreasing at fashionable dinners.

"What shall we do with our boys?" "Whose boys?" "Your boys; your neighbor's boys; everybody's boys." Boys will be boys, but not everyone knows how to manage them; but if you wish some practical, common sense suggestions, read an article published in the January number of Demorest's Family Magazine. Subscription price, $2. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th street, New York City.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which it is made, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.

Housekeepers Should Remember.

The great success of the Royal Baking Powder is due to the extreme care exercised by its manufacturers to make it entirely pure, uniform in quality, and of the highest leavening power. All the scientific knowledge, care and skill, attained by twenty-five years' practical experience, are contributed toward this end, and no preparation can be made with a greater accuracy, precision and exactness. Every article used is absolutely pure. Chemists are employed to test the strength of each ingredient, so that its exact effect in combination with its co-ingredients is definitely known. Nothing is trusted to chance, and no person is employed in the preparation of the materials used, or the manufacture of the powder, who is not an expert in his particular branch of the business.

As a consequence, the Royal Baking Powder is of the highest grade of excellence, always pure, wholesome and uniform in quality. Each box is exactly like every other, and will retain its power, and produce the same and the highest leavening effect in any climate, at any time.

The Government Chemists, after having analyzed all the principal brands in the market, in their reports placed the Royal Baking Powder at the head of the list for strength, purity and wholesomeness; and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

Conference Notices.

Louisiana Conference Notice. By the kind consent of Rev. F. T. Chinn, the class of the third year's course of study is hereby notified to meet at Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, Tuesday, January 11, 1892, at 12 m., for the purpose to undergo this examination.

By request of
H. J. WRIGHT,
Z. T. GAYDEN, Sec.
CHAS. K. WOODSON, Committee.

Reduced rates have been secured for all intending to attend the Louisiana Conference at its next session in this city January 12, on all the several railroads in this State. The rate will be 1/2 fare for the round trip, on the certificate plan, except on the Southern Pacific railroad, on which round trip tickets will be sold at same rate. Timely detail notices will be given next week. A. E. P. ALBERT, Secretary Louisiana Conference.

Mississippi Conference Notice. Ministers, delegates and friends attending the Mississippi Annual Conference, to be held at Meridian, Miss., commencing Jan. 6, 1892, are certain to get certificates at the place where tickets are purchased, showing that full fare has been paid in going, and you will be returned for one-third regular fare by having them signed by the secretary of the conference. J. M. SHUMPERT, Sec'y.

What is lacking is truth and confidence.

If there were absolute truth on the one hand and absolute confidence on the other, it wouldn't be necessary for the makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy to back up a plain statement of fact by a $500 guarantee.

They say—"If we can't cure you (make it personal, please), of catarrh in the head, in any form or stage, we'll pay you $500 for your trouble in making the trial."

"An advertising fake," you say.

Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute.

Wise men don't put money back of "fakes."

And "faking" doesn't pay.

Magical little granules—those tiny, sugar-coated Pellets of Dr. Pierce's—scarcely larger than mustard seeds, yet powerful to cure—active yet mild in operation: The best Liver Pill ever invented. Cure sick headache, dizziness, constipation. One a dose.

THE TRIBUTE OF LOVE.

[At the recent Woman's Christian Temperance Union Convention in Boston, Miss Willard having arrived, Mrs. Louise A. Farrington of Boston, read this poem, written by Miss Ella G. Ives and dedicated to President Willard.]

No rank or title she,
No royal pedigree.
Our uncrowned queen,
And yet o'er every heart,
With love's persuasive art
She rules and reigns apart,
Anointed queen.

Long may she live to know
All that love can bestow,
Our peerless queen.
All that trust can inspire,
Fanning God's altar fire
Till it burns high and higher
In our dear queen.

God keep her pure as snow,
Growing as lilies grow,
Our gracious queen.
Let angels camp around
When danger signals sound,
Under God's wing be found
Our loyal queen.

When poisoned arrows fly,
Faith's shield be lifted high
By our good queen.
Trusting in God alone
To feed each human moan
Till foes are overthrown,
God save our queen.

O God, who lovest best Hearts gentle love possessed
Subject though queen.
Fearless to do and dare,
Gentlest to be and bear,
Fairest when all are fair,
God love our queen.

The Household.

Easy Way to Make Soup.

Why is it that so many people think it a hard matter to have soup for dinner, and why is it that those who have the most available material for this purpose often use it the least?

You do not necessarily need meat. Brain makes an excellent stock, and ought to be used by housekeepers, specially during the summer months, as it is inexpensive and contains much of the nutritive property of meat.

It is made in the proportion of one cup bran, six cups water, one-half teaspoon salt; this should boil slowly two or three hours, should then be strained and set aside to cool, forming a stock from which many varieties of soup may be made, such as rice, puree, vegetable soup, potato soup, etc. It all depends upon what you put with it.

Have in the house always a bottle of celery-salt, some bay leaves and whole cloves. Five cents' worth of bay leaves, to be bought at the druggists', will last a dozen years. Into perhaps a quart or more of the stock, put one hour before dinner half an onion sliced, and three tablespoons of well washed rice. Let this boil gently. A few minutes before dinner add a saltspoon of celery-salt, pepper and salt to taste. Chop a little fresh parsley fine and put into the tureen. It will not flavor much, but will look pretty. A little here means a teaspoonful when chopped. The rice meantime has boiled itself into a thickish substance, forming what is called a puree. Try it.

CANNED GRAPES.—Carefully pick from the stems and wash the grapes. Remove the skins, dropping the skins in one vessel and pulp in another. When all are thus prepared, put the pulps in a preserving-kettle over the fire and stir constantly until the seeds come out clean. Then press the mass through a colander, add the skins to the pulp, weigh them, and to one pound of grapes allow one half pound of sugar. Boil one hour and a half and put in glass jars while hot and seal. Thirteen pounds of grapes and six and one-half pounds of sugar will fill six quart cans.

CANNED PEARS.—Ten pounds of fruit, peeled, halved and cored, five pounds of sugar, one lemon, sliced, one teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, one teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, a piece of ginger-root, three inches long. Tie the cinnamon and nutmeg loosely in a thin muslin bag. Cook all together till the pears turn pink, then bottle and seal hot.

Some merchants get the best they can; some get the meanest they can.

Your dealer in lamp-chimneys—what does he get for you? There are common glass and tough glass, tough against heat. There are foggy and clear. There are rough and fine. There are carefully made and hap-hazard.

You can't be an expert in chimneys; but this you can do. Insist on Macbeth's "pearl top" or "pearl glass" which ever shape you require. They are right in all those ways; and they do not break from heat, not one in a hundred.

Be willing to pay a nickel more for them.

Geo. A. Macbeth & Co.

General News Items.

J. W. White, the courtly president of the Penny Savings Bank, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was born and reared a slave, and recently had the peculiar honor and pleasure of entertaining at his home the man whose property he at one time was.

Not only has this presumably colored bank many white shareholders and depositors, but they include some of the most prominent citizens and staunchest Democrats in Chattanooga. To use president White's language, "Politics counts no figure." One of his best white friends, a Democrat, owns four paid-up shares of the bank, and among the shareholders can be found white men of various professions, and one or two society leaders. Of the $20,000 which the bank has now outstanding in loans, a large proportion has been loaned to white business houses in sums reaching as high, in one or two instances, as $3,000.

It has stockholders in New York City, Boston, Medford, Mass., Cincinnati, New Orleans, Atlanta, Savannah, Little Rock, Macon, Memphis, Nashville, Natchez, Austin, Tex., Murfreesboro and Salisbury, N. C. The Memphis stockholders have asked for a branch for their city, and the matter will be decided at the next meeting of the board of directors.

The depositors come from all ranks and conditions of life, both sexes and all ages and colors, the deposits ranging from 1 cent to thousands of dollars. About 30 per cent of the depositors are women, one hard-working colored woman being credited with $1,500. There are many ludicrous points about the deposits. For instance, several depositors have had only 2 cents on deposit for a year, and recently a little boot-black drew out 1 cent on his account. Several accounts of hard working people show how the deposits grow from a cent or two to hundreds of dollars. One laborer who began with $2 has been piling up an average saving of $20 per month.

Though only a year old the 26th of last May, the business has been steadily increasing. Up to Aug. 1, there were 1,218 depositors, and the indebtedness to depositors has increased from $16,531.19 last March to $19,863.36. The shares number 1,372 and pay an aggregate of about $400 per month. The officers are: J. W. White, president; John McKey, vice president; H. N. Willis, cashier; Edwin F. Horne and F. W. Henderson, book-keepers.

Mrs. Jane Lewis, an aged colored lady living at Springfield, O., has been awarded her share of $50,000 left by her former master, Col. Taylor, a Kentucky planter. The will has been in litigation for more than thirty years.

All interested in the teaching of young children will be glad to read Mrs. Mary Alling Aber's account of An Experiment in Education, in the forthcoming January Popular Science Monthly. It is a sample of the sporadic efforts to introduce little children to real knowledge, which promise valuable results in the near future.

Our Symposium.

The editor of the London Methodist Recorder in a review of the Ecumenical Conference, of which he was a member, has this to say of the American Methodist Bishops: "We Englishmen were curious to see the Bishops of the American Churches. In outward appearance they are not to be distinguished from other men. Hats, coats, and hosen are such as the gentleman of America, from the President downward, usually wear. The Bishops are not without dignity, but they appear to cultivate a studious simplicity and homeliness of manner, and only show that they are 'lords of the sanctuary and princes in Israel' by their ability in handling affairs. By far the best presidents of the conference were the Bishops, white and colored, Northern and Southern, including Dr. Carman, who, though non-Episcopal and only a 'General Superintendent,' has all the ways and signs, and discharges many of the duties, of a Bishop or Archbishop. They were all very much at home in the chair—conventions, rigidly adherent to rule and order, non-talkative, sound in judgment, swift to decide, and absolutely impartial—save that their consideration for Eastern delegates led them at times to see more with the right eye than with the left. If we Englishmen returned to America next year for another and similar conference we should be quite content to leave all business arrangements, and the chair, to the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal, the Methodist Episcopal South, and the Colored Churches."

Ex-Gov. Larrabee, in an interview with a reporter of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, gave his views of the Iowa election as follows: "It is nonsense to claim that the people of Iowa are against prohibition because Gov. Boies was re-elected, and I believe that if to-day the question of prohibition or no prohibition were submitted to the people of Iowa the vote would be overwhelmingly in favor of prohibition. Wheeler, Westfall, the People's party man, and the prohibition candidate for Governor were all for prohibition, and their combined vote was much larger than the vote for Gov. Boies. Yes, sir; the people of Iowa are still in favor of prohibition, and the Republican members of the Legislature will see to it that the Democrats do not succeed in any attempt to repeal the present prohibitory law."

THE HAIR

When not properly cared for, loses its lustre, becomes crisp, harsh, and dry, and falls out freely with every combing. To prevent this, the best and most popular dressing in the market is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, heals troublesome humors of the scalp, restores faded and gray hair to its original color, and imparts to it a silky texture and a lasting fragrance. By using this preparation, the poorest head of hair soon and beautiful. All who have once tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, want no other dressing. Galbraith & Starks, Druggists, Sharon Grove, Ky., write: "We believe Ayer's Hair Vigor to be the best preparation of the kind in the market, and will use it of all others. No drug store is complete without a supply of it." "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor with great benefit and know several other persons, between 40 and 50 years of age, who have experienced similar good results from the use of this preparation. It restores gray hair to its original color, promotes a new growth, gives lustre to the hair, and cleanses the scalp of dandruff."—Bernardo Ochoa, Madrid, Spain.

Becomes Luxuriant

After Using

A number of other preparations without any satisfactory result. I find that Ayer's Hair Vigor is causing my hair to grow."—A. J. Osment, General Merchant, Indian Head, N. W. T. "Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only preparation I could ever find to remove dandruff, cure itching humors, and prevent loss of hair. I can confidently recommend it."—J. C. Butler, Spencer, Mass. "My wife believes that the money spent for Ayer's Hair Vigor was the best investment she ever made. It has given her so much satisfaction."—James A. Adams, St. Augustine, Texas.

OUR BABY-YEAR.

Happy Baby January
Comes, though winds be quite contrary;
Fearless, comes at early dawning,
Silently as comes the morning;
Smiling, though the snow-flakes blind her,
Leaving the old year behind her.

Baby-year, the children greet thee,
Stand with outstretched hands to meet thee.
Bring them sunshine, bring them blessing,
Every tender heart caressing;
Shield them from the blight of sin, Guard and keep them pure within.
—MRS. S. J. BRIGIAM.

1892.

Happy New Year.

CONFERENCE is coming.

PRAY for the baptism of the Holy Ghost.

LET every undergraduate push his studies vigorously and come to Conference prepared to stand his examination.

Have you registered this year? Unless you register this year, you will not be able to vote against the lottery in the coming election. Attend to this matter at once.

Every patriotic and God fearing man should register and help wipe out the lottery gambling and iniquity from the fair name of Louisiana.

The pro-lottery people say, if we get rid of the Louisiana lottery, foreign lotteries will flourish here in its stead. Don't let any such dry rot prevent you from doing your present duty. It will be time enough to fight foreign lotteries when they come. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

Have you paid up your pastor's salary in full this year? How do you expect him to pay his debts, before leaving for conference and to meet his obligations to the Book Concern, etc., at conference, if you do not pay him? How do you expect your pastor to pay his debts if you don't pay him? The workman is worthy of his hire. Pay him what you owe him.

THE desperation of cranks to make themselves notorious has been recently manifested in the attacks made upon Rev. Dr. John Hall and Russell Sage in New York a few days ago. The former was shot at three times on his way from his church to his parsonage. The latter was attacked by a bomb-thrower, whose dynamite explosive shattered himself to splinters. Mr. Sage was not injured. He was attacked in his own office by the man who demanded his life or $1,200,000 of his money.

Emancipation Proclamation of President Lincoln.

Issued January 1st, 1863.

WHEREAS, on the 22d day of September, in the year of our Lord 1862, a proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing, among other things, the following, to wit:

"That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any states, or designated part of a state, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforth, and forever, free, and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act, or acts, to repress such persons, or any of them, in any effort they may make for their eternal freedom.

"That the Executive will, on the first day of January, aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the states, or parts of states, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively, shall then be in rebellion against the United States, and the fact that any state, or the people thereof, shall on that day be in good faith represented in the Congress of the United States, by members chosen thereto at election, wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such state shall have participated, shall in absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such state, and the people thereof, are not in rebellion against the United States."

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested, as Commander in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, in time of actual, armed rebellion against the authority and Government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary war measure for suppressing said rebellion, do, on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaimed for the full period of one hundred days, from the first day above mentioned, order and designate as the states, or parts of states, wherein the people thereof, respectively, are this day in rebellion against the United States, the following, to wit:

Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana (except the parishes of St. Bernard, Plaquemines, Jefferson, St. John, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Terre Bonne, Lafourche, St. Marie, St. Martin and Orleans, [including the city of New Orleans]) Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia (except the forty-eight counties designated as West Virginia, and also the counties of Berkeley, Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City, York, Princess Ann and Norfolk, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth,) and which excepted parts are, for the present, left precisely as if this proclamation were not issued.

And by virtue of the power, and for the purpose aforesaid, I do order and declare that all persons held as slaves within said designated states, and parts of states, are, and henceforth, shall be free; and that the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of said persons.

And I hereby enjoin upon the people, so declared to be free, to abstain from all violence, unless in necessary self-defense; and I recommend to them, that in all cases, when allowed, they labor faithfully for reasonable wages. And I further declare and make known that such persons, of suitable condition, will be received into the armed service of the United States to garrison forts, positions, stations and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service. And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my name, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

[L. S.] By the President, ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Secretary of State.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.
Suggestions on Timely Topics.

BY REV. D. W. HAYS, D.D.

We heartily concur in the opinion so ably championed by the SOUTHWESTERN, that the time has come for the election of a colored bishop, and we strongly favor agitating the matter, especially through the medium of the church press. But we will not speak defiantly. We will utter no threat. We will provoke no quarrel with any one. We will not try to compel a hearing by hurling in the faces of those who differ from us, words of insolent challenge. The reasonableness of our plea can, we think, be made to appear without bluster. At any rate, we are inclined to risk the result upon the force of rational argument, stated in a manner, at once calm and dignified. We hold dear in our hearts the old church, which has stood by us at so great a sacrifice, amidst embarrassing circumstances that can not be numbered. We believe as firmly as ever in her profound interest in our present and future weal. That she will prove worthy of the trust and veneration she has inspired in our bosoms none dare as yet, question. Some would have us stop here, in this confiding mood, and wait until the day arrives when the promotion of a colored man to the bishopric will have ceased to be looked upon with anxiety and dread, by the more conservative element of the church. They think our attitude towards the office should be expressed somewhat as follows: It is too high for us; we can not attain unto it now.

We venture were they to put themselves in our place, see things as we see them; grapple with what we grapple; feel what we feel; and suffer what we suffer, they would behold our conduct, on this issue, in a new light, and sanction both our zeal and judgment.

Between our white and colored work in all sections, a more perfect understanding is needed. A close bond needs to be established and a sweeter Christian fellowship enjoyed at all times. Much ignorance and prejudice, on both sides, would be banished by more friendly contact and mutual interchange of views.

West Texas Conference.

This conference opened its nineteenth session Dec. 16, at Victoria, Texas, in Webster Chapel M. E. Church, Bishop Hurst presiding. The sacrament was administered by the Bishop and Presiding Elders. The Bishop addressed the conference and referred to the fact that he had held the conference five years ago in this very city and expressed his pleasure on being present again. Roll was called and the conference elected B. F. Smith, secretary; P. M. Carmichael, treasurer; and C. P. Westbrooks, statistical secretary.

A draft of $512 on Book Concern dividend and one of $30 on Chartered Fund was ordered.

Rev. Mack Henson, Presiding Elder, reported the Austin district, and each of his elders reported his work.

Rev. O. L. Madison, Presiding Elder, reported the Columbus district, as did his elders the charges they had held.

Rev. H. Swann, Presiding Elder, reported his sixth year's work on the San Antonio district. His elders reported their work.

Rev. T. F. Dimmit, of M. E. Church South, and Dr. A. H. Gillett were introduced. Conference adjourned with benediction.

SECOND DAY.

Devotions by Rev. G. W. Brothers.

After approval of the journal, Revs. G. J. Izard and Dr. I. B. Scott of the Texas Conference were introduced.

Rev. Andrew Foster, Presiding Elder of the Waco district, reported his work. The conference passed the character of Revs. J. Bnell, Sam Gates, H. Jackson, C. P. Westbrooks, W. J. Mitchell, G. Norman, J. A. Hall, and they reported.

Under the call of the third question, Julius Williams and N. J. Johnson were passed to the second year, and Joseph Harford was continued in the first year on trial.

The twelfth question was called and J. H. Swann, A. Dickerson, J. W. Wormley, E. Jones and J. H. Pernell were enrolled as deacons of the first class.

Those of the second class are G. A. Shanklin, R. P. Brown and Green Bragner.

Benediction was pronounced by Dr. Gillett.

THIRD DAY.

Devotions by Rev. B. F. Whitaker.

The journal was approved and the fourteenth question taken up. James Brawley, D. C. Lacey, G. W. Brothers, B. F. Whitaker and P. B. Bennett were elected elders. Elbert Ford was granted the supernumary relation and requested to locate.

Prince Wilson and London Morris were reported deceased.

J. J. Collins, W. H. Stephens and E. E. Cooper, supernumary preachers were made effective. Morton Lott and S. W. Harvey were continued in the same relation.

The conference being entitled to one ministerial delegate to the General Conference, Rev. Harry Swann was elected; Rev. Mack Henson, reserve. Mr. B. J. Henry of Waco, is the lay delegate; Mr. J. C. Johns of San Marcos, reserve.

Rev. I. B. Scott, D.D., addressed the conference in the interest of the SOUTHWESTERN, which he was attending the conference to represent.

The vote on the restrictive rule resulted in 23 for and 25 against. On the question of equal lay representation, the vote stood 1 for and 42 against.

Dr. A. H. Gillett addressed the conference in the interest of the Itinerants' Club. His resolutions were referred to a committee which finally reported them favorably, except that the conference prefers to hold its club meeting's alone, rather than with the Texas Conference. The Doctor's resolution organizing the conference into an Epworth League was adopted, and

Dr. J. F. McKinley was elected president and Rev. P. M. Carmichael secretary.

Anstin was selected as the seat of the next conference.

The supernumary preachers are Robt. Dukes, Nathan Caswell, D. Harper, A. Brack, G. Wilson, Toney Angus, W. Graves, P. Johnson, A. R. Norris, R. P. Brown, C. O. Scrnggs and Lee Reed.

Benediction by Dr. I. B. Scott.

FOURTH DAY.

Devotions by Rev. W. H. Mosby, and minutes of previous session approved. G. R. Bryant, T. S. Moore and G. R. Smith being local preachers were elected to deacons orders. Turner S. Moore, Joseph Harford and G. R. Bryant were admitted on trial. The fifth question was called and J. H. Swan, A. Dickerson, J. W. Wormley, E. Jones, and J. H. Pernell were admitted into full connection. The secretary read a communication from the Texas Conference concerning the northern part of the boundary line between the two conferences. It was referred to a special committee which reported they desired further time for consideration. The conference voted to send a memorial to the General Conference in opposition to the proposed change.

Committees on Church Extension, Missions, Freedmen's Aid, Bible Cause, Education, Tracts and Temperance reported, and their reports were adopted. The report on books and periodicals excited considerable discussion. Revs. H. Swann, M. C. Cavenas and others spoke forcibly in favor of the support of the SOUTHWESTERN, and strong resolutions were adopted indorsing the paper and requesting the re-election of its present editor.

A communication from Dr. Hartzell concerning the Sam Houston College, was read. He stated work on the building would begin soon. To conference voted to apportion to the four districts $3,000, to be raised as soon as possible for building purposes.

The credentials of C. Hacketts were restored.

Benediction by Dr. Gillett.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Devotion by Charles Hart. The various standing committees and conference boards were nominated and elected. Resolutions complimentary to the Bishop, Drs. Gillett and Scott were read and adopted; also others thanking the people of Victoria for their hospitality and the railroads for reduced rates. A memorial to the General Conference, asking the establishment of a depository and printing office at New Orleans, was adopted. Conference adjourned to meet Monday morning at 7:30.

Benediction by the bishop.

The Sunday services were largely attended by the people of Victoria, Goliad and the surrounding country. Bishop Hurst preached at 11 a. m., Dr. I. B. Scott at 3 p. m., and Rev. A. Brown at night. Overflowing meetings were held in the Baptist Church near by.

The treasurer reported $1,905 as the benevolent collections for the year. The membership is about 9,618.

A RECENT issue of the Iowa Methodist, contains an able editorial in which it is clearly shown that the re-election of Gov. Boies, the whisky candidate, was not an anti-prohibition victory. It was rather the result of a division of the vote of prohibitionists. Had the third party prohibitionists voted the Republican ticket, which was committed to prohibition, Boies and his whisky supporters would have been overwhelmingly defeated.

The majority of the people of Iowa have not repudiated prohibition as the whisky folks would make us believe.

THE Nashville Christian Advocate imagines that "the heaven is working," which will influence the Methodist Episcopal Church to get out of the South, and leave the field to the Church South. The heaven may be working, but we predict that Dr. Hays will have to look down upon such a picture from "mansions in the skies."

Letters from the Districts.

Pine Bluff District, Little Rock Conference.

GEO. W. LACEY, P. E.

Dear Editor: Permit me to answer a few letters which ask for certain appointments in the Little Rock Conference.

Dear brothers, we only have one Wesley Chapel in Little Rock, and one St. James at Pine Bluff—and these kingdoms are not mine to give; so brothers, please don't ask me for certain appointments.

The Pine Bluff District has 15 appointments and 24 houses of worship, and the 25th is now being erected. If any brother transfers, and the Bishop appoints him on the Pine Bluff District, he will find a church ready for him, and a congregation. The support will largely depend on you.

Three years ago on this district, being a new district, we found 3 churches and 4 men, with 353 members; to-day we have 1005 members and can invite you in a church building on every circuit and station. This was done largely with local men, who could neither administer the sacrament, baptize or marry; what ought a minister do clothed with all the authority of the church?

Brethren, I voice the sentiment of the Little Rock Conference in saying, if work is what you are looking for, come to Arkansas. We promise you the Church Extension Society as a Moses, the Missionary Society as an Aaron, Philander Smith College with Dr. Mason as a Joshua, the SOUTHWESTERN with Dr. Albert as a Paul.

I deny the report that I mislead transfers in coming here. I simply wrote the Bishop requesting him to bring 5 men with him, and 7 came. I made no promises to these brethren. Out of these brethren that came, Brothers Qualls, McDonald, W. Brooks and Spears have made their marks, and by so doing have reflected honor upon their former conference, the Louisiana, from which they came. I have nothing to say of the other brethren on the other districts returning. Bro. Geo. Payne, the only one on my district that left, returned with $10 of missionary money that did not belong to him. I wish he would send the voucher.

Central Alabama Conference, Decatur, Alabama.

WESLEY PRETTYMAN.

My Dear Albert: You and the friends of Jesus, through our Advocate, will be pleased to learn that His glorious cause progresses in our bounds, and redeemed men have been coming to him through the closing conference year. On the Triana Circuit, where Bro. Jackson harper is in charge, 100 have been saved and added to the churches, and all our Methodist interests give signs of gathering strength and increased vitality. The pastor has toiled well and wisely, and success has crowned his efforts.

On Blountsville Circuit, Bro. G. W. Reeves pastor, 75 have joined as, while the interests of church building and improvement have flourished.

Athens, Rev. G. W. Mann in charge, has added 40, with a good year in all respects.

Decatur, with Bro. L. H. Mixon, in the parsonage, has had a good and growing year of peace and solidity.

Several of our charges are struggling nobly and hopefully with church building.

At Huntsville our Conference Academy, in charge of Prof. McKinney, has a good attendance and is doing a good work.

All the interests of the Scottsboro work have been carefully, ably and successfully managed, but the messenger of death came to the parsonage Nov. 27, finding our dear and honored Sister Joiner full and ripe for the kingdom above, and bore her happy spirit to its blissful realms.

Letters from the Pastors.

SPECIAL TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Please take note, 1st. That all anonymous letters go directly to our waste basket; 2d. Letters must be written on only one side of the paper; 3d. No frivolous questions will be noticed; 4th. Abbreviations should not be used; 5th. Notes and items must be condensed so as to insure brevity; 6th. We return no manuscript.

Notwithstanding the opposition which he has had to meet at Solgohachie, Ark., this conference year, Rev. L. B. Brown reports encouraging success in every department of his work.

A. Venable, Boncheste village, La.

Our tribe rally for benevolence was a grand success. The following ministers were present and preached: Revs. I. Carter, N. Oller, S. S. Fuller, T. Fairfax, S. R. Hason and the writer. Collection, $16.70.

W. S. Leake, Shuqualak, Miss.

During last quarter have paid pastor $127; Presiding Elder $15; raised for benevolences $20; for building $105; conversions 75; accessions 61. Two months after my arrival here, I was deprived of two of my churches, Scooba and Bienville, which are in the bounds of Lower Mississippi Conference. So the Presiding Elder of Meridian district contended for them. There fore I vacated, having only one completed church on the work. But I being acquainted with hard labor and toiling to build churches, went to work and now have two new churches and $45 for the third one. This year has been a hard pull for us. But thank the Lord, we are not in debt. I am sorry to say we haven't done much for the paper, (only seven copies taken), but hope to have twenty-five the ensuing year.

Rev. H. W. Conner, Mt. Sterling, Ala., is closing a year of grand success. He as well as several of his officers, Jos. Jackson, I. Wethen, Henry Carpenter and G. Nelson ascribe his success very largely to his practice of reading the SOUTHWESTERN to his people from the pulpit and from house to house. The practice also enables him to get many subscribers. A good plan.

W. A. Webber, Tate Springs, Tenn.

Our revival meeting closed Nov. 17, resulting in 8 conversions and 5 additions to the church. Dec. 1, on my way to Oliver Springs, to meet the district conference, I stopped over at Mossey creek. Rev. G. Branner, pastor, and his people are moving along nicely, they have just bought a new organ for their church. This church raised $10 for the corner-stone laying of the Morristown Academy, on the 26th of November. Our Presiding Elder, Rev. E. Provine, was present and opened the conference on time. Reaching the conference the writer was elected secretary. Bro. Knott, the pastor, and his good people know how to care for a district conference. All the charges showed up well. Sunday was a grand day. Owing to the Presiding Elder not being well, Rev. W. T. Anderson of the Morristown station, preached at 11 o'clock to a crowded house, to the edification of the people. There were 5 or 6 who rose for prayer. At night there were 5 persons at the altar, and 2 joined the church. Collection, $22. This church has just been newly ceiled, and a new $12 stove put up. The most of us left Monday morning for home, but the meeting is going on. Some of the preachers remaining to help in the meeting. The SOUTHWESTERN was fully indorsed by the conference, and the Presiding Elder is doing all he can for the paper.

G. W. Winn, Tallahassee, Ala.

We have closed our fall revival with 60 converts and the good work is still going on.

S. Jackson, Hibernia, Fla.

I was first appointed to this circuit by Bishop Newman, in 1889. We did not have but one church and no parsonage. Now I am pleased to say that we have a fine parsonage at Hibernia, and a new church at Green Cove Springs. The first sermon was preached in it on the second Sunday in May last, and our first collection was $20. Green Cove Springs is the county seat of Clay county, 6 miles from Hibernia. Our next district conference has been appointed to meet there in our new church. The name of the church is St. Matthew, named in honor of the now sainted Bishop Matthew Simpson. I am pleased to say that the good Lord is with us. We have two Sunday schools on the circuit which promises to be the hope of the church in the future. The fourth Sunday in this month is to be our Missionary Day. Our Presiding Elder, Rev. B. Dilworth, was with us Oct. 26, and preached a grand sermon. The Lord has blessed us this year. We have had much sickness, but no deaths.

S. J. Woods, Green Hill, Miss.

Our fourth quarterly conference was held at St. Mark's M. E. Church, Nov. 12, 13, Rev. J. Campbell in the chair. Paid Presiding Elder $12.25. Raised for building and other purposes $276. A new work has been organized on Lake George, and $30 raised to build a new church. The elder gave us a good talk on church law, which was very timely. We have 8 subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN. We all love the grand old paper. The elder preached a glorious sermon on Sunday and administered the Lord's Supper.

S. D. Troupe, Batesville, Miss.

My fourth quarterly conference was held Dec. 5, 6, in the new church. The church was dedicated on Saturday by Rev. H. R. Revels, D.D., assisted by the pastor. Miss Rachael Turner and Emeline Harris took a part in the dedication services, and also G. W. Baker, from Hernando. The elder preached a sermon that will never be forgotten. Collection, $15.

Some one who don't sign his name says our people are preparing to build a church at Leesville, La. The ground is promised for it.

You've No Idea

How nicely Hood's Sarsaparilla hits the needs of people who feel "all tired out" or "run down," from any cause. It seems to oil up the whole mechanism of the body so that all moves smoothly and work becomes a positive delight. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

Letters from the Laity.

E. G. Gater, Elliott circuit, Miss.

Our beloved pastor, W. H. Scott, is doing grand work here. He is a power in the Elliott circuit, and is loved by all. We pray that the conference will send him back for another year. Eighty-seven souls have been converted this year. Our fourth quarterly conference was held Nov. 7, 8. Our beloved Presiding Elder, Dr. H. B. Revels, D.D., was with us on Saturday and Sunday and preached two noble sermons at 11 o'clock, and at night to a crowded house. We have three Sunday schools on the circuit in a prosperous condition. Sister Scott is a grand worker in the Sabbath school. We pray that she may be with us a long time to labor in this grand work among the children.

M. L. Dyas of Pleasant Hill, La., says Bro. McGlocklin's year is closing up well. The last Sunday in November a corner-stone was laid by S. Duncan, Presiding Elder, for Taylor Chapel. A church worth $550 has been built.

The official board of our church in Olvert, Texas, passed resolutions asking that their pastor, Rev. W. H. Davis, be returned to them another year.

Josephine Burton, Ocean Springs, Miss., expresses her great admiration for the SOUTHWESTERN, and the hope that it may be in every home. She takes occasion too, to express her hope that the next General Conference will elect a colored bishop.

Books and Current Literature.

The American Temperance Advocate, Carroll, Iowa, has made its appearance to champion the cause of temperance and prohibition.

Africa and America, by the Rev. Alex. Crummell, D.D., rector of St. Luke Church, Washington, D. C., recently issued from the press of Wiley & Co., Springfield, Mass., is Dr. Crummell's masterpiece. It is made up of several historical addresses delivered by the Doctor upon several occasions, and is a contribution of great value; having lived over twenty years in Africa and many more in America, and having been thoroughly educated in England's most renowned university, Cambridge. Dr. Crummell was well prepared to write on both topics suggested in the title of his great book. It will live as a monument to his memory long after he is dead. Price, $1.50.

Bishop Foster's Heresy, by Rev. James E. Lake, B.D., of the New Jersey Conference, is a bold and able attack of Bishop Foster's Beyond the Grave. The author was at one time a student at Drew Seminary under Dr. now Bishop Foster's presidency, and while he displays great love and reverence for his former teacher, he does not spare the position which he takes in the work attacked. Both books must be read to thoroughly appreciate the discussion. Beyond the Grave is published by Hunt & Eaton, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati, and Bishop Foster's Heresy by the author, Bordentown, N. J.

Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati, and Hunt & Eaton, New York, have issued from their presses another volume from the matchless pen of that great writer, Carlisle B. Holding, author of Her Ben, The Little Coporal and other war stories. The young folks, especially, will be delighted with this book. Price, 90 cents.

Number One, or Number Two, by Mary E. Bomford, is author of those charming stories recently published by Hunt & Eaton, New York, and Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati. To begin reading this work is to be held spell bound by its fascination until the last page is devoured. Price, $1.

Wit and Wisdom of Rev. Chas. H. Spurgeon, containing selections from his writings and a sketch of his life and work, by Rev. Richard B. Cook, D.D., author of several valuable works, is before us. It is a worthy tribute to the grandeur of the character it portrays. Mr. Spurgeon is an international representative of the highest type of the Christian ministry, and his sayings, life and work, especially when written in the happy style in which they are here presented, deserve a place in every well furnished library. Conferences will soon meet in most of our territory. What are the pastors doing towards collecting what is due them for this paper? Names sent in by pastors are charged to them for the time stated. Bills have been sent out and we expect them to be paid in full at conference, or before.

CLARK UNIVERSITY

Is a Christian school of high grade, open to students of all classes, without regard to sex or color. It is located at Atlanta, Ga., on a high ridge of timber land, just outside of the city limits. It has 400 acres of the most beautiful lands for farm and campus of any school in the South.

There are four large buildings for college purposes, made of brick and stone, worth $75,000. This University offers superior advantages in the following departments:

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.

This department offers to the student two courses, the regular Classical and the Philosophical. A third course has been recently introduced for the benefit of the "trade student," which takes the Academic Studies and completes a trade in the same time.

TRADE SCHOOL.

Clark University has one of the best trade schools in the South. Blacksmithing, carpentry, carriage-making, wagon-making, painting, harness-making, shoe-making, printing and draughting are all taught. There was about $15,000 worth of work sold out of the shops this past year. Much of this work ranks with the best in the markets.

A special course in the Trade School has been introduced, whereby a student with an English education can devote all of his time in the Trade school, and thus completing his trade in a short period of time.

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society has a splendid building, well equipped, under two skilled teachers. The young ladies who have reached certain classes are put in this building, and taught all the principles of house-keeping, including dress-making and needle work. All the girls not in this building are taught some of these things in the grades.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

There is a normal department thoroughly organized, and conducted by a man of large experience in normal work. Special attention is given to methods of teaching.

ENGLISH GRADES.

There are the regular grades in English after the best common school methods, from the primary to the sixth year.

MUSIC SCHOOL.

The Music School is organized after the best methods, under a skilled teacher, and instruction is given on piano or organ, and also vocal drill to classes or individual lessons.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

The Gammon School of Theology is located within a few rods of the University, and offers the very best advantages to the student preparing for the ministry. For this school, address Dr. Thirkield, President.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

There will be a night school organized to help those students who are behind in certain studies, and especially those who have to work during the day for support.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the school is strict, but seeks to develop in the student self-control and self-reliance.

EXPENSES.

The expenses are as low as they are in any first-class school located at a great central city like Atlanta.

1. Board, room rent, fuel and incidental fee, per month, $10.00
2. Washing, per month, 1.00
3. Student living off the grounds, tuition per month, 1.00
All bills must be paid in advance.

DONALD KENNEDY

Of Roxbury, Mass., Says:

Strange cures by my Medical Discovery come to me every day. Here is one of Paralysis—blindness and the Grip. Now how does my Medical Discovery cure all these? I don't know, unless it takes hold of the hidden forces that make all things.

VIRGINIA CITY, NEVADA, Sept. 26th 1891.

Donald Kennedy—Dear Sir: I will state my case to you. About nine years ago I was paralyzed in my left side, and the best doctors gave me no hope for two years. I was advised to try your Medical Discovery, which did the work, and in a few months I was restored to health. About four years ago I became blind in my left eye by a spotted catarrh. Last March I was taken with La Grippe, and was confined to my bed for three months. At the end of that time, as in the start, then it struck me that your Medical Discovery was the thing for me; so I got a bottle, and before it was half gone I was able to go to my work in the mines. Now in regard to my eyes, as I lost my left eye, and about six months ago my right eye became affected with black spots over the sight as did the left eye—perhaps some twenty of them—but since I have been using your Medical Discovery they all left my right eye but one, and thank God, the bright light of heaven is once more making its appearance in my left eye. I am wonderfully satisfied at it, and thank God and your Medical Discovery.

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. Texas Conference W. H. M. Society.

The ladies of the W. H. M. Society held their annual meeting in Trinity Church, Houston, Texas, Dec. 5 and 6.

Mrs. Lonisa Cole presided. All the districts of the conference were represented, and some of the auxiliaries made very creditable reports.

The Model Home at Marshall came in for a large amount of praise. Twenty-five young women are getting their first lessons in economy, and we trust will make good use of the same.

The necessary committees were formed and the officers appointed for another year. The report of the secretary showed the death of two members, viz: Mrs. Martha Watsons and Mrs. Phoebe Emeline Smith. Two of our mother's jewels have been gathered to the arms of Jesus, Elmer Pratt, aged 2 years and 2 months, and Octavia M. Gilum.

We have five life members, one honorary manager, two hundred and fifty-five adult members, sixteen juveniles and one hundred and twenty-two mother's jewels. The following named sisters will be glad to assist the preachers to organize in their charges: Mrs. Sallie Reeves, Mrs. M. A. Johnson, Mrs. Margaret Wesley, Mrs. Julia Webb, Mrs. M. Brown, Mrs. M. C. Simpson, Mrs. Lonisa Cole, Mrs. I. Howells.

The public meeting was addressed by Dr. A. E. P. Albert, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, and the Rev. P. A. Cool, president of Wiley University, Marshall, Tex., Rev. W. H. Logan, Presiding Elder of Navasota district, who pleads for the Model Home at Marshall.

Rev. H. Webb, late Presiding Elder of Marshall district, gave an account of the organization of the M. E. Church at Sandersville, Tenn., during the war. He then baptized sixty-five persons. He expressed his pleasure in seeing so many of Wiley's students in the conference. Rev. W. Hamilton, Presiding Elder of Marshall district, spoke about the meeting of the sisters and their visit to King Home, also of Mrs. Albright bringing $1000 worth of furniture for the home. The home will make good cooks and housekeepers. Rev. A. Williams, who helps the sisters of the auxiliary, promised to continue his efforts in that direction. Rev. T. Cole, who has the most active auxiliary on the Marshall district, said the King Home will form the character of its inmates. Professor H. B. Pemberton impressed upon us the necessity of being doors. He stated that $6.25 pays the bill for a month in King Home. The report of the conference secretary was read. The following amounts have been raised during the year:

Butler circuit, $1; Franklin, $1; Hearne, $1; Palestine, $1; Livingston, $2; San Augustine, $1; Mt. Vernon, $12; Columbia, $1; Wallaceville, $1; Tabernacle, $2.50; Boynton, $50; St. James, $1; Sloan street, $3.30; Trinity, $25; Orange, $1; Brazoria circuit, $1; Richmond, $2; Richmond circuit, $1; Huntsville, $1; Cold Spring circuit, $2; Willis, $1; Huntsville circuit, $2; Lovelady, $2; Spring circuit, $1; Anderson, $5; Bellville, $1; Brenham, $1; Brenham circuit, $2; Bryan, $3;

We have sixty-three subscribers for the paper published by the W. H. M. Society, an excellent little paper only twenty five cents per year and comes monthly.

Quite a number of the W. H. M. sisters take the SOUTHWESTERN, and we believe it will be to the advantage of our families if all our sisters who wish for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom would take it and have it read in their families by their children.

The following amounts have been expended in the interest of the work of the society:

Ebenezer Auxiliary, Marshall district, paid to King Home $50. Trinity Auxiliary, Houston district, paid $20 to King Home.

To sale of memoirs in the interest of the L. W. H. Training Home, $9.

Mothers' Jewels' Home, $5.30.

Spent for local work within the bounds of the conference, $115.70.

Mrs. L. Cole, president; Mrs. Susan Roberts, vice president; Mrs. I. Howells, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. Moore, recording secretary; Mrs. M. Scott, treasurer.

I. HOWELLS,

Conference Cor. Sec'y.

There are some patent medicines that are more marvelous than a dozen doctors' prescriptions, but they're not those that profess to cure everything.

Everybody, now and then, feels "run down," "played out." They're the will, but no power to generate vitality. They're not sick enough to call a doctor, but just too sick to be well. That's where the right kind of a patent medicine comes in, and does for a dollar what the doctor wouldn't do for less than five or ten. We put in our claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

We claim it to be an unequalled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the liver. We claim it to be lasting in its effects, creating an appetite, purifying the blood, and preventing Bilious, Typhoid and Malarial fevers if taken in time. The time to take it is when you first feel the signs of weakness and sickness. The time to take it, on general principles, is now.

General News Items.

Mr. Gladstone is on a visit to France.

Hon. O. F. Blackman, a prominent Republican near Homer, La., was waylaid and killed near his home a week or two ago. No trace of his murderer.

A gang of regulators invaded the home of Judge J. C. Bauman in Kennerville, La., a few nights ago. Judge Bauman is a prominent Republican, and is lawfully married to a colored lady and has a nice colored family. This probably explains the secret of this murderous invasion.

South Carolina has adopted the separate car law. The South is solid.

The New Orleans City Council has appropriated only $160,000 for the support of the schools for 1892; less and less every year.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

B.; Is Oratory a Lost Art? by E. Jay Edwards; How Women Figure in the Eleventh Census, by Margaret N. Wishard; The Temperance Tidal Wave in Boston, by Mary A. Hints on Self-Education.

Take the case of a boy compelled to leave school and earn a living at fourteen or fifteen, who is fond of study and wants to continue his education; what advice would you give him? Five leading college presidents, Dwight, Patton, White, O'Brien, Hall, will answer this question in a series of articles in The Youth's Companion.

The first paper in the illustrated series on The Jews in New York will appear in the January Century.

Pope Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of the Columbia bicycles, Boston, Mass., have favored us with one of their daily calendars. It is useful and ornamental.

Golden Memories of the Book of Books.

Seldom does any house publish such a volume as the one now before us. The Golden Memories of the Book of Books are herein crystallized in pictures, songs and stories, compiled by Henry Frederick Reddall, author of Fact, Fancy and Fable; Henry M. Stanley; From the Golden Gate. The introduction is by Bishop J. P. Newman, D.D., LL.D., of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The work needs to be seen to be fully appreciated. It is thoroughly illustrated with illuminated engravings, is printed on the very best paper and clearest types, and is most handsomely bound. 506 pages. It is one of the handsomest samples of bookmaking that has ever been turned out by any press. Sold on subscription, by the publishers, Hunt & Eaton, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati.

Christianity and Childhood, or The Relation of Children to the Church, by Rev. R. J. Cooke, A. M., M.D., of U. S. Grant University, just out of press is a work of great value, and upon a topic of live interest. The subject is treated in a thorough and masterly manner. 230 pages, upon good paper and splendid types. Price, 90c. Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati; Hunt & Eaton, New York.

We congratulate our Baptist brethren upon the publication, by one of their brethren, of such an able exposition to the Holy Scriptures, as History, Prophecy and Gospel, Expository Sermons on the Sunday School Lessons for 1891, by Rev. E. B. Anderson, B. D., LL.D., of Brown University. It is a work of special value for all time. 500 pages. Price, $1.75. Silver, Brndett & Co., Boston, Mass.

Illustrated Notes, a guide to the study of the Sunday School Lesson for 1892, by Jesse L. Hurlbut, D.D., and Robt. H. Doherty, Ph.D., has reached us on its regular annual visit. The notes have become a real fixture in the Sunday School Lesson system of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and each year they are better and better. No better commentary on the Sunday School Lesson is to be found in our language. The help thereby afforded to the Bible student and Sunday school worker is invaluable. Every one interested in the subject should possess himself of a copy. Price, $1.25. Hunt & Eaton, New York, and New Orleans; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati.

A. S. Barnes & Co., 751 Broadway, New York, publishers, have favored us with a copy of Pentecost's Bible Studies for 1892, by Geo. F. Pentecost, D.D., covering the International S. S. Lessons. For the S. S. teacher and superintendent, for the pastor and Bible student, this volume is the most extended of the volumes yet published, containing 416 pages of beautiful type. The book is bound in neat cloth, 12mo size. Price, postpaid, $1. The publishers also offer the following special rates to clubs, which include postage or expressage to any part of the United States: Five copies, $4; ten copies, $7.60; twenty-five copies, $18; Fifty copies, $34. A. S. Barnes & Co., publishers, 751 Broadway, New York.

The Afro American Press and its editors, by I. Garland Penn, of Lynchburg, Va., is one of the finest works contributed by a colored writer in this country. It is published by Wiley & Co., Springfield, Mass. It contains contributions by some of the foremost Negroes of this generation; among them, Hons. Frederick Douglass, John R. Lynch, J. T. Settle, D. A. Stroker, T. Thomas Fortune, John M. Langston, P. B. S. Pinchback, Prof. W. S. Scarborough and B. T. Washington, Bishop B. W. Arnett, Revs. J. C. Price, D.D., T. G. Stewart, D.D., L. J. Coppin, D.D., etc. Three styles of binding, $2, $2.50, $3.75. It is the best biographical history of many of the leading Negroes of America in existence. It deserves a place in every library.

The History of the A. M. E. Church, volume I, by Rt. Rev. Daniel A. Payne, D.D., LL.D., edited by Rev. C. S. Smith, D.D. A royal octavo volume of 520 pages, illustrated with full-page steel engravings of historic characters. The book is substantially bound in cloth, with beveled edges and gilt stamp. It is printed from new type on super-sized calendered paper made expressly for it. It is the largest, most interesting and highly valued book that has yet been published by or for the A. M. E. Connection. It is embellished with steel engraved portraits of Bishops Richard Allen, Morris Brown, Wm. Paul Quinn and Rev. Daniel Coker. The engravings alone cost three hundred dollars. Price, $2 per copy. Address Rev. C. S. Smith, Nashville, Tenn. With the exception of Williams' History of the Negro, no book has yet appeared that is so full of interest to the colored people of America as the History of the A. M. E. Church, by Bishop D. A. Payne, D.D., LL.D. Forty years were consumed in gathering and arranging the material for this volume. The book is not merely a compilation of dry facts, but the reasoning and deductions of the author, as well as the language which he employs to state the same, clothe it with unflattering interest from the beginning to the end. The gathering of the material and its preparation for publication, and the publishing of it, has entailed a cost of over four thousand dollars. Notwithstanding this expense the book is sold at the extremely low price of $2 per copy. The work is a marvel of excellency from whatever standpoint viewed; intellectually as well as mechanically. It is a credit to the race, and withal is authority upon the subjects treated. We congratulate Dr. C. S. Smith, its editor, and the race upon the publication of such a volume.

The Saengerfest Sermons, by Rev. James B. Brady, D.D., of Newark, N. J., are an excellent collection of able and interesting sermons, dedicated to the German people and to all citizens interested in the welfare of the Republic. The sanctity of the Sabbath is especially emphasized in them as the safeguard to individual and national welfare. Price, $1.50.

The Junior League Songster, containing songs for devotional exercises, social entertainments and anniversary occasions, by S. V. R. Ford, has just been issued by Hunt & Eaton, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati.

ALLOW ME to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in Grand Opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, Leading Bass of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

A. E. P. ALBERT, D. D., - - Editor

Official paper for the following Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church: Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, West Texas, Tennessee, East Tennessee, Little Rock, Central Alabama, Savannah, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Largest Circulation of any Religious Newspaper in New Orleans.

THURSDAY, DEC. 31, 1891.

The year is gone, beyond recall,
With all its hopes and fears,
With all its bright and gladdening
smiles,
With all its mourners' tears.

To thee we come, O gracious Lord,
The new-born year to bless;
Defend our land from pestilence,
Give peace and plenteousness.

PASTORS push work on all lines, especially religious lines.

PRESIDING ELDERS should see to it that the young preachers on their Districts prepare for the examination.

RALLY brethren, rally to the SOUTHWESTERN. One good rally all around, and our 10,000 circulation will be reached.

LET every pastor see to it that not a single blank is left in his report, and that every apportionment is fully met. Strive for the mastery, brethren.

U. S. warships are gathering in Chilian waters, with every indication that Uncle Sam means to have her citizens and sailors respected in that country.

THE faithful pastor will stick to his work, pushing the collections for the SOUTHWESTERN, and in special closing revival efforts, until absolutely necessary to leave for Conference.

BRETHREN, brethren, we implore you not to fail, but collect every cent of your apportionment for General Conference entertainment.
The record of our Southern Conferences in this matter, in the past has been a most shameful one.

THE editor returns thanks for the many kind words from the press and from many friends, which they showered upon him, congratulating him upon his escape from the vengeance of the "Jim Crow car law" in Texas.

WE LEARN that there are some localities where it is not safe for our people to publicly observe Emancipation Day. If the people cannot safely come together let them observe the day in their own homes. Let us all thank God that chains and yokes are broken, and that we and our children are no longer slaves.

EMANCIPATION day ought to be observed all over the country, especially in this true in the South.
Every one of our preachers ought to see that special services are held, and thanksgiving and songs of praise be offered to God. If for any reasons it is not possible to hold public services, then by all means, encourage the people to hold services of a private character in their own homes.

IF THERE ever was a time when the old Methodist Episcopal Church should stand unflinchingly by her work in the South, among both races, now is the time. We are nearing a crisis; and the old church cannot afford to desert the field. Our white and the colored work are, and must ever be, each the complement of the other.
Brethren don't give up any part of the ship.

A WHITE brother in charge of an ignorant and prejudiced set of white members, in a colored conference, that would melt out of our church as snow before the summer sun, if a colored Presiding Elder were placed over them, writes to protest against the demands of our people for representation on our board of bishops. How silly some people's prejudices make them!

1863. 1892.
Twenty-Ninth Anniversary of Freedom.

To-morrow, twenty-nine years ago, the immortal Lincoln issued the memorable Emancipation Proclamation of Freedom, which set free
the Negro slaves in this country.
To-day we can all rejoice, and say
as was said of England:

"Slaves cannot breathe in England,
So soon as his feet touch our shores,
That moment he is free."

Let us all rejoice, and give thanks to Almighty God for freedom and for the privileges that we enjoy. It is true we labor under many discriminations and wrongs, but how much better is our condition than was that of our fathers, bonded under the most cruel system ever known to man? Let all our people everywhere, in every church and other public places meet and appropriately celebrate the day. Read the proclamation, recite the story of our slavery, deliverance and progress; sing songs of salvation, wave the old flag, take up a collection to test the "Jim Crow car law;" another for the cause of education among us, secure cash subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN, and start out upon another year or progress in everything that tends to lift us up in the sight of good men and angels, and in favor of Almighty God. We wish you a Happy New Year.

What They Say of the Outrages Visited Upon Dr. Albert in Texas.

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 19, '91.

Dear Doctor:

Allow me to congratulate you on your providential protection from the inhuman wretches at Beaumont.
When I read the SOUTHWESTERN and saw the fact of your narrow escape from imprisonment, I thought to myself that it would have been a good thing had you been put in jail, notwithstanding the little seeming humiliation that might have been connected with the affair, as I am sure with the facts in the case, you could have made a noted case of it in the courts. However, push the subscription of the Equal Rights Association and test the constitutionality of the infamous law.

My subscription will be forthcoming and I hope thousands may come to the rescue of the race from such outrages upon us as free American citizens.

PROF. J. H. REED,
Principal of Houston Academy.

ALEXANDRIA, La., Dec. 19, '91.
I regret very much to learn of your trouble in the "Lone Star."
I hope for a speedy revocation of that detestable Jim Crow car law.

PROF. B. M. HUBBARD,
Principal Alexandria Academy.

I read in the SOUTHWESTERN with humiliation and shame, your experience in Texas. This thing is getting to be unendurable. May God give us wisdom and grace to set this great wrong right.

REV. C. H. PAYNE, D.D., LL.D., Board of Education, New York.

The "Methodist Review."

Do not overlook the "Methodist Review" for January, 1892. It has the solidity, breadth, and crispness of an ideal number. Its "Book Critiques" treat the latest literature with a skillful hand. Its "Arena" records the voices of some of the wise thinkers of the church.
Its "Itinerants' Club" tells good preachers how to preach better sermons. Its "Foreign Resume" shows the latest drifts of European theology; its "Progress of Civilization" discusses some of the recent movements in governmental and social life; its "Spirit of the Reviews and Magazines" summarizes the contents of the latest periodical publications. Its editorial on "The Life Tenure of the Methodist Episcopacy" discusses a stirring question; on "Methodism, Centripetal or Centrifugal," shows, as a lesson of the Ecumenical, the world-wide mission of John Wes-ley's organization; on "The Church," defines the nature of the Christian organization.

In number of contributed articles the present "Review" surpasses itself. Professor W. F. Steele writes appropriately of the Christmas season on "The Virgin-Birth—Its Expectation and Publication." Professor L. T. Townsend finishes his discussion of the "Genesis of the New Testament." Dr. J. C. Hartzell writes on "The Problem of Education in the Southern States;"
Dr. W. R. Halstead on "The Province of Philosophy;" Dr. W. R.
Warren on "The Portico to our Book of Discipline;" and Professor W. A. Heidel on "Personality in Anthorship." J. M. Williams, D.
D., contributes "Theism: A Brief Study;" and Dr. Mendenhall himself gathers up some of the teachings of the late general missionary meeting in an article entitled "Christian America Christianizing Christian Nations." In variety and value of contents this is one of the superior New Year's numbers in the history of the "Review." Do not fail to read it.

To the Presiding Elders of the Spring Conferences in the South.

In these closing weeks and days of the Conference year there are some matters that need special and immediate attention. First of all, it is very important to see that all the benevolences are properly cared for and duly reported. Especially take care of the Missionary, Church Extension, and Freed-man's Aid. Secondly, if there are young men on your Districts preparing for examination in their studies, render them all the help and encouragement possible; and finally, make the most of every day and hour in pushing on revival work, and getting the people converted to God.

W. F. MALLALIEU.

Prevalence of Gambling.

The article on "The Prevalence of Gambling," which is published in the October number of The Forum, is one of the clearest and best explanations of the almost universal prevalence of gambling that has appeared for many years.
It is written by Mr. W. B. Curtis, editor of The Spirit of the Times.
"It is safe to say," writes Mr.
Curtis, "that there never was a time in the history of the world when gambling was so rife among the masses of people as at present.
In fact, many legitimate branches of business are tinged with the hue of speculation; those persons who do not bet on horse-races or in stocks, gratify their speculative tendencies by dabbling in rural town lots, in mining shares, and in various other so-called business enterprises, the methods of which are really variations of the methods of gambling by the roulette wheel, with twenty eagle birds instead of one. The same class of men who, in the last century, wagered thousand and hundreds of thousands on the turn of a card or on the emptying of a dice box, now speculate in the stock produce, or the cotton exchange, and on horse-racing, which is at present the greatest of all gambling games."

Mr. Curtis, after citing figures to show the vast scale on which betting is carried at horse-races and in lotteries, presents some interesting views on the moral effect of this vice upon those who indulge in it persistently.

THE Independent criticises the religious press of Louisiana for not keeping up a steady fire on the Louisiana lottery. The SOUTH-WESTERN does all it can to defeat the lottery gamblers. The preachers and people of the Methodist Episcopal Church are hostile to the lottery.—California Christian Advocate.

Not only so, but we have more to follow, and we propose to fire every week upon the enemy until the vote of the State is counted in the premises next April.

Watch-night services at Ames Church to night. Bishop Mallalien will preach.

Political Review.

The President, Congress, and the politicians are enjoying the holidays.

It is given out that Senator Sherman has 54 votes pledged to him, and only 47 are necessary to give him the party nomination, which makes sure of his election for another six years in the United States Senate from Ohio. Foraker is brave, patriotic and young, and can wait.

Col. James S. Clarkson, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, is reported to have said that the "Grand Old Party" will make its principal fight next year upon the negro question. The party proposes to see to it that the results of the war, the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, shall not continue to be nullified with impunity by the men that fought to destroy this government. There is to be no trimming. The party proposes to become as of yore, the party of great moral ideas. This will insure its success next year.

The Lottery and Anti-Lottery Democrats are making faces at each other. The campaign has not yet fairly opened. The Anti-Lottery ratification meeting at Washington Artillery Hall was a great success. Over 3000 people were crowded in the hall and its avenues.

The Warmoth Rump Committee decided to hold a State Convention in this city Jan. 13, 1892.
It adopted resolutions declaring nudging hostility to the lottery.
But then everybody knows that Warmoth is the father of the lottery. He chartered it when he was Governor, and he voted for its new lease of power in the constitutional convention of 1879. His present nudging hostility to the lottery is, to say the least, simply for effect. A. R. Blunt and David Young, two Baptist preachers, were the only ones to favor the lottery.
Shame on them!

While the Republicans of this State are opposed to Warmoth, they are equally opposed to the lottery.

We warn the regular State Committee, and all the leaders on that side, that they must put themselves squarely down against the lottery, else they will not command any following among the masses, for a single moment. Mr. Herwig and "the lottery Senators" must bow to the demand of the people.

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea.

Jehovah has triumphed—his people are free!

Sing—for the pride of the tyrant is broken,
His chariot, his horsemen, all splendid and brave—

How vain was the horse, for the Lord hath but spoken,
And chariot and horsemen are sunk in the wave.

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's
dark sea;

Jehovah has triumph'd—his people are free.

Praise to the Conqueror; praise to the Lord!
His word was our arrow, his breath was our sword.

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's
dark sea;
Jehovah has triumph'd, his people are free.

THOS. MOORE.

SOME of our Advocates and other newspaper contributors are discussing the desirability of districting our bishops and of electing them for a term of years, as is done in the case of editors, secretaries and other General Conference officials.
Our advice is to let well enough alone.

CHRISTMAS casualties were specially numerous. There were 145 arrests made in this city Christmas Eve and Christmas.

THE Garza revolution on the Mexican borders near the Texas line during the past week, resulted in several lives being lost. Some of the Mexicans crossed over into Texas and wrought considerable depredations. The U. S. troops drove them back.

Personal.

—After several months absence, holding Conferences in the Northwest, pleading for our cause on the Pacific coast before the Church Extension and Missionary Committees, and in the East, Bishop Mallalien has returned to us. He is as busy as ever, pushing forward the medical school, and all of our connectational interests. His presence scatters sunshine and a lively hope in every department, and the brethren and the church generally welcomed his return with open arms. He leaves here next Tuesday for Meridian, where he opens the Mississippi Conference on Wednesday, Jan. 6.

—Bishop Hurst accompanied by Sunday School Agent Gillett, passed through this city last week on their way home from the Texas Conference.

—After delivering a course of fifteen lectures on nervous disease, before the Medical College of New Orleans University, Dr. G. L. Orr-tis of De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., left for his home last Thursday noon. Dr. T. A. Walker, of Baton Rouge, Lecturer on Gynecology, completed a portion of his course and left for home a day or two before. He will return in a few weeks to complete the course.
They made many friends and a favorable impression by their methods of instruction, and the students look forward to their return with high anticipation.

—Bishop Fitzgerald, of the Church South, has been suffering from the grippe, at his home in Nashville, Tenn., but is now improving.

—Dr. M. S. Hopper, an eminent physician of Lafayette, Ind., is expected here Feb. 1, 1892, to deliver a course of lectures on diseases of the nose and throat at the New Orleans University Medical College.

—The Southern German Conference voted unanimously against the admission of the women. It elected Rev. Gottlieb Dostald delegate to the General Conference, and Rev. Daniel Matthaei, reserve.
Henry Wellman, Esq., of this city, was elected lay delegate with William Harder reserve.

—Rev. R. D. Black, who has been stationed at Sedalia, Mo., has been transferred to Austin Conference and stationed at Fort Worth, Texas.

—Daniel Haud, the philanthropist of Connecticut, who gave a million dollars, four years ago to the American Missionary Society for industrial education among the Negroes, died at his home in Gail-ford, Conn., week before last, at the age of 90 years. He was a quiet, retired man, whom no one knew much about until this large benefaction made him famous, and then the romance of his life became known. He went to Savannah, Ga., at the age of 18, and engaged in business with his uncle, whom he eventually succeeded. He was afterward associated in business with G. W. Williams, of Georgia, to whom he was obliged to make over all his property when the war began. After some experience in the Southern prisons, he came North; and twenty years after the war, Mr. Williams, who might legally have retained the whole property, made over to him $700,000 as Mr. Haud's share of the profits of their business. It was this money made in the South, which Mr. Haud returned to the South. He left no heirs, and it is understood that half a million dollars more will go to the same benevolent purposes.

—Our dear Brother, Rev. I. B.
Scott, D. D., of Houston, Texas, mourns the death of his mother, who after several weeks illness at the home of her honored son, passed up to her reward on Christmas eve night. The next day her remains were conveyed to Austin, Texas, for interment. A note from Dr. Scott dated Dec. 23, said: "I write with a heavy heart. My dear old mother, Mrs.
Polly Scott, is in a dying condition. The doctor says she can live only a few hours at most. What little I am she made me. My father died when I was quite a boy. She was a great mother to me. Trust you will pray for me." Words of friends, however sympathetic, can really give no comfort. We commend our beloved friend and brother to Him who is intensely touched with the feelings of our infirmities, and who alone can make our darkest sky radiant with the glories of the brightest stars, of hope and consolation. God bless you, dear brother; comfort your heart and those of your bereaved brothers and family, and make you faithful under the inspiration that comes from the Divine assurance that our loved ones are not lost to us, but await our arrival just across the River.

—We extend our heartfelt sympathy with Rev. A. S. Jackson, of the Tula Avenue Baptist Church, in the great loss he has sustained in the death of his wife, Laura Angusta. She died Dec. 23.

—The poet Whittier celebrated his 84th birthday Dec. 17. He is enjoying a hale and green old age.

—George D. Bomer, Esq., of Pass
Christian, called last Thursday.
He came to the city to procure Christmas goods, and like a sensible man he renewed his SOUTH-WESTERN for 1892.

West Texas Conference Notes.

Bishop Hurst gave great attention to the details of conference work, and the brethren were much pleased with his administration.
He made a better impression on our Texas Methodism than when he was with us five years ago.

Rev. E. Henderson, the new Presiding Elder, is the largest man in the conference. The feeling of the conference on his promotion, seemed to be, as I heard it expressed by one of the educated young men
"He deserves the honor." He will stand by the SOUTHWESTERN.

Rev. B. F. Smith deserves great credit for the ease with which he entertained the conference. He did not spend ten minutes publicly during the whole session in assigning the people to homes. As to his people, they are hard to be excelled. I am sure I never saw a conference more royally entertained.

The relations existing between white and colored people in Victoria are most pleasant. They are on the most friendly terms and seem to understand each other fully.

Prof. G. W. Cooper, the organist, is an expert musician. He is said to play any piece from a jews-harp to a piano. His choir furnished us some very good music. The Professor photographed the conference in a body.

Your representative was entertained by Dr. G. R. Townsend and Bro. Harper. I must say I could have been there yet and be none the worse off. Both homes are pleasant and commodious.

Dr. Townsend, who was a member of last General Conference, has a large practice and a growing family. He is faithful and true to his church.

BRETHREN, brethren, we implore you not to fail, but collect every cent of your apportionment for General Conference entertainment.
The record of our Southern Conferences in this matter, in the past
has been a most shameful one.

ference of the M. E. Church at New

tion will be reached.

The desperately in earnest man is a power in this world. He may be poor, or ignorant, and mistaken, but he is a power.—Indiana Baptist.

Whoever would be sustained by the hand of God, let him constantly lean upon it; whoever would be defended by it, let him patiently repose himself under it.—Calvia.

Has it ever occurred to us, when surrounded by sorrows, that they may be sent to us only for our instruction, as we darken the cages of birds when we wish to teach them to sing?—Richter.

Often when a preacher has driven a nail in a sure place, instead of clinching it, and securing well the advantage, he hammers away till the head comes off or splits the board.—Anon.

There is a moral dumbness, and the Saviour heals this when he makes us new creatures. The man had a tongue before, but not a religious one. Now he speaks—of God, for God, and to God.—Jay.

When I was young I was sure of many things. There are only two things of which I am sure now. One is that I am a miserable sinner, and the other that Jesus Christ is an all-sufficient Saviour.—John Newton.

If it costs so much to be a zealous and successful Christian, it will cost more infinitely to live and die an impenitent sinner. Bible religion costs self-denial; sin

We are never without help. We have no right to say of any good work, it is too hard for me to do; or of any sorrow, it is too hard for me to bear; or of any sinful habit, it is too hard for me to overcome.—Elizabeth Charles.

In the most dismal night look for the morning. In the most tempestuous sea send out your thoughts on wings of hope toward the harbor. In the heat of the fiercest battle, stand up bravely and expect victory and peace.—Bishop Vincent.

There are no moral blanks; there are no neutral characters. We are either the sower that sows and corrupts, or the light that splendidly illuminates and the salt that silently operates; but being dead or alive, every man speaks.—Chalmers.

Schools and Colleges.

A Patriotic and Christian Philanthropist.

Another Gift for our Cause.

Mr. John Dougherty, of Indiana, before his death provided that a farm of 240 acres should go to the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society for its work of Christian education in the South. He was a man of deep religious convictions and made his religion the rule of his life. His sympathies were with those in need, and he was always liberal in helping them. He had great confidence in the church of his choice, and made his gift without stipulations, believing that it would be used conscientiously and well.

He had two sons, both of whom entered the army and gave their lives for their country in the hour of its great need. Their unspeakable sacrifice, together with that of multitudes of other heroic sons of the Republic, made possible the extension of Christian education to the Negroes of the South. One of his sons fell at Mills Creek, Ky., and the other at Chickamauga, Tenn.

Col. O. G. Thompson of La Fayette, a son-in-law, is the executor of the estate.

We have just sold the farm for $3,400. Thus the purpose of this good man will be carried out, and the money given in the name of the Lord, will go to carry forward the work of Christian education in that land where the blood of his sons helped to give freedom and hope to those who were in bondage. J. C. HARTZELL.

Cincinnati, Dec. 23, 1891.

Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark., Rev. Thos. Mason, D. D., president, is enjoying a year of unprecedented prosperity. They have a larger attendance than ever. We rejoice to make the announcement.

Rev. V. D. Jenkins, Greenville, Ga., has sent us a long communication in which he defends Clark University against the boycott and evil designs of her enemies. Only lack of space prevents its publication.

Alexandria Academy closed a very successful term Dec. 18, 1891.

We have had every reason to be encouraged as to the future prospects.

As Alexandria was an intellectual flambeau to Egypt, so does the Alexandria Academy bid fair to be an intellectual centre from whose source shall many streams go forth to elevate, cheer and comfort fallen and degraded humanity. Our enrollment now is in excess of that last year at the close of the fall term. Our grades have been better, and there has been a general advancement along all lines. Both teacher and student have been deeply interested in the work committed to their hands.

There has been a good spirit of emulation in all departments. We have reading charts, a set of physiological charts 25x38, consisting of four numbers, a student's globe, and other supplies which we much needed. The academy donated the above supplies from the proceeds of concerts given by the institution under the management of Prof. Barrow.

The general cry is, give us a building and a larger recognition. Three thousand dollars will do the work at this place.

The parlor was exquisitely adorned with palms and ferns, forming an archway, under which the bridal couple stood during the ceremony. The bride looked like a fairy stepping from a cloud of white mist, in her beautiful gown of white Henrietta cloth, with its long train and garlands of flowers. Her tulle veil was caught in places with a wreath of orange blossoms. The groom is a popular young business man of Shreveport. A grand supper was served, after which the young people indulged in pleasure of all sorts. The presents sent were very elegant and costly. Among the guests were the bride's aunt Mrs. ex-Gov. C. C. Antoine, Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. K. Jones, Misses Tena Dougherty, Mittie Winter, Annette Antoine, and Messrs. Louis Antoine, D. Obituary.

Edward Burton Crawford was born in Marion, S. C., in 1863; attended the public schools till 1882, he then entered Claflin University, from which he graduated in 1885. He was converted to Christ while in that University. After finishing his course, he taught in the public schools of South Carolina for two years. Desiring a better field of labor, he removed to Paris, Tex., in 1887, and became identified with the M. E. Church there, and soon was appointed Sunday School superintendent. Here Mr. Crawford spent two years teaching and working faithfully among our people. Desiring to better his condition again, he resigned his position in Texas, and in 1890 came to Nashville, Tenn., and matriculated as a medical student in McBarry Medical College. Here he made many friends. In the summer of 1890 he taught near Yazoo City, Miss. While there he met the lady that afterwards became his wife, Miss Martha Golden. After marriage he removed to Texas with his wife, and there remained until the opening of the medical session of '91-'92. This was his third and last year in college. As a student, Mr. Crawford was among the best, until his death, which occurred Dec. 7, 1891. In him the church has lost a true member, his wife a loving and affectionate husband, his parents an obedient son. I had met him for the first time at the opening of the Medical College, but had learned to love and admire him for his brave and studious habits. His illness was brief and his death unexpected, even by his physician. He died as he lived, being ready. He expressed his willingness and made requests of his friends. His remains were sent to his wife at Paris, Texas. After regular funeral services at the College Chapel, memorial services were held Sunday night, in which many took occasion to speak of the great loss of such a worthy young man. Resolutions were adopted by his class expressive of their high regard for his excellent qualities. James M. May.

Rev. O. R. Franklin, one of the ministers of the Central Alabama Conference, departed this life at his home, near Birmingham, Nov. 22. He was loved by all of the people among whom, and for whom, he labored. His labor was in the Alabama and Central Alabama Conferences. After the Central Alabama Conference was organized, he preferred to remain with his colored brethren. He had served as pastor and presiding Elder in the Alabama Conference, and served on each of the districts in the Central Alabama Conference. He was a good man, was true to the brethren, true to the church, and true to God. He is dead, but still he speaks to the world through those he was instrumental in bringing in the church and ministry. He was the instrument through which our Presiding Elder, Rev. I. Townsend, was brought into the active ministry. A minister of the Lord Jesus for fifty years and more, sowing, toiling, weeping and praying, has doubtless accomplished more good than he can remember, but God will ever remember, for he has it recorded on the book of remembrance. A little over a year ago he was compelled to come down from the office of Presiding Elder. He was too feeble to do the work. We shall miss him at our churches, at our district and annual conferences. A few weeks before his death his wife left for her home in the skies, and now he has gone to join her in that better land. He has finished his work on earth.

"Servant of God, well done, Thy glorious warfare's past; The battle's fought, the victory won— And thou art crowned at last." A. B. ALLEN.

Corinth, Miss.—Rev. John Mask, father of Rev. W. E. Mask, departed this life Nov. 22, after a lingering illness. On Thursday night before he died he sung a hymn and had prayer with his family, and when he arose from prayer he said, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit."

Miss Ida Jones, daughter of Alf. Jones, a faithful member of our church, departed this life Dec. 3, aged 17 years. O. Gillespie, P. C.

Dover, Tenn.—Sister Rachel Dudley, a member of the M. E. Church, died Oct. 22.

Sister Alcey Brown, a member of the M. E. Church at LaGrange Furnace, died Nov. 13, aged 26 years. H. Robinson, P. C.

Bayou Paul, La., Dec. 11—Since the death of Rev. P. W. Clark's wife and two of his children, in the early part of the year, the others have been stopping 70 miles from him, with his sister at Shool. A few days ago two of them, Charles and Rebecca, took sick. Today I buried them both side by side. Four children and his wife in 10 months. Poor Brother Clark, the effect of his affliction we fear will be very serious upon his constitution. He leaves for his charge to-day with a broken heart. He needs and deserves the prayers of his brethren. C. M. Anglum.

THE venerable mother of Dr. J. M. Buckley denies the widely-circulated newspaper report that she does not agree with her son in his attitude on the woman question. The two agree exactly.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the symptoms.

Distress After Eating

The effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." MISS MARIA PARLOA: "It seems to me that the Royal Baking Powder is as good as any can be. I have used it a great deal and always with satisfaction."

MRS. BAKER, Principal of Washington, D. C., School of Cookery: "I say to you, without hesitation, use the 'Royal.' I have tried all, but the Royal is the most satisfactory."

M. GORJU, late Chef, Delmonico's, New-York: "In my use of Royal Baking Powder, I have found it superior to all others."

A. FORTIN, Chef, White House, for Presidents Arthur and Cleveland: "I have tested many baking powders, but for finest food can use none but 'Royal.'"

City Church Notes.

[Brief items of news from the city churches will be welcome either handed us by pastors or lay men.]

"Mother Oscar" of Union Chapel has many reasons to cherish her many gospel children in that church. A few nights ago a score or more of them conceived the idea of giving her a surprise party. In the quiet hours of the night they came, laden with everything that heart could desire, provisions, sugar, coffee, meat, meal, preserves, tea, flour, clothing, handkerchiefs, wraps, clocks, teapots, etc., etc. In the party were Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Pierson, Eviline Gregory, E. E. Ford, Rebecca Telly, Mr. Brent, Sattie Brown, Sarah Oasimir, Lizzie Gosper, Lilly Oasimir, Mary Chapman, Clara Oasimir, Mary Robertson, Augustine Edwards, etc., etc.

Christmas trees were laden with many nice presents for the Sunday school scholars in nearly all of our city churches on Christmas Eve. They had a good time.

BRETHREN, brethren, we implore you not to fail, but collect every cent of your apportionment for General Conference entertainment. The record of our Southern Conferences in this matter, in the past has been a most shameful one.

THE conferences in our territory are now being held; and the secretaries and others in charge of the matter should lose no time in making necessary and timely arrangements for reduced rates on the several railroads.

Have you ordered your Sunday school literature for '92. If not, you should do so at once.

Church Polity.

G. T. Z. wants to know what we think of a neighboring Methodist preacher, a predecessor, who constantly visits his charge at night to interfere with his work.

We think his conduct mean and contemptible, and he should be reported to his conference, to be dealt with according to his just desert. That's what we think of it.

Ques. Is it right for sinners to stay in our love feasts and class-meetings? A PASTOR.]

Ans. We know of no objection to their presence, if they are well-behaved and of serious deportment. Where the love-feast tickets are used for admission, however, they may be objected to as having no tickets. The old custom was to deny them admission, but that rule is no longer observed.

THE time for registration is rapidly passing away. If you would be prepared to vote in the primaries and next general election day, you should not neglect longer but register at once. An entirely new registration has been ordered for this year. The office is open from 9 to 4, opposite Lafayette square, on Camp street.

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by a pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business!

Now, there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood-purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

If it don't do good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases—and pulmonary consumption is only lung-scrofula—just let its makers know and get your money back.

Talk's cheap, but to back a poor medicine, or a common one, by selling it on trial, as "Golden Medical Discovery" is sold, would bankrupt the largest fortune.

Talk's cheap, but only "Discovery" is guaranteed.

Our Children's Legio

For Our Boys and Girls.

BY UNCLE CEPHAS.

Our Burdens the Heaviest.

A lady was walking in a country road and passed a district school house just as the scholars were dismissed. There were big boys and little boys, black children and white children, tall girls and short girls. The teacher herself came out at last, closed and locked the door with a snap, and walked away up the hill.

Only one child was left, a little girl of eight or nine, done up in a purple hood and a knitted "comforter." She lingered on the steps, looked sadly up and down the path and into the doorways, evidently trying to find something.

The lady approached and asked what was troubling her. It was her mitten that was lost, the child said, with perfect faith in the lady's sympathy. She had only one left, and they were new, and her mother would scold her so! It was a new mitten, the poor little thing repeated pitifully, red, with open work on the wrist.

The lady joined in the search, but quite in vain. Then she tried a little philosophy on the youthful mind.

She told the little girl not to care; to tell her mother bravely, and not mind the scolding. There were many things to be borne in life with courage; she herself had lost many things—friends and possessions and hopes—but she had learned to be very brave about it.

"Yes," said the child, to whom the argument brought no comfort—"yes, but did you ever lose your mitten?"—Youth's Companion.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my first letter. I have three sisters and five brothers. My mother and father are members of the M. E. Church. My father is Rev. I. C. Rucker, pastor at Ocean Springs. Dear little cousins, how long did it take Noah to build the Ark?

Your Niece,

ARCENIA J. RUCKER.

Fayette, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a little boy 11 years old. I attend day school and Sabbath school. My teacher in the day school is Prof. John M. Sydney. Our superintendent is Prof. W. D. Menton. They are loved by all. I hope that you may say words of praise to them through the dear old SOUTHWESTERN. I read it, and love the paper and Dr. Albert. My father takes the paper, and I love to read it.

Your Nephew,

MATTHEW E. SYDNEY.

Hackberry, Tex.

Dear Uncle Cephas: We have a grand society organized by Mrs. E. S. Sprigs, and have named it Queen Esther Epworth League. Mr. P. D. Gullage is president, and Mrs. S. H. Huff, vice-president.

Your Niece,

HATTIE HUNTER.

Hazlehurst, Miss.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I went to the marriage last Sunday night of Miss Mary Jane Burgess to Mr. G. R. Gilliland. Her mother gave her a nice supper. Our Sunday school is not much this year. It is bad weather. It was a dry fall, but now it is wet. Our pastor starts to the conference to night. There have been several marriages this fall.

Your Nephew,

LAMVEAN TURNER.

Milford, Tex.

Dear Uncle Cephas: I am a member of the M. E. Church. This is my first letter. I will write a better one when we get the cotton out. We live a mile and a half in the country.

Your Niece,

AMANDA SMITH.

Clarkville, Tex.

Dear Uncle Cephas: This is my first letter to you. I am a little boy. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. My teacher is Miss Bertha Stith. My Pa and mamma are members of the church, and take the dear old SOUTHWESTERN. Our pastor is J. O. Epler, and we all love him.

Your Nephew,

An Unprecedented Offer!

We have made arrangements with the Chicago Manufacturing Company to supply one of their first-class Singer machines for only $14 cash. We will order a machine like the cut here shown, and send the SOUTHWESTERN a full year besides! It is a handsome oil-polished walnut, of latest design, Gothic cover, with beautiful panels, four end drawers and a swing drawer, nickel-plated, and warranted five years.

Each Machine is furnished with the following equipment: One Foot Hemmer, One Oil Can with Oil, One Gauge, and One Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins, One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to seven-eighths of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter. The Improved Tension and Thread Liberator is used on this machine. The manufacturers offer to refund the money if purchaser is not fully satisfied with the machine.

We receive many letters inquiring about the sewing machine premium, and how to obtain it. In order that all may understand the matter, we state in addition to the announcement, that remittances should be made to Hunt & Eaton, 139 Poydras street, either by check, money order, or by express, naming the nearest or most convenient freight depot to which it is to be sent. Then we order the factory in Chicago to ship the machine. The company ships it; and receives from the railroad a bill of lading which, with the warranty, is sent to us, and which we send to the subscriber. This bill of lading is good and sufficient evidence that the machine has been forwarded, and holds the railroad company responsible for its safe delivery at the station named as its destination, and in due time, save unavoidable delays. In case of its loss the railroad which caused its loss is responsible, under the laws of the land. If not arriving in due time, show the bill of lading to the station agent and he will look it up. Don't give up the bill of lading, but it may be shown to the railroad agent. All orders are sent the same day as received, and the bill of lading is sent to the subscriber the same day we get it. We started this scheme with a view to helping our patrons, and shall carefully and faithfully carry out our part of the agreement in every case.

house, and as he sleeps, he sees the outline of a Vision. And whether it be in his sleeping or his waking moments, the true that Heaven hath somehow drawn aside the veil and revealed these grand and glorious sights which reach so near to the things that "eye hath not seen," permitting this far-sighted man to look "through golden vistas into Heaven." The opening of the Vision presents in bold relief the future hero of the allegory—a burdened man, clothed with rags, weeping because of threatened woe pronounced by the Book that is in his hand. He dwells in the City of Destruction. He reveals his sorrows and anxieties to his wife and family, but finds no sympathy there; and, falling to obtain companionship on the heavenlyward road, he starts alone upon this spiritual journey. This new edition is now offered for the first time and is sure to please.

Any person accepting our offer will receive this paper one year, and also that popular farm and family journal, the Farm and Fireside, together with a copy of The Pilgrim's Progress, all mailed, postpaid, for less than the regular price of the two papers alone.

This noted book is offered absolutely free to induce thousands of our readers to become acquainted with the Farm and Fireside, the publishers looking to the future for their profit, as they believe you will always want the Farm and Fireside if you try it one year. Farm and Fireside should be on every farm and at every fireside. It will amuse, interest, entertain and instruct every member of the household; is a welcome visitor in every family, gives a greater amount of reading matter, and is worth more than most journals costing several times as much. Thousands of ladies are regular subscribers because of its interesting and valuable household department. It is handsomely illustrated.

PASTOR KOENIG'S
ST. VITIS NERVE TONIC

St. Vitis Nerve Tonic. VIII
SAN ANTONIO, Cal. Co., Cal., Feb., 1889.

My boy, 13 years old, was so affected by it that he could not go to school for 2 years. Two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic restored his natural health, and he is now attending school again.

MICHAEL O'CONNELL.

Rev. W. C. Kampmeier, Lowell, Ohio, writes: After the second dose of the Nerve Tonic which I ordered for my little son upon the advice of Rev. E. Koenig, the spasms disappeared and no symptoms shown since four weeks, although the attacks came from 15 to 20 times each day before. The child was so delicate that it could hardly stand or walk, now it is playing in the yard and has gained 3½ lbs. in weight. Although the Rev. Koenig had expressed but little hope that the Nerve Tonic would help, I thank God, that I followed his advice and shall recommend the remedy to all sufferers.

FREE Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge. This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1874, and is now prepared under his direction by the

He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth. (Psa. 72. 8.)

LESSON HYMN. S. M.

Crown him the Lord of peace!
Whose power a scepter sways
From pole to pole, that wars may cease
And all be prayer and praise;
His reign shall know no end,
And round his pierced feet Fair flowers of paradise extend Their fragrance ever sweet.

Crown him the Lord of years,
The Potentate of time,
Creator of the rolling spheres,
Ineffably sublime!
All hail! Redeemer, hail!
For thou hast died for me;
Thy praise shall never, never fail
Throughout eternity.

Environments.—The time of this prophecy cannot be certainly given. In our Reference Bibles it is dated "about 713 B. C." It was probably delivered in Jerusalem, either in the last years of King Ahaz or, more probably, early in the reign of Hezekiah. The cruel Assyrian emperor had conquered and absorbed nearly all the little kingdoms into which what is now called Turkey in Asia was then divided. The kingdom of Israel had fallen about the year 721 B. C. Judah paid tribute to Assyria while Ahaz lived. Hezekiah revolted, but his people lived for years in terror of the consequence of his revolt.

Persons related to the lesson.—Isaiah was the most eloquent of Hebrew prophets. He stood for God during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah, and perhaps Manasseh. Ahaz, who may have listened to these words, was one of the worst of the kings of Judah. Hezekiah, who was both as "prince imperial" and king reverently followed Isaiah's advice, became one of the best and wisest of sovereigns. Sennacherib, who was the dreaded king of Assyria, was a tyrant who spread devastation everywhere.

- Of whom was the King to be a descendant?
- To what is he compared?

- What effect would the Spirit have on the King?

2. His Kingdom, v. 6-10.
- What promise of peace is here given?

- What other people would seek him?
- What is said of the rest he would give?

All district managers will be expected to report at this meeting. Let all the sisters be present to hear the good that has been done and help lay plans for greater work the coming year.

By order of Secretary.

Central Alabama Conference.

Additional information received concerning reduced rates to above-named conference, to meet in Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 27, 1892, states: "Persons coming from points (in Alabama) at which through tickets to Huntsville cannot be procured, should purchase tickets to Montgomery, Childersburg or Anniston, as may be most convenient, and re-secure to Huntsville, taking certificates from both agents from whom tickets are secured. The certificate obtained from the agent at Montgomery, Childersburg or Anniston (as the case may be) will be honored at Huntsville for the reduced rate returning tickets to starting point." The above refers to all roads in the State except the Louisville & Nashville, Alabama, Great Southern and Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham, over which direct arrangements with them have been made.

WONDERFUL

The cures which are effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuritis, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases, by their Compound Oxygen Treatment, are indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of 200 pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects, with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book, aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving, as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

C. B. WILSON, Sec'y.

To the Members of the Central Alabama Conference.

Dear Brethren:—We were more than ever, at our last conference, urged to start in time and make out good statistical reports. This we were asked to do before leaving home and not wait till we reach the seat of the conference to make out reports. I was charged with getting a full set of statistical blanks which I have done, and to be sure of your getting them, I have placed them in the hands of your Presiding Elder. Please see to it, brethren, that you are correct in reports, and that they are accurately made out before leaving home.

Louisiana Conference Notice.

By the kind consent of Rev. F. T. Chinn, the class of the third year's course Beauty often depends on plumpness; so does comfort; so does health. If you get thin, there is something wrong, though you may feel no sign of it.

Thinness itself is a sign; sometimes the first sign; sometimes not.

The way to get back plumpness is by CAREFUL LIVING, which sometimes includes the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Let us send you—free—a little book which throws much light on all these subjects.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 135 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do.

Mississippi Conference Notice.
Ministers, delegates and friends attending the Mississippi Annual Conference, to be held at Meridian, Miss., commencing Jan. 6, 1892, are certain to get certificates at the place where tickets are purchased, showing that full fare has been paid in going, and you will be returned for one-third regular fare by having them signed by the secretary of the conference.

Mr. S., a chemist of Liverpool, received a bill for the amount of 38s from Thomas Beecham, St. Helens. Mr. S., being at the time in pecuniary difficulties, pondered for a considerable time how to meet the demand. At last a bright idea flashed across his mind, and he said, joyfully: "Yes, I will send Beecham a box of his own pills—he says himself they are worth a guinea a box—and seven shillings in cash."

This he did. In the course of a few days great was the surprise of Mr. S. to find that Beecham had forwarded the receipt, attached to which were the words, "Cash only in future. Thomas Beecham."

In the United States Beecham's Pills are also advertised as universally acknowledged to be "worth a guinea a box"—but they are for sale by all druggists at 25 cents.

Beecham evidently thinks it best to hedge against such bright fellows as the Liverpool druggist turning up on this side of the water.
